

Camp Robin Hood

YEARBOOK 2006

June-August
65 Robin Hood Lane
Freedom, NH 03836
603.539.4500
Fax: 603.539.4599

September-May
3330 Somerset Drive
Shaker Heights, OH 44122
216.491.CAMP (2267)
Fax: 216.491.2268

Welcome back to Camp Robin Hood Summer 2006. Other than some rain, followed by heat and humidity, it was a super summer. We were dazzled by how well the specialty departments ran and by the high energy that was evident throughout the summer. It was a busy summer!

While we could never list all the incredible highlights (see group and specialty articles to follow), who can forget our concert on the Quad with Julius C. and Alex Mann, our annual 4th of July Fair with the new addition of the Euro Bungy, and the Big Show featuring Dorothy, the Scarecrow, the Tin Man and the Lion? We had fantastic events that won't soon be forgotten.

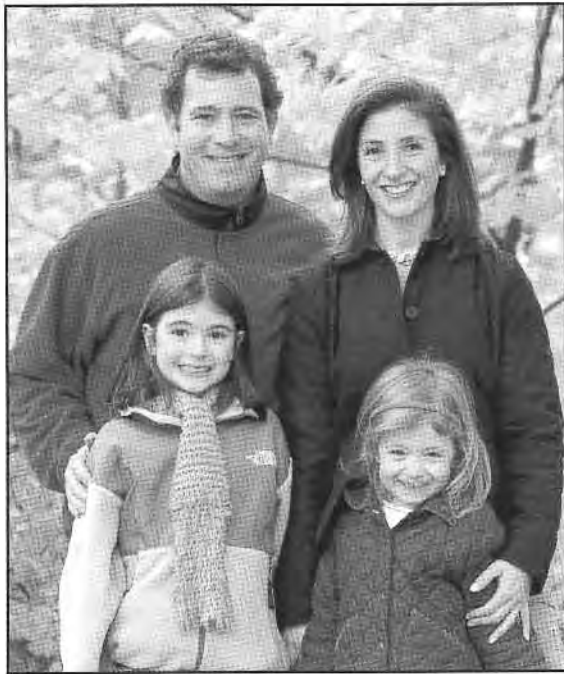

Although we shortened our intercamp schedule, our competitive spirit and good sportsmanship remained as strong as ever. Numerous trophies were won both by teams and individuals, and for the first time in several summers our 15 & Under Boys won in "The House" at West End. We enjoyed another great Blue & White Day against our friends at Camp Birchmont. Plus, we would be remiss if we discussed competition and did not mention Green & White. As some of the older campers told us, we could not have another break come from the sky so we instantly planned a fake break using an airplane, followed by the real break early the next morning. An impressive Drum Line woke camp and led our sleepy but very excited campers and staff down to the waterfront where they were greeted by the judges and us whizzing into the docks on jet skis for the official start to Color War.

Summer 2006 marked Girls Camp's 20th Anniversary. I was the Squire Group Leader in 1987 when the girls first appeared in The Realm, and it is remarkable to see how the girls' presence has progressed and evolved; they are now the Boys Camp's rival in every way. We also celebrated Head Chef Nicky Boehm's 15th Robin Hood summer. Amazingly, as camp continues to grow, Nicky and her staff continue to serve wonderful, fresh meals and never seem flustered by the many curve balls thrown their way. Nicky - we hope you are around for at least another 15!

Summer 2007 will be here before we know it. We look forward to June 23rd and Camp Robin Hood's 80th year!

Warmest Greetings from The Realm,

www.camprobinhood.com

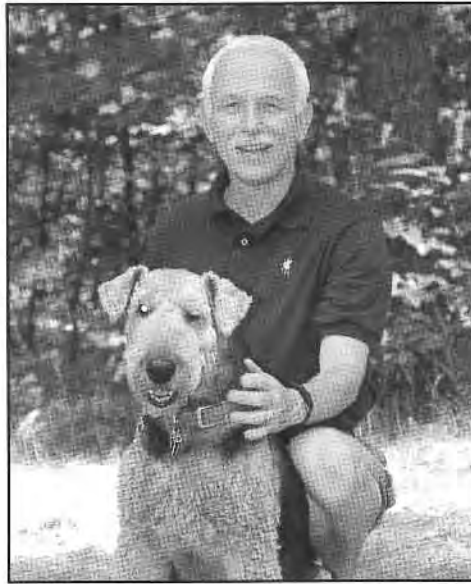

Camp Robin Hood

DC AND JAMIE WITH LAUREN & ELIZABETH

WOODY with Aaron, Sarah & David

LUCKY & CHUCK

DIANE

JEREMY & MICHELLE with Michael & Julia

DICK

AWARDS

1. Master Camper - Female: Eliza Stout 2. Master Camper - Male: Sam Jonas 3. Service - Female: Missy Friedman and Ilyse Rikleen
4. Service - Male: Sam Dicker (missing from photo: David Woodstein) 5. Fellowship - Female: Shauna O'Neil and Anna Wiggin
6. Fellowship - Male: Jack Freifelder and Andrew Cristal 7. Sportsmanship - Female: Biz Wiggin and Jill Kozloff
8. Sportsmanship - Male: Jake Szabo and Jacob Borden

