Camp Robin Hood

which meets the broad white sand beach
of Lake Ossipee

In June 1987 twelve brave ladies disembarked from a Concord Trailways bus at the Realm. This was the beginning of Robin Hood Sports for Girls. This summer, with great pleasure, we welcomed the 15th season of our girls' camp - having grown from fledgling to wonderfully mature and mighty!

As in the past, we cheered a lot, we sang a lot, we laughed a lot, we played a lot! Again we had horse shows and talent shows, our big show "The Sound of Music", our final show "Robin Hood Babes in the Woods" written and directed by our own Steve Duckham with audience participation loud and enthusiastic. We had cookouts and bonfires, our much anticipated beach trip and color war, a professional mime and a TV game show, excursions, banquets, and friendships galore.

Our inter-camp athletic schedule was full and successful with many campers competing, learning and enjoying themselves. The tournament championships were numerous including the 11 and 13 and under girls' swim teams, the 15 and under girls' basketball team, the 15 and under boys' baseball team, the 13 and under girls' softball team, and the 16 and under riflery team. Runner-up trophies were earned by our boys 15 and under basketball team, and by our 15 and 12 and under archery teams. Congrats to all!

Next year is Robin Hood's 75th anniversary and we expect to celebrate with a banner year and all of you. See you on June 25, 2002!!

Hello, Boys! By now you have all settled into your routine at home, but now it is time to put down those gameboys, sit back, and let me take you back to Robin Hood for the summer of 2001!

Remember Café Noche and Kadis's 9 visits, the canteen door falling on Shakespeare, beating the Squires in capture the flag, Jasim getting excited! The KB count, Jasim chugging the oil in the chicken, Bader's Kuwaiti dance, Kris getting a soda at Cozy Corner, gameboys, Jasim on the rafters, Vincent's bloody nose and being locked in his laundry bag, swimming 16 laps, getting ice cream and the barking dog, watching Big Daddy.

Remember wanting to count off, Brandon almost falling off a horse, Bader unable to get his riding boots off, sleeping in Figgy's bed, Aaron's phone number quest, Kuwaiti robes (#22), Nassar's Ferrari cologne, being sprayed by Jasim's shampoo, yelling in Arabic while sleeping, kick the can, Nassar sleeping cross legged and sitting up, Brad's alarm clock, Code Yellow, JCAC, Kris spilling shampoo on his game boy. How about the talent show—Brandon sings Yesterday, Ryan on Piano, Aaron's 3 pages of secret art work! Ace Ventura vs. Coyote Ugly, Jasim not getting his boots off, Gustavo hit with a softball, Bader's war stories, Code Brown, "I hate you, I hate you, Carry me!" Fake stomach, real stomach, Pajama Jump—Bruno wins, Kris's cannonball, Rufus Dufus, ice skating and Dunkin' Donuts, Ogunquit, freezing water, the insane bus driver—4 rules and the window fogging fiasco, EMO. Alex and Justin as co-GL's, Brad losing Figgy's pen, Ryan waterskiing for the first time.

Remember going to the movies—Kadis sees Atlantis, the rest see Shrek, KB count goes through the roof, Bruno falling out of bed and wearing pajamas all day, chipmunk mating session, PJ talent show—Gustavo wins, Bader sings Britney Spears, Nassar sings "1 more time." Gustavo's boot falls off while on a horse, "3 more pokemon," Broken toilets—Gustavo's lacrosse ball and Brandon's shovel, Sez spilling OJ on Gustavo, Bombardment blow ups, ice skating social, Aaron screaming in his sleep, Vincent throwing up. Remember Bader's hat, Ben Potts breaking out floor, Vincent waking up Aaron, Bruno's nightmare, the limbo contest and Kris's unique limbo style, saying goodbye to Ryan, Aaron and Golden Boy, another bombardment outbreak, Mexican candy, potpourri in the bunk, Dunkin Donuts from Kadis, bunks are a mess, Sez having a girlfriend, the mime, Bader trying to catch a chipmunk, Holczer becomes a PJ counselor.

Then: Green and White—Nassar and Sez are captains, up early, song practice, silent meals, White wins with Figgy as Captain!

Remember Saying goodbye to Bader, Nassar, Brandon and Justin, going on excursion, Dunkin Donuts, bowling and lousy pizza, Sez losing his money four times, Bruno hitting the jackpot and getting a whoopee cushion, Water Country, surfing on the tube—Brad getting a warning, Sez spending his last $3.50 on nachos, BBQ and camping at Figgy's house, ice cream, sleeping under the stars, Gustavo getting sick and going back to camp, York's Wild Kingdom—Figgy rides an elephant, winning martini glasses, more arcades, McD's—Bruno getting a cappuccino, mini golf, Jurassic Park 3, Pizza Barn.

Remember Sez leaving and Kris returning, tug-of-war on the quad, shower shelves are installed—"Brad's Balls," Brandon not getting a Damn Brandy shirt, Figgy gets his expert in riflery, Boehm's wedgie in the hammock, Bruno attacking J.P. and Gustavo, J.P. speaking, the yo-yo incident, Kris and Brad, bunks smelling, Bruno being stung 4 times, arm wrestling (Bader vs. Nassar), campfire, play, awards night, Jasim's scream and fear of dragonflies, Gustavo's missing shoes, "take a shower, shine your shoes," dressing the stump, deflated Happy B-day balloon turning into floating supernatural head, Alex's room, Fernando in bed.

The summer of 2001 was a good one, but it could not have been possible without a great staff. Shakespeare and Chris, you guys were great. The kids loved you and I appreciate all the time you were able to spend with the group. I hope to see you back next year. Justin, you did a fantastic job this summer, and I know you'll be a great counselor for years to come. Alex, you were great with the kids and I am so glad that I had the chance to get to know you and work with you on staff. Fernando, you were great and I couldn't have handled many situations without you. Also, I appreciate the late night wake ups and I am amazed at your 'resting' ability! Brad, I can't praise or thank you enough. You had an incredible summer and were a terrific AGL. I know that you will make a great GL and I look forward to seeing you in that position. Well, boys, that's the summer and I want to thank all of you for making it a great one for me. I hope to see you all back in the realm for years to come. Thanks again and stay in touch. Figgy

Squires, take a shower, shine your shoes, then sit back and relax and remember the summer of 2001. For most of you, your first summer in the realm. Remember the first 18 campers to arrive? Andrew, Danny CK, Louis Louis, Ryan, Harry, Jack, Bill Grossman, Gabe, Alex, Charlie, Nigro, Nick, Chris, Jake, Szabo, Maximus, George and Woody from France, Canada and all over the USA.

Remember evening activity the first night? Soccer on the Junior Camp field, the odd numbers with Fisher, narrowly losing to Ethan's evens. There was a lot to learn for the 16 new campers: count off numbers, benches, going to flag, learning the games to see who gets jobs at meals, job charts, inspection and signing up to mention a few, but after one day it seemed like you all knew the routine. From day one we could tell that this was going to be a great group.

Remember waking up at 5:30am day one so that we could play 6 innings of softball before breakfast. Remember Duncan getting hit in the face by the ball? Remember evening activity night 2? Challenging the Archers and PJ's to capture the flag, winning game 1, losing game 2 and running out of time before we could finish game 3. There would be a long rematch two weeks later.

Remember the playdays? First away at West End. Losing 21-0 and 21-10 at newcomb. Then losing 7-1 at softball, Danny CK batting in our only run. The second playday was at home against Winaukee and was memorable because of the greatest pitching performance ever seen in a ten and under baseball at Robin Hood. Gabe Klein struck out at least two batters per inning and only gave up one hit in a 6-0 victory.

Remember JCAC? Competing with ad against the PJ's and Archers at softball, bombardment, kickball and soccer. Remember playing football on the Junior Camp field? Remember all the games of staff volleyball versus camper newcomb. You could have had sodas if you'd ever won, or if Duncan played for the staff a few more times. Remember that game of Ultimate Frisbee for double canteen?

Remember our trips out of camp? Eating at Pizza Barn Sunday night, having to wait 30 minutes for a table. Going to the movies to see Shrek or Dr. Doolittle 2 and seeing a moose on the way home. Going ice skating twice, playing games instead of skating. Remember Beach Day? Checking in over 1.5 hours, rushing back from the Boardwalk so you weren't late, swimming in the freezing ocean and spending all of your money on candy.

Remember the event on July 4th? Splitting into 14 teams and doing the scavenger hunt and so much more. Remember the Social that night? Four or five of you dancing and the rest of the group watching the Simpsons in the Dance Studio.

Remember the Canoe/Camping trip. The first attempt getting rained out, but then it was second time lucky. We tried to put good canoers in Fisher's canoe so we weren't waiting for him as long. That didn't work! Remember playing volleyball on the beach, seeing Duncan's awesome skills for the first time. Remember making your own fajitas for dinner, followed by S'mores. Maxim saying, "Can I have some more Crack Grahmers???" After dinner it was time for the scary stories. Remember the Arc Angel? Yes, Nigro, it's your Birthday, you can stay and listen.

The first four weeks just flew by and before we knew it we were saying goodbye to half of the group and hello to Andrew Kennedy. It seemed like as soon as parents weekend was over, Green and White was breaking. Remember the Judges coming out of the truck behind the dining hall? Jack and Ryan, congratulations for being named captains for the group. The Green Titans with Rusty and Koss versus the White Crusaders of DK and Figgy. After a Day One blowout, it turned into a pretty close war. Remember White's close softball win, and Green's amazing basketball comeback? Remember Ryan doing the Junior Camp speech! After five long days, a great war was won by the White Crusaders by 128 small points.

After 6 weeks the group was down to 4 campers. The 4 who would go on excursion, play bocce by day and poker by night. Remember excursion in Andrew's hometown? Bowling in the morning, waterpark in the afternoon, going waterskiing off the back of the five-man tubes, then back to Figgy's to cook up steaks and sleep under the stars. Remember waking up at 6 and waiting two hours for doughnuts? Day 2 started at York's Wild Kingdom, animals, Putt Putt and rides. Remember the Go-Carts? Then it was off to Banana Village for Putt Putt, watching Rush Hour 2 and ending the excursion with dinner at Pizza Barn. You guys never did beat the Simpsons game.

More than any of these things, the memories that I really take from the summer are the little things that happened on a daily basis. Nigro dropping his shirts, or Maximus doing some crazy dance when we were trying to count off. The morning routine of revelry followed by the cowbell followed by Nick screaming, "Hysteria!!!"

Remember when Woody wasn't at the drama department or being paged to the office-we don't. Remember when Jack wasn't thinking about food, or George wasn't getting in trouble-we don't. When Alex wasn't yelling, "I SUCK!" when he messed up or Louis wasn't with Maximus and Vincente-we don't. Remember Charlie being the master at the Movie Game. He can beat Fish every time. Remember Harry wanting hugs and kisses from the female staff and Scribes-and getting them! Remember Szabo dancing and rapping-the kid has moves and Andrew "Gangster" Kennedy wanting to play poker every spare minute. Remember Chris Sartori having the den on the top bunk? Who's allowed in there? Remember Gabe and Ryan trying to listen to every staff conversation-they knew too much! Remember Danny CK laughing like a chipmunk all day and Paul "Bill" Grossman talking at every count off. Remember Andrew's goofy smile, especially while Ali was around.

The last night of camp, awards night and what a night it was. Congratulations to Danny CK on inspection, Jake with Most Improved, Service going to Chris, Gabe winning Sportsmanship, the friendly Ryan taking Fellowship and our Master Camper, Szabo. It was very tough choices with such a great group.

These are the things that I, and the rest of your amazing Squire staff of 2001 will always remember. And what a staff it was. Complimented beautifully by our Saxon aide Kyle "what's your beef" Cyrus. Kyle, you were great, the kids loved you and if you can stay out of, "Rehearsal!" more you will be an amazing counselor. Alex, Duncan and Aquino, you guys were great. You spent more time with the group than I could have hoped for and you were always willing and able to help. I can't thank you enough. Fish and Ethan. I can't believe that I got both of you on the same staff- incredible! I had very high expectations of both of you, having claimed you as the two best first year aides and you both excelled. I gave you both a lot of responsibility and knew you could handle it. You guys made us all laugh, the kids loved you and I love you both. AGL spots are coming very very soon. Dickler. What can I say. Glick, Jablow, Davis, I'm used to great AGL's, and you were as good as all of them. We bonded early and worked perfectly together. I don't know if you really wanted Junior Camp, but you did an incredible job, the kids loved you and you will make a great Group Leader. You're the man- I love you.

Squires, this group has so much potential it's scary. One of the best groups I've ever seen. It was an honor to work with you. I hope that you all had as great a time as I did and that you will all be back in 2002, and keep on coming back. Keep in touch with me and each other. What a summer! Love y'all, Rick.

Archers, to the batcave! In this case, drop what you're doing and find a comfortable spot to remember the amazing summer of 2001.

First the starting lineup... Remember Clam Digger, Peaches, Mikey, Jack, Jonas, Yoda, Matty, Crying Shame, E-Snides, Sol, Myles, Jacob, and Andrew Will Wynne. Remember day one... you guys arrive all in one piece... pumped to have the best staff in camp: Beetle, Margo, Scotty, Owen, Andy, and eventually Dick Roberts... Our first activity- British Bulldog on the quad... "My sock just fell out!"... Swimming our 16 laps with 100% Archer success (Alex and Andrew too)... the overnight canoe trip... volleyball vs. newcomb... "I'm not blaming anybody!"... setting up the tents... making fajitas and French s'mores... Drew's stories—legend of Chocorua and the Archangel

Remember our first of many challenges... PJ's and Archers vs. Squires in capture the flag... TIE!!! Sam Jonas the hero... we win the rematch, though... then the bows challenge us to bombardment... we won!... Margo's desperate attempt in the staff game... "Archers on the...uhh...steps!"... climbing Mt. Chocorua—constant complaining on the way up... Treebeard knows all about Jack and Myles... mosquitoes... filtering our own water... at the peak, everybody suddenly changes their minds and loves it... Jacob takes forty pictures at the peak—"I can't get enough of this!"... Michael's experience on the way down.

Remember Simon says, "Ryan fall off your horse and break your arm."... Myles' headfirst dive in kick the can... Alexander's light sticks—"use the force."... Andrew and his balloons... Margo's Bruce Springsteen collection... Margo says "Bros before Bows"... the Archers and PJ's push over a tree... daily Ping-Pong—"I've got winner of winner of winner... oh forget it, next available game."... JCAC... the talent show dance... rain games... Splat and spud with the PJ's... the coolest Saxon aides ever—JPJ and Fancy Talk.

Remember Beach day... the mean bus driver... dinner for twelve at huckleberry's... sparklers—great idea... NOT... 51 degrees in the water... Jack and Michael set world record of minutes in the water... our playday at Winaukee... 8-2 victory in baseball with great playing by everybody, especially our pitchers Jack and Dicker... "great" reffing in basketball... Beetle takes care of it... "I have to haul my fat butt up and down this court!"... Matty and Mikey and Ryan and Andrew win tennis matches... and finally a 2-1 victory in soccer. Remember going to Jack and Myles' grandparents' house down the lake... Scotty's boat running into a tree... more than once... water fight on the way back... great food there—steak, burgers, and hot dogs, with ice cream and strawberries for dessert... our 4 week campfire... Margo explains his scar, other share emotional stories, tears are shed... goodbye to 4 weekers Jacob and Alexander, but welcome Peaches and John... the anticipation and finally...

GREEN AND WHITE... congrats to captains Sam and Myles and co's Peaches and Michael... Green's comeback in basketball... Michael trips over a log in Newcomb... White male staff sweep... and an overall white victory... steaks for the Crusade... delicious, delicious burgers for the Titans... Goodbye to the six weekers and onto excursion.

Hop into Dick and Beetle's cars and Start off at Jokers for laser tag and video games... everybody gets a mug... onto Water Country... Geronimo and Canyon Falls are the favorites... then cookout at Figgy's... boomerangs and basketball... ice cream at Hodgie's... 1/4 kiddie= Vermonster... back to go to sleep... Day 2 starts at York's Wild Kingdom... Figgy and Beetle ride an elephant... all win martini glasses... split away from PJ's and Squires... lunch at Burger King and then to the campground... hmmm... kind of a sketchy place... Dick and Beetle go to talk to the owners, you guys want to be locked in the car... "the kids can run around in the street"... We think this is a bad idea and move to a nicer site... Peter Corbin joins us for dinner and swimming... late night golfing... back to the campground for a campfire... a lot of powerful things said there... hope some of it sunk in... Day 3 and we travel to Funtown... Excaliber, Dragon's Descent, etc... Myles doesn't want to go on anything—until he tries out Excaliber... "That was AWESOME!"... he then proceeds to go on everything... the Robin Hood sword in the gift shop... back to Conway for dinner at Pizza Hut... Margo meets us there... then to the movies—Rush Hour 2 and Planet of the Apes... and finally back to camp.

Remember the last week of camp with five of you there 'till the end... Beetle and Margo climb Mt. Washington... Boys Campfire... jerseys are handed down... Beetle's Birthday... he gets called up at the end of the Big Show and gets a big kiss... Scotty represents in the show... finally it's time to pack up and get ready to go... Awards Night... Congrats to all of the winners... MC—Jonas, Fellowship and Sportsmanship—Michael, Service—Dicker, Inspection—Matt, and MI—Andrew. All very deserving Boys, you made my first year as a group leader a great one. You guys are an awesome group and I can't wait to see you guys rise through the ranks of the Realm. Keep in touch with me as well as with each other. Remember what was said at the campfire—camp friends are the best in the world. I'll see you guys back next as SENIOR CAMPERS!

Finally, I'd like to thank the most important people to me this summer—your staff. Owen, Scotty, and Andy—you guys were absolutely awesome. You always spent your free time with the kids and I appreciate all of your help when you weren't at your specialty. Margo, you exceeded all of my expectations and those of a first year aide. You were my AGL when Dick wasn't there and you are one of the hardest workers I have ever met. I can't thank you enough for what you did this summer. You have GL written all over you in a couple years. Last, but definitely not least, Dick. You were my counselor my Squire, Friar and Forester years and now my peer. I have always turned to you for help and you were there every time. I have tried to model myself after you as a counselor in many ways and I appreciate all you have done for me. I'll see you next year for your 20th. Thank you one more time to you all. I will never forget the summer of 2001 and I hope you won't either.

Yeomen of 2001, are you KIDDING ME????!!!! What are you DOING??!

Whatever it may be, whether flipping through "magazines", or playing GameBoy, I don't care. Right now, you will stop, sit back, and let me return you to the summer of 2001. Pretend you are sitting comfortably on our "Benches by the Bay", legs dangling down, waiting for Donny to hobble out to the benches on his crutches...or for Adam to be quiet... Or for Sollie to come back from Junior camp... or for the list goes on. You guys crack me up, and I love you all.

Remember Zandy, the Brothers Berman, Blaustein, Moose (Jacob who?), Comalada - Com-Comalada... Coco, Emery, Frumpy.... Frumpcakes, Adam, the Brothers Greenstein, Grossman, Katz, Kay, Erin, Kush, the great Hambino, Rabbi Linus Levy, Marco, Teddy, Roberts, Donny, Sollie, Tansey, Adrienne, Miles.... Pritch, Rushton, Colver, Potts, Brush, JG, Shmorgan, and DK.... 34 of us....1 great group, 34 great summers... Hundreds more to come.

So, in no particular order, relax, and ... Jeremy arrives late...Miller leaves early... Kushma's Fruity Pebbles and extensive diet... Tansey's mags... Adrienne and Jeremy's GameBoy... skipping intensive to watch bombardment... The brothers Berman: Andy's love of spiders... Josh's Rosebowl football... Jaime's guitar... the Matt Colver song and dance... Aaron Kay and Max Greensteins lair of love... Teddy's T-shirts... Youngest (and cockiest) member of the 15 and under squad, Zandy Bard... Mike Roberts' and Moose's great play at the 12 and under basketball game... quadruple OT, wow!... Frumpy's incredible throw at the softball tourney, and similarly incredible catch on visiting day... Adam's craziness, an understatement... Max's sparklers in the bunk... Jesse and Emery setting the bunk on fire... we know.

Remember the Quills... of course you do. Adam, Jesse, Tansey... Sollie, Grossman, and others (?) finding true love... Tansey, Greensteins... and Miles Wood(?) in the tree house... are you kidding me? ... Remember Beach Day... Yeoman and Quills eating at Splash... Lobster anyone?... Morgan, you crack me up... Taylor turning from white to red... buying candy... Jesse couldn't hold it in on the bus... Remember East Royce diving from the rocks at Emerald Pool... Sollie's footwear... Remember Burger King... Adam "slightly" out of control... Drew yelling at Potts... always fun.

Remember Moose's "hog"... Kushma's incessant rambling about the military... Katz and Blaustein's group meetings... Teddy getting his balloons popped... on him... Marco's red shorts... Only God could judge Marco and Jesse... ha, that cracked me up... Donny's lathering of lotion and bug spray... MILF x2... mmm... Rushton chasing Emery out of the dining hall... Frumpy's beatings... Jeremy's love notes ... Adam's attacking bunkmates, while in bed... Pritchards's jokes... Stevie, Donny, and Josh Berman (necklace) getting injured one after another... Teddy taking a shuttlecock to the eye.

Remember Moose's sportsmanship and proper language... when Donny was first on the benches... Coco spoke English... Teddy having a clean shirt on..when Adam was calm and quiet... when Tansey wasn't being mischievous... when Kush grubbed at meals (like Morgan, JG, and Pritch at the staff meetings)... when Moose and Kush were best buds... when Aaron Kay and Max Greenstein were yelling and screaming... when Marco wasn't listening to rap on his discman.... WE DON'T.

Remember killing the mouse... Marco the mutilator... and then burying it... our Founder's Day gift... awesome as always... Big thanks to Tom and Bob... Remember SUPERFLY...scavenger hunt...root beer chug... Morgan taking a bat to the skull... skit day... Los Diablos bringing it home... Vermonster... good stuff... Adrienne translating for Jeremy ... Jeremy's area/game... Jeremy's dancing... Kat and Jaime getting around the lake on one ski... JG bouncing like fabric softener... Jesse Brush promoted to GL... Jon Meltzer AGL for a day...