ARCHERY

BEST IN CAMP

Noah Garson & Nadia Hannan

MOST IMPROVED

Santiago Guell & Chloe Conley

BASEBALL

BEST IN CAMP

Ryan Cristal & Eliza Wiggin

MOST IMPROVED

Kevin Laddon & Rebecca Curran

HONORABLE MENTION

Jake Borden

BASKETBALL

BEST IN CAMP

Jason Schreiberman,
Chad Gottsegen,
McKenzie Cohen,
Roger Gesswein & Katie Davis

MOST IMPROVED

Tyler Kruse & Nickole Morgan
Matt Feldman & Keara O'Neil

CANOEING

BEST IN CAMP

Marjorie Kozloff & Bailey Friedman

MOST IMPROVED

Kevin Goodman & Sam Rosecan

CERAMICS

BEST IN CAMP

Dylan Schattman, Dylan Robinson
& Rachel Gurman

MOST IMPROVED

Patrick Berl & Marjorie Kozloff

DANCE

BEST IN CAMP

Sara Cristal & Bia Madrazo

MOST IMPROVED

Nickole Morgan
& Lindsey Rosenstein

DRAMA

BEST ACTRESS

Emily Schattman

BEST SUPPORTING ACTRESS

Rachel Dicker

BEST ACTOR

Austin Pepper

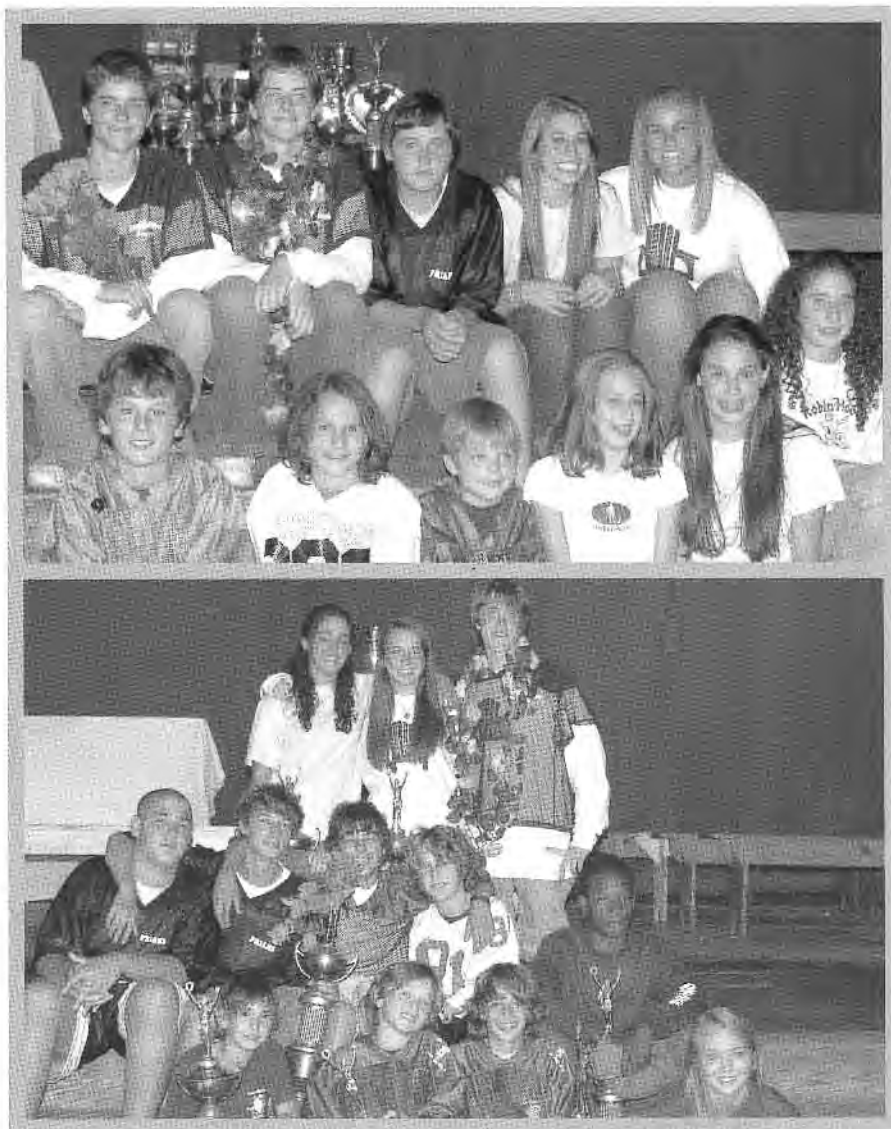

BEST SUPPORTING ACTOR

Mikey Bourque & Aaron Woodstein

SPECIAL AWARD FOR

TECHNICAL ACHIEVEMENT

Sam Dicker

Top: GROUP AWARD - FELLOWSHIP

Bottom: GROUP AWARD - MASTER CAMPER

GYMNASTICS

BEST IN CAMP

Dylan Taft, Amelia Marran-Baden
& Biz Wiggin

MOST IMPROVED

Noah Garson, Dylan Schattman, Adam Sez, Bia Madrazo &
Sarah Friedman

HORSEBACK RIDING

BEST IN CAMP

Noah Garson, Allie Lee,
Vincente Ocampo &
Danielle Jacobsohn

MOST IMPROVED

Cody Robinson, Cati Ruzika,
Brandon Sneider, Leah Schatz
& Charlotte Levine

JEWELRY MAKING

BEST IN CAMP

Matthew Noguiera, Maria Garcia,
Alex Posen & Leah Schatz

MOST IMPROVED

Jackson Pollock, Chelsea Grain,
Mikey Polisano, Connor Kruse
& Lauren Zipkin

MOUNTAIN BIKING

BEST IN CAMP

Jill Kozloff & Francesco Garosci

MOST IMPROVED

Bailey Friedman
& Jeremy Slossberg

PAINTING & DRAWING

BEST IN CAMP

Daniela Madrazo
& Claire Gregoire

MOST IMPROVED

Cody Robinson
& Caroline Gregoire

PHOTOGRAPHY

BEST IN CAMP

Brittany Frye & Aaron Woodstein

MOST IMPROVED

Jackson Pollock

RIFLERY

BEST IN CAMP

Clark Jacobsohn, Nickole Morgan,
Alexandre Barry & Ellie Tremayne

MOST IMPROVED

Jake Rosen, Caitlin Ruzika,
Zach Reisler & Livia Del Bue

AWARDS

SAILING

BEST IN CAMP

Stephen Gallagher
& David Woodstein

MOST IMPROVED

Sam Rosenstein & Jill Kozloff

SOCCER

BEST IN CAMP

Jaime Garcia de Enterria, Madeline McGinnis,
Gonzalo Garcia de Enterria
& Sarah Lindenauer