Remember Green And White. DK not in bed at reveille... Katz and Blaustein capt's... Teddy and Grossman co's in a heated race... Green victory in bball... White upset in soccer... Donny's officiating... everybody stepping it up... great competition and gamesmanship, too... great Green and White guys... Oh yeah... DK WON!!!

Remember excursion... Water Country... That's not garbage, Jaime, that's trash... Jaime, Teddy, and Grossman getting thrown off the tube by Brad and Rick, and then almost getting thrown out of the park... Lon's tripping at Budweiser... and Canobie... and everywhere else... staff $12 a snack... the girl sitting next to Morgan on the ride (Note to all: she was 13)... Remember the van rides... Marco's big mug taking up the entire view in the rear-view mirror... Cheech the yellow school bus driver... seeing Planet of the Apes and Rush Hour part Deux... finally cooking out on night two... mmm... exiling Frumpy from the van and then driving away in the movie theater parking lot... Remember the Beans.. Budweiser factory... Clydesdales... car show... Funspot... Teddy proud of his water bottle... Go-Carts... DK won (was it ever in doubt?!)... meeting your staff and the girls at Pizza Barn.

Remember the group awards... Marco and Jaime MC... Sollie fellowship... Katz service... Frumpy sportsmanship... Max and Grossman Inspection... and last but not least, Progress and Achievement going to the Brothers Berman... Seriously, I loved you all and wished I could have honored more than nine of you... You made my summer incredible, and you all deserved something. Boys... please know that.

Yeomen of 2001, Thank you for being an awesome group and making my last summer in this magical place perfect... You have so much promise and potential, and I so excitedly look forward to coming back and seeing how much you boys grow year after year... I have no doubt that you will become the leaders of this place in the next few years. To my staff, I could not have had such a successful and enjoyable summer without you... Pritchard, Rushton, and Colver, and Potts, you always did whatever I asked, and the kids appreciated you as much as I did. You made staff meetings, meals, and even cleaning the bunks (Rushton and Colver) fun. Brush, you were more than I ever expected from a first year aide, and you made my job so much easier. JG, it was fun having you on my staff again, and we had good times. Hopefully you can take care of your business, and also realize that no matter the extenuating circumstances, you can never have a better time or better friends than here at camp. Morgan, you were all I could have hoped for in an AGL, and a friend. You are such a great counselor and a great person, and I hope camp acts as a fountain for your to build confidence and character, as it did for me. You will run a phenomenal group next summer, just as, hopefully, you are running some phenomenal game at school as we speak.

Camp has been the most incredible influence in my life. I would be nothing near the complete person I am today were it not for the eleven perfect summers and countless perfect friendships which I have experienced here. I will never truly leave camp, yet I will never again spend two carefree months at the best place ever with my best friends in the world. Bittersweet. And, at this time, one constant resonates through my thoughts: Thank you, Camp Robin Hood, I am forever indebted to you.

LANCERS

ANDY PASCAL

All right, boys, most of you have undoubtedly just come back from a long day at school and are tired. You may have homework, you may have a place to go in a hour, but right now I need you to put everything else out of your mind. So take a shower, shine your shoes, you got no time to lose. Sit back, relax (I said relax, Senter), and relive the incredible summer of 2001, when 22 mighty Lancers took the Realm by storm. Remember... Wally, Pimp smack, Frotch, AC, Eby, Hugh Hefner, Ty, Billy G., Mikey, Kleiny, Krumbum, Manin, Nitro, Russian Rocket, Saxonator, Goofy, Bradford, Billy S., Harry Potter, JoJo, Matty Szabs and Fountain of Uth.

Remember the first night - ultimate frisbee - Douglas is a defensive machine and Dave S. makes three diving scores... Nigro treats us with his shower song... Brandon's Playboy mansion... Senter's beautiful singing voice... Bombardment vs. Friars- Krumholz gets assaulted... Pascal's fraternity stories... Nigro's special hugs... Gaynor always asking about the girls... Solomon coming to dinner in just boxers... Davis swimming out for the ball during team handball-he sees ten bears on the way up... Krumholz's dry teabags... Nigro's accident during "Who's Line Is It Anyway?"... Kirill losing his watch-Wait, it's on your wrist!... Brandon's kind words to the Arrows-"Werewolf!"... Douglas Picasso with the fingerpaints... the porcupine watching our softball game-Get away Krumholz... Nigro and Gaynor's shaving parties... Billy G. always being last on the benches... Saxe always playing Gameboy... Don Pascarelli and his family-Don't mess with Made Men... Kirill eating the crab apple... Robert-our little Pork-pine... Klein's first at-bat at the Homerun Diamond-homerun into the trees-congrats... "What's Superfly?!"... learning Mara's N'Sync dance... Ebin falls ill but has a speedy recovery... optional waterfront-"Yes!"... riding the train to "Liquid Dreams"... watching "Bowfinger" with the Arrows.

Remember when Senter wasn't goofy... when the Lancers weren't cursing-WE DON'T... Superfly shirts and teams-Rampage, Weedwackers, Gangstars, Pimps, Pimpin' Posse, Los Diablos, Keepers of the Realm, and Punishers... Event 2-chugging root beer and tug-o-war-spills and thrills... getting painted by the Bows-good call, Pascal... Quad football with Pascal-Tyler takes a mean hit... Bidlack hanging upside down from the JC tire... Brody on LD... Blumy's brilliant base running during the Winaukee playday-"It's a force out, you have to run!"... Brody's lack of filter... Andrew Dice Clay's rhyme time... Douglas singing "I'll Make Love to You"... Saxe never listening... Samet-our resident handy man... Manin's desire to wear undies only during the Talent Show... Billy G. and Billy S.'s countless trips to the infirmary... arrival of Walter-Senter's goofy twin is here... Blumy's busted arm-"But it doesn't hurt when I play guitar"... AC's lockbox... Mikey Howard-"Just edible"... getting Douglas and Ebin out of bed... Davis and the late bus... Pascal and Davis and the 11:30... "Shemah Yisrael" before bombardment with Twyford boys... Brody's gash from the table... the abbreviated mountain trip... Samet's gunpowder making lessons... Fight Club on the sand VB court... life lessons on the Forester basketball court from Pascal-"This camp is made of wood!"... bombardment vs. Arrows-double canteen if you... Brody's impression of Senter-"Me! Wait, wait, me! Wait, me!"... Szabo gets badly hurt but sucks it up and stays through 6... the soothing sound of Wildflowers in Rusty's office for Davis and Pascal... Saxe and Uth going at it during World Cuppy... Davis' one morning of deliria with the blowhorn... Nigro taking forever to clean his area... Billy S. beating Samet in chess in five moves... Brandon's apology to the group and Douglas' reaction-"Damn straight!"... the toilets always being clogged-"Samet!"... ice skating with the Arrows-Brody chasing Gaynor around the ice... Samet trying to pirouette... Douglas' hole in his bed.

Remember Nigro washing Billy S.'s hands every morning... Billy S.'s first experience with Bengay and the aftermath... Shane saying "Andy!" in the annoying voice... Ebin in the Big Show... AC playing every intercamp sport... Brody's ankle injury... Manin's endless list of questions... Uth scooping fertilizer to get two more weeks at the Realm... the battle between Drew Cox and Davis-Davis' bed ends up on the roof... Pascal's Bottom Line-"They are all pass-arounds"... the guy with the red shirt dancing... Pascal is the chair of the breaking committee at the Outdoor Theater before the camp fire... Pascal and Klein winning Homerun Derby.

Remember Green and White... congrats captains Senter and Uth, co's Nigro and Klein... Klein's throwout at home to end the softball game... late nights for Davis and Pascal... comeback in Ultimate for White... Billy S. stepping it up at the swim meet... Senter on the Saxe during skit night... Szabo-the photo specialist

Remember Awards Night...congrats to all the group winners-Master Camper-Uth, Fellowship-Senter, Sportsmanship-Klein, Service-Howard, Most Improved-Nigro, Inspection-Stein.

Boys, this was one incredible summer, but it could not have run as smoothly as it did if it were not for your staff. James, Stringer and Coop, I thank you so much for all of your help and for being around as much as you could. I can't remember having or being part of a staff that had such a solid specialty staff. Samet, you were terrific. You have no idea how much I appreciated your cooperation and willingness to do anything. Thank you for everything. Brody, you came such a long way this summer. You know you have always been my boy, but it was an honor and a pleasure to see you mature as a counselor and as a person this summer.

Thank you for never giving up on yourself, God knows I was never about to give up on you. Davis, words cannot express how much you meant to me and this group this summer. Never have I met such a caring and patient counselor and person. You have a gift my friend, and I can't wait to see you use it with your group next summer. Thank you so much, I could not have done it without you. And finally to my boys, watching the 22 of you go from a group of individuals to a group tighter than any I have ever seen made me prouder and happier than you will ever know. Each one of you has an incredible person inside and I want you all to know that the Lancers of 2001 will always have a special place in my heart. Thank you for making my first summer as a group leader one for the books. I love you all, and can't wait to see you in the summer of 2002. —AP

To the staff-Thank you for all your help this summer. Loic-I hope you enjoyed learning a new language and culture. Paul and Paul, thank you for your energy, you both did great jobs in your specialties and with the kids. Damian-thank you for chilling with the kids even though you had a lot on your plate this summer. Josh-it was great to see you back this summer, you were a solid addition to the group and to camp. Shulman and Weasel-I know you guys enjoyed working together and it was a pleasure working with you. I hope to see you back next summer. Finally, MC-I'm glad we got to spend our last summer working together. I think we complemented each other extremely well, and I appreciate all of your efforts. I wish you nothing but the best of luck, and I know we will keep in touch.

Fellas- I had my best summer out of twelve and I thank you guys for that. I think you see that you have the potential to be strong leaders in camp, and I hope you realize that Robin:Hood is the best place in the world to spend a summer. I can't wait to see you guys competing in Green and White next year as Foresters. Take care and be good. -Rusty

How old are you? Who does that? I mean Scotty, how old are your friends? Well, if you must know they're all sophomores in high school...oops, sorry, one junior. They are also the best group I have ever seen set foot in Camp Robin Hood. With such group unity unmatched by no other, the Foresters of 2001 captured the hearts of many. Arnot, Doughboy, Li, SCOTT, E-man, Math Wiz, Mendel (insert anything here), Bidlack, PJ, Rudy-Poo, Thank you Scotty, Stoner, Prince, Tansey and KY, I had a blast and am forever grateful for all you have done for me. The summer was filled with endless memories; I hope this article can last you until next summer and a new set of memories.

From the beginning I knew the summer was going to be one to remember. Ethan was first to arrive, with his mother, who was kind enough to make his bed for him. Next came Stone (two hours later) and his blue hair, who couldn't wait to get rid of his parents. Slowly the rest of the group arrived minus a few late arrivals and the summer officially began. Remember...the first four weeks...none of us do! How come during our weekly meetings nobody can remember anything? So in no particular order here we go with the first four weeks.

Remember having DC again...meeting Archie and his contest "Who's the master of their domain"...Gladiator Ball...Our volleyball games, 14-3, then really having that for a score in G & W, Fahed's leg and it's rotation, 150-plus very minus-150, Dobry's thumbs...Remember dragon...What BIFF stands for...the Bard that stares a lot turning down Stone...Adam moving on..."He kissed me, he kissed me!"...Remember Justin Dorby and his budget taser...Skating in the bunk, Margaritoff's spill...LET ME HIT THAT!...Mudvayne...Help! Rescue Me!...Late night walkie-talkies...Ethan and Stevenson as pilots...emergency landing made possible my N.H. hicks... "You kicked my dog". Remember when Arnot got the racket...only to take a nasty spill on his way back from his private lesson...Scotty's song later that evening...Remember Beach day ... Arnot's bandages...the bus ride over...cheering all of the girls on the bus, "I know a girl who's name is Gil"...Remember the fog once we got there...Lobster dinner...using Margaritoff's phone...Eli forgetting to buy salt-water taffy...all of the pellet gun fights afterwards.

Remember Stick It...Brandon and Stevenson fighting over the shower...Fahed's community towel... "This is not a Meal"... "Cheese is the anti-Christ"...The cookout, Drew getting mad about the fire...Fahed's plumbing service...Kick the can...Remember our trips out of camp...Ice Cream...Ice Skating...Fast and the Furious...Jurassic Park and three claw marks...Sam Neil...the squirrel movie preview...stopping at Wendy's after the film. Remember convincing everyone in Camp that Fahed was royalty...Stein-Sapir wanting a picture with him...Fahed's mom...remember Brandon's days off...returning with false information, "Bush got shot"...Damn Brandy...our playday's in and out of camp...going to the House...Ethan's drawing of everyone's girlfriend...Ethan not talking for a whole day...The movie game...nobody wanting to play with Brandon...Locking Drew in the bathroom...Grant's diagram...Fourth of July...the wonderful food, Cheese sticks and Pretzels.

Remember the Talent show...Stone's poem...remember the social...everyone dressing as Stone...remember every day that Drew took a day off...best days of the summer...DC coming back with an ear ring...everyone flicking his ear...That's Badazz Bro! Remember our softball games...E-6...Tree Balls...Ethan, Kevin, PJ, Steve, Rudy of course...the Scotty shift...Remember dance with Mara...Bombs over Baghdad with Fahed...Ethan's threats against all of his GL's...Heller's Helium Bomb...Brandon and Drew's gourmet meals at lunch...Stone's goodnights...Kevin's car club...Freaking Arnot out about going to the office...Stevenson running from Corbins' dog...Double B's Teddy Bear...Scotty barking...Hat-she-phut...our deep discussions of God...Rudy showing up late and winning the Baseball tourney as always.

Remember when Drew wasn't talking about how good his group was...when KY wasn't obsessed with Tamara...when our toilets were working...our showers had pressure...our bunk was clean...our loft was cereal free... Arnot talking to Anna all of the time...Dobry's real name...when Eli wasn't violating package policy...Heller being intelligent...Ethan wasn't being a goof ball...when Margaritoff did his math...Duncan not wearing a cut-off T...PJ not wearing sweats...Rudy not being good at ...Stone being quiet...Tansey not over reacting...Yaghoubi gaining weight...WE DON'T!!!!

Remember visiting day...Ethan's dad pitching...Eli's dad sliding home...the play...hooded sweatshirts...Roach's acting...the group's wonderful behavior...the hyped up buffet that was no good...all of the staff shaving...our unbelievable volleyball game...playing basketball...Rudy not knowing Brandon was so good at it...all of the MILF's, well maybe just one...Arnot's Girbaud shirts.

Moving on to the Second Four weeks. Remember Green and White...Duncan and Rudy captains...Big Shock...Little Woody making himself at home...Judges taking everyone's bed...Dobry sleeping on the floor...skipping song practice...tug-of-war...getting Doughboy out of the infirmary...Judges bringing back McDonalds for everyone...White coming out on top. Remember Lazy day, more like lazy week...Donuts in the bunk...the entire kitchen in the bunk...Margaritoff bringing back leftover donuts and OJ one night...Lipsky as GL for the day...Brandon's medievil device...Barnett ball...G & W Day 6 and 7...Rematch of Tug-of-War...dragging everyone around the soccer field...tripping Drew over and over again...painting everyone's face...Remember Fahed being Chuck at flag lowering...Remember Egg-Beater...Rudy as Champion...swimming to the girls in the boats...being banned from waterfront the next day. Remember Duncan running into Rudy at Tennis...We Don't!

Off to Canada with Corbin. Day One-Waking camp up in the morning. Stopping at Dunkin Donuts... "Why must there always been a foreign lady behind the counter"...PJ not feeling so well...The long, long drive...talking on the walkie-talkies...P.O.S Adapter...Fluffhead...Tires are the things on the car that make contact with the road...groovy shoulders...man with a box and no hand...falling rock, not many just one, the same darn rock, they keep putting it back but it just won't stay up there...No Martini's in front of the car...no canned goods allowed...Remember Brandon beating the jokes dead...Driving like a Grandma...Dodge Ram up Corbin's rear end...Speed boating...Ethan as the Russian guy...the crazy driver and his massive junk...Fahed getting stuck with the crappy seat...the Playboy model we saw driving back...dinner at Hard Rock...Tom Petty's stomach pump...Arnot's inability to settle his bill...Fahed giving his leftovers to a homeless man...Stone's napkin joke...Brandon ruining every riddle...First night out...Closed down due to Electric

City...Tansy's car knowledge...everyone making it back for count-off...our hotel rooms...picking out of a hat...wrong use of the balcony...calling each other's rooms all night...the long waits for the elevator...wet paint...child locks on the TV...one room almost getting beat up.

Day Two-Donuts in the room...Shopping...Planet of the Apes...never kiss a woman with more facial hair than yourself...Erotic Ape dance...Scotty and Eli turning into Apes after the movie...Trying to figure out what happened at the end...Corbin's what it's...more chill time until the game...Arabic food...Brandon telling everyone to get two 2 dollar coins and to change into pants...Remember not needing the coins and going back in the hotel to change back into shorts...off to Olympic Stadium...meeting Jim Beattie...checking out his 1978 World Series Ring with the Yanks...going down on the field...watching McWire take BP...talking to Bobby Bonilla...Heller diving for his balls...Margartoff getting a ball as well...our wonderful seats...moving closer...the unsuccessful attempt at the wave...Canadians have no spirit...no standing at the game...Rudy leaping the chain link for a foul ball...trying every break to get on the jumbo screen...buying helmets...game going extra innings...Scotty wanting to leave so he can spend more time at Burger King...food fight with the girls at the game...Expos win 6-5...waiting for the Subway...'Let's go Expos'...singing for change...getting our picture taken by some local...Slamming on the train...our drunk friends...singing continuing on the train...Camp songs...Green and White cheers...Let's get fired up...guy getting stuck in the door...people leaving our train to get on the next one...it's all over followed by the good night song...Second Night out...later curfew...obviously some later than others...when did Grant show up...Fahed's ridiculous proposal...13 walking in, 9 walking out...Tansy being so chill, then running out of money...Late night car wash crew.

Day Three-Really late wake up...Donuts in the lobby...Driving to La Ronde...missing the bridge...trying to park the Van...the wussie group...Le Monstre...Le Super Manège...time trials at the glass maze...somehow we knew Heller and Tansy would be bad at it...recycled water...PJ and Rudy winning caterpillars...Log Ride...everyone getting soaked...Stone and Steve talking to the two girls...Le Cobra...the uncomfortable seats...Tornado...best ride of the House of Nintendo...more trouble for Eli...waiting for Corbin and Eli to get sushi...everyone spending their last drop of Canadian money on food and candy...off to Crab Apple...Remember the Border Patrol...Fahed hiding under his hood...Duncan's CD's looking very suspicious...the magazine on the floor...Double B telling everyone to pretend like they were sleeping...Arnot pretending to wake up...our college style dinner...huddling over the one microwave...Duncan and Ethan playing chicken with the cars...Drew's girl troubles...Dobry and the air pump...Finally getting to Crab Apple at 3:30...late night movie...falling asleep after 5.

Day Four-7AM wake up...amazing breakfast...coffee for everyone...getting ready for rafting...taking a nap on the couches in the lobby...listening to the rafting speech...Fahed really scared afterwards...the ride on the bus...be careful of the watermelons in the supermarket so says Heller...Brandon's special signature...Scotty and the instructor...sticking the paddles in places they shouldn't be...getting electrocuted from the fence...PJ's paddle to Tansy's eye...Stone singing and Clay, our instructor, threatening to the him to the back of the raft...Remember Big Moima and the ugly sisters...Magik...Bone Crusher...Ethan falling out on a class two rapid...Duncan and Rudy falling out later...Fahed wasting pictures...Group two rescue team...playing the movie game with Clay...Hot tub...Lunch...slide show and video...Brandon hitting Fahed in the video with a bucket...Off to Conway...Corbin wanting to go the other way to see some Moose...Brandon and Drew trying to stay awake...Nobody listening to Corbin's joke...Storytime...shopping at OVP...Eli buying an XL shirt at Timberland...Dinner at Cafe Noche...Rudy's first time having Mexican...Back to camp...What an amazing trip, too bad it had to end...Thank you, Peter, for coming along and all of your help.

Remember the final week...sleeping for the next two days after Canada...missing breakfast one day...Ethan acting like Brandon...Ben helping out...Switching staff with the Shires...The Play with Roach...writing this article in the bunk...Last day...softball...team handball...packing...Awards night...congrats to those who received awards, to the rest of you I never won anything as a camper and I think I turned out pretty good...Boys, we sat down just about every Sunday night and discussed the summer to date...Every week was better than last and I thank you all for that...I did my best as your Group Leader to give you all a summer to remember...I hope I succeeded, however I could not have done it alone...I was lucky to have a wonderful staff helping me out along the way...Roach, it is never easy being the new guy...It was nice having an extra hand around at times...You are one of the kindest guys I have ever met and it was a pleasure having you on my staff...Grant, it can't be easy running the tennis program five periods a day...Any chance you had you would spend with the group, and I, as well as the kids, were grateful for that...I'm sorry I couldn't get you to join us in Canada...I guess you were there in spirit, if you know what I mean...Thank you for everything...Drew, what can I say...It doesn't get any better than you...I could not have made it through the summer with out...The kids love you...I love you...It will be a major loss to camp if you cannot return next summer...You are the perfect Robin Hood counselor...We had too many memories to list them all...Thank you for your non-stop energy and your positive attitude...We made a great team together...Stay out of trouble and stay in touch...Fellas, Thank you so much for an incredible summer...As I told you on the last night, coming into the summer I was extremely nervous and scared...From the first day you all made everything so easy for me...I have never seen a group get along as well as the 15 of you do...You are by far the best group in camp and, as I stated earlier, maybe the best group ever...School, girls, and life at home can be sad and very stressful...I thank God, as should you for bringing Robin Hood to us...The Realm is a place where all troubles are forgotten...I only wish we could all stay a little longer...Please come back, this place will not be the same without all of you leading the Realm as Saxons...I hope I can be here to witness it...I love you all...—Brandon

We are the Tumblers, check, that ain't no lie, check, and we go hold on, wait a minute, put a little boom in it. And that's exactly what we did...put a little boom into the summer of 2001. Sitting here with my beautiful head gear you girls made for me reminds me of all the fun times we spent together. So sit back and relax as we reminisce about last summer.