MOST IMPROVED

Adam Szewczyk, McKenzie Cohen,
Kevin Laddon, Taylor McGinnis

SWIMMING

BEST IN CAMP

Hugo Marsans, Bizzy Margolin,
Marc Navy, Illyse Rikleen

MOST IMPROVED

Jake Rosen & Kibriyaa Morgan

TENNIS

BEST IN CAMP

Ignacio Ducau Ferre, McKenzie Cohen, Sam Jonas,
Rebecca Curran

HONORABLE MENTION

Aaron Segel

MOST IMPROVED

All Quills

TRIPCRAFTS

BEST IN CAMP

Jackson Pollock
& Peter Labes

WATER SKIING

BEST IN CAMP

Sarah Lindenauer
& Carrie Solomon

MOST IMPROVED

Ryan Globus

WAKEBOARDING

BEST IN CAMP

Peter Durkin
& Trent Elsbree

MOST IMPROVED

Andres Bernar
& Michael Sez

KNEEBOARDING

BEST IN CAMP

William Chen & Greg Cohn

MOST IMPROVED

Chhaya Ausar Sahu

WOODWORKING

BEST IN CAMP

Vincente Ocampo
& Sarah Sullivan

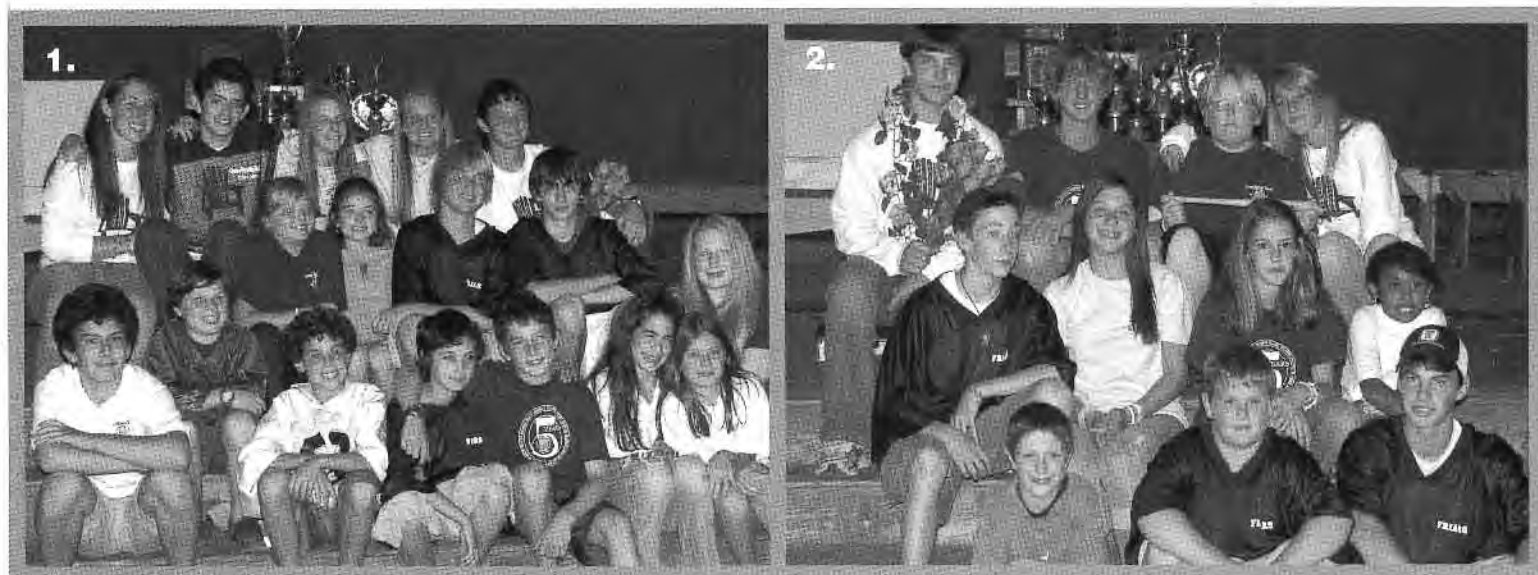

MOST IMPROVED

Michael Polisano
& Alexia Knowles

Top: SPECIALTY AWARD - BEST IN CAMP
Bottom: SPECIALTY AWARD - MOST IMPROVED

TUM/JEST	MASTER CAMPER: Marjorie Kozloff HONORABLE MENTION: Paige Reifler SPORTSMANSHIP: Chloe Conley & Kibriya Morgan FELLOWSHIP: Daniela Madrazo SERVICE: Lauren Cole & Miranda Gastelum
BOWS	MASTER CAMPER: Maddy McGinnis SPORTSMANSHIP: Lindsey Mansfield & Kenzi Cohen FELLOWSHIP: Maria Garcia & Callan Goldman SERVICE: Miklain Huntsman & Katherine Curran
QUILLS	MASTER CAMPER: Jessica Tannenbaum SPORTSMANSHIP: Tiffany Chen & Camilla Johansson FELLOWSHIP: Amelia Marran-Baden SERVICE: Sarah Sullivan
ARROWS	MASTER CAMPER: Halle Shane SPORTSMANSHIP: Katie Davis HONORABLE MENTION: Lauren Zipkin FELLOWSHIP: Rebecca Curran HONORABLE MENTION: Taylor McGinnis SERVICE: Isabella Boschetti & Martha Gilchrist
BARDS	MASTER CAMPER: Chandler Huntsman SPORTSMANSHIP: Jessi Tremayne FELLOWSHIP: Daniele Jacobson SERVICE: Bailey Friedman
SHIRES	MASTER CAMPER: Bia Madrazo SPORTSMANSHIP: Lindsey Rosenstein FELLOWSHIP: Allison Howard SERVICE: Biz Wiggin & Terry Horowitz
SCRIBES	MASTER CAMPER: Samantha Kadis SPORTSMANSHIP: Katie O'Reilly FELLOWSHIP: Hannah Magid SERVICE: Ilyse Rikleen
TPJ's	MASTER CAMPER: Matthew Schreibman SPORTSMANSHIP: Jacob Zweig FELLOWSHIP: Cavin Huntsman SERVICE: Alex Jackson
SQUIRES	MASTER CAMPER: Justin Zipkin HONORABLE MENTION: "Colorado Crew" SPORTSMANSHIP: Jake Sherman HONORABLE MENTION: Michael Schloss FELLOWSHIP: David Grain & Benji Goldman SERVICE: Noah Garson INSPECTION: Nathan Press & Jack Boffa MOST IMPROVED: Frederick Berl
ARCHERS	MASTER CAMPER: Jake Rosen SPORTSMANSHIP: Justin Golenberg FELLOWSHIP: Dylan Schattman HONORABLE MENTION: Diego Munoz Iglesias SERVICE: Jason Schreibman
YEOMEN	MASTER CAMPER: Alex Schumann SPORTSMANSHIP: Austin Pepper & Jack Durkin FELLOWSHIP: Michael Greenberg SERVICE: Michael Polisano
LANCERS	MASTER CAMPER: Andrew Crista & James Newmyer HONORABLE MENTION: Jose Ocampo SPORTSMANSHIP: Kris Casey-Boehm FELLOWSHIP: Maxim Fillion (a.k.a. "The Muscle") SERVICE: Brandon Sneider
FRIARS	MASTER CAMPER: Chhaya Ausau-Sahu SPORTSMANSHIP: Alex Wolf FELLOWSHIP: Alfonso Garcia & Manuel Maestro SERVICE: Jeremy Slossberg
FORESTERS	MASTER CAMPER: Jack Freifelder & Ryan Crista SPORTSMANSHIP: Jake Borden & Jake Szabo FELLOWSHIP: Daniel Chandler-Klein SERVICE: Brit Huntsman & Jordan Zipkin
SAXONS	MASTER CAMPER: Sam Jonas SPORTSMANSHIP: Jamie Linn FELLOWSHIP: Chad & David Burstein SERVICE: Sam Dicker & Marc Navy

1. GROUP SERVICE 2. GROUP SPORTSMANSHIP

MARCO – DOLO!!! Hide those gameboys, gobble those Charleston Chews, chug those sodas and get ready to take a bus ride back to the summer of 2006. You arrived to Junior Camp to find that Brenner was your Group Leader. The money staff of Margo, Oh Billy, Jesse Greenbeast, Paul, David and James were already fired up for what would prove to be a ridiculous, superfluous and extraneous summer. Remember Hamad, Sasan, Patrick, Stone, Alex B., Mikey, Ignacio, Pete, Gotts, Cavin, AJ, James, Jake K., JG, Mintz, Josh, Jackson, Julian, Cody, Matt, Will, James and Jacob Z....Haaaaaahaaaaa Niiiiiicccceee...

Remember bombardment as the first evening activity...lice checks at the infirmary...Pizza Barn for Stone's birthday...our first trip to Cozy Corner...going to the outpost...Steve's stories – Bangy bangy bangy, stabby stabby stabby...playing Super Knockout every day...doing surgery in ceramics...the Squires using our bathrooms all the time...trying to swim our 16 laps...Hamad dancing on the waterfront tower...Remember boys campfire...TPJ's and their Saxon "brothers"...

Remember climbing Green Mountain...the incredible view from the fire tower...full moon and full sun and full solar system...Hey Hamad!...Patrick's day off dance...timed countoffs...setting a group record of 8 seconds before the four-weekers leave...Camper/Counselor hunts...playing baseball outside the bunk...water fights with the Friars...Mad Libs...table games...Freeze!...trees, breeze...community cleanup...

Remember waking up in the morning...Chuck telling you guys to jump on the counselors...“Get Brenner! Jump on Brenner!”...Are you guys cold? Put on a sweatshirt anyways...the group leader SWITCH!...Brenner gets the Squires, (sigh)...you boyz get soo lucky and have Gillian and love every minute of it...Remember nights with A-Nuts on Duty...

Remember Ogunquit beach day – everyone gets candy...Casino Night and Deal or No Deal, TPJ's never get to go, what's that about?...“Brenner for Captain” cheers at the meals...bungee jumping and rock climbing...Beast, weast and CAFWEAST!...Ignacio gets four goals and Sasan scores two goals as the TPJ's help Robin Hood dominate the soccer tournament, Tiki Tage, Tiki Tage!!...Remember the ten and under basketball tournament with Brenner, Myles, Chad and the bear...watching the senior campers beat West End – twice!...setting up basketball hoops on the bunk rafters...slam dunk contests...Don't bounce the ball during rest hour!

Remember James Weiss' tongue?!...Shooting at water balloons in archery, and popping them...Stone and Mintz being best friends but...Berl has no teeth and is Paul Wray...

Remember when Cavin and Pete arrive...“Cavin Huntsman!” chants at 9 PM...Parents visiting day...karaoke in the dining hall...Adam “Mini” Schreiberman sleeps over...the Jacksons bring donuts for everyone in the morning...

Remember waiting for color war to break...Saxons and Scribes fake break with candy, then the brass fake break-DR flying his plane over The Realm, wait, can the Brass even have a fake break?...Green and White finally breaks for real at 6 AM with drummers and a walk to the waterfront...Sick Doood Sick...Counselor captains are Cox, E-Tard, A-Nuts and Gillian...Gotts and Mikey captains, Schreiberman and Zweig Co's...Weiss “skateboarding” at the Talent Show...Will Tuck overcomes stage fright and blows the judges away at the end of the night, wink wink...Green wins the medley on song night, but White Pirates dominate Gladiators and take home the war...writing down our lazy day breakfast requests and putting them under a pillow...the next night, everyone sleeps in the same bunk before the six-weekers leave...

Remember when James, Jake and Josh arrived for Rookie Camp...Chants of “Jake-OB”...TPJ Squires and the Tumbler/Jesters challenge and beat the Shires in bombardment, are you serious Billy?!...playing the Scribes the next day...Remember tubing in the lake...Cody does a crazy side flip and lands it perfectly...Cavin's tube flies ten feet in the air...waterskiing was also a popular TPJ choice...and how could we forget bocce...playing from the top floor of the Lancer bunk...Mikey and Cavin playing bocce – during rest hour!...Remember ice skating at Hamm Arena...Billy learns how to skate – sort of...watching the Yankees on TV...A-Rod's ridiculous slide...playing arcades and air hockey...AirHeads!!!...Hamad is Peter Durkin...when Alex Bloch rolled down the hill...the skunk in Will's bed...Julian is the PoononDon...Holla!

Remember excursion...rollin' out of camp with the TJ's in tow...Pirate's Cove and Santa's Village...Brenner and Margo ride Santa's sleigh, then a visit to the church... Heading to the campground where there are goats, sheep and roosters...cooking steak at the campsite...the TJ's cheer for Will..."W-I-L-L what does it spell?"... what happened to Will's shoes?...burning random items in the campfire...where is Mikey's shirt?...Raisin Bran for breakfast or Dunkin' Donuts?...then Alpine sliding and water rides at Attitash, DC comes down for the afternoon and becomes one of the PJ's... Talladega Nights, Ricky Bubby!... Shake and bake!...If you don't like Big Red...finally, dinner at Pizza Barn caps off an amazing two days, Dick meets us there, greeted by cheers of "We love Dick!"...

Remember shuffleboard...when Will showered...when Gotts didn't get mail...when everyone could find their shoes...when Patrick wasn't naked...when we were on time for benches...when nobody played Nintendo DS in the bunk...when we could find the dustpan...when we did well on inspection...when you guys weren't asking for bombardment... WE DON'T!

Remember Founders Night...Billy and Margo get their ten-year vests...don't worry Mikey, just wait until you're a Friar!... several TPJ's receive water bottles and flashlights...Hamad loses his glasses lens...days later, his glasses disappear into the lake...the sick evening activity boat ride...speed softball...Billy hits trees twice...Hamad gets some extra motivation to make it to first base...the canoe trip to the Marina and buying lots of food and drinks...Mikey stuffing desert in his face... Remember thinking of remember whens?... Bombardment is our last activity - How fitting...Then a money lunch capped off with an encore presentation of Sandstorm by the first year aides...

Remember awards nights...congrats to AJ for Service, Jacob Z. for Sportsmanship, Cavin for Fellowship and Matt Schreiber for Master Camper...The last night...shotgunning sodas, everyone sleeping in the same bunk getting no sleep only to wake up before the sun comes up...

To my TPJ's: I was a little scared coming into the summer that you guys would be a handful...that turned out to be true, ha ha. But you boys were always having fun and becoming close friends with each other already, even as junior campers. You gave me an amazing first summer as a Group Leader. I know that in the many years to come, all of you will be back and will eventually grow into the leaders of the Realm.

To my staff: James, thanks for spending time around the bunk, it was much appreciated...David, mountain biking was tough work, but thanks for the help this summer you became a good friend of all of us...Paul, you were an incredible counselor to our boys whenever you were able to get away from the stables, the kids loved you and we all hope to see you back next summer...Jesse, you are great with the kids...Billy, you had a difficult role to fill but you did it with ease and were a huge help. Margo - this summer would not have been possible without you. From the second I got here I knew you'd be with me and I could not have been happier. Our friendship skyrocketed to new levels.

Finally, in the words of the Most Honorable Aaron Adler, "I'd like to thank the Spot and the people who make it possible. Remember the Spot is not just a place, it is a state of mind."

SQUIRES

Hey Squires...YEAH...Hey Squires...YEAH...it's been a long year since camp but let's go back and remember the summer of 2006. So stop that homework, put down that backpack, your PSPs, Nintendo DSs, Yu-Gi-Oh cards and Madlibs...everyone on the benches...no not the staff benches, the porch...take one more final basketball shot...1-2-3 ANDREW!!!...and listen up because this is the summer that Freddy, Boffa, Shamu, Flug, Rat Tail, Benji, Goody, Junior, PJ, Crazy Legs, The Sherminator, Press, Karas, Schloss, The Game Master, Zippy, Beitler, Chen, and the Spanish sensation stormed the Realm.

Remember waking up each morning to "Bad Dreams"...Flug jamming out from the top bunk...waiting until 7:30 to play basketball...our convenient location next to the nurses station...cleaning after breakfast...scoring a zero...requiring the Scribes to help clean...twice...finding a tooth and bottle under Grain's bed...Noah cleaning the toilets for canteen...backroom lockdown...scoring a hundred on inspection...somehow winning Mrs. White Glove T-shirts.

Remember Climbing Green Mountain...the torrential rains..."Curse you Stevie Solomon"...hurrying back down the mountain...thinking that we may be lost...Olivier swearing off mountains...eating on the bus...everyone falling asleep...Ice skating with the Bows...The bus breaking down...Eli and Szabo's remake of a Robin Hood classic...Benji bringing the milkshake to the yard and bus...Stevie hitting on the Arts & Crafts girl...going to Pizza Barn for Andrew's birthday...Noah licking the wall...the bus drivers taking forever...getting revenge..."I know a song that gets on everybody's nerves"...going to the opening night of Pirates of the Caribbean...the girls getting scared...the bus pulling over...the driver informing the group; "You're going NO WHERE!"...Rock Climbing in the heat...Kozy Corner...Shamu knowing where everything is (except Crystal Lake and the bathroom)

Remember Grain and Beitler's Piggy club...Sponge Bob's secret location...Szabo's five star special and chin treatment...Frederick's transformation from hating to loving camp...winning Deal or No Deal...getting McDonald's...Press correcting Boffa...Woody's canteen promises...Beitler driving hard to the hoop in basketball...Frederick going to play practice...Jack getting water during every period...Chen bringing his DS to every activity...our group's infatuation with wood working...PJ and Flug's motor boat...the sword fights...Press' photo obsession.