Remember all of our trips out of camp like climbing Green Mountain up to the fire tower...the toad peeing on Alison...the man at the top giving you guys candy...Jenny falling off the bench during lunch. Remember canoeing to the outpost for the overnight camping trip...going to the movies...ice skating with the PJ's and getting Dunkin' Donuts afterwards...Chuck driving us to ice cream while we sang the bean song the whole way there and back...picking blueberries!

Remember our crazy evening activities that were always secret like the wacky scavenger hunt- no one except for the Tumblers would actually wear their underwear on the outside of their clothes... The Miss Robin Hood pageant with Lili all the way from Texas, Alabama...Making those delicious chocolate chip cookies and giving them away-I know you all are hungry for a bite right now...Pizza Barn by the waterfront-who needs plates and napkins anyway...seeing who could spin around the longest with a broom above their head and Rachel knocking over the PJ's...the car wash-I owe you guys a big thanks for that one...manicures by the waterfront while watching the sunset...Oreo and tennis dares-Natasha was always good for coming up with those...and my personal favorite evening activity-Dance Party! Who will forget the tribal dance?

Then there was excursion-what a great two days. Remember camping out, eating half cooked fajitas and getting attacked my mosquitoes. Remember celebrating Alison's birthday at Canobie Lake Park with the balloon among many other free-bees...getting the red hat...the water slides and wave pool at Weirs Beach...playing laser tag against the Jesters instead of doing the other thing...going to the drive-in movie in the big school bus...using the radio to listen to the movie that only worked while Rachel held it on her lap...finally getting home at midnight trying to unload the bus with four very sleepy girls.

Remember dressing up Lisa and Natasha for lunch while I wore the head dress-we did look good that day...Natalia's Dasani water...Natasha breaking the badminton net after her great slam....."Arise and we shall walk"...surfing USA by Lili and Jenny...that's so embarrassing...green and white Tumbler count off...put some dirt on it, Natasha...the lost bathing suit...dead fish, lily...our first lunch at camp having at least five spills...slumber parties...picking blueberries...opening sodas with pushpins and it spraying everywhere...water balloon fights on hot days...having clubs and building forts in the bunk beds...Brownies...target nicknames: curse, neaty, sinky bed, sleepy mess, chatter box, weirdo... playing freeze at meals for jobs-the food always smelled good when you were frozen...making up dances...pajama jumps off the tower...So is the Lobster vs. Fire in the World...wiffle ball on the beach...Hampton discounts...cheers in the dining hall such as Jiggalo, shake your booty, hey girls camp, and stomp and grind.

Do you remember when Daniele wasn't reading...when Jenny wasn't getting mail...when Lili wasn't walking on her hands...when Satomi wasn't giggling...when Lily wasn't hurt...when Alison wasn't flirting...when Bailey wasn't telling stories...when Carly wasn't asking questions...when Anna was talking...when Nicole wasn't looking for her shoes...when Valerie wasn't playing with her password diary...when Mika was cleaning...when Lisa wasn't drawling...when Laura wasn't at the stables...when Megan was being quiet...or when Natasha wasn't sleeping...because I don't.

Well, girls, the summer of 2001 was definitely one I won't forget, and I hope you won't either. Thanks for making it so memorable. Lisa, Natasha, Megan, and Laura: I couldn't have gotten through the summer without you. You guys were so much fun to work with and you made my job as group leader much easier.

Tumblers, Tumblers, Tumblers, what can I say. The summer was great because you guys always tried your hardest and always had fun with whatever you did. If I have learned one thing from you girls is that friendships made at camp are ones that will always stay strong. We had our good times and I know just by looking at you guys that you will stay a close knit group for years to come. Girls, keep coming back because every year you will enjoy your summer more and more.

Thanks for making this summer so magical... keep in touch.
 Love, Courtney

Jesters 2001.... Come On Over, Come On Over BABY! Or should I say, "Ven Con Migo, Ven Con Migo, BEBE!" Regardless, Come on over you did- most of you on June 24th. It seems like this summer lasted forever and flew by at the same time. I'm writing this as camp closes down, but by the time you read this I like to think that you're ready to come back for another couple of months crammed full of friends and games and hanging out. Try to remember...

That everyday life was the funniest thing ever. Aubrey could pull teeth on command just to go first for sundaes. Judy being "mean" at meals. FREEZE! Cheers in the dining hall. Allie doing every job: It's not fair! Vicki doing every job. The process of waking Estefanie up in the morning. Mendel waking everyone up in the mornings. Practicing (and practicing, and practicing) for the talent show. Bia and her sister in the talent show. Dancing in the cabin. Dancing at Club Tumbler. When Elyan tried to put Monkey on the roof and instead every stuffed animal in the bunk ended up there. Allison and Amanda went absolutely crazy over skunks, and then designated certain members of the brass as skunks. Jenny wanted to eat Allison. Making paper flowers for Kim's big show. Climbing up to Jimena's bed to eat Mexican candy, Amanda: I'm sorrrrry! Jenny: I'm sorrrrry! When Lindsay said "I see your tips!" When Vicki tried to kayak and crashed into the sailboats. Bia took Allison's bed apart. Katie's funny (should I say corny?) jokes that were always followed by her witch laugh. Winning the 11 and under swim tournament. Asking to see Katie's tongue. Everybody sleeping in Jester's Court. Playing truth or dare. Trying to tell dirty jokes to staff members. When Estefanie cleaned the whole cabin by herself. Kim practicing her competition dance, Lindsay's ponytail rule. When Allison let someone sit on her bed. When Vicki wasn't concerned with something. The Jesters beat the Squires in riflery. When Estefanie wore sneakers voluntarily. When Elyan read to us in Hebrew and sang to us in Spanish. Pushing Judy in the lake, twice. "Seeing a full moon" at waterskiing. When Mouse made it to breakfast on time the last day of camp. Calling Frosty "Rachel." The great game of Foot Wrestling, complete with referees and reporters doing interviews. The game show game that emerged late in the summer- Ooo la la! Allie mastering the art of top bunk bed making. Play Days, all camp activities, the 4th of July, fireworks all summer long keeping us up at night, crows and Chuck waking us up in the morning. Amanda and Kim sailing and tipping in the water ski area. How do little people travel? Bia, Allison, Aubrey, and Lins covering Jimena with grass at the baseball game. Judy and Sarah monitoring showers. Amanda, Vicki, Jimena, and Allison using towels as capes and making pipe cleaner glasses and bow ties. Katie making ALL your beds- what does Katie want to be when she grows up? Playing knockout every spare moment. Putting everyone into families, one family even having pets. Climbing Mt. Willard with Mouse. Canoeing to the campsite and sleeping over, burying Duncan in the sand. Going out for ice cream. Aubrey being the only Jester to knee-board. Jill and Vicki's table manners.

Our evening activities: Miss America with the World Peace Award, Jimena did her little dance on the catwalk, Baby Jill, Allison teaching us to surf, "I'm so Perfect!", the gymnastics display, Frosty's wave, and the judge's interviewing questions. Greasy watermelon games, girls campfires, SO MUCH CANDY, making our puffy paint Jesters shirts, scavenger hunts, Pajama Jumps, the terrible Junior Girls Camp Athletic Conference, making cookies, watching movies in the dance studio, going for ice cream, ice skating (Aubrey falling and sliding halfway across the ice). Water balloons, challenges, the Dingo Game- Monkey Monkey Monkey!!! Monkey stories on the rare occasions you were ready for bed on time. Girls camp lip syncs, eating canteen as slowly as possible to make it last longer. Counselor makeovers. Brown paper bag skits, cookies, and makeovers with the Scribes.

For a week every day, every meal, every announcement, morning and night, we waited for Green and White to break. When?! How?! Will we know? You'll know. And then it happened, teams were announced, goals were set, practicing songs in the bunks and too early in the mornings, no one ever having a clean shirt, scrambling to be ready for inspection, the incredible intensity of it all, Allison's great job on her 1st Year of Camp Speech, The Right Stuff! Song night, listening to the scores read off, singing each other's songs, re-uniting as Jesters after an exhausting week, and finally: the much awaited LAZY DAY!

And then it was time for excursion- only four girls left- Jimena, Allison, Aubrey, and Lindsay set out for an adventure with Judy and Rachel. It was a "No Worries" trip, a big birthday party, a long ride on a bus, Rachel won Putt Putt, Judy was the entertainment committee, Lindsay rode her first upside down roller coaster, Alison and Jimena were scared of the woods- at least there weren't spiders in our tents, being too scared to hear about Moth Man. We made a deal with the water park man to let us in, laser tag against the Tumblers, SO MUCH CANDY, sleeping bags at the Drive-in movie, how the radio only worked if Rachel held it up. Arcade games, fajitas, dares, FREE STUFF! Cheering and dancing to the carousel music. Aubrey and Lindsay playing one arcade game for a complete hour and had to be dragged away to go to the movie.

Our good-byes lasted for hours, sometimes days. Sitting at the waterfront eating McDonalds and brownies, then writing on each other's backs. How much fun we had doing our nails and giving each other fake tattoos into the wee hours of the morning- and how we kept the cabins on either side awake with us. Waving goodbye to Jill and Amanda on a bus early in the morning, waving goodbye to Allie from a bus the next day. Who do you know?? The last Girls Campfire on the beach with the Scribes making speeches.

Rachel, Jimena, Allison, Aubrey, Jill, Bia, Estefanie, Lindsay, Allie, Vicki, Elyan, Amanda, and Kim: Thank you so much for coming to camp this summer. I love to hear you guys talk about when you'll get your ten year vests, and what it will be like to come back as staff. There are so many adventures that await you here at Robin Hood. My most sincere wish is that you continue to strengthen your friendships as you rise through the ranks.

To my staff: It was fate that brought us together as Jesters. You've been tremendous this summer. Many thanks to Jenny and Sarah for helping me with RH traditions, and to Judy, Katie, and Mouse for trying out camp with me. Thanks for the lessons, the laughs, and adventures. This summer wouldn't have been the same without this exact group. It's an amazing feeling to have come knowing so few, and leave with so many friends from so many places. I'll miss you all! Perhaps someday we'll meet again... Much love, Rachel

"Now the Bow bunk is empty, everyone's gone someplace....."

So we're okay, we're fine
 Baby I'm here to stop your cryin'
 Chase all the ghosts from your head
 I'm stronger than the monsters beneath your bed
 I'm stronger than the tricks played on your heart
 We'll look at them together then we'll take 'em apart
 Adding up a total of a love that's true
 Multiply life by the power of two."

Sitting on Shawn's bed with Angie and Sarah Lindenauer one evening after taps, I softly sing the "Under the Bed" song. One by one the girls start to gather around and listen to the words, and the chaos and shouting from the other side of the bunk dies down as Bows begin to pile onto Shawn and Sam's beds. We huddle closer now and start to sing all of our favorite songs together. Caught in the moment, we forget how scared we are of being at camp for the first time, or how homesick we are, or how we will make it through the summer without our friends from home. These fears vanish, and as we look into each others eyes, we smile because we know that we are all a part of this new Bow family, headed towards one of the best summers of our lives.

The first few days of camp were probably the most confusing but most important of the summer. Campers from years before reunited in excitement, as the new campers tried to find their place in the group and figure out the Robin Hood routine at the same time. There was our first evening activity where we all had to talk about ourselves and tell one fun fact for every M&M we picked from Tripsy's water bottle. You started to get to know each other and your counselors, and even started to feel really good about being at camp. The adventure had begun! The next week was filled with long days of fun activities, an overnight canoe trip to the outpost with s'mores and stories from Drew, and a successful day hike to the top of South Moat with the surprise of stopping at McDonalds on the way back to camp. There were so many highlights that made this summer so special, such as Tripsy, ZoZo and Katie Pipe reading stories to us at night, Marissa being confused for a camper at least twice a day, Nadia singing us to sleep, Sarah Jedla's breakdown dance, Sam doing Toe-ga exercises, Dayna's desire to become a dork, Elisabeth's storytelling, Eliza's adorable dimples and love for everyone, Liza's long face and puppy dog eyes, Nikole being super hyper at night, Ilyse's boy craze, Jaime Schwebach's fetish with talking to her belly (she was also the staff that never existed...), ZoZo parading around the ping pong table singing silly British nonsense, Tripsy being a chicken first thing in the morning and pecking at everyone to get them out of bed, Katie Pipe getting more mail in one day than most campers got in a week, Saz...well, she was just dirty, Dayna and Carly's love for wood shop (or was it Alex??) the Bows who danced in the Green and White talent show, Clara's Rat Facts, Missy doing "the worm", Carly being Jaime Koss, Cristina always slapping everyone on the butt, summer big sisters, secret summer sisters, girl's camp fire, cookout, play days, athletic tournaments, hiking with Tripsy and "Tree Beard", Ogunquit beach day, and the all camp socials.

Some of the best evening activities included challenging the Archers to bombardment (we won... in spirit!) the backwards scavenger hunt, lip synchs, beauty pageant, Bow and Lancer makeovers, going to the Movies, the cake fight and pajama jump on Jedla's birthday, going ice skating, scavenger hunt against the Archers, watching movies in the Staff Den, cookie making, fashion show, tie-dyeing our clothing and pillow cases, slumber parties, passing toilet paper through our clothing, walking through camp blindfolded and then being kidnapped in the van to go get ice cream, truth or dare, and the many group bonding bunk parties. We can't forget the silly nicknames; Mishmosh, Saz, Tripsy, Wiggles, Narf, Katie Pie, Katie Ohhhreally?, Lemonpowder, ZoZo, E, Tush, Livers, and the little French Canadian girl (according to her she is just known as "the BEST"). Do you remember when you all woke up one morning confused and said "why chicken???" Or the night you all slept on the porch and there was a midnight delivery of pizza? How about watching Olivia, Angie, Lauren, Sarah Kushma, Missy, Gaby, and Jedla up on stage performing "The Sound of Music."

All too soon 4 weeks of the summer had passed and we were saying goodbye to 6 members of our Bow family. We all shed tears that day and realized how much we really did care about each other. From that day on I could see how you all made an effort to include and take care of each other. We were now 16 Bows with still 4 weeks left of camp. Unexpectedly one night at dinner, the Most Honorable Judges appeared from the food delivery truck and circled all around us in the dining hall. "Green and White! Green and White! Green and White!" Color war had broken. The dining hall was filled with overwhelming excitement and shouting as we returned to our cabins to pick captains and co's and then return to the flag for the picking of the bean. Our happy bunk was split in half and friendships were put on hold for 5 intense and crazy days. With Katie and Shawn leading the Great Green Team and Anna and Missy leading the Mighty White Team you all fought your hearts out in every event of the color war. You laughed, you cried, you sang every morning before breakfast, you ate in silence, and you played with true sportsmanship. You found yourselves getting more involved and spirited than you could have ever imagined, and most importantly, you learned how to work as a team and put all of the competition behind you when it was all over. I am so proud of all of you for that.

With the end of Green and White came the good-bye's to the 6 weekers... (Katie O'Reilly is STILL here??) and soon after, the 7 remaining Bows were already packing for our 3 day excursion. We started on the bus with the Tumblers and Jesters, going to Mini Golf, Wendy's for lunch, Friendly's for ice cream, cookout and chicken fajitas at Pawtuckaway State Park, and going to Canobie Lake Park for an evening of amusement rides and arcades. We slept out in tents, and then spent the next morning eating Dunkin Donuts and swimming in the lake. That afternoon we split off from the Tumblers and Jesters when Tree Beard picked us up in the van, and we spent the afternoon at Hampton Beach playing Laser Tag and going on water slides. We all got to enjoy good food and movies at my house that night, with a surprise appearance from Tripsy, ZoZo and KP, and slept on my living room floor. The next day we saw 3 whales on the whale watch, visited the children's museum, walked around downtown Portsmouth, ate pizza, and saw "Princess Diaries" at a drive-in movie theater.... What a fun trip!

Now its one week before the end of camp, Mariana and Cristina are outside playing on the swings, Lauren and Clara are playing with "Rodneys", and Shawn, Katie, and Ilyse are sitting on a bed talking about boys. Inside the bunk the boom box blasts tunes that reflect on the summer. The theme song to Charlie's Angels is playing and I can imagine Olivia dancing on the ping pong table with her Jean jacket on singing at the top of her lungs. Now the song changes to Shaggy and I'm taken back to one of the first evening activities when Anna, Jedla, Eliza and Gaby were doing their funkiest wearing sagged pants and backwards visors. Nsync takes over the bunk and there is a shuffling of shoes on the wood floor as 19 girls scurry to the right side of the bunk and dance the Dirty Pop. The boom box is turned off and everyone leaves for activities. I am left alone in silence, but I still can hear the voices of all 19 Bows sitting on my bed singing the "Under the Bed" song and holding each other close. It has been a fantastic summer and it couldn't have happened without all of you. I want to thank all of my staff, especially Saz and Jaime (my two AGL's) for being there for me and making the summer so much fun! And to the Bows of 2001, you have all grown so much this summer and have left a huge impact on each other's lives and on mine. You will all be in my heart!

One last time now before you're officially arrows...
 We are the Quills...check
 The cabin was a complete wreck
 We told you to clean
 But at meals you were covered in whipped cream

We played sports all day
 Wished forever we could stay
 We were 25 girls at our max
 Did we ever have time to relax?

We played with noodles in the lake
 Projects in ceramics and wood we did make
 You played cards all over the floor
 Remember chipmunks coming in through the door?

Put on some music and grab some food
 Sit on your bed and get into the mood
 To relive the best summer of your lives
 The Quills of 2001 really knew how to jive!

Dana, Michelle, A.C., Annie, Mackenzie, Nikki, Jess, Hannah, Molly, Lexie, Zoe, Audrey, Lily, Lily, Mimi (the phantom), Lindsay, Emily, Allie, Yssie, Kels, Carolyn, Allie, Elizabeth, Elisabeth, Sarah, and Lauren...The day was Sunday June 24th, everyone got dropped off or came running from the buses to take over and to become the best group ever to hit the realm!

Remember when...Allie S. and Yssie showed up first and helped paint the Quill 2001 sign, Lindsay and Nikki met while unpacking and realized their best friends were cousins, no one could hear the bus pages and so no one was there to meet you girls at the bus, you first found out we had the gorgeous new bunk with showers!! Remember the first evening activity...THE M+M Challenge, Jess's famous quote "who's Tom Sidental?", the shaving parties, boob attacks, the hamster dance, various shaving cream fights, Jess and Dana fitting into Abby and Julia's bras and prancing around the bunk, Dana, Yssie and Jess falling in love with Nikki and Mr. Snuggles, making over the Saxons, Audrey getting super glue in her hair, THE LOGS, getting hurt and having a monopoly of the crutches in camp...

Remember going sailing, Dana and Michelle swearing never to join the navy, Lexie and Elisabeth's trip with Daniel, Molly, Lauren and Dana going into the waterfront area, Titanic II, Lauren's water-ski accident ("you should have seen the other guy")...Remember the mountain trip up Mount Chocorua, eating G.O.R.P., stickers at pizza barn, The riddles: You're in a castle and there are 2 guards in front of 2 doors 1) to a bottomless pit and 2) to freedom...you have one question (one guard lies and one tells the truth) what question do you ask to find out which door to take? Remember Ogunquit...buying tons of candy, the intense haze on the beach, going into the sub-zero temperature water while your counselors were on water duty, note pads, dip n' dots ice cream... Remember the Talent show...Bootylicious vs. 1 and a million, Zoe and Lily singing solos (You girls were amazing!)

Remember when Mooey and Puffalumpagus got married on the porch, the chipmunk sleeping on Hannah's pillow, the snake under Julia's bed (AHHH!!), the walkie talkie incident, going to see Shrek or Doctor Doolittle 2, when Julia went into the shower with her slippers on, Michelle and Allie and the freakin idiot, Lindsay winning everything she swam in at the swim meet, Elizabeth's crazy green snake light, streaking in the bunk, Elisabeth and Lexie's poking, Hannah putting Ricky Martin stickers all over her face and going to lunch, Egg Beater, Molly's spring falling off her bed, cleaning the showers with TOOTHPASTE! (what a miracle), Kidder saying the shower was wet, Mackenzie beating Kidder in knock-out (you showed her!), the fashion show, A.C. being scandalous, relay races, ice skating with the Yeomen...

Remember Parent's weekend...showing our parents around camp, the Mime, The Bonding session before the 4 weekers left at the waterfront (everyone crying...forever), the play The Sound of Music, Lily Nathanson doing amazing on stage (You made us proud)! Remember the playday at Birchmont...taking the Birchmont bus to their camp, Julia saying it smelled like poopie to the Birchmont girls, Annie's band-aide mustache, Lauren falling off the stage, Blues Clues songs, our major league catchers Carolyn and Elisabeth, getting snoopy bars, the mirage on the tennis courts, Green and White cheers, Emily and Jess's performance at Birchmont...

Remember Green and White...the break at dinner, the Judges coming out of food boxes, Elisabeth and Mackenzie as captains, Emily and Yssie as co-captains, Carolyn and Zoe's duet on talent night, Sarah being the MVP in the bombardment game, The Green Titans, the White Crusade...

Remember excursion...the water-slide, Zoe, Em and Dana's free go-cart ride ("we are way too cute"), going to Bar Harbor, Maine, the Seawall campsite, Em barking at night, Lauren winning a free mini golf game, the web, tips, Annie coming up with numerous excuses about her shoes when she really left them at camp, making fajitas and smores, Martha and Tina's therapy sessions, Abercrombie pants from Freeport, buying purses, the long car ride—Allie R. yelling VACANCY!, the Attack of the Mosquitoes, Zoe's poor legs, the bike trip, Allie R. and Em learning to ride bikes (yeah Quigs!)

Remember finally getting to raise the flag and then it getting stuck, doing the channel swim (great job Dana, Lauren, Kelsey, Allie R., Carolyn, and Zoe!), and the Jester and Quill slumber party!