Remember Boffa building sand castles on the beach...pajama jumping skits...dunking Eli...Chen showing up at random times...Goodies obsession with GTA Liberty City Stories...the hammock epidemic...Flug being the only smart one to hang it over his bed...our bunk looking like banana village...Bad News Bears...Goodies 20 question per day limit...camper hunts...staff hunts...the world cup...JC Dubs...mud sliding on the quad...Ogunquit...the freezing water...Pollock's life saving boogie board.

Remember Pj not wearing a hat...Podl eating at meals...Grey being clean...Noah not having a rat tail...Zipkin not wearing a hat with his name on it...Hugo not wearing an American flag bathing suit...getting your laundry back...wearing the appropriate footwear...Shane being present...Schloss talking...Cause We Don't!

Remember The Winaukee Play Day...Olivier's clutch shots...Pollock beasting softball...which we eventually tied...Schloss' last minute finger role basket...losing basketball by only one point...Garson's soccer goal...winning soccer...sweeping bombardment to clinch the play day...Blue and White Day against Birchmont...When it came to challenges you guys held it down...being outnumbered 3-1 and still beating the PJs & TJs in bombardment...Weiss saving the flag in capture the flag against the Archers...squeaking out a victory in the third game against the much larger Shires...no wonder the brass was afraid to accept our challenge.

Green and White...The Brass fake G&W break...Hugo deciding that he did not like this G&W thing before it even started...waking up early to drums on the quad...catching frogs for nature points...Sherman dominating basketball...the chipmunk...trying to catch it with Steve's trap...Junior playing Flava Flav and Lil' John...Newcomb going down to the wire...Zipkin's winning goal getting called back in the final seconds of the soccer game...two ties in tug of war...It was one amazing war boys, one of the best in years and I'm very glad that I got to spend it with you.

Lazy day...The last meeting before the six-weekers left...holding the first bonfire at the new Outdoor Theatre...burning footwear...getting scared on the walk back...last night candy party...the arrival of the rooks: Harris, Podl and Meister...the wild evening water boat ride...throwing tennis balls...Podl jumping off the back.

Excursion...departing with the Archers at 9:30am sharp...floating down the Saco River...Tillery and Lindsay's company...attaching tubes to make a large raft...which ended up not moving...triple canteen for 15 minutes...searching for the campsite with the short bus...ending up in a section of the map not connected to anything else...the Canadian takeover of Salty Acres...Zipkin laying down the law, "Well Canadians own the place where you sleep so...BOOYAH!"...late night campfire dinner of fajitas...the tent's broken zipper...E-tard's eggs for breakfast...Palace Playland...losing all our money to the carnies...the steak feast with beans, corn and shrimp...rushing to catch The Ballad of Ricky Bobby..."Today we are friends Ricky Bobby, but tomorrow is WAR!"...Dunkin Donuts...Aquaboggan...aquaboob...the taco...where is Noah?...go carts...no shoes no ride Sherman...the Wal-Mart contest...the grand prize pickle jar...The Portland Seadogs Game...Oakie and the trash monster

Remember...The last campfire of the year with the Archers...Smoers...the Saxon speeches...Wicked...Harris' weapon collection...Meister's dinner predictions...cool nights...canoeing to the Marina...Awards Night.

To My Staff: Although things were a little hectic in the beginning of the summer, everything came together for a job well done. Simon and Stephen, you both got along well with the kids and made my job in the bunk that much easier. Stevie, I am glad that you have made it through your first year aide woes and know that you will truly flourish as a senior counselor. Grossman, I have grown to appreciate your unique character and expect to see you back for many summers to come (hopefully on my G&W team). Brad, you are an excellent counselor...when you are here. I have greatly enjoyed being on your staff for these last two years and better see you for the entire summer next year. Szabo, you have proved to be a great friend. I am certain that you will thrive in college and beyond. Thanks again for a great summer and I hope to see you all back next year.

To the Squires of 2006: Thank you for giving me one of the best summers of my life. I am honored to have been your group leader and am very pleased that my first year as one has been so memorable. You are a great group of kids; I only wish that more of you would have stayed longer and hope that next year you do. COME BACK. I look forward to seeing you guys as a strong presence in The Realm for many summers to come.

To my staff: Although I probably should have asked for a better group of staff in the beginning of the summer, we have managed to make it through in one piece and I could not, nor want it, to be any different.

ARCHERS

Gentlemen – 2006 was a crazy summer...we started out 23 strong...that means 4298 gameboys...so put all those down, even if you need pizza to do it and relive the insanity that was the summer of '06.

Remember our first evening activity – softball on the homerun diamond...we were so lucky to get that for our first group activity...learning the meaning of "hypothetical." The first morning, Chuck getting all of you guys to jump on me...that night we were the first group in camp to crack into candy canteen...our 16 laps in the rain...going bowling with the Bows and Big Woody...the first social, rock and rolling all night...all of the rain came and oh man did it rain the first week...the JC Dubs competition, starting with the scavenger hunt...the first all camp activity, breaking up into groups for Double Dare. Remember the Pajama jump...MVPs of the evening were Nigro's acting performance and Sez's form-perfect belly flop...the softball tournament – we kept it close versus the best team there and then crushed Birchmont's other team...the ride home we checked out li'l Sez's school...how slow can we drive, "1 mile per hour!" The other half of the group goes rock climbing...Diego loses a finger early. Remember the 4th of July: Spider Bungee, Slip and Slides, blow-up houses, the Saxon and Scribe fashion show and all of the carnival food. Who could forget Sam's Sno-Cone incident?

Remember Blue and White day...at least we tried hard...killing them in bombardment, they had no idea how seriously we take our dodgeball here at The Realm...our mountain trip to Mt. Hedgehog...our stops on the way home at Wal-Mart and Wendy's...The next all-camp activity was gold rush – steal from the rich and give to the poor...general swims – wrestling, shoulder jumping and getting rides to the bottom on my back.

How about all of our challenges and constant domination...beating the Squires, Bows, Yeomen and then almost the Lancers, so close...no worries you'll get 'em next year...the night at the races, putting it all on Big Woody and winning! Our Group Leader switch – getting Maite and Ethan goes to the Shires...waterfront 1st period all of the time.

Beach day – fun in the sun...the boardwalk, all of the candy...Schattman eats his gum off of the sand...Sez's bug bites...Schreibman always smiling...Gordo's shrill bird noise...the Talent show – a great performance by Schattman, Nigro, Sam Andrus and Gordo...Bonsai – sorry Reg...going to Winaukee and them making us throw out our lunches...the man thong...Paolo and Alvise's nightly announcements, "Attention on camp, stand by please, will Jason and Chad..." Paolo trying to leave with contraband – fortunately our security is tighter than the airport. "Excuseme, Excuseme, you tak my kniiife?"

Remember when the 15 and under basketball team beat West End – twice! Tyler's fall during kickball...all the team handball games...Clark is brick wall in goal...the outpost – trying to sink the swim rafts...playing circle of death on the beach...listening to Dane Cook during inspection...Jaime's 1,000 questions that served no purpose...25 TA was Eduardo, or Max, it was hard to tell...locking everyone in Jarnold's box...his late night world record trivia...the evening activity that almost never was – Football...Tyler's amazing game winning catch – thanks so much for sticking it out and playing. It just goes to show that if you try hard during activities they will be great... Sam Rosenstein's nightly serenades and taps playing – it was always a pleasure...Gottsegen's defense mechanism, "I can't breathe!" 20 (thousand) questions at night...the person on duty had no idea about the interrogation...Jarnold's changing corner...Steven and Tyler's massive amounts of laundry...waking up to Bob Seger, Blues Traveller and Eric Clapton.