Remember when you girls weren't playing cards on the floor, Kelsey wasn't playing basketball, you weren't obsessing over the Yeomen, Allie R. and Emily's areas were neat, you weren't obsessing over Easy Mac and Cup of Noodle, Lauren was fully clothed at night, Audrey was the first one on the benches in the morning...We don't Quill Staff, you were amazing! I couldn't have asked to work with a better group of people and I would do it all over again with you in a second. General staff where would I have been with out you? You all are amazing counselors and friends and you MUST be back next summer for some late LATE night trips to the infirm! So droop your eyes and take out your "note" pads! I hope your school years are going well and I miss you, you all better be back at the Realm next summer!! Specialty staff thanks for all your hard work! I've loved getting to know you all over the summer and I hope you are all having great years! Quigs...I never knew what the little tea pot song could do for you, thank goodness for the wall and MOOSE TRACKS! Diet.comers and the 789 crew thanks for being the best friends in the whole world. Whenever I need a body to snuggle into, a sunset bench partner or someone to enjoy a cozy cone with, you are all there...we went through a lot this summer and you all mean the world to me! This place would not be the same without you all...PLEASE COME BACK! To my Quills...Dorothy was right when she clicked her shoes and said, "there's no place like home"...this is your summer home and I'm telling you with 9 years of experience that nothing will ever compare to the friends you meet here and the memories you share with them. So, think back to the sunset on the waterfront, the orange grime on the shower walls (oh wait, its all gone), falling asleep with all your friends and waking up the next morning with them all only a few feet away...there truly is no place like camp! All my love to the Arrows of 2002!

"We are the Arrows – check – that ain't no lie – check – and we go 'hold on, wait a minute, put a little boom in it. Check us out, check, check us out!" That's right, Arrows, by now the school year is half way over and the summer of 2001 is one big, funny, wild memory. So right now, I want all 24 of you lovely ladies to sit back in your spiderless beds (Lizzy), and air conditioned houses, take a sip of your fresh and normal tasting water (Tiffany), and take a trip down memory lane as we relive the fantastic summer of 2001.

Remember the first night of camp, melted m&m's in everyone's hands...."superstar," nose breathe strips, Adri's bugspray package, Jordana's bed was the roller coaster, "In the jungle," challa bread, Julie and Emma's mojo massage, Natalie's commercial, Welcome to America, Elyse, Samantha's and Lauren's boat ride, Queen Elizabeth and the funky chicken, "Don't wake daddy, Tiffany!" moth attacks, one size fits most, Ali's watch, live free or die....

Remember our fun activities, like the clothing relay, the backwards scavenger hunt and Alison striping down, the awesome 4th of July, winning the 13 and under softball tournament and Emma's home run, tennis everyday, Deborah almost winning her 16 and under tennis match, our amazing soccer players and their undefeated season, being obsessed with World Cup at soccer, beating the 15 and under Cody basketball team only after getting bulldozed by their huge girl....Remember our awesome Moulin Rouge dance for the Talent show, "attitude, girls, attitude!" never wanting to hear the song again after that, you girls were amazing by the way!! Especially the hair! Remember celebrating Ali's birthday at Pizza Barn, no balloons allowed, Fallyn!! Going to Crazy Beautiful with the Lancers, shop and save bathroom, sloth, and don't forget about Jordana, Natalie and Adri wanting to take the Cozy Corner sign and Alicia screaming at them! Remember the socials, counselors blow drying everyone's hair and Emma's getup.

Remember the exploded bomb, Alison hating when people ran into her bed, K-Swiss stripe, Jamie's snoring/growl, "What are you panting at?", the ninja turtle, constant sleep talking, Kelli's daily lessons, Tiff and Emma hooked on Cheerios, Becca's goggles, Leila's happy spaz, Deborah's nightmare and being obsessed with Friday the 13th, Jamie and Natalie's foot goal in hockey, Lisa flipping out because she couldn't find her cake, Choco Taco obsession, the Evergreen basketball team – "My lord, that's one big girl!" Jordana pulling muscles in her neck, Lizzy bribing people to read, squirts trying to get dirt out of her shoes, Adri being Tiff's target for pitching, "Are there sharks in that river? It's an ocean – same thing!" Lucia and Adam, Jamie's variety of nail polish, Alison's "intelligent" glasses, squirrel nuts, and Jamie and Becca's ice cream fight.

Remember our climb up Mt. Chocorua, Tiffany overcoming her fear of heights, always asking how long we had until the top, Lauren's major blisters and constant falls, Lizzy and Steph's dance moves on the mountain, great job girls!! Remember Tiffany painting two nails black and the rest blue, putting Lizzy's goalie shirt on her pig so it wouldn't get cold, Deb talking with goldfish in her mouth, Lisa passing the "word," Rufus attacking Becca during a volleyball game, Steph always squeaking, being obsessed with the Twyford boys, but then Jordana hating Oscar after a second, Steph never talking to Brad, "Are there sharks in the river?" Alison and Jordana's hodgy podgy game, losing to the Archers in bombardment but walking in with style, Becca cursing randomly, what Lucia called her ceramics project, the biting pine cones, Jamie's hello spazzes and chipmunks in the bunk.

Remember everyone's crazy sailing experiences, Carla and Alex, Mandy and Lisa, capsizing literally 8 times in one activity period (I think that is a record), Natalie, Lizzy, Alicia, Grant, and Cooper sinking in the middle of the lake. And remember being such wonderful kids on duty, "Heck no, we won't go!", doing leg lifts, Katie the photo woman, the Foresters on duty. Remember Lizzy's birthday, blindfolding and eating Pizza Barn at the outdoor theater and trying to call Farcas.

Remember Green and White, White Crusade vs. Green Titans, with Lisa and Alison as captains and Mandy and Jordana as co's, Chemla leading a cheer at lunch, stalking Aaron Adler, White victorious, great job to both teams, I better see you all there next year. And I will never forget the best night of Arrow bonding at the beach, Carla's speeches, Fallyn getting to join us, tears, hugs, laughs, favorite memories

Remember our excursion to Aquaboggen, Freeport, Bar Harbor, driving A LOT, Julia and Alicia getting lost at night, MOSQUITO MADNESS, moose tracks, mountain biking and Alex's fall, loads of candy. Arrows, Arrows countoff....1, 6, 20, 72 TA. Remember Alex making it to the top of the pole at the ropes course and overcoming her fears. Remember Mandy overcoming her fear of heights as well, you guys were awesome!! Remember Mandy's chocolate CD melting, Tara's squeeze gel candy, Carla's talks, constant questions and, of course, no answers, fajita dinner, Mafia, squirrel tail, bug bites everywhere, and ending with Pizza Barn.

Remember when Carla was fully clothed, when Lucia wasn't talking about Adam, when Deborah had all of her brackets on, when Emma was on time for benches, when KK wasn't smiling, when Elyse didn't want to be first for sign-ups, when Lizzy wasn't talking about Farcas and Madison, when Alex didn't spill at every meal making her trash and wipe, when Tiff didn't have gallons upon gallons of water, when Ali wasn't sunburned, when Steph wasn't squeaking, when the Madonna or Coyote Ugly CD wasn't in....WE DON'T!!!

Girls, I had an amazing summer with you all, I could not have asked for a better group and I hope you girls realize what potential you all have. You guys are going to be great leaders in camp and I feel proud to have been your group leader. But I could not have had such a great time without my unbelievable staff. Fallyn, Julie, Lisa, Kelli, Vic, and Katie, we had such good times with each other, I have never seen such a group of staff have so much fun together and get along so well (especially on Sunday nights). We respected each other and made it work and I thank you guys so much. To Vic, Kelli and Katie - you guys were great this summer, I could not have asked for more from the three busiest specialty staff at camp. You took time to get to know the kids and really made a difference, thank you all. And to my fellow generals: Fallyn - my wonderful AGL, we had so much fun together, between Cozy, sloth, the drive with Dicker, and laughing and crying together. I can't wait to see you in MD. Julie - late night talks, my constant motivator between taking my ring away, and getting me out, thank you for being a wonderful counselor and a great friend. We better see each other this year. Lisa - I was so happy that you came back this summer, and super pumped to have you on my staff, between doing laps together, discussing our pooches, and helping me with the homesickers. Thank you for everything. And to the crew, as always diet.com is in full effect, we are always there for each other and we know it. Keep the love always. And to my boys, I refuse to let this be our last summer together, our bond will never break, always the 3 of us, and always such love and loyalty.

So, Arrows of 2001, I hope you had a few laughs reading this page, after all, that's what we did for most of the summer. You guys brought so much joy to my summer, and I can see that the love of camp is embracing you all, as I hope you guys will return back to this special place for as long as you can. Robin Hood is a magical haven, with unbelievable people, and you guys are a major part of that. Be in touch with each other, call each other right now, and get psyched for the summer of 2002! I love you all dearly. Love, Alicia BARDS BARDS count off..... where are you?.... Now that I have finally got your attention, get comfy because it is time to relive your Bard summer of 2001 at the Realm. Grab a chair, or even a Yeah bed, relax, and just remember all of the good times that we all had in the Realm in the summer of 2001. We reached a max of 29 girls. 29 individuals coming from all over, not only from different cities and states, but also from many different countries. We had representation from Kuwait, Canada, Venezuela, France, London, Boston, Connecticut, Colorado, California, New Jersey, New York, Philadelphia, and don't forget about Delaware. We all came together to form a very diverse group of girls who each brought their unique personality to this fantastic group. Before you even entered the Realm, the chaos had already started. Trying to fit all of you into the dorms so you would all be happy. This might sound like an easy task but it was not by any means. As the Bard staff soon found out, this organization of the bunk would be one of the hardest and most complex things that we would have to do all summer. Moving beds into the different rooms was a huge puzzle which Kate Douglas solved.

Remember unpacking the first day of camp, I definitely think you could have brought a few more things with you to camp. Remember Bard Bingo, our first of many excellent evening activities of the summer, trying to get to know everyone in the group, what a challenge. We had scavenger hunts, where Stecher actually unclogged a toilet to secure her team with the victory. Then there was the backward scavenger hunt where Libby was definitely the key to her team's success....Jackie's 2-pack shrimp cup-o-noodles... Remember family feud....what are the top ten products that Coco-Cola produces? And Lindsey replies clothes....don't you know that Coca-Cola is a soda company....We are planning evening activity.

Remember beach day, we could not see two feet in front of us.... the bus rides with the Friars and Foresters... having a modeling show the night before so we all looked our best at the beach... dinner at the Blue Water Inn... Alison late for count-off. Remember the 13 and under softball tournament....Stecher had to join Kushma and head to the orthodontist mid game only to return in time to get the trophy....great job girls. Remember all of our 15 and under basketball games, I sure do, you girls were just simply amazing. Remember your amazing talent show dance, thanks to Lauren and Erin. Remember Eleonore succeeding in everything that she did... not knowing what a softball was and then hitting like a pro her first time up to bat. Remember our crazy meals...from honeychild to jigalow, you girls were always loud and starting some kind of cheers in the dining hall. Remember Allison's permanent job of trash and wipe. What about the crazy clapping games we all did and then Lauren and Natalia proceeded to see what wall in the dorm that clapping sounded best on, how annoying.

Remember "the rules" Rosie and Gael... no bodily comparisons. Bards, do we remember a time when we were all at benches on time?... I DON'T. Remember the Friars hanging out at our benches instead of their own and then throwing apples at Christine's window, I don't think she was too happy about that... Remember Pop-tart parties and rude awakenings. Remember going to Cozy Corner for the best ice-cream ever...Going to the movies, seeing Shrek or sleeping through it...being so upset that K-Mart was not open any more, I know you girls were more excited to go on shopping spree then to go see the movie, I'm sorry. Remember Juliette and Jade going to the stables and the chance that they got... The JEMS (Julia and Emily Schorr), never apart and always wearing the same clothes and doing the same things without even realizing it. Remember when Hannah threw milk on her head... Counselors Unite... Rosie stuck a carrot up Hannah's nose... DEAD FISH, really wish we could have played that game a little more... pooping duck and el penguino on a secret mission.

Remember Lauren Frank's stalker, um... Logan... Libby with her BIC sponging abilities ... Sam's pretty girl voice... dizzy kiffleball... the game, YOU LOSE... Can-you go to CAN-OE?... Sam scary stories, drip, drip drip... Emily and Julia's wedding...Emily Geldwert coming to visit... SCANDALOUS ... Hannah's best friend in the PJ group (Brandon)... A-bee... Tork... Ale's laugh... I am just a fork...Hannah Jr. Mintz... "Do your nasty jobs, you nasty girls" ... YEA BED... Natalia falling down the stairs... When Jaime kicked Nati into the wall... Marla's trash... Does anyone remember a bathroom actually working in the dorm, I DON'T.

GREAT GREEN TITANS AND MIGHTY WHITE CRUSADE, what a fabulous war. Stech and Marla leading the white team with Anna and Lindsey leading the Green team. I can not thank all of you enough for a great five days. From the dining hall cheer "Jamie for CO" right up until the end of song night, you girls were always there supporting me. Thank-you. Remember Alex Chemla coming on visiting day and staying through the war... Dana and Rachel getting stuck in the middle of the regatta... remember when a judge came to inspect the bunk and Gael had no pants on... the amazing ultimate game... Remember attempting to move my bed, getting as far as the dining hall and getting caught by Chuck, I guess the back porch was the next best option, anyway L-Franks bed was very comfy... It's all over, the 5 days had come to an end and we reunited as the Bards... you couldn't even go one day without getting in trouble, I leave you for 5 minutes and you get kicked out of waterfront.

We can't forget about our four great days of excursion ... not even out of the camp roads we already had problems...way too much stuff... trying to squeeze all of our stuff in the two vans was quite a challenge... Day 1 load the vans and we were on our way to Aquaboggen, a day of fun and sun had just begun... Remember when Julia was too tall to go on the "bubble up" at Aquaboggen... Go-karting... bowling... getting ice-cream and going to shop'n'save ... L.Frank buying a ball... Julia's deodorant... Ale and Sam trying to bowl for each other ... Julia and Lindsey wanting to buy T-shirts from the ice-cream shop but they only had XL... stickers at the checkout counter... staying in tents.... Marla and Lauren's pupil decreasing contest... recording the tape for Libby... handwriting stories... fat camp... soap opera names (middle name and street address).... Day 2... HAPPY BIRTHDAY ROBYN... off to Old Orchard beach, or may I say town, I do not think that anyone saw the water that day, we were all too busy hitting up the stores... nothing permanent girls... oh, how we listen... Maine sweatpants, how cute... off Bethel and the lean-tos ... remember that massive hill filled with ditches that we had to go down every time we wanted to leave the campsite, I sure do. THE BIG AD ... Joel's harness... Hannah conquering a fear and reaching the top of the wall, you go girl... Marla making the wall look soooo... easy... Laser Tag... Julia and Stech buying staff shirts... Potts flying in the air while trying to belay Sam... Logan kicking herself with the ice-pick shoes ... Ale wanting the NSYNC dance late at night...odd sleeping positions... reading embarrassing moments... spiders... Day 3... Sunday River, mountain biking with Jim, oh what fun we had... Logan, the third time is always a charm... Potts having a squeaky bike... riding and singing over and over again on the chairlift... L-Franks expressions riding down on the lift... being x-treme mountain bikers... overall just having a good time... going to the movies, THE SCORE... Jaime, Lauren and Quigley's sugar rush at the theater... almost getting our group kicked out... Day 4... finally a day of just relaxing and shopping in North Conway... Remember getting your Bard shirts made, what a production... J-Koss and L-Frank's awesome sweatshirts that everyone was jealous of... Don't forget about Mark Crane luvs us... Stecher's shopping spree, "my mom is going to kill me"... dinner at the Muddy Moose... then finally returning to the Realm for our last few days of the summer.

BARDS OF 2001, it has been so much fun. I can not thank you enough for a fabulous summer at the Realm. I have watched each and every one of you grow throughout the summer and you have made me so proud. When I first found out that I was going to be your group leader I was a bit nervous but at the same time very excited. To be in charge of the largest group in girls camp felt like such a challenge. I hope that I did not let anyone of you down and I hope you all had an amazing summer. I enjoyed being with you girls so much. You are such a well-spirited and upbeat group and I am so excited for you to return to the Realm in 2002 as Shires. You have proved to everyone in camp that you are capable of leading girl's camp. Go out next summer and just continue having the strong love for camp that you already have. I love you all.

BARD STAFF OF 2001... I can't begin to thank you enough, I definitely could not have made it through the summer without you. I hope you all agree that we had an amazing staff and had so much fun throughout the summer. Abi, Cora, Christine and Kate, thank you. I know you all had your specialties that required your attention most of the time but you still found the time to be with the group and I appreciate that. Christine, I can not express my love for you, you are simply amazing and every year when I return to the Realm and see the Green Titan flag hanging high in the dining hall, I will forever think of you. THANK YOU SO MUCH. Kristen, from day 1 meeting you, I knew that we would have a fun summer, I hope I did not let you down. You were a great counselor and a great friend to me. L-Frank- what can I say, roomie? Before this summer I did not really know you all too well. I feel as if our friendship really grew and I hope that we can keep in touch. I just want to thank you for a terrific summer, you made my summer so much fun. I love you, hun. Nati- I have to admit I was a bit hesitant about having you on my staff. I was not sure if you would listen to things that I told you to do. We did have a few instances where we got annoyed with each other but I think that overall we had a great time. I am so happy that we got to work together this summer and enable our friendship to grow. You were always there for me when I needed to talk or just express what was on my mind. I am going to miss you so much. I love you, hun.

BARDS OF 2001, I hope you are all having a wonderful winter. I miss you all so very much. Once again I just want to thank you for making my last summer at the Realm so good and memorable. I can't wait to see all of you at the Realm as the SHIRES OF 2002. I LOVE YOU. JAIME.

To the tune of "I'm a Little Teapot" (with our real Shire words in mind...): "We are Shire cuties, we have fun. When it comes to quartets, we're number one. Eight weeks of nebbing in the sun. Now we're truly tight, and this poem's done." Girls, it was a blast! Now grab your fireballs or spicy Mexican candy, put on your Miss Sixties, and sit back... let us relive the summer of 2001, where the Shires took over the Realm.

Samantha and Gillian- remember arriving on the first day knowing that it was just going to be the two of you for the first two weeks with me and Mara...the counselors unpacking both of you and then re-packing a lot of Gillian's clothing, including the rhinestone sweatshirt which she would have never worn...our first evening activity: tie dye—us forgetting all the essentials: to wear gloves, to wet the fabric—but the shirts ending up great anyway...remember waking up the first morning, like Jesters, at 6:45 and me jumping out of bed twice to turn off the alarms...living with the Scribes for the summer and living with Tracey for less than a week ...remember when our 9-10 time in the dining hall came to be named Stick It and that being the phrase of the summer...talking to Jan about other names for Stick It: ear, nose, belly button, etc... being called "cue jumpers" by the office staff...our problems with animals and insects: Sam complaining about bug bites in scandalous areas...the daddy longlegs on Gill's head and Torek chasing her around the ping pong table to get it off...the chipmunk that stalked us and entered through the hole above Mara's bed...finally filling the hole with a water jug...Adam Stone throwing sponges at Sam's face during Stick It—"Who does that? How old are you? Scottie, how old are your friends?"...female staff eating out of the Lucas bag...Hey Laudies on the way to ice skating for the first time...Sam, Mara, and Gill running the small loop for an activity and Gill collapsing on the ping pong table (then winning the 880 in Green and White)...Gill's electric toothbrush.....gorging at Cozy Corner-SAM!

Remember Arabella finally arriving right as you guys were on the way to ice skating and staying back because she was exhausted...doing mud masques while I was on duty and Gillian asking "is this what it feels like to be paralyzed?" while Arabella had numb lips...Gill comforting Sam on the ping pong table and getting kicked right where it hurts...remember Mara appearing in the talent show as a boy... "Are you calling me fat?"...never getting below a 97 on inspection until Matty B made our clothes "drip"...Gill telling Drew that they weren't friends anymore and Sam reminding her that he simply does not care...Arabella sleep talking in Spanish... remember "Rosie, just play tennis. You came to camp to try everything."—riiiiiight Samantha...remember Ogunquit: walking through the fog, me changing on the beach and you three not helping me out at all, "I know a girl whose name is Gill", Sam eating all the stores out of all of their food...your stupidity about packages and Sara's ridiculousness about spending $200 on that package...Arabella making name tags for everyone...short shorts (Sofees), tight pants (Miss Sixty), changing 10000 times before activity periods... "Go find STUFF!"... remember climbing Mt. Washington with the Saxons and Scribes—being the first to finish, only after you all rolled your ankles and got yelled at by the mountain official for throwing your gum in the bushes...remember hiding Mara's double mattress in the trunk rack and then keeping all our double mattresses when they came for them for the judges... Sunday night cleaning sessions...my attempt to speak in Spanish...remember your taking an entire afternoon to build our INCREDIBLE founder's day project (Alex "helped" a lot) and it now being the new hang out spot at the waterfront...Sam adding 7 lbs. and my being very proud of that...remember having Stick It on the basketball court and Fahed drawing me pictures which I taped up in my area...going to Pizza Barn and gorging on bad caesar salad and TONS of pizza with Jamie...remember eating 25 New Jersey bagels and 2 lbs. of fudge on visiting day...Gill's grandmother telling us that she was bored...Arabella's laughing fits...remember 3 AM mummy wraps with Garcia, Bernstein and Maite...being on duty during Katahdin...Arnot and Fahed visiting Gill in the infirm when she was sick...remember your frisbee/water/rootbeer fight with Kris Boehm and playing water balloon newcomb with the PJs...making 3 big bowls of cookies and licking the bowls before we washed up...then Sam waking up to throw up because she had eaten 12 cookies...remember our own game of water balloon newcomb which turned into us smashing balloons over each other's heads...

And then, remember when our group was FINALLY a quartet and Marina showed up late night...you three checking out her clothes as she unpacked l...switching tables with the Scribes because they felt so SHAFTED!...remember Sam's similarity to Danny Simon...Shire bonding time—a.k.a: ST...remember Green and White breaking and my videotaping the break even though we thought that it was a fake break...remember the close frof game and White winning by three points...Marina disciplining Gill about silent meals...Sam's intensity during the soccer game...Arabella's great tennis match...remember when Gillian and I fought daily about who got more mail...Mara and me forcing people to sponge at meals...Quackers—"He's a part of me!"...remember Gill leaving and all of us crying hysterically as she drove away...