Then came Parent's Day and of course it had to rain, but Karaoke saved the day...our group performance of "Graduation." Tyler's Dad catches a huge fish and drops it on the bunk floor...the second Deal or No Deal hosted by your Group Leader...we win the counselor swap, but turned down the Shires and Bows – you guys probably should not go into business...the arrival of Dylan Taft or DT as he preferred...he always wanted gymnastics...showing our magic tricks and begging for the secrets – don't worry, I'll tell you guys soon...frofl in the rain...Jake's Frisbee takes out a red garage window – Oops...Katz's fort/best area in camp with a spooning schedule.

Remember the Saxon fake break, I know it fooled some of you...the real break at 6am...the drum line leading us down to the waterfront – clearly Steven needs an even louder alarm clock...A-Nutz and E-Tard led the Green Gladiators against Cox and Gillian with the White Pirates... You guys were led by J-Ro and Golenberg on the White and Schattman and Schreibman for the Green...the most intense game of shuffleboard ever finishing with Jake's amazing game-ending shot. Schreibman's incredible bombardment catch...it was a very even war for our group and the whole team...the Pirates end victorious by only 149 points.

Remember when J-Ro talked to his girlfriend, when D-Rob said his countoff number on time, when Stecher's area was messy, when Matt wasn't playing with his Yugio cards, when Gallagher and Gordon had clean areas or when Golenberg ate anything? WE DON'T.

How about Gallagher's fits of uncontrollable laughter even when the jokes weren't that funny (and even made up in Katz's case) or when someone even thought about tickling him...Sam Rosenstein sprains his ankle jumping into water...Sloss' very hidden talent...belly boarding and Sam Andrus loses his shorts...ice skating...using the crates to push people around...the Jessica Alba game...the Doctor's message: "Clear Pee." Listening to Andy play guitar at night...singing the goodnight song and evening shades on the basketball court.

EXCURSION: Get on the short bus! Schreiberman learns the way to Shaw Town...witnessing the squirrel seizure...first stop was floating down the Saco River...making a huge floating ring...DC pulling us for double canteen...eating fajitas in the dark, they were so good though. The next day starting with the egg feast and SO much bacon...off to Palace Playland: The Terminator, Power Surge, Drop Zone, Bumper cars, the Galaxy roller coaster, the Matthehorn and all the delicious fried food and silly carnival games...Stech wins the $$ ball...Jake Rosen goes on one too many rides and demolishes the picnic table...back to the campsite for a surf and turf - shrimp and steak accompanied by corn and beans - what a meal! All the counselors cooking on those tiny grills, but in record time...getting to the movies in the nick of time - "Ricky Bobby today we are friends, but tomorrow is WAR!" Steven keeps everyone up on the bus ride home. Then last day was packed: Aquaboggin with the Stealth (the Taco Ride), Go-Karts and the Aquabubble just to name a few...getting in the little kids line to speed things up...Adam Sez gets kicked out of every ride...the Wal-Mart challenge won by Gordo, Schreiberman and J-Ro with the huge bouncy ball - congrats on your giant jar of pickles for your prize...finishing off with the unexpected trip to the Sea Dogs game...oakie...the trash monster...throwing ice cubes, or not. What a great three days!

The last days of camp: the talks on the benches and the Outdoor Theater... finally being able to collect on Dick's Gameboy challenge...boys campfire and hearing the Saxon speeches...the variety show and awards night. The last day - flipping beds instead of cleaning...bombardment and soccer. Congrats to our Master Camper Jake Rosen, Fellowship winner Dylan Schattman (Honorable mention to Diego), Sportsmanship recipient Justin Golenberg and Service winner Jason Schreiberman - you guys all really deserved it, but I wish there were more awards, because there are definitely guys who were left out.

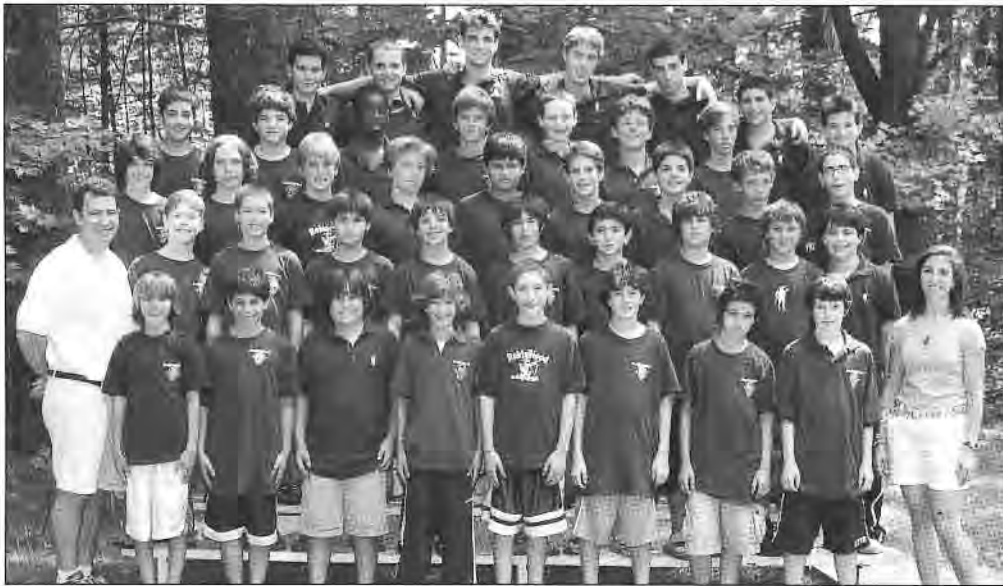

To my staff: Leigh, Andy, Adrien, PJ and Tyler thanks so much for helping any time you could. The kids loved you guys and it was always great to have a big staff to lend a hand with the kids. Max and Katz, you were great first year counselors. There are long staff careers at Robin Hood for both of you, I have no doubt. It all seemed to come naturally to you guys - keep your head about you. Sez, you were fantastic this summer and you are definitely finding your niche and style as a counselor. Squeak - the Summer of Squeak had to come to a close at some point, but it was a great run. You were my right hand man and are going to make a fabulous GL next year.

Goodbyes are never easy, but thanks to Green & White I'll be able to see each of you every summer. It's been great, "See ya later."

*Yeo-WHAT!? Yeo-MOB!
Yeo-WHAT!? Yeo-MOB!
Thaaaaat's right! Welcome back to the summer of 2006, join me as we take a little stroll down memory lane.*

Remember the first evening activity of Ultimate Frisbee, Qadeer is a beast and Solomon is taking out campers in pursuit of the Frisbee. Swimming our 16 laps. The first boys campfire where Big Woody botches and Mullaney says, "Well, I guess that wasn't retarded." Diego counts off as ocho. Remember all the rain in the first week and the Yeomob making the most of it by playing intense games of team handball and soccer. Watching movies on the new projector: Dumb and Dumber, Old School and The Goonies. Remember Mad Dog's reaction to Old School, "Yes!" and how it was the birth of the Yeomob staff handshake. Remember the Lancers wishing they were the Yeomob with their rip off nicknames and cheers. Felipe is Cox's groupmate Rodrigo's brother. Breskin entertains himself. We could always count on Castleman for essential observations and statements. Seth is a natural at volleyball, and most other sports as well. Matt shaves Danny's dog. Oliver sneaks out and gets caught. Zandy is Z-Nice when doing something right, Z-Rice when doing something wrong. Z-Rice was definitely said more often.