Remember excursion with the Bards...first Sam overpacking and then on the trip telling us that she would never do that again...the extremely scary ride at Aquaboggan...Arabella and Sam going through Shop & Save in shopping carts...Marina asking an old, fat, scary man to help Sam shower instead of asking him how to use the shower...Sam choking on everything and no one caring...getting henna tattoos...Sam and Marina's stupidity about sandwich orders—jalepenos, vinegar, and turkey...indoor rock climbing and Arabella unraveling the rope onto my head...Shires finishing all the runs at mountain biking and the Bards wimping out...spitting from the chairlift...late night walks at the campground...buying all the same clothes in Conways ...making smores at the outdoor theater...Marina's attempts to speak English and my making fun of her...and, of course, remember SHHHHHOOOOUUUCH!!!.....

Remember when Samantha wasn't talking about her mosquito bites or ingrown hairs or boys...WE DON'T! Remember when Arabella didn't know the words to EVERY song that EVER came on the radio...WE DON'T! Remember when Gillian told a funny story or was first out of the bunk (SLOTH!)...WE DON'T! Remember when Marina wasn't having trouble with her eyes or wasn't being made fun because of her English...WE DON'T! Remember when Mara didn't eat healthily or didn't change her clothes at least three times a day...WE DON'T! Remember when we weren't constantly writing remember whens...WE DON'T!!!

Arabella, Gillian, Marina and Samantha- thank you! More than anything, this summer was full of challenges for me. As a first year group leader, I was both nervous and excited to take on the small group that I was given. You four have pushed me and taught me that I can and will work at whatever I put my mind to. This was truly an unforgettable summer. Come back to camp if you can, Scribe summer is incredible and should not be missed. Mara-I cannot thank you enough for standing by me since the first girls campfire during precamp. You brought so much happiness and fun to our group and I could not have asked for a better AGL. I wish you only the best at Princeton...you deserve it. Quad Squadettes- I know that you are always by my side, whether we are at camp or thousands of miles away. You four girls have taught me about friendship, love, and honesty. For all that and more, I am forever indebted to you. Camp will always hold a special place in my life. And the passing years will show, the Realm will always grow, evermore magical in my eyes. Keep in touch. I love you all. Robyn

"When we wake up in the morning and Chuck gives out the warning, we don't think we'll ever make it on time. By the time I wash my face and I put my hair in place, I'm at the flagpole just in time to see the flag fly high. It's all right because we are the Scribes." That's right, we are the Scribes, let it be known. Whether we were Saved by Reveille or the voices of NSYNC in Dirty Pop, we always seemed to arrive at the flagpole first, ready to roar. Sarah, Futter, Cristina, Maite, Olimpia, Kate, and Sarah, "my kids," "my girls," what a summer full of nostalgic memories we have to look back on. Let me first ask, how did it feel to arrive at camp before your GL? That slightly set the tone for you guys. Although the summer started off with feelings of apprehension and uncertainty, we quickly found our rhythm.

REMEMBER WHEN... We all first engaged, I met you girls down at the lower basketball court, interrupting the social you were having. We laid the ground work for our relationship with our first chat, introducing ourselves and admitting if we were an animal, what animal would we be? Remember Sarah Stein-Sapir's boat bed and the bunk beds...Olimpia sleeping basically through anything...doing inspection, our "Pretty in Pink" 4th of July theme...Maite aka Lindsey...Breakfast at Eaton Village, "don't forget your ID's," ordering copious amounts of doughnuts, Futter feeling extremely sick...seeing Shrek with the Saxons, "Not my gum drop buttons"...watching the West End Game aka watching Mike Gordon's every move...the talent show, writing our own lyrics to Saved by the Bell, Fresh Prince, and Full House...making trendy RH shirts, cutting and studding them. Remember shopping in Conway...EATING 24/7..."Sarah Stein-Spider"...hodgee pogee... eventually watching Virgin Suicides...Kate's obsession with chocolate pop tarts, our many trips to Ossipee for food, Sarah and Futter buying Watson T-shirts...hosting tournaments...the Carmen San Diego song, what are the real words in that song? Futter's fear of bears...Maite and Olimpia talking in their sleep, leading GVC...being hosed down, your date with Bronson and the West End coaches at Pizza Barn... Olimpia's spotlight dancing...Cristina Garcia arriving, not in camp, but at Ogunquit...the fog on beach day, what a twilight zone... GrantCooperLipsky, Futter's bear, Garcia pretending she can waitress, then dropping all the plates...our Scribe shirts - "Good Times!"... Lisbeth joining our group, adding new flavor and creating a clutch new area for Liz... makeovers with the Jesters... Girls camp PIG OUT... Amy Eisenberg feeding 16 female staff and campers...the stars in the hockey rink... Olimpia, Maite, and Kate climbing Mt. Washington... finishing birthday cakes, keeping up the tradition of eating and gaining the Scribe 15...all camp giant relay...sitting duty on Sunday nights...being obsessed with Enya, our sleeping potion... telling Mexican jokes... "Who hunts cows, they are the kind of animals you push over and they die." Quoted by Futter... our Sunset cruise with Konrad and Katie... riding the motor... our Founder's Day gift, painting the candy canteen door and making a new key chain to match... Futter and Bernstein winning the 15 and under #1 tournament at Wicosuta... "I'm young for my age" says Sarah B. - the silver platter trophies... "Can you handle this?"... trying to purposely get lost on the way home from Wicosuta... Maite and Garcia's crush on the soccer staff...hand printed butt pants... Kate as Elsa in the play, wonderful job, babe... stealing Grant's boxers... hanging with the Saxons... making mixes, I think Liz is the queen of that... "Secret Summer Sisters"... getting ready for parents weekend... playing an intense game of horseshoes... Liz getting two ringers in a row, followed by one from Olimpia... Cristina Garcia's dad "buying" us a HUGE tub of vanilla frosting... "IT"...George Penne and his poses in the yearbook... FOUR SQUARE... our group swim... being attacked by a bee, then trying to fight back with the noodles... "Stop pushing me, stop yelling at me"... our participation in the crime scene, then seeing one of the guys again on excursion... Futter loves the Lipsky's - what?... Mummy wraps with the Shires at 2am... climbing Mt. Katahdin... leaving Kate and Liz behind... Sarah and Kristina's outhouse experience... the Knife's edge... bonding, seeing moose, being adventurous and outdoorsy... Congrats Sarah, Maite, Futter, Garcia, and Sarah. Remember Green and White... The Green Titans vs. The White Crusade... Futter and Sarah Stein-Sapir as captains... what a war it was.

Who could ever forget Excursion?!?! Being cramped in the little gray mini van, then having it break down on us in the Tobin tunnel... what a disaster, but hey, we made the most of it... videotaping the entire incident and making friends, including the truckers... saying goodbye to the mini van and watching it get towed, hey, it made a good picture...the permanent search for CVS, only so Futter could develop pictures of her husband... shopping on Newbury St.... maxing out Mommy and Daddy's credit card (SSS)... falling asleep in the Pink Floyd laser show...poor Diane having to suffer through Planet of the Apes for the second night in a row... eating Dunkin Donuts 3 days in a row for breakfast... riding the T and taking taxi all over Boston... 'kinky' and 'scanky' ... meeting Dr. Conway... Dinner at Fire and Ice, singing happy birthday to Mamy... Futter constantly tripping on her face... seeing Blue Man Group... being great ushers, who can forget Nancy and her authority... Banana Rama...cleaning up the toilet paper (was it really TP?), how difficult... BMG Fact #1: the Charles Playhouse seats 525 people... bonding with DJ... the magician in front of CVS... "Girl Attack," "Charlies Angels," "Shopping Posse," "Car full of Beautiful Women." The crazy biker... conquering the VERMONSTER...the peaceful ride on the swan boats... the barbecue at Sarah's house, followed by watching Save the Last Dance. Eating breakfast at Johnny's then walking around Harvard... our drive back to Conway, could it have been any hotter? Seeing America's Sweethearts then enjoying a nice dinner at Muddy Moose... celebrating SSS birthday (wink wink)... Diane and Liz faking you girls out by pretending the van was overheating again... the saga continues...

Remember Futter's dyslexia - Rudi Craig, Semily Pepper, Secret Corbin, and John Pregnant...listening to Dispatch - the General and Crazy Game of Poker 24/7... "Circus Clown"...Double U... videotaping the summer... The LIPSKY FILES... Sarah Stein Sapir being Liz's personal pant shopper... Kristina's 4 inch thick retainer... nightly transformations..."Just because you are upside down doesn't mean you are any quieter"... singing the RH alma matter to Kyle when he left... "Walking in Memphis"... AB Goldberg... Liz's long sorority talk... "GO PANTHERS!"... our group kibbutz at the OT, good friends and good eats... smores, twix, twizzlers, and sparkling cider, Maite shedding some tears... Futter eating goldfish... our numerous pantry raids... WOW!!... campfire speeches... singing the Charles in Charge theme song in the shower...our last trip out of camp to Pizza Barn... "Stephen, what kind of soda are you drinking?"... taking hilarious pictures with Brenner's camera.

"Now this is a story, all about how the Scribes of '01 came to get down. We'd like to talk a minute, just sit and be good, we'll tell you how we became the oldest girls in the hood..."

SCRIBES of '01, what an incredible summer its been. Thanks for all the memories and making my 12th summer in the realm as enjoyable as the rest. Best of Luck to you all...keep smiling and keep shining. I'll see you around the dessert table at Futter and Lipsky's wedding. ☺ I love you and I'll miss you, LIZ

Diet.com +1 - Jolczer, Felish aka Old Wise One, Ro-Hop, Smendel, and Faldo, I can't thank you girls enough for all that you have given me. We share an incredible friendship (with no filter). I am so lucky to have you girls in my life and to be able to spend our summers together in such a euphoric wonderland. I'll never forget the PIG OUTS, the trips to Cozy, our intense talks, our sailing experiences, our days off at Sunapee... the car wash, my scandalous summer, Julia's obsession with Orange Slice, Alicia's cackle, Fallyn's dermatology skills, morning deuces, kibbutzium, the sleepovers, and most of all, all your smiling faces. 7-8-9

ARCHERY

JAMES BASSON & ZOE ENDACOTT

Well, once again it's been a busy summer down at the archery range, with some terrific shooting from junior and senior camp alike. Friday, the 13th of July, saw the arrival of nearly 20 teams from many different camps in the surrounding area for the Robin Hood Invitational Archery Tournament. It may have been unlucky for some, but for Robin Hood the day proved superb. With nine hours out on the range for the instructors, the other camps provided some tough scores to beat. Finally, it was Robin Hood's turn to shoot. With Jason Uth, Kirill Samonov, Libby Copeland-Halperin, John Sez, Mark Crane and Alex Rikleen forming the 15 and under team and Alli Sneider, Daniel Grossman, Jaime Blaustein, Hannah Globus and Ali Russo as the top 6 shooters for the 12 and under team, Robin Hood took up their positions. One hour and 360 arrows later, the results were clear. The RH teams had provided some truly splendid performances and stormed to a stunning 2nd place in both divisions.

Green and White saw some incredible shooting by James Brenner and Kevin Yagouhbi, as well as from some of our junior campers. Special mention must go to Mikey Sez for his enthusiasm and sheer determination to make the team, and to Charlie Nathanson, who came out frequently during rest periods.

With regard to the two main awards for 2001, JB and I were in little doubt. For his commitment, enthusiasm and dedication to the sport, as well as his consistently great shooting, the award for Effort and Skill goes to Kirill Samonov. Progress and Achievement goes to Allie Sneider for her keen attitude, determination, and the progress she has made over the summer.

Special thanks go to Figgy, Owen Wall and Aaron Samet, whose help during the tournament was greatly appreciated. And to all those who have shot this summer. – Cheers, it's been splendid. Zozo and James

ARTS AND CRAFTS

ART

"Best Ever" - That's how I'll describe my summer to all my friends back home in England. This was my first year at Robin Hood and I've had a truly amazing summer teaching Art. I couldn't have wanted anything more from camp, every one of you guys who came to art were all so enthusiastic...well, most of the time! Sam Jonas - your eagerness to draw and continue and complete your projects was always a highlight this summer, carry on and you could go far! Allison Howard, your talent was clear from the start and one day I'm sure you'll become a great artist. Also, all of the Tumblers and Bows, you girls were so much fun - it always made me smile to see that you would be coming for a period with me! No matter how many times you say "I can't" I'm telling you that you can and the more you practice the better you will be. All of you guys were awesome and it was a pleasure teaching each and every one of you!

And now to all the wonderful friendships I formed at camp, thanks for making my summer what it was - a fantastic experience! Natasha, Lisa, remember the 'beautiful' jewelry we made for Courtney and your amazing dancing, you guys always managed to make me laugh, Thank you! Natalia - Nasagui! Laura...You ARE a one! And Zozo, Duncan, Nadia, Alex, Abby, Katie P, Jamie, Saz, Cora and everyone else, you guys were so great I hope we see each other again soon! And to my colleagues in Arts, Crafts and Ceramics. My dear friends Christine and Owen, thanks for a great summer and helping me through the um... "difficult" times! Also Jan and Jody, it was a pleasure working with you!

Finally to the PJs and PJ staff of 2001. Shakespeare, Justin, Alex, Fernando and Brad, I had so much fun with you guys it was awesome! And Figgy, you were the best! I couldn't have asked for a greater GL in my first year at Robin Hood! All you PJs - I love all you guys! "I tell to you" that I will see you all next year! Thank you for a great summer Robin Hood and a lifetime of memories... "Cheerio"!

CERAMICS

CHRISTINE WELLER & OWEN WALL

It was our first summer at the Realm for Christine and myself; and also my first time outside of Europe. I'd wanted to come to the States for some time, as I had heard that ceramics was taken more seriously and enthusiastically here. It certainly turned out to be the case at Robin Hood. There was genuine interest and commitment from campers and staff alike in the subject I love. I felt a real sense of pride in passing on the knowledge that my teachers have given to me, and it was so nice that it could be done in such a happy, relaxed and fun environment.

We had some excellent projects made this summer in hand building, mold making and on the wheel, which everyone knows is very difficult. Hand building got off to a great start with Andreeanne Cloutier showing great commitment and patience from the beginning whilst making her figure (but you left it behind!). We also had other great model makers like: Aaron Haynes and his beautifully made animals, Alexandra Sartori's funky Penguins with strange hair and Bruno Gastelum's Banana man.

And then, though I still think it's cheating and that you can all make better things without them, there were the mold makers. I'll be honest, it is harder than it looks and a few people really made some neat pieces. I was very impressed by Jaime D'Ercole who's horse head mold was not only made with great patience but also glazed very professionally. Alison Schwartz was another who showed great skill with her beautiful fish soap dish.

And lastly, but by no means least, the throwers. And to start I'd like to congratulate myself (and Christine, I suppose) for kicking the thing all summer. If I return I think I'll put a mile-o-meter on it and see how many times I could have traveled across the Atlantic. Everyone tried hard on the wheel and to my surprise Junior campers were just as capable as the Senior campers. I had a very committed Squire group, notably Andrew Kennedy, Jack Freifelder and Ryan Cristal and also my own group, the Archers, you all tried very hard - well done, guys, I hope you're pleased with your stuff. I mustn't forget the girls; Katie O'Reilley, sorry the handle fell off - you took it very well. Shawn McGrievey, keep working at your unique style, I think you're onto something (however, that could just be a dirty face.) And what about Senior Camp, well obviously I have to mention Alexandra Vaughn and her excellent teapot for Green and White. Also Billy Gough, you're definitely getting the hang of it. Alison Chemla, I hope your dad liked his espresso cup, I was certainly impressed by it. Shires, you did well too - sorry it took so long to get the clay out of your finger nails.

What else should I mention before I close? Well there was Green and White which at least meant that I would meet some Foresters - even if it was just for the last available session. I also want to mention my favorite pupils - my fellow staff: Kristen, I hope you think of Christine and I every time a breeze blows through your wind chime. Katie Quigley, I was glad to be a part in the solving of your coat hanging problems. And lastly, Freaky, I was glad to help you brighten up those bills. Thanks for a good summer everyone. Bye, Owen.

WOODSHOP

TOM BOEHM

The year 2001 was a special year for me in the woodshop. It marked my 10th year since I first began coming to Camp Robin Hood. So many wonderful things have happened to me over those years and I've tried to share some of them with you.

The RH woodshop has seen changes over the years since Andy first built it. It has always been a place for campers to learn and enjoy the experience of creating projects out of wood. But numerous pictures that I have seen from the 1930's and 1940's show that it was also a workhorse for the camp. Dining hall tables, benches and other large items were routinely created in the woodshop. If you want to see an example of the old-time craftsmanship, look on the back porch of the office. This summer Chuck refinished one of the old dining room tables that he uses to work on and the piece is still looking great after all these years.

Once of the great joys of working in the woodshop is working with many of the power tools that have been around since before I was born. If someone offered me new replacements at no charge I would definitely turn them down. The table saw, drill press, and the others always do what is asked of them and never complain.

Another rewarding experience in the woodshop is learning how campers apply their experience when they get home or even later in life. Many campers have told me that they had such a good summer in the woodshop that they persuaded their parents to get them tools at home so they could complete similar projects. And some former campers who went on to college used their woodshop experience to build shelving, tables, or other needed items.

Many thanks this year to Alex McArthur who assisted as a woodshop counselor. He had that rare combination of knowledge about woodworking as well as a sincere desire to help campers learn about wood and for them to have fun.

Congratulations go this year to Alex Kadis and Lily Miesmer who both received the woodshop camp award for Effort and Skill. Also Daniel Ebin and Annie Crane for the Progress and Achievement award. And to all the campers who came in and spent time in the woodshop I hope it was a rewarding experience, and I look forward to your return in 2002.

CANOEING

DUNCAN SKELTON

The canoeing program of 2001 was both successful and popular as always. We managed to cover every inch of Broad Bay Lake during the eight weeks of camp, however not always in a canoe, I must add, due to the occasional capsizes by the Lancers and Yeoman.

The summer was kick-started into action with a new idea for junior camp. An overnight canoe trip to the new outpost, on another lake, past Upper and Lower Danforth, organized by the trip staff and myself. Once there we played newcomb and volleyball many times, whilst counselors opted for a game of shoes. On the night we had a campfire, told stories and then paddled home the next morning; we all had a great time.

On the hourly sessions in the first few weeks before the trips had started we had the chance to paddle to the underwater island or to the chalet. We revised basic strokes for moving and steering. Two hour sessions on the schedule meant time to go to the marina. Even though it was a longer paddle we seemed to arrive so quickly, all in eagerness to get to the candy. But once homeward-bound paddles were replaced by lollies and sodas causing the canoes to zigzag all the way home.

Well, what did the campers get up to during the 2001 summer down at canoeing or "canoodal" as said by the Bards? The Foresters enjoyed their sessions doing practice capsizes in the water, then turning one canoe over on top of another canoe to form a slide to go down. Eventually I think they all capsized causing mayhem, but they loved every second of it. The Arrows and Bards were sometimes hard to motivate, but once on the lake they were as good as gold, paddling like professionals straight to where the sun was shining. Whilst mentioning the Bards I would like to honorably mention Emily Stetcher who paddled extremely well all summer and helped me sort out the girl's regatta teams in Green and White, thank you. The PJ's enjoyed nothing more than making sure no living soul on the lake was left dry as they swept across the lake like a band of pirates leaving carnage in their wake. The Lancers and Yeoman gave us every reason again on why a canoe could capsize but they did work hard on their strokes and boat control. The Tumblers were always up to mischief, but for some reason they asked questions instead of learning how to canoe, especially Alison Schwartz. I lost count after 20 questions. The Jesters were full of smiles and confidence while they enjoyed trips to the underwater island. Once when we went there a huge water spider jumped into our boat, and we all had to jump into the water to escape. It was so big you would never believe us if we tried to describe it. The Bows were another group who listened to our every word with smiles and laughter. The group loved to raft together and on one occasion a few girls did so but the canoes separated apart forcing them to do the splits and then fall in headfirst. The Squires, well, 'they just wanted to go, where no one had gone before', exploring in every direction. A memorable moment occurred in 7th week when Jake Schwartz decided to go one with nature, by flashing all the people driving by in their boats. I can't take you anywhere, Jake.

It was a great summer. You were all great, I have had a fantastic time and I can't wait to 'cu all again next summer in 2002.

DANCE

MARA WEINSTEIN

NEW YORK TIMES

BROADWAY TO BROAD BAY

After hearing about a number of improvements made to the technical departments at a little theater in New Hampshire, we sent our most revered critic - the Butcher of Broadway - to see what was going on there!

The Robin Hood Playhouse played host to three productions this year and I must say I was pleasantly surprised at the incredible standard shown by the numerous performers of all ages. The first presentation was a Talent Show and "talent" was abounding from a selection of acts ranging from singers, dancers, comedy acts, instrumentals, monologues and skits. Everyone who took part was excellent and it was a superb opener that paved the way to the first big show of the season.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC, that internationally successful musical, came to this theater with a cast that would stand along side any Broadway revival! Heading the company as Maria and Captain Von Trapp were Millie Green and Damian Speranza. The seven Von Trapp children, played with verve and gusto, were headed by Sarah Bishop as Leisl, with Daniel Ebin, Libby Copeland-Halperin, Missy Freidman, Michael Szewczyk, Lily Nathanson and Kim Turano. Nick Chandler-Klein brought a touch of comedy to the part of Max and Olivia Firstenberg, Angelica DiLorenzo and Sarah Szewczyk were Maria's fellow nuns at the abbey headed by Emily Cody as the Mother Abbess. Justin Roach and Rachel Kushma had suitable bearing as the Von Trapp servants and Kate Nordstrom brought a regal charm to the character of the Countess. John Szewczyk and James Mackenzie-Thorpe were the "enemy" in the form of the German officers and Lauren Rosenstein, Jasim Al-Sagar, Sara Kushma, Gaby Jacobson and Kris Boehm completed this talented cast and made the production of this beloved musical one to remember.

ROBIN HOOD AND THE BABES IN THE WOOD was the final production of the season and what a barnstorming success it was. Telling one of the many stories of the Robin Hood legend in the form of British Pantomime, it certainly went down well with an enthusiastic audience. This type of entertainment requires playing in a larger than life style and that was more than amply found in Josh Stein-Sapir's character - Nurse Penny Cillin!! Donning wig and outrageous costume, he brought split second comedy timing to the dialogue and actions that had the whole audience roaring with laughter. He was supported by Nick Chandler-Klein and Rusty Stevens as the Sheriff of Nottingham's bumbling henchmen, Floggem and Whippem and by James Mackenzie-Thorpe as the Sheriff himself.

The eponymous hero was played with swashbuckling agility by Justin Roach and Millie Green was his adoring Maid Marion. Jack and Jill, the two Babes of the title, were Michael Szewczyk and first time camper Anna Kushkin. The Merry Men of Sherwood consisted of Damian Speranza, Andy Rushton, John Szewczyk and Kevin Margolius, and Chris Sutcliffe made his acting debut as King Richard, the Lionheart. Alison Schwartz, Jasim Al-Sagar, David Woodstein, David Baldwin, Nikki Holker and Emily Cody made up the townspeople of Nottingham and Robin's friends.

It was a tremendous end to a very ambitious season and I look forward to making a visit to this delightful little theater in the picturesque setting of Broad Bay next year.

BRAD FRIEDMAN

If you had to pick one word to describe the Robin Hood lacrosse season of 2001, it would have to be the word fun. Although we may not have had the most rigorous program, I guarantee we had the best time of all the camps in the region. And amidst the many questions like, "Can we just sit out in the shade?" and "Do I really have to chase down that ball," in my opinion several players were able to improve their skills significantly.

From Tumbler/Jester games of Steal the Bacon, to the intense Fo-Sax games (always with the mandatory 3-pass rule), the lacrosse program was replete with memories, enthusiasm and of course, lost lacrosse balls destined to reside in the neighboring woods for years to come. The only thing that would have made the season even better would have been a surround sound stereo to play Jimmy Buffet above our team drills.

The season reached its pinnacle with our 16 and under game versus Winaukee before visiting day. From the get-go, we knew we were facing a daunting opponent. Fresh off a win against the NH All-stars, the Winaukee team had had a couple more practices than our team. However, with fun as our mission, 23 stalwart warriors stormed the field and put on a magnificent performance. Everyone from Yeoman to Saxon entered into the game and played wonderfully. There were a couple of notable performances I would like to illuminate here. Team Captain Dan Weinstein played tenacious defense for the entire game, except when hanging out in the penalty box during his 4 cross check penalties. Ethan Lieberman played a brilliant game earning him the distinction of best in camp. And most notably, in light of the fact that his smile never faded, even when confronted with 16 year old giants, Stephen Solomon earned himself MVP of the game. While we may not have won the game, we did have a great time which is the most important thing.

Finally, there are a few more people I would like to thank. Thank you, Saxons, for lining the fields on a one day notice. Thank you, Rick, for showing me how a real lacrosse coach operates. Thank you, Dicker, JG and Davis, for your phenomenal refereeing. And finally, I extend my biggest thanks to the Archer group who loaned out all of their sticks to the 16 and under lacrosse team. And, as I bid you adieu, I hope that you never forget the Lacrosse Phrase of the Day - Dom Quickess - I guess you had to be there.

GREEN & WHITE

SONGS GREEN

We're Not Gonna Take It

(Chorus):
Green is gonna take it
No (pause) the White couldn't break us
They just could not make it, anymore

We had the right to choose and
There is no way we're losin'
We are the Green
This is our song
We brought White to their knees they Can't pick our destiny cause
They're not with us, they don't belong

(Chorus)

Oh White, please stop pretending
Your quest is never-ending
You leave with nothing
We get our due
Our might was demonstrated
We left you devastated
If that's your best
Your best won't do

Whooooaaaa, Whooooaaaa
We're Green
We're Primed
This is
Our Time

(Chorus)
(Musical interlude)
(Chorus 2X)

Beautiful in My Eyes

It's our piece of mind, in this crazy world
It's everything we hoped to find,
it's unparalleled
It's our summer haven,
under starlit skies
Where our only care, is to realize
The Realm will be with us, for all time

The world will turn,
and the seasons will shift
And all the lessons we will learn,
are Robin Hood's great gift
We'll have our days of joy,
our time for tears
And our only hope,
as the winter draws near
Is to be at our summer home,
in one year

Camp will always hold,
a special place in our lives
And the passing years will show,
the Realm will always grow
Evermore magical, in our eyes

Each summer we have grown,
with our childhood friends
And when the time comes to embrace,
it's only summer's end
We will cry about it,
how eight weeks really flies
We won't say good bye,
cause true love never dies
The Realm will be part of us, for all time Camp will always hold a special place in our lives
And the passing years will show,
the Realm will always grow
Evermore magical, in our eyes
The passing years will show,
the Realm will always grow
Evermore magical, in our eyes

Heart and Soul

Six O'clock this mornin'
We heard vict'ry callin'
We knew that this would be the (pause) Titans' day
And it got hot and hectic
You know the Green's electric
You better take your chances with Green-supreme
We get what we want
Cause we're heart and soul
We're on a roll
We're in control
White is nervous every night
With Koss and Rust, our captain pair
See how they work, see how they care
They'll never steal the night away from Green
Eight O'clock this mornin'

We heard the bugle callin'
They could not take advantage of Green-supreme
We get what we want
Cause we're heart and soul
We're on a roll
We're in control
White is nervous every night

Caribbean Queen

(We're simply awesome)
From the start (pause) we showed off our team
And all heads turned, cause we were supreme
In the blink of an eye
You saw our passion and our game
You knew it was the Titans
Who were destined for fame

(Chorus) The mighty Green
Now we're sharing the same dream
And our hearts they beat as one
We've got White on the run

They lose their cool when we step in the room
And as we've united they're closer to doom
A will to win that you can't ignore
A fire that drives us to jack up the score

Beating the White we are content
Just winning the game
They are the farthest, farthest from our minds

(Chorus X2)

SONGS WHITE

Turn The Radio Up

It's funny how sometimes things work out for the best
Looking around tonight we can but only smile Figgalot and Sir Kramer knew the crusade was theirs to lead
Fighting hard 'til the end,
like Chuck White's not gonna bend

(Chorus) Here we are at the top, always winning
White crusade has swept the Realm
And our mission won't stop
'Til the final score
(Green team, green team)
You have seen what we've done, for five days
now
Never ceasing 'til victory
(Green you've put up a fight)
(But we've won this war)

Relay Regatta, the time has come for our final charge
The track meet, the swim meet,
was victory ever in doubt?
Now we're standing at the finish line and it's clear for all to see We've done our part, and all of it's due to our heart

(Chorus 2 x)
(Judges, Judges)
You have seen what we've done, for five days
now
Never ceasing 'til victory
(And you know it's our night)
(Don't deny what's ours)

Young and Innocent

They say there's magic in the trees
That we feel with every breeze
In our hearts we feel strong
Robin Hood is where we all belong

Dream of summer we hold dear
And when the snow begins to clear
There's no doubt where we will be
The love of camp consumes both you and me

(Chorus) And as we sing for you tonight
Then no place else...that feels so right
Camp's what makes us who we are
We'll find our way back...no matter how far
We want that feeling back again
So we can be young and innocent
And feel best about the people we've become
Just look into our eyes
Our love will never die
We can be young and innocent

John and Joan, you built our home
Thanks to you we're not alone
Friendships here we know we'll keep
It's 'cause of you our love runs so deep
(Chorus)

Built This City

(Chorus) We built this team
We built this team with heart and soul
(girls) Built this team
We built this team with heart and soul

'Case you don't know us
We're the team on top
With Kramer and Figgy, we're getting real jiggy
The cream of the crop

The Titans have fallen
Six feet under ground
Their faces are dusty, their team is all rusty
Spirit could not be found

White team is crusading
Minutes from victory
Just you remember
We built this lead.....we built this lead
We're on a roll

(Chorus)

Ear to ear smiles
We leave Green and White
Our shield has been dropped, we're licking our chops
Bring out our steaks tonight

Here we stand before you
We've left you no choice
Know we're the best, greens put to rest
Just listen to our voice

Judges feel our spirit
Listen to our words tonight
Just you remember
We fought this war
We won this war, crusade is tight

(Chorus > Guitar Solo > Chorus)

Here I Go Again

I don't know what Green was thinking
Trying' to stop the White Crusade
'Cause at the moment that the bean was picked
They saw White had it made....we wasted no more time
We'd fight until the end
Fight until the end

Green was searching for the answer
But there was none to be found
For five days White had the strength to carry on
Our desire never stopped, until, we reached the top

(Chorus) Here we go again moving on Seizing every path we walk along
Working hard from dusk until dawn
And we made up our mind
We'd never fall behind

Titans they will not remember
Green you were forced to surrender
And you'll know that for the rest of your days
The mistake you made
Was to try to cross the mighty crusade

(Chorus)
We'd fight until the end
Fight until the end (3X)
(Musicians)
The mistake you made
Was to try to cross the mighty crusade
(Chorus)
We'd fight until the end
Fight until the end (3X)

INTER-CAMP ATHLETICS

BASEBALL/SOFTBALL

The 2001 Baseball/Softball program had an outstanding year this summer. We had success and we had fun, two fine goals and two great accomplishments. Many thanks go out to Bob McKenna and David Ingle, who along with the Saxons, Scribes and First Year Aides did an outstanding job preparing the diamonds for play. I was blessed with some fine assistants this year. In Baseball, Justin Roach and Damian Speranza, and in Softball, Jamie Koss and Lauren Frank (Massachusetts H.S. Softball Player of the Year) were invaluable. They coached and aided in the specialty camps. Many fine players from the past also provided assistance including DK, Rusty, Sam Shulman, Andy Pascal and this year's Coach of the Year award winner Matt Bronson, who found the Lucky Dollar just in time. Our umpires worked diligently to provide the much-needed arbitration necessary for a game to happen. We instituted the "Stevie Wonder" Umpire of the Year award this year, with tongue in cheek, the recipient was Matt Cohen. He did a superb job as Umpire in Chief at our RH 15 and under tourney. Hats off to you all, thanks for all you did to make this summer a huge success.

SEASON WRAP-UP

Our 15 and unders repeated as RH Tournament Champions. Craig Rudikoff was again the heart and soul of the team, pitching fourteen innings while giving up just three earned runs. He struck out 16 batters and batted 667. He scored the tying run and knocked the winner in the 4-3 final versus archrival Winaukee. A second key to victory was the team's depth. Once again we had every position on the field filled with a quality player. In addition we had people on the bench that could replace the starters without a drop in performance. It was as Yogi says "Déjà vu all over again".

Our first game pitted us against a fine Winaukee squad. In the three inning prelim Winaukee scored two unearned runs for a 2-0 loss. Rob Lee, this years Most Improved Player, pitched the second game against WigWam. The bats came out and we won 6-1. Hitting stars included Stevenson Porter-Bell, Andrew Arnot, Jon Meltzer, Matt Brody and Craig Rudikoff. Rudi pitched the five inning semi-final against O-AT-KA. Again we scored early and often to ease to an 8-3 final. That set-up a 7 inning rematch in the final versus Winaukee.

You could cut the tension with a knife as the visitors went up 2-0, it was tied 2-2, then Winaukee took a 3-2 lead in the fifth. We tied it in the sixth and took a 4-3 lead into the bottom of the seventh. With the tying run on third, Rudi bore down to get the final two outs on strikes, the last one looking. Just before the final out Matty Bronson, who was on his knees next to me behind the backstop, reached down and found a one dollar bill. He said it had to be a good omen. That Dollar was mounted on Matty's Coach of the Year Plaque. The game was the best game I have ever seen played at RH and Rudi is in my estimation the greatest Hooder of all time. Congratulations to you all and thanks for a great game and a great day!!!

Our second Championship of the season was won at our own inaugural 13 and under Softball Tourney. The team went undefeated beating Birchmont, Evergreen and Robindel. The team was led by Rookie of the Year Annie Crane, who pitched and played shortstop. K.K. Hanna, Emily Stecher and Emma Fuchsberg anchored this young and talented team.

The 15 and under boys and girls softball teams did not fair as well in the Kenwood and Evergreen Tournaments. Each went two and out. The girls lost two tough games 6-5 and 6-4 to the teams that went to the finals. They were led by MIP awards winner Kristina Futterman and BIC and Coaches Award winners Libby Copeland-Halperin and Sam Berschler. Kristina was the only 15 year old on the team so we expect big things from this group next summer.

Our 12 and under boys softball team again had a strong showing at Birchmont in the Lakes Region Tourney, placing second, losing to Winaukee in the final. This year's home run Derby was held in the final week of camp, 28 campers and counselors competed for the coveted trophy. The finals pitted the counselor-camper combos of: Peter Corbin-Craig Rudikoff versus Andy Pascal-Andrew Klein. In the end the Andrew's prevailed over Peter and Rudi 10-5. A good time was had by all.

BASKETBALL

DUSTIN SIMS

The 2001 basketball campaign was one of greatness. Every team has high expectations going into the summer. The 15 and under girls went undefeated while the 15 and under boys beat West End twice and were four games above 500. The coaches of each team enjoyed all the campers and the work ethic they produced. The 13 and under girls and boys also represented the Realm in the best possible way on their way to winning many games. The basketball program was a great success!

15 UNDER BOYS - Mission accomplished! The boys 15 and under team came into the year on a mission and there is no doubt that by the end of the year it was accomplished! Practice started early because of the West End game being at the start of the year. Players were great listeners and worked very hard in learning a new system, and with the size of P.J. and Rob and the quickness of Kyle and Stevenson a great foundation was laid. The first game was not the result that we were looking for, however. After being down only 3 at half West End came out so strong we could not pull back. That is not to say that there were not some amazing efforts put out, three blocks in a row for P.J. and cool as ice Zandy hitting a three. The score did not look good but the coaches knew that the talent was there. Then came the Robin Hood tournament. RAIN was just about the only thing that could stop the team on a mission. After having to travel back and forth to sites because of the rain and a huge win over West End, Robin Hood lost in the finals, having had an amazing day. A midseason lift came from Rudy showing up the day before the Winaukee tournament, however, it did not show the next day when Robin Hood went to the tournament and did not play their top basketball. Then came the game of the year, at home under the lights against mighty West End. We knew the game was over before it had even started. Robin Hood was so focused and ready to play that it didn't matter what was handed to them, they were going to win. Amazing efforts again came from Kyle, too quick and determined to be stopped, Rob, can't stop won't stop, and P.J., don't come in my house and expect not to get blocked. Kyle was on fire at the end of the game from the line and Rudy hit a Circus backwards shot in the ending seconds. This team worked so hard and had such great support in Brody, Arnot, Meltzer, and Mendelsohn. And a 12 year old playing 15 and under (Zandy) was unprecedented. Fellas, the hard work paid off. Thank you for a great year and you proved that you were not to be intimidated.

15 UNDER GIRLS - Coaching the girls 15 under basketball team I had been blessed with already having a great team with great players, who had last year won tournaments including Robin Hood's. Practices started off very positively and I could see offense was not going to be a problem with good guards like Sam Berschler, Emily Schorr, Lizzy Golden, and Anna Halperin, who could all score points at will. Our forwards were the likes of Brett Jeffries and Rachel Kushma. And our main offensive weapon, who played very well all summer, was Jade Mazza. Our main focus in practices was defense and we played several types, but our most effective was our press which we ran on a score and then dropped back into a 2-2-1 zone. Countless points were scored at ease when the press was played well (which was most of the time) and was the biggest factor in why Robin Hood won two tournaments, Robin Hood and Birchmont, and also went undefeated all summer. A truly impressive team who were a joy to coach and I can't wait to see how the team performs next year as I know they are all returning.

13 UNDER BOYS - On day one of practice I thought I was going to have A, B, and C teams with about 25 kids coming. It was very nice, though, to have a big selection of guys who clearly, after the first practices, showed they could all play basketball with good skills towards the game. It ended up that we had two teams who were slid all the way down. Our main focus was a to play tight man-to-man defense and run all effective fast break. Our A team was a very quick team who liked to run the ball. This worked with good rebounding and quick outlets from Walter Abeson, Matt Szabo, and Andrew Senter, our fast break was well run by skilled guards Mark Crane, and John Nigro. Unfortunately we suffered some problems this year with Matt Szabo breaking his toe. Also, we lost another two of our starting five for tournaments because of the commitments to the 15 and under team. They were Zandy Bard, and Mark Crane who had both been the top performers in practices. Even though missing three of the five we still played very well and in tournaments we just missed out on winning the Robin Hood trophy and received the runner up prize. All around a good year for the 13 under boys and it will be interesting to see them perform next summer at Robin Hood.

13 UNDER GIRLS - Well, ladies, we got games, and I for one had a blast even if I did end up in the lake! Having practices of 26 girls was intimidating, thank you to Julia and Lauren for helping break down the numbers. So our first tournament started with a last second loss and included a 34-4 win, led by Becca's quick points and big post play from KK. In that first tournament I could tell that we would be deep and have a great year. I also noticed that there would be no one that could catch up to Jordana's speed. Then came the game at Cody vs. a 15 and under team no less, and boy, was that a big girl. Never-the-less Lizzy 6 Cody 5 after 4 mins. Lisa Mann with two big free throws late, and last Dana, don't tell anyone but get in there. We ran the 1-4 and got ice cream! Vega came next, both teams battling strong with a very good Vega team. Big efforts came from Molly, Jamie and Emma. Next came the trip to Robindel where everyone played their hearts out, and holy cow, how many times did we run 1-4. Led by Mackenzie's steady point guard and great post play from Allison, Deborah, and Natalie. Ladies, thank you very much for making my first coaching experience such an amazing one. Your efforts were so amazing and made this year so much fun for me. Thanks again from the bottom of my heart.

11 UNDER BOYS AND GIRLS - Having these groups come to basketball most, we got to see this group a lot and it was a joy every time. Both groups worked very hard and had fun at the same time. The boy's team got to go to a couple of tournaments while the girls were more of an educational team, learning more and more about basketball. The foundation of great basketball has been laid for both groups with great players like Kush and Jack ready to play ball. Keep up the good work and amazing things will happen!

ANDRES SPLENER & KATIE QUIGLEY

Another summer come and gone.....many hours spent under beating sun on a dusty, wavy lined soccer field.....and yet a great time was had by all. This was our first year at Robin Hood, and the patch of grass through the trees was our home.

Andy Splenser, Damian Sperenza, and I started this year with a bang, with the PJ's and Squires being the first groups to come through. We played a game called... "the gauntlet". The next few weeks brought all the groups to our pitch and a few key games carried us through. Games essential to the soccer program included World Cup, cone dribbling, knockout, super knockout, the number game, and the ever-popular head catch. We managed to fit in quite a bit of instruction as well. Most periods ended with a scrimmage including the entire group, all their counselors and our staff (which depended on the day, thanks for the help Paul Savage, Paul Mayne, Fernando Madrazo, Loic Onraed, and Chris Sutcliffe)

Under 11 Girls: This group was not just a team, they were a small army with 22 players ranging from a Tumbler to a core group of Bows. They hosted a tournament here at RH this summer and walked away proudly with a 3rd place finish. Anna Wiggin was a force in the net while Carly Schuster and Eliza Stout ran her defense. Liza Rosenfield, Dayna Geldwert, and Sarah Lindenaur dominated the midfield, and Katie O'Reilly and Sara Kushma had the other teams defense on their toes. With a solid group of Jesters filling in any holes, this team has the potential to take every game next year.

Under 13 Girls: This group went undefeated (playing in only one game, and winning over Cody 4-0). However, we did have a great time in our practices and intensives, building our skills and learning how to play as a team. We learned a few other things along the way, such as how NOT to kick with our toe (KK), how to get out of the way when Jamie Mittelman or Becca Droms were shooting, and how to get in position to receive a pass (are you tired of hearing me say that yet?). Girls, don't worry, I already recommended that we get you scheduled for a slew of tournaments next year. However, I do still expect you to come out undefeated.

Under 11 Boys: They played a solid tournament at Winaukee. We started off playing the two toughest teams in the tournament in very close matches. Finally, our win came over Winaukee's silver team with goals from Gabe Klein and Louis Cloutier. Our White team went undefeated... why could we not have figured that out earlier? Matt Rosen stepped up to the challenge of keeper and helped to keep those first two games so close while Ryan Cristal ran the midfield.

Under 13 Boys: They opened up the intercamp soccer season this summer with a tournament here the first week of camp. The win over Forest Acres and a tight match with Winaukee took us beyond the Round Robin and into the semi's. Mark Crane and Matt Szabo led the charge while Andrew Cohen ran the defense from his keeper position. Even Archer Ethan Sneider played some solid minutes against the amazon, "we're 13!?!)" team in the semi-final game. We also played a Tournament at Winaukee. Soccer was not exactly the focus of the day however. Winaukee brought in 4 NBA Rookies, including Kwame Brown, to play around with the kids and we got to join in. (Kwame took Fernando down in knockout, not many people can say that) We played 4 games of 10 minute halves only. As short as that sounds, we didn't return home until after dinner, and we had already "lost" our lunch. However, we did bring a 3rd place finish home with us (out of 8...10...25 teams, right?).

Under 15 Boys: Their season was short-lived, playing a tournament at Tecumseh and a single-elimination tournament at Indian Acres. Tecumseh's tournament was a solid effort. We started off strong with a win over the hosts on a goal that Stevenson put in from range. At Indian Acres, we played Winona's "international" team in a 15 minute half. The game might have come out differently had they called the 400ish offside players, and as a result Jason Uth got a good workout, having to chase down all their illegal breakaways. This brief extravaganza of soccer also left Szabo hopping around on crutches for the rest of the summer.

Now all the balls are stored away, the nets are down, and those wavy lines have faded, but the experiences we had on that field will live long, and it's only a matter of months until the soccer program is in all its glory again. Until then, keep practicing.....Katie Quigley

COACHES CORNER

PHOTOGRAPHY

KATIE POULOS

The summer of 2001 is over in the Robin Hood darkroom, but in black and white our memories of the Realm live on. This summer was an active one for photography, with well over 100 campers visiting and many campers coming regularly during rest hours. Everyone who came took a day to explore our home with the camp cameras and some black and white film. Where did you want to go... you all said the stables, and the waterfront. You even took your cameras into your bunks. How many pictures do you really take because most of them are of you and your friends??