Remember intense games of camper hunt, we find a whole gang of you stuffed into the mailbox, nice try guys. Band night with Julius C and the Quill adventures that ensued. Waking up EJ to tell him about song practice at the upper courts. Remember the mountain hike in the rain and running back down, the trip home with the crazy bus driver taking the "exciting way" rather than the "boring way." Singing The Other Night and Sherman learning all the words, make sure to keep that song alive for years to come buddy. Corey is the Boeschinator and/or GhettoBoesch. Listening to Postal Service on Sunday nights, Yoni listening to the Postal Service every night. Cox is obsessed with Tool. Yoni shaves his chest. Crazy gymnastics periods reduced to no holds barred wrestle matches and the specialty staff not being too pleased about it. Vicente beasts Jake in camper hunt. Lee Michael Polisano. Diego's sister. Mad Dog brings a radio to a social. More sunscreen on Segel! Labes is a nutriding Ron Jeremy. Miles pretends to be our Saxon aide. Jamie Lynn is a natural. Deal or No Deal, E-Tard is the hilarious host and the Yeomob earn ice skating, ice cream, and a social with the Quills. Jake's girlfriend, oops, I mean sister. Mitchell wears headgear and earns the nickname Michelle.

Remember when E-Rock got skeeted on by uterus chicken. For that matter, when Qadeer skeeted. Yoni has special nipples, complete with a tumor. Oliver and Alex have microscopic nipples. Angelo is James Brenner circa 1997. Jake's late night questions, Cameron says, "basically anything creative." Matt Schumann ran into a pole. Boberts says goodbye and we decide "this is tragic." The most intense game of capture the flag ever fueled by anger over Mitchell's broken tennis racket, we hug it out in the end as I confess my love for Duncan. Chunkie flees the bunk, more than once. Yoni has no street cred. Brodyisms on a list in Jake's area, "Now I'm not all up on advanced technology, but did you know they have ice cream flavored skittles." Cozy Corner and inappropriate language, Luke's eye swells to the size of a tennis ball, staff get personal with Big Woody. Yoni earns counselor of the week honors, the award then makes its rounds. Going to Pizza Barn for Vicente's birthday. Water fights with the Lancers and late night bunk wars with Axe bombs and shaving cream. You guys are crazy and every duty person's worst nightmare.

Remember jam sessions with the Schumanns as Danny looks on and plays the one Deep Purple song he knows. Blue and White day and Pepper dominates B basketball. Sam Leonard bites Mullaney. Ogunquit beach day with the crazy bus driver, "Sherman sit down!" and "I'll pull this bus over!" Vicente buys a kite. Alfonso does "mind exercises." Skit nights making fun of staff and brass, Greenberg says, "I'm going to move to Utah and marry my sister." Segal is good at net sports. CJ runs into the bear at the wall. The big show is Wizard of Oz and Pepper and Chunkie steal the show. Nicolas arrives from Moscow. Segal and Santiago beast ping-pong. Alfonso's farewell love letter to Taylor scrawled on the bathroom wall. Monday Night Football and Mad Dog goes long for a touchdown, his dad would later follow in his footsteps on visiting day. Matt throws a tennis ball and it bounces off a tree and into Chunkie's junk. MARCO...DOLO! Vicente's inspirational speech, "we are one Yeomen." Boesch won't stop playing Red Hot Chili Peppers and Yoni loves the song Snow (Hey Oh). Qadeer leaves camp early for ballet. Toilet papering the bunks. Group leader switch day and you all harass Emma to no end, but she's an incredibly good sport about it (rookie of the year). The Yeomob benches need an extension for the international campers. Angelo's spelling of Capricorn. Yoni finally hits trees. Greenberg always ducks out of inspection by going to the infirmary. Silent freeze Sherman! Nurses station! Shubeast pegs Chester with a tennis ball. Jake's cashew/almond/peanut butter. Crazy wipeouts in tubing, Durkin holds on like a champ.

Remember Green and White breaking at 6am with a drumline down to the waterfront where the Judges came in on jetskis. Counselor captains are announced. E-Tard and A-Nuts are captains of the Great Green Gladiators and Cox and Gillian are captains of the Mighty White Pirates. It turns out to be one of the best and closest wars in history. White takes an early lead at the swim meet and Green battles back to make it a 6 point war at one point. The Yeomob battle intensely for all 5 days. White Yeomen beast in softball. Volleyball goes to a third game and is so very close, I am still so proud of both teams for that match up. Sherman hits a 3-pointer in the final seconds to win basketball. Santiago makes a game-tying penalty kick in soccer, thanks to Mullaney. Zandy isn't picked for a team so he just assumes he's White. Greenberg wears a thong on skit night. Connor flips out at bombardment, gotta love the intensity. Ben Folds dominates song night. The Mighty White Pirates are victorious! I can't wait to come back as a Judge for years to come and see all of you rise through the ranks.

Remember excursion. First stop is Funspot with their collection of old school arcade games. We beast some sandwiches and head to Water Country. The Dragon's Den and Geronimo are the best slides. Yeomob get kicked out for not staying in the tubes on the Adventure River. Next stop is the campsite where we set up tents and Jake cooks excellent steaks. We end up too late to bowling so we go to McDonalds and Santi beasts food after already having two steaks. Back to the campsite to sleep. Morning of Day 2 we head to the Mall of New Hampshire. Eric Arnold beasts the toilets. A bunch of kids get trucker hats with beverage logos. Those same kids get kicked out of the mall so we all have to leave. Our next stop is Canobie Lake Park where punishment is sitting in the parking lot for a half hour watching the fun going on inside. We resolve the misbehavior and head inside for a great day of roller coasters and rides. We pressure Poli into going on the Yankee Cannonball and he ends up loving it. We all get nauseous on the Round About. Cox walks into walls in the house of mirrors and glass. We then go to McDonalds once again so Greenberg can work on setting the record for most Big Macs in a 3 day period. From there we head to the movies for Superman Returns and Pirates of the Caribbean 2. Head to the campsite and go to bed. The next morning sees torrential downpour as we head to Conway. Luckily, the weather cleared into a beautiful day for Go Karts. Oli wins his race, Cox passes Jake for the staff win, Santi goes twice because he lives by a different set of rules. On to Panda Garden for a serious feast before seeing Talladega Nights, quite possibly the most ridiculous movie ever. For today we are friends Ricky Bobby, but tomorrow...is WAR! Back to camp singing classics on the radio and the alma matter as we pull in. Best Yeomen excursion ever!

Remember Awards Night. Poli wins service, Pepper and Durkin split Sportsmanship, Greenberg wins Fellowship, Alex Schumann wins MC yet again. There are only so many awards to give out, so just know that you're all winners in my book.

Thanks so much to the greatest staff ever assembled since my last one, and the one before that. Your 55 years of Robin Hood experience made the summer so much easier, and I owe a major part of my captainship to your help, and I am forever grateful.

Well, Yeomob, another great summer in the books. I'll see you next summer for the war. Keep coming back!!!

LANCERS

Alright boys, I have one question for you: who wants to play some Jessica Alba?

Remember the first afternoon when Newmy ran into a tree, and the second afternoon playing ultimate and soccer in the pouring down rain, then going down to the waterfront to rinse off...Waking up to The Killers singing "I've got soul, but I'm not a soldier"...Newmy is hot and Hops is not...Harris and Marlon trying to live on the top floor...Posen is ugly...Don't get the Bebe out...On Duncan's days off Cristal and Boehm fight for that AGL spot...Rosecan's logic: Rikleen is 17 or 18 years old so he must have done it plenty of times...The Phil Zone in the bunk with Gallagher, Gibbs, and Solomon...Kike can't pronounce "boobies"...The Muscle...Making the Chinman on bus rides out of camp..."Lizzy Kidder is a disgrace to her family, she only won two big awards."

Remember intense capture the flag challenges with the Yeomen and Friars, and both ending in a tie...Woody stealing the show as the scarecrow in the Wizard of Oz...Sneider beasting Sez in circle of death, even though Sez has a 20 pound advantage...Mt. Chocorua with a little rain on the way down, and singing "The Other Night" song with both the original lyrics and with tame lyrics made up Yeomen year...Campers hating The Big Lebowski, and the staff loving it...Sez chugging a full bowl of gravy at dinner...Francesco's Italy victorious over Hadrien's French in the World Cup, and then Francesco's celebration...Robin Hood 15 & Under Basketball beat West End in the House, largely due to Cristal's 3 pointer at the end of the game...The social with Julius C on the quad and Mack, Ruzika, and Gabe rock out with the band...Swain is a beast and hits trees...Backwards scavenger hunt on the quad with the Arrows with Sheldon and Boehm busting a move...July 4 festivities; going on the bungy thing after softball, and the slip 'n' slide on the quad...Going to the Sanford Mainers game with the Friars and the game gets rained out, but we don't care because we get entertained by the world class Christopher, and then the players have fun and slide on the tarp.

Remember the BallSaco River canoe trip (which was about 20 minutes long) with way too much turkey, way too much canoeing, not enough water, not enough tent space, Rosecan asking for "Cheeburger, no Chee" and of course, "Duncan has been mackin' on Bess, too bad this trip is a mess." (On a side note, thank you Newmy, Bessie treated me very well this summer).

Remember Parent's Visiting Day; we have soccer first period and probably dented ten cars. Then we move to volleyball and Hops' dad gets very into the game on the sand court; he only fell down four times. The next day the Yeomob break our Lancer sign, and with multiple signs of our own General Frumpy leads the retaliation along with Captain Juanstein, Private Afro, Sergeant Solly, Colonel Duncles, Admiral Geoff and Lieutenant Emery.

Remember Green and White breaking at six in the morning with the drum core, and DC gives Maxim a bloody nose the day before. Cox, Gillian, Etard, Anuts are counselor captains. Newmy and Cristal are Lancer captains, Boehm and Sneider are co's. The Mighty White Pirates face off against the Great Green Gladiators in an intense and close color war. Lancer activities were hard fought: Swain dominates ultimate, volleyball game shows room for improvement, crazy football game with Tuck's arm not quite enough to lead green to victory, and Cesar's last second bicycle kick to tie up soccer.

Remember excursion: first afternoon the staff have some fun with the kids, are we going to Funtown/Splashtown, or not? Eating lunch outside of the bowling alley and then getting in the vans. We finally make it to Aquaboggan and have a blast. Then to the Desert of Maine campsite, where we are not allowed to be in the desert, because we will leave footprints, which are unacceptable for the tours the next day. Of course there is trouble with the tents. Then Duncan and the staff grill out by the pool where all the kids make a powerful current. The steak, potatoes and salad are solid. We all go to L.L. Bean at two o'clock in the morning, then Dunkin' Donuts a couple hours later for breakfast. Time for bowling? Deep see fishing with Dick. Everyone catches tons of fish, and then Dick encourages fun with the fish. Tuck takes the first bite, followed by Woody, Posen, and Kruse. Dick gets it all on camera, including the fish blood on everyone's face. Then we walk around the bay to get some amazing lobster dinners, including a nice view of a plumber from behind. Back at the campsite later that night Juan and Duncan bring back McDonalds (and like the rest of excursion get Phil's order perfect), and then we do smores. Late that night Juan personally soaks one of the tents. The next day in Conway we meet up with Frumpy and Emery for Talladega Nights and some great Chinese food. The night before, Newmy asks "What's the difference between Jessica Alba and a dead baby?"

Do you remember when Reuben wasn't playing with his "magic stick", Duncan was with the group, Sez wasn't biting nipples, Sheldon was without his hot sauce, Kruse was being intelligent, the Venezuelans listened, Rikleen was being athletic, Gurman wasn't getting rejected by Taylor, Alec wasn't with his yoyo, Boehm wasn't being sarcastic and hilarious, Hadrien actually being hurt, Jaime wasn't with Kike, Rikleen's hair looked normal, Jose asking to play tennis, or Newmy wasn't on the ground? Because we don't.

To my staff: Geoff and Phil, thanks for getting very involved with the kids and for doing everything you could to make the summer great for our group. Frumpy and Emery, thanks for going above and beyond a 1st year aide's duty. I knew you guys would be money, and the kids love you more than you know. I love you guys. Rikleen and Solomon, I didn't know either of you very well before this summer and I honestly didn't really know what to expect. Now I know that you are two of the best counselors in camp, and I now have two great friends. Thank you for that. Juan, looking back I realize that I literally don't think I could've gotten through this summer without you there, and I am glad that it's no longer goodbye, but see you later.

To the Lancers of 2006: We had quite a ride this summer, and I will never be able to thank you enough for making my first year as group leader one of my best summers yet. As I told you throughout the summer, you are often the best group in camp. Know that if you want, you have the ability to come back next summer, as the Friars of 2007, and you can dominate The Realm. All you need to do is listen to each other, respect each other, love each other, and you will all be amazing. Lancers, thank you for everything, and I love every single one of you.

FRIARS

What up you crazy jokers? Well here we are we're at it again...It's time to reminisce about the summer of '06 so put down the PSP, unplug the bass, stop training for the Octagon, quit creeping out the girls and get on the benches because the last one out there is running laps around the dining hall mwahahaha.

"Good Morning, Good Morning, Good Morning-a" Everyone get up! Ok now that we're fashionably late, let's go to the meal... Edoardo! Clear!...Alright guys the bunk looks disgusting you need to clean and when I say clean I don't mean sit down on your bed right, Sheinman? Benches! Ready for softball, ultimate frisbee, or some crazy arts and crafts class...Let's all hope lunch is edible...some one get me some cheese!... Benches is at 1:50 just like every other day Zach...Now it's time for some water sport where you all will get kicked out - well done boys...Time for dinner let's hope its better than lunch...Stop throwing food and washing your hands in the water Trent! - remember stuff should only come out of it not go into it...So what do you want to do for evening actividad? Kick the can it is... For the last time I don't know who's on duty.

Remember half-court capture the flag by the flag pole the first night...Farva brakes the fence...the badger at Ultimate Frisbee... the ping pong tournament in the rain... Suzy and the Cody girls from Cozy Corner...Farva's paddy wagon and Edoardo's five star during spud...Farva falling off the rafters...Farva lying in the puddle...Vincent spilling hot chocolate on Edoardo...Monday night football and the combine...8 year olds dude, 8 year olds... Cohen breaking the light again...getting made over by the Bards... remember getting ready for spud - everyone get on a Robin Hood shirt, bathing suit and towel, hat and sunglasses, shoes and socks, a tennis racket and a baseball glove...the crazy bus driver's roller coaster ride on the way to the movies...Click the best movie ever!...Max leaving the lights on in Ben's car and the hey-loddy that followed... The Big Lebowski...Zach is mister know-it-all...Farva's multiple black eyes and two sprained ankles...Jelin's crazy blister...Alfonso's 'whose getting some tonight' nose game...Trent's back flips... Feldman acting like an Italian...Chester recruiting for tennis every morning...

Nature crafts...the numerous potential law firms like Goldfarb and Cohen and the unlikely ones like