When your 24 or maybe 27 pictures were done did you remember to rewind your film? And did you ever come back to develop it? Tumblers, I saw you a lot in the beginning and you all took pictures, you even all developed your film, good job, girls. When you came back to print you came out with beautiful photos. Jenny, do you remember that one of you and all of the other Tumblers on Natasha's bed? PJs, how many times did you stand me up? Oh, but I could almost always count on Kris and Jasim showing up. How many pictures did you two print? Gustavo and Bruno, remember trying to develop film when the power went off and we had no running water! Boys, you can't drink the chemicals or the water in the darkroom, but you are always welcome to come back and print some more, you did great work. Jesters, you all came and took pictures, didn't you?

Those of you who came to develop your film did really well and worked so hard to get the film into the reel in the dark. Jimena, Alison, Aubrey and Lindsay, you probably printed enough pictures for the whole cabin. Those rest hours during the last week were always booked. Thanks for taking such interest in my hobby, girls. Squires, you guys may not have come much but you showed so much interest when you did. Woody, you were always there and yes, things were done differently this year, but they always turned out in the end, didn't they? You guys never did get around to printing, but wasn't taking the pictures tons of fun! Bows, remember taking pictures with Michelle? You girls really discovered the artistic part of taking pictures and did very good work.. Quills, who were you always taking pictures of? You guys seemed to be on a manhunt! In the end you girls learned a lot and when you starting coming during rest hour you picked up so much so quickly. Lancers, a select few came... Mike, you were awesome, and yes things probably are easier in your school darkroom, but think of all you learned. Szabo, your work doing Green and White was inspiring, how did you learn so quickly?

Arrows, oh great gals. You worked hard and impressed me with your interest. Haimo, girls, your desire to take pictures and knowledge from previous years made things so easy. All of you were fun to take out to take pictures. Carla, Mandy and Tara, you girls worked so hard those last few weeks and really learned a lot. Your pictures turned out great... even if you did try to take a few of me. Mandy, it was fun teaching you how to take pictures with the complicated camera...and they all turned out great! Good work, girls. Friars, I know you came and took pictures quite a few times... and then there were those of you who actually knew exactly what you were doing and got in there and did it all yourselves...good work, boys. Peter, you knew so much I don't know if you learned any more, but you sure did turn out some great photo, both for Green and White and in your spare time, keep it up! Bards, you girls came so often, one of my regular groups. Libby, sorry I missed you that one day, but did your mom like her photogram birthday card? Emily and Julia, you two hopefully got your film developed at home? I hope you got good pictures. Alex and Logan, thanks for helping with Green and White; you gals were awesome and I could tell you really loved photography. Don't forget the things you learned this summer and keep up the good work all of you! Shires and Scribes, I saw you so rarely, but when I did you all did good work. Shires, I don't think you ever got past taking pictures and that's funny because the Scribes never took pictures, but you girls did print a lot. Yes, I am talking about the Green and White pictures you came looking through. It's always good to use other peoples negatives, that way you can pretend you aren't the one interested in the subjects... it was fun helping you print, girls. All in all I saw a lot of you this summer and I had a great time getting to know you all, Each of you has a special talent and you all worked so hard to show it...I loved all of the photos I saw and I loved watching you learn how to make them. I hope you all enjoyed photography as much as I did, thanks for an amazing summer.

RIDING

DIANE MORATH

Here I sit, in a place that is unfamiliar to me... empty stalls, empty paddocks & an empty yard. The RH stables are missing the ongoing activity of the summers riding programme... the many enthusiastic riders, smiling faces, fun & laughter... & the fabulous barn crew of 2001. So let me take you back a moment to June '01. We have 6 brand new stalls, (thanks to the skills & expertise of Bob McKenna), almost more staff than horses, & many RH riders eager to get going. Of course a fundamental part of any riding department is a few trusted steeds... so let me remind you of our fine equine friends. We'll begin with CHUCK & LINCOLN... the 2 old timers, a little older & slower, (perhaps in Chuck's case at least!)... but otherwise just the same, i.e. dependable Chuck & Jekyll & Hyde/Lincoln. Then there's SPECTRUM, 100% all the time; SMEDLEY, the handsome one, who'll be back in full action next summer; EMMA, with her own lesson plans; AMBER, & her bumpy gaits; BUDDY, who prefers more speed & less haste; & SHORTY, who thinks everything is just fun & games. GOLDY kindly started off the summer in good faith, but when he had to go home, PETE arrived & provided new entertainment to the yard with his funny faces & unusual style. And let us not forget wee WILLIE, the cutest pony ever. For those of you who remember him, he's doing very well & we hope to see him next summer.

In no time at all everyone had made an appearance at the barn, bonded with their trusted steeds, climbed aboard & learnt something new. Whether you were trying riding for the 1st time, or brushing up on old skills, you gave it your best, had a lot of fun, & as a result made huge developments in many aspects of horsemanship. We could not be prouder. Some of you even took on the challenge of teaching our horses a few things too. Congratulations on your success. We hope you gained something from the experience also. We commend those of you were a little apprehensive at first... horses are big animals who have a mind of their own, but I believe every one of you put aside your anxieties & showed to us what confident & capable riders you really are. To KK, Duncan, Jade, Fahed, Juliette & Daniel, the RH EQUESTRIAN TEAM, who performed the riding demo on parents weekend, excellent job guys. You were awesome. Those hours of trotting round the ring on foot paid off... you performed it perfectly, (the additional circle was a great addition!). It was spectacular. I couldn't have asked for anything more. Well done & thank you.

Then there was the time when... Fahed couldn't get his boots off; Amber freaked out at the huge animal in the woods & Ryan stayed on; Laura & Nadia took a bath; Gustavo's boot fell off; Ryan's fast dismount from Smedley playing 'Simon says touch the tail'...(we'll not do that again, hey Ryan!). Remember when... Lauren kicked Paul, (ouch!!!); Jasim wore Laura's pants; Ilyse looking at Nadia whilst cantering & not where she was going, (luckily Lincoln didn't crash!); Jessie got stood on... Jessie got stood on again, (watch where you put your feet next time, Jessie!). Remember when... the TPJ's wore socks, (we don't)... when the TPJ's wore pants, (we don't): when the TPJ's were on time, (we definitely don't!). Remember Jasim's braiding skills, both at the barn & the dining hall; when Jade did Jessie's hair; Jules wore her chaps backwards; Chris S. couldn't get his boots off, (Could anyone get their boots off this summer without any body wraps & strong hauls?!). Remember when... Fahed wore a 'sports for girls' t-shirt for the riding demo, (how fetching!); Chuck always escaping; Lincoln & Shorty racing with Ilyse & Shawn; bareback riding; Paul's water fights & outstanding soccer skill, (if only horses could play soccer!!); Marla getting dumped in the bath; Stevenson's increased attendance & great enthusiasm, (we thank you for keeping your word & showing up this year... you're a star!). Remember when... the Lancers paid attention, (we don't); Tumbler/Jesters didn't show, (we don't); the Bows stopped laughing, (we don't); Brad Freidman didn't do a good job leading, (we don't... Are you sure you don't want a job at the barn, Brad?). Remember... Lindsey & Yssie overcoming their fear & proving their equine skills beautifully; Jade & Paul's conflicting teaching techniques; the horse show at Robindel, (Excellent performance by all. We were proud to see you all return with ribbons, including 1sts for Sarah J., Lexie & KK). Remember... Jules wearing flip-flops so she didn't have to lead, (we were on to you Jules!); Shorty having way too much fun in the riding demo, (good job KK for keeping him under control); Ebin never being able to make it to the demo, practices yet performing it perfectly on the day, (How did you do that, Daniel?); Buddy behaving remarkably well in the demo, (Duncan, you must have the gift). Remember Clara & Lauren always arriving late; Shorty & Amber's fast paces; the elk on the trail ride that never moved; Hannah & Aubrey's devotion to Lincoln; (you guys always saw the Dr.Jekyll in him!); the Archer's devotion to Lincoln, (sorry we couldn't fit all of you on at once); KK & Shorty's partnership... what a great team! The RH horse show, the Sultan brothers getting 1st & 2nd place; Hamed drawing Buddy & gaining a 2nd; (Well done, guys); having an incomplete gymkhana team & Amanda Tuck filling in at the last minute, (thanks, Amanda, you were great); G & W jumping, excellent performance by all, (just remember the right direction next year, Jade!). Remember the many families of chipmunks waking Di in the early hrs; Deborah braving different horses, (you made us proud); Fahed wearing his boots on the wrong feet; Nadia singing, (don't quit your day job, Nadia); Nadia making the Bows laugh with her high pitched voice; Paul's game which involved putting wet sponges on your head; Jessie falling over the jump; Paul & DD's water fight, (way to go, DD... Girl Power!) Remember the Bow's gossip & harassing Paul & Chris about their girlfriends. And who can forget all the other water fights... Paul soaking everyone... just wait until next year Paul... revenge is sweet!!

Tumbles, on the other hand, aren't part of our lesson plans yet, unfortunately, we can not expect to get through the summer without them as horses are unpredictable animals, often disagreeing with our intentions. (Besides which, they help make you a better rider, we promise).

So we congratulate the members of the Tumblers Club of 2001 & share with you the gallant moment when... Ryan performed a flying dismount from Smedley, (the 1st to join the club); Hamed's roll from Smedley; Juliette's slide from a rocketing Buddy; Taylor's bumpy dismount from Buddy; Alison's spinning jump from Amber in 'Red Light/Green Light'; Elyse & Lincoln took different routes; Jessie bronco riding bareback on Shorty; Lincoln spooking in the woods with Woody; Peaches rolling from Amber in slow motion; Micha & Chuck bouncing into Alison & Spectrum; Katie & Pete's indecisive leap over the fence; Zoe's sudden departure from Amber; Allie jumping when Chuck chose not to; & finally, to close the summer of 2001, I myself took a spectacular tumble from a horse that will remain unnamed. A few cuts & bruises, but I'm ok, guys... I followed the 'rules of falling off'... i.e. I got straight back up... as did all of you... So congratulations to all of those brave tumblers of the summer who created the elite Tumblers Club of 2001.

Our appreciation goes to everyone, for all of you contributed to a great summer. We were proud to see how well you progressed in lessons & we were overwhelmed by your enthusiasm & readiness to spend time at the barn helping with the horses. Michael Szewczyk & Aaron Hayes: Gentlemen, you are great stable hands. Thank you. Keep up the good work & you'll soon be on the pay-role. Shawn & Ilyse: The horses' thank you for the extra grass. We thank you for all your assistance. I thank you for the wonderful gift you made me. It will always be very special to me. Marla & Logan: Leading, grooming, feeding... you did it all. Thank you for all your help. Keep up the training. We'll need you again next summer for all that trail-running. Brad Friedman: Thank you for all the tireless hours of leading without complaint. For a non-horsey person you did a great job. Too bad we can't recruit you for the dept. (Wouldn't you just love that?!) Jade, Juliette & KK: Thank you, thank you, thank you. The 3 of you are outstanding equestrians who we can always depend upon & you always surpassed our expectations. Don't ever lose your love for the sport & keep the RH stables in mind for future careers. Bob: I can't thank you enough for the new stables. The horses love them. I love them. They're incredible. Thank you. It was fun.

There are not enough words to express my gratitude to my staff for the Barn Crew of 2001 was, in a word, outstanding. It was a pleasure working with you. CHRIS: It must have been hard dividing your time between 2 depts. but you were always there when we needed you, for which I am extremely grateful. Hope you enjoyed your time with us as much as we enjoyed your company & good humor. DD: I'm glad you returned to camp to keep me company at the barn. Your expertise was not only an asset to the department, but also helped keep my anxieties to a minimum. Thank you, & keep plotting those undercover water attacks... we owe Paul big time! JESSIE: Thanks for your enthusiasm & contributions to the programme. Don't ever give up bareback riding & keep your feet out from under the heavy hooves of our equine friends. Good luck in Michigan. Hope all works out. LAURA: Whatever, whenever... you were always there for me. A colleague, a companion. Thank you for all your hard work, dedication & support throughout the summer & 9th week. Our swimming debut with Shorty & Pete will always remain as one of the most memorable moments that I will cherish always. NADIA: You gave your everything to the department, for which I am extremely grateful. I trust this summer surpassed your last & the RH stables always remain a part of you. Good luck with school & keep in touch. PAUL: Thanks for everything. Your sense of fun kept spirits up & your spontaneity for gymkhana games kept everyone entertained. Perhaps we can teach the horses to play soccer so you can get the best of both worlds.

Lastly, but not least, thank you to JEN, JULIE & LAURA for staying through 9th wk to assist me, (& 10th in Julies case... you just couldn't get enough of the place could you?!!) You adapted well & it was a great relief to have 3 such able, hardworking & enjoyable ladies to run the programme with. We had a great time & I'll never forget trail/swim-riding; a speedy Lincoln, stubborn Emma & a crash landing; & Shorty trying American Football without supervision!

This brings me to the end of yet another wonderful summer at the realm. The memories are plentiful. They are also unforgettable. Our RH horses are incredible animals, which have taught us a lot, & we have grown to love them & depend upon them. Don't ever forget your personal bonds with any one of them. They will always remain your teammate, your friend. I look forward to their return next summer, along with the rest of you. Good luck for the winter season and I hope to see you all back at the realm for the summer of 2002. Take care & have fun... Diane.

EFFORT & SKILL

ILYSE RIKLEEN

DUNCAN MENDELSON
& KK HANNA

SUMMER of 2001 developed a fine year for teaching younger boys and girls in Junior & Senior Camp to learn new shooting skills & to improve on some old pre-learned abilities, having lots of fun with safety. By the end of the season 35,000 rounds had been fired with over 6,000 targets being submitted for scoring. 65 boys earned 126 awards and 39 girls earned 62 awards from Pro-Marksman through Expert, developing 188 levels of awards.

STARTING WITH BOYS CAMP:

14 PJ's came to the rifle range to learn new shooting skills and some to improve on past abilities where 5 earned 7 different levels of awards. The most improved shooters were BADER AL-ORAIFAN and GUSTAVO GASTELUM earning PM & MM with JASIM AL-SAGAR, KRIS BOEHM and RYAN GLOBUS earning PM. The highest shooter of the group was JUAN PABLO PEDRE with a 53 in (prone).

18 Squires followed, improving on old pre-learned skills and abilities where 14 earned 47 different levels of awards. The most improved shooters were RYAN CRISTAL earning Bar 1 (prone) through Bar 4 (sitting) with MAXIME TROMPIER, GEORGE WICKEY and ANDREW KENNEDY earning PM through Bar 1 (prone). The high shooters of the group were RYAN CRISTAL with an 80 in (prone) followed by MAXIME TROMPIER with an 84 in (prone). ANDREW KENNEDY was awarded BOYS JUNIOR CAMP / MOST IMPROVED.

13 Archers also came to the rifle range to learn new shooting skills and improve on past abilities with 11 earning 29 different levels of awards. The most improved new shooter was JACOB VANCE earning PM through Bar 1 (prone) and followed by an older shooter JACK FRIEDMAN earning Bar 3 (sitting) and shooting the highest score for the summer with an 88 in prone. JACK FRIEDMAN also earned BOYS JUNIOR CAMP / BEST IN CAMP AWARD.

26 Yeomen had 11 individuals earning 17 different levels of awards. The most improved new shooters were JOHN EMERY, MARCO MARGARITOFF, JUSTIN TANSEY & ADRIEN TROMPIER earning PM & MM (prone). The highest level earned was Bar 8 (standing) by CHRIS KUSHMA. The two highest shooters were JAIME BLAUSTEIN & JESSE GREENSTEIN with matching 86's in (prone).

22 Lancers had 13 older shooters who came out to shoot and earned 52 different levels of awards. The individual high shooter of the group was BILLY GOUGH with a 91 in (prone). MICHAEL HOWARD was the most improved learner, starting at MM (prone) and shooting through Bar 6 (kneeling) and was awarded the BOYS SENIOR CAMP / MOST IMPROVED AWARD. Then starting at Bar 4 (sitting) shooting through Expert (standing) ANDREW COHEN received BOYS SENIOR CAMP / BEST IN CAMP AWARD.

29 Friars with 7 older boys coming out to shoot, 15 different levels of awards were earned. The most improved new shooter was HAMED AL-SAGAR earning PM (prone) through Bar 3 (sitting). MICHAEL KAPLAN was again the over all highest shooter in camp, in (prone) with a (97) shooting average. MICHAEL also received the BOYS SENIOR CAMP / BEST IN CAMP AWARD.

15 Foresters from time to time came out to shoot for some fun. The highest shooter of the group was RYAN TANSEY with a single 49 and 96 in (prone).

15 Saxons also from time to time appeared to shoot for fun. The highest shooters of the group were ZACHARY MANN earning Bar 5 in (kneeling) with DANIEL SIMON earning Bar 1 (prone) and Bar 2 in (sitting). The highest shooter of the group was DANIEL with a 49 in (prone).

CONTINUING WITH GIRLS CAMP:

12 Tumblers enjoyed learning a new sport in rifle shooting, where DANIELLE JACOBSON earned PM in (prone). Plus, DANIELLE was the high shooter of the group with a 48 in (prone).

13 Jesters also enjoyed learning new shooting skills with a lot of fun, where 7 earned 18 different levels of awards. The highest shooters of the group were LINDSAY ROSENSTEIN earning PM through SS (prone) and earned GIRLS JUNIOR CAMP / MOST IMPROVED AWARD. Then ALLISON HOWARD earned Bar 2 through Bar 4 (sitting) and was the highest shooter of the group with a 48 in (prone) and a 44 in (sitting). ALLISON HOWARD also received GIRLS JUNIOR CAMP / BEST IN CAMP AWARD.

22 Bows enjoyed learning and shooting with 10 earning 12 different levels of awards. The three highest shooters were SHAWN MCGRIEVEY earning MM and MM1st (prone) and CRISTINA AYALA earning SS (prone). The highest award earned was Bar 3 (sitting) shot by SARA KUSHMA. The two highest shooters of the group were CRISTINA AYALA with a 47 in (prone). Followed by ILYSE RIKLEEN with a 68 in (prone).

26 Quills also enjoyed shooting a lot and learning new shooting skills. 10 shooters earned 17 different levels of awards. A very hard worker, MICHELE BRUSH earned SS and Bar 1 (prone) and finalized her summer with an 84 in (prone) and a 46 in (sitting). The two top shooters of the group ALEXANDRA RUSSO and CAROLYN SIEGEL both completed shooting their Bar 3 (sitting). For their fine progress, both girls received GIRLS SENIOR CAMP / MOST IMPROVED AWARD.

28 Arrows from time to time enjoyed working on new and old shooting skills, with 8 earning 8 new awards. REBECCA DROMS, ALEXANDRA GOLDSTEIN, ALEXANDRA MERWIN, JAIME MITTELMAN, DANIA SHOR and ADRIANA XHAKLI earned PM (prone). Followed with ALISON CHEMLA earning MM (prone) and LISA MANN earning SS (prone). The high shooter of the group was LISA MANN with a 64 in (prone).

27 Bards had 3 shooters that earned 7 different levels of awards. JADE MAZZA earned PM (prone) with LIBBY COPELAND-HALPERIN earning MM (prone). The top shooter of the group was ALLISON TURANO with an 89 in (prone) and earning PM through Bar 1 in (prone). ALLISON TURANO also received GIRLS SENIOR CAMP / BEST IN CAMP AWARD.

COMPETITIONS:

A Jester rifle team of 10 year olds, ALLISON HOWARD, AUBREY KING, ALEXANDRA SARTORI & LINDSAY ROSENSTEIN started our summer with a challenge with four Squires, these boys being RYAN CRISTAL, JACK FREIFELDER, DANIEL CHANDLER-KLEIN & DAVID WOODSTEIN. The Jester's were victorious over the Squires shooting a 228 against their score of 164.

SAILING

DANIEL PRITCHARD

What a fun group of campers! If not always the best sailors, you always had some of the best personalities and attitudes. Thank you so much to all of you who brightened my day at the waterfront.

But... a very special thanks to those of you who sincerely focused on becoming better sailors during the time that camp allowed. To those of you (you know who you are), thank you, and I enjoyed the time that we sailed together. If any of you did show any kind of commitment to sailing over the summer, it did not go unnoticed.

This is nothing against those of you who came to sailing to be with your friends, beat the heat, splash and of course capsizes. After all, the purpose of coming to camp is to have fun and develop friendships. If you did come to sailing for any of those reasons, I hope you had a good time!

Cora, my partner, you unfortunately could not be here to write this article with me and I feel like I owe you a paragraph. Thank you for your work on all of those rudders and tillers and dagger boards, not to mention the time you spent in the putt-putt. Above all, thank you for being co-operative and willing to adopt some of my ideas on how to run sailing.

See you again

Daniel and Cora

TENNIS

GRANT RAHMEYER

From Ryan Crystal to Jon Meltzer and from Sara Kushma to Kristina Futterman and Sarah Stein-Sapir the tennis courts were alive with intensity and competition this summer. The 2001 summer started strong with the appointment of an almost all new tennis staff here at Robin Hood. Soon, the word got out that tennis was a great place to learn and have fun.

Some of the people involved in getting that word out were the Bards and the Quills who came almost every day of the summer. Sam, Libby, and Anna went to all of the tournaments and practiced hard between. From the Quills, Dana, Tuck and Annie could always be seen rallying or playing even in the hottest sun.

On the boys camp side we got hard work from everyone, but especially the guys from the Archers and the Lancers. Fooksa and Jonas played out some great matches for the Archers, and Lancers had some memorable play from Cohen, Senor Moonballer (Max Manin), Nigro and Senter.

Overall it was a great summer for tennis and we on the tennis staff saw a lot of improvement from campers of all ages and skill levels. And remember, always finish over your shoulder.

Snow was late leaving camp this year but with its departure and the end of June arriving, Camp Robin Hood came with its cast of hundreds. It was time to go exploring - to visit the magnificent lakes and mountains that make New Hampshire so beautiful!

The 2001 summer kicked off with a series of canoe overnights at a new outpost on Danforth Bay. Every junior camp group paddled across the lake, past the marina, through the secret channel, under the road, across Lower Danforth Bay, through another channel and across Upper Danforth Bay to the campsite. Memories include swimming, volleyball/newcomb, canoe races, fajitas, s'mores (both schools), scary stories ("Is New Jersey scary?"), Pooh and campfires. We had many special moments: Archer's French s'mores and a debate over the scariness rating of Drew's stories, Jester's Spanish rendition of Cristina Aguilera (Shmangolito, Shmangolito baby!), Bows staying up all night declaring their love for Duncan, Tumblers surprise at Treebeard's reading glasses, PJ's canoe flip and Squires trying to sleep after hearing about the Archangel.

Archers - The season's first mountain climb called for the Archers to summit majestic Mount Chocorua. The boys started strong through the forest at the foot of the mountain (although Myles and Jack were a little freaked out by Treebeard's psychic powers). As we climbed the steep switchbacks, the pack let out a series of moans and groans. But upon surviving an encounter with a 4' snake, the boys were energized as we rose above treeline. The staff had a hard time holding these young gazelles back as the hike was officially declared "the coolest ever!" by Jacob. We took in the view pondering where Chief Chocorua might have launched himself then quickly scrambled down from the rocky summit. We stopped only for chocolate bars (and for Michael to leave a little gift on the mountainside). Alex, Dicker, Ryan, Jacob, Myles and Ethan earned a reward for exemplary climbing. Special mention must also be made of Ethan shattering the world record for number of pit stops. The successful day was capped off nicely by a hearty meal at Pizza Barn.

Quills - The Quills ascent of Mount Chocorua began auspiciously enough with a quick lesson on wilderness "toilet" etiquette. Zoe demonstrated her grasp of the concept. The group hiked briskly to the waterfalls (with Dana keeping track of the time) for a break. Here the girls became obsessed with mining the trail mix for M&Ms and Audrey was horrified to learn we would be scaling the sheer 50' cliff of Pitcher Falls (gullible). We climbed steadily then lunched on the trail with a magnificent view of Mount Washington. The switchbacks were dominated by solving riddles. Zoe, Allie, Michele, Annie and Lexie were particularly persistent but Carolyn (with an assist from Kidder) solved the master riddle first. Just before breaking above treeline, the girls heard the mysterious Legend of Chocorua. The group then braved the wind on the bare rock and, despite some anxiety, enjoyed a glorious vista from the summit. The descent was notable for the complete lack of griping. Also, Lauren decided to soak herself by falling in a puddle. Several girls ran the last half mile with Annie flying well ahead of the pack. In good spirits, thoughts turned to our bellies and Pizza Barn was the overwhelming choice. Sporting rainbow stickers, we returned to camp to Annie's inspired rendition of "I Want a Fat Babe." This wonderful trip was officially concluded two weeks later when Carolyn finally found her bathing suit.

Tumblers - On a hot day in early July, the Tumblers traveled to nearby Green Mountain. After a few steep sections, everyone made it to the top...but there was more...a climb up the fire tower brought great views. The old man who had been there "for 70 years" gave out pink candy and answered everyone's questions. After a short musical "doy-doy" interlude and a chipmunk disappearing act, we descended. On the way down, Lily S, Carly and Alison all suffered "sprained ankles" while Satomi held tight to Drew's hand. A stop at Cozy Corner for cotton candy ice cream seemed to heal all injuries!

Bards - The day after the Fourth of July, the Bards set off to climb Mt. Webster. After some mountain trivia questions from the trips staff, everyone ate sandwiches while enjoying the views from Webster Cliffs. Drew played a nice little joke on the group by inviting some very smelly AT hikers to pose in a picture. The Bards saw great views at the peak but soon got moving because the weather was getting chilly. Allison and Juliette showed everyone the right way to filter water as they took surprise dips in Silver Cascade. Finally, everyone made it back down the mountain and a visit to Pizza Barn satisfied all appetites.

PJ's - Next to tackle mighty Green Mountain were the PJ's. Despite a late start, the boys raced up the trail with the help of many a walking stick. Jasim and Mikey led a successful frog hunt along the trail. Jasim even tried to sneak one back to camp in his canteen but Figgy was way ahead of him. They mounted the tower on the peak to take in the view. After a rapid descent the boys filled up on ice cream at Cozy Corner.

Bows - The Bows headed just outside North Conway on a sunny afternoon to conquer South Moat Mountain. Some of the group were a bit dismayed to find that it was the same mountain they had attempted last summer. Nevertheless, they started out the hike (they didn't have a choice anyhow) with great enthusiasm. The Bows sang the Bear Song, Boom-chick-a-boom, My Dog Jelly and other dining hall cheers as they ascended. Tripsy and Mouse were glad to find that the steep sections slowed down over-ambitious (faster than staff) hikers such as Ilyse and Kushma. The group refilled their tanks with some chocolate chip cookie fuel and finally made it to the top for some terrific views! Coming down, we paused several times for fresh blueberries. YUM! Lauren showed off her mountain acrobatics and Elisabeth reminded us of how to keep cool on hot days. There was even time for a surprise trip to Micky D's on our way back to camp.

Lancers - July 10th marked the day that the Lancers challenged Wildcat Mountain. To our dismay the journey ended in a thunder cloud at the first outcropping, sending us to search for Lost Lake. During our hunt we spotted some beaver homes. Our hero Nigro (the Tom Cruise of the mountain) discovered Lost Lake with a graceful skid off a boulder. After this adventure a swim in White Lake was in order but again nature interfered. An approaching lightning storm chased us out of the water while Kirill attempted to capture the bolts on film. We then blew into McDonalds to enjoy dinner and our free smile.

Yeoman - The Yeoman group set out for a "little known spot" in New Hampshire (or was it Maine?). This fearless group sped up the trail and soon passed a large group of hikers (not as little known as Drew had thought). At the top, everyone ate sandwiches while observing far-off rainstorms and learning some geography from Drew. Heading down, Adrien shouted, "I am Wolverine!" and many campers became one with the slippery trail. The adventure was not yet over as we took a second hike to Emerald Pool. All the campers (unlike the staff) plunged into the frigid water from the rock ledge above. Adam's high pitched screams were quite convincing. Everyone enjoyed a C-Bar before racing back to the vans. And of course we stopped at a fast food joint - Burger King hit the spot!

Mt. Washington - A select group of Saxons and Scribes (with a special appearance from the Shires) set out on Friday the 13th for the daunting heights of Mt. Washington. At 6,288 ft. it's the BIG GRANDDADDY of the Northeast. Upon arrival at the trailhead, the peak was hidden behind an ominous blanket of clouds. Nevertheless the fearless group, with Gillian, Arabella and Maite in the lead and Rob sporting a duffle bag, started briskly up sunny Tuckerman Ravine Trail. After a mile and a half, Kate casually mentioned the torn ligaments in her knee. Soon the group paused to replace the refreshing camp water with some mountain runoff. The hard-working crew reached Hermit Lake Shelter at lunchtime. The flurry of bedraggled and drenched hikers rushing down the peak telling of hailstones and strong winds made the hike ahead seem questionable. Setting out through the forest optimistically, Jonah baffled some passing hikers with a brilliant riddle. When we started up the headwall, we were graced with lovely views of the ravine and the peaks across the valley. Despite the steep grade, we soon found ourselves above treeline on the cloud-covered shoulder of mighty Washington with just a half mile remaining. The limited visibility coupled with Kate's deteriorating condition made it difficult for the group to stay together. Ice was forming on our hair as we reached a trail junction (the sign read .5 miles to the summit). Twenty minutes later, we were shocked to hear from a friendly group of descending hikers that the peak was STILL a mere half mile ahead. We knew we had reached the top when cars appeared out of the clouds. The group hurried eagerly to the summit then retired to the restaurant for the nourishment of chili-dogs and pop. Rested and replenished, we set out into the mist (sans Kate and Bronson who were airlifted back to the base). The rest of the group slipped and slid, (Kyle did a face-plant) down the talus slope. Highlights of the final descent include Martz making us aware (repeatedly) that everyone's knees were taking a beating, Geoff inspiring us with quotes from "The Wisdom of Cats," Ian's brown socks, Sammi's run-in with the hut caretaker for leaving trash, a photo op at Crystal Cascade and running (or crawling) back to the trailhead. Bronson led a group pigout at Wendy's to finish off this epic day!!

Jesters - In mid-July the mighty Jesters set forth to conquer the old hotel trail up Willard Mountain. Stomping through the muddy trail, stepping over the ancient pipes of the aqueducts, the Jesters pushed forward. This amazing group rested only twice: to admire Centennial Falls and the narrow path. Upon reaching the ledge, we were in awe of the view while we munched on sandwiches. The group was up for another challenge as we made our way down to swim at White Lake. During a wonderful meal at Pizza Barn, Jimena proved the law of gravity with the aid of a hot chili pepper shaker and Tripsy's gullibility.

Arrows - A choice group of 16 Arrows decided to climb Chocorua as well. Emma led us enthusiastically up the Champney Falls Trail but we were soon overtaken by a group of 50 campers from Maine. Later we weaved through this group to the small alcove near Pitcher Falls where we ate some GORP ("What's that?") and replenished our water with a pretty cool filter. Just after the climb got steep, the girls thought the trail would never end. Nevertheless, we strode mightily up the mountainside counting all seven switchbacks. The view on the summit was worth all the climbing and heights (even Tiffany thought so!). The way down was marked by a spectacular faceplant by Allie, and countless falls by Lauren. We then rushed to McDonalds for a quick meal as half the group went to Cody to play a soccer match (Ali and Becca with taped knees, no less!) and the rest returned triumphantly to camp.

Bows - In late July a trip to Cathedral Ledge was due. Along the Bow's adventure to the top, we saw a mysterious car in the middle of nowhere. Once at the top we enjoyed sandwiches while discussing dog sled races. The group blazed a new path while Clara provided lots of spider facts and we came across a "poisonous" spider. Meanwhile Michelle, Treebeard, Katie, Shawn, Liza and Eliza continued to Whitehorse Ledge where they explored the ledge, snacked and saw any number of creatures in the puffy clouds. Once reunited, the group took a relaxing dip in Echo Lake where they were bounced about by Tripsy and Treebeard. After separating one more time, we reunited conveniently at Pizza Barn.

Archers - Remember the Archer canoe trip to the Main Lake...Camp said it would take at least two hours but we arrived in 1 hour 15 minutes - including a swim on the sand bar! The Big Surprise was a wonderful cookout at Jack and Myles' grandfather's place, a swim in the Main Lake (which seemed to never get deep) and a canoe race back to camp. Our Heartfelt thanks to Jack Friedman Sr. for an outstanding meal!

Katahdin - This year's Baxter State Park trip, the piece de resistance of the tripping program, consisted of Bernstein, Geoff, Futterman, Garcia, Ian, Maite, Martz, Stecher, Sarah Stein-Sapir, Dan and staff Michael "Trip Mastah Flex" Stollman, Sarah "Tripsy" Rorimer, Megan "I need a nap" Pittman, and Drew "I'm getting too old for this" Strauss.

Day 1 - This amazing group got off to a wonderful start but was slowed down when Drew decided to take the scenic 11 detour. We digested an outstanding lunch once the McDonalds Mutiny was put down. Campers were informed of their required reading but some of the words in the National Inquirer were too big for them. Worried that some of the information might be part of the SATs, the campers consumed every word. Most enjoyed Pink Floyd and SSS's mix! A highpoint of the journey north was a visit to the East Millinocket Graveyard. Dan, who was having crushes all weekend, was totally overwhelmed by his new friend DUNPHY. After arriving at Baxter in a rain storm, we put up the tents and devoured chicken marsalla, twice-baked potatoes, and cheesecake (thank you, Nicky!). A dip in the stream was in order. Garcia, Bernstein and Maite were by far the bravest and easily beat the boys into the water.

Peak Day dawned early with a 5:30 wake-up call! The climb up Katahdin to Baxter Peak went exceptionally well and included yodelling to Drew from the ridgeline one mile away, hanging out on the Cathedrals and constant enthusiasm from the campers (especially "Team Sarah" and Dan). After reaching the top, a lively debate occurred over whether or not to attempt the Knife Edge. Garcia, Ian, Stecher, Geoff, Dan, Maite, and Michael bravely climbed part of the Knife Edge to the South Summit. Of note was the fact that Megan snoozed during this saunter. We descended by the Saddle Trail and of particular interest were Dan's fireworks and the fact that Michael "I was looking at my footing" almost walked into the backside of a moose. Sarah-Trips meanwhile spotted a baby moose. Later that night, everyone went for a swim - no hesitation! After eating so many fajitas, not many had room for eclairs. The campers showed an incredible ability to get to sleep early. However, it must be said that Megan beat them by at least two hours.

Day three began at 8 am and included a slight shower, two rainstorms (one with lightning), a trail sprint, two waterfalls, a wonderful slide swim, a gourmet pasta feast, bridge jumping, leech collecting by Ian and Geoff, a disappearing act by Megan (nap?), a white-haired man, a park ranger, a lecture by Buddha, s'mores in the rain, a late-night philosophical discussion by the girls about carebears and gummi-bears - much to the counselors extreme displeasure - and snoring compliments of Drew.

Day 4 began with Maite demonstrating the proper way to eat a pop tart. We packed up then returned to Robin Hood with a stop at Micky D's. Of note is the fact that between the number of swims we took and the number of times we got rained on, we did NOT smell like thru-hikers on the AT!

Finally - it has been a wonderful summer for trips. We accomplished a tremendous amount in the first five weeks of camp. Campers did a super job climbing difficult mountains in not always ideal conditions. My heartfelt thanks to all staff for all their help and in particular, my own staff: Mouse (Erica - my intrepid Canadian tripper), Michael and Sarah (my Right and Left arms who led the Big Stuff)! We were immensely successful this summer due in large part to the tireless and unselfish hard work of my staff. Have a great Spring. Love, Drew

SPECIAL EVENTS

"Robin Hood, Robin Hood, count off!" And the waterfront opened for its 74th Summer. Much was accomplished over the eight weeks at camp.

The following campers earned Red Cross certificates this summer:

Stroke Readiness: Nassar Al Nassar, Ryan Globus, Aaron Haynes, Brandon Sneider, Michael Szewczyk, Nick Plater, Satomi Abe, Nikole Casimir.

Stroke Development: Bader Al Oraifan, Vincent Cloutier, Andrew Carlson, Harry Ehrlich, Jack Freifelder, Paul Grossman, Gabe Klein, Alex Lamport, Charlie Nathanson, Andrew Nigro, Chris Sartori, Jake Schwartz, Jake Szabo, Sam Dicker, Alex Lynn, Andrew Wynne, Daniele Jacobson, Anna Kuskin, Valerie Margolius, Alison Schwartz, Jenny Sonenberg, Lindsay Rosenstein, Elyan Shor, Kim Turano, Angie Di Lorenzo, Eliza Stout.

Stroke Reinforcement: Louis Cloutier, Ryan Cristal, Maxime Trompier, David Woodstein, Jack Friedman, Sam Jonas, Matt Rosen, Ryan Shane, Ethan Sneider, Myles Stavis, Jacob Vance, Lili Chemla, Carly Rosenfield, Lily Stavis, Allison Howard, Aubrey King, Bia Madrazo, Ali Sartori, Vicky Senter, Amanda Tuck, Olivia Firstenberg, Missy Friedman, Sarah Jedla, Lauren Rosenstein, Carly Schuster, Anna Wiggin.

Stroke Proficiency: Jill Kozloff, Gaby Jacobson, Sam Kadis, Sara Kushma, Sarah Lindenauer, Shawn McGrievy, Katie O'Reilly, Ilyse Rickleen, Liza Rosenfield.

The swimming awards for 2001 were as follows:

Progress and Achievement

Junior Camp - Lindsay Rosenstein, David Woodstein

Senior Camp - Taylor Lesser, Josh Berman

Effort and Skill

Junior Camp - Ilyse Rickleen

Senior Camp - Ethan Lieberman

Due to the efforts of Megan, Kate, Judy, Josh, and Anita, the waterfront had a successful summer. Thank you for your great work and enthusiasm. Have a great year, Robin Hood.

WATERSKI

Just another day in the Robin Hood waterski department 2001.....welcome to paradise! With the largest ski staff in living history the season was sure to be a successful one. Joining me this year in order to maintain our reputation as THE most multinational specialty area on camp were: representing the U.S.A., the all too familiar faces of Katie "Plain Old" Rahmeyer and Mike "Queenoo" Aquino; representing South Africa we had Mike "Intense" Stringer and last, but by means least, there was our part-time Kiwi, Vic "Sinkers" Rea.

The summer started with some of our veteran skiers showing no signs of having had the winter season off the water. Slalom skiers Eric Martz, Sam Berschler and Alex Vaughn all started very strong and spent the summer progressively honing their skills. Unfortunately, however, increased boat traffic this season made for choppy water thus disallowing our slalom skiers from "nipping it up" as often as they may have liked and forcing them to learn the finer points of skiing on rough water.

Not far behind and closing rapidly there emerged a significant number of campers making the transition from two skis to the faster, more exhilarating world of slalom skiing including Brandon Gaynor, Michael Howard, Andrew Arnot and Andrew Senter, to mention but a few.

Some of our younger skiers also enjoyed an enormous amount of success on the water this year. Both Myles Stavis and Little Woody progressed from the boom to the rope and experienced crossing the wake for the first time. Also advancing in leaps and bounds were Lauren Tuck and Lon Levy. Despite his initial reservations about the sport, Dan Chandler-Klein became a regular visitor to the Waterski department, getting the feel for two skis while still enjoying the security of the boom. Not to be outdone, his brother Nick also joined the ranks, skiing on the rope and proving that there is life outside the drama department!

The arrival, mid-way through the summer, of a new extended pylon marked the beginning of a new era for kneeboard and wakeboard fanatics alike, allowing for a much greater amount of air with significantly less effort. While Mark Crane and Matt Brody remained the life and soul of the kneeboard party, both Adam Stone and Ryan Tansey began to reach dizzying new heights on their wakeboards. No longer happy simply with jumping wake to wake, towards the end of summer both began to add to their repertoire of tricks (with varying degrees of success) including some fairly spectacular attempts at 360's, back rolls and tantrums. Maybe next year, boys.....maybe next year!

KONRAD WEATHERHOGG

Awards this year are as follows:

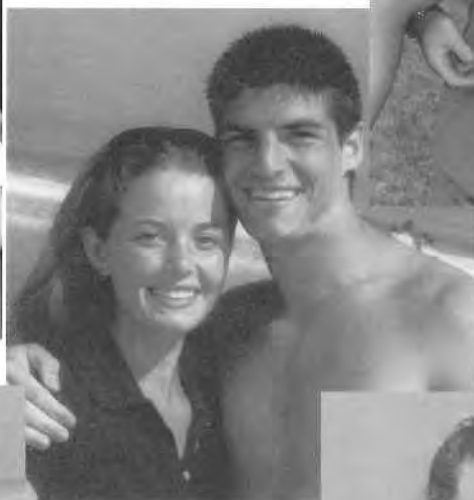

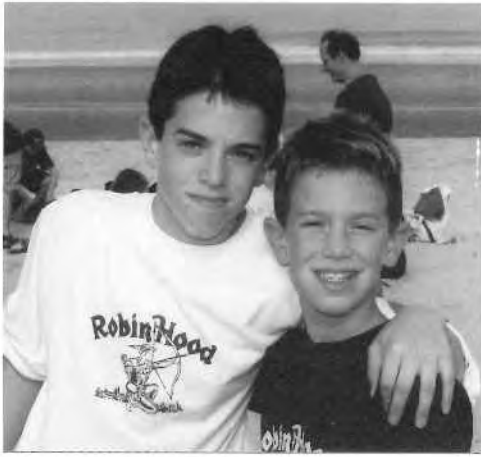

- | | | |
|------------|------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Waterski: | Effort & Skill | - Sam Berschler & Alex Vaughn |
| | Progress & Achievement | - Lon Levy |
| Wakeboard: | Effort & Skill | - Adam Stone & Ryan Tansey |
| | Progress & Achievement | - Stevenson Porter-Bell |
| Kneeboard: | Effort & Skill | - Mark Crane |
| | Progress & Achievement | - Anna Kuskin |

Finally then, a few "remember whens" to take the chill out of these cold winter months and get you in the mood for another summer on Lake Ossipee. Remember when Brandon dropped the wrong ski?.....the mystery of the silver ski?....the "Stringer Slide?....remember Olympia (enough said!).....remember Vic barefooting?....remember sunset tubing with the Scribes?.... or how about dock start training?....remember Vic sinking the tan boat and then fighting with the sailboats?.... and Stringer, how did that rope end up like that?.... remember Tansey betting on his back roll capabilities?....remember Marine Patrol?.....Queeno, what time is sunset anyway?.... remember "Lush Lady" and "Subtle Man"?....or how about Lauren Tuck's war wound?.....and finally, remember the newest feature of the Waterski department – the Stringer-Mike memorial lawn?

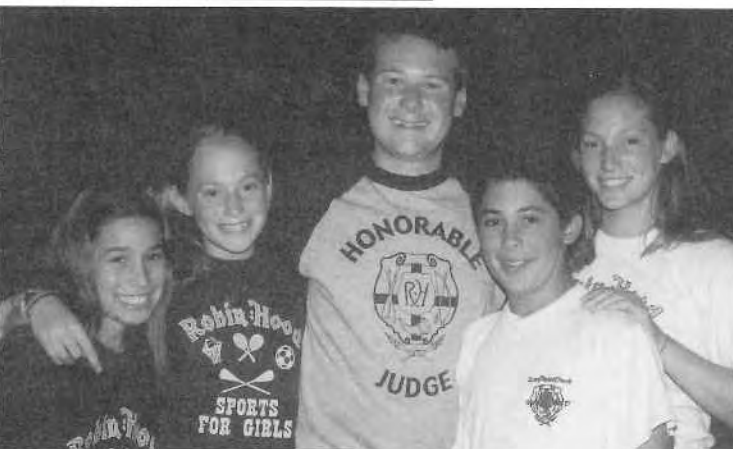

For those of you suffering withdrawal symptoms from camp, the warm water and the exhilaration of being behind the boat.....I feel your pain. Long cold winter days just make you appreciate summers in the Realm even more. Have a fantastic off-season and hope to see you all next year. Cheers, Konrad
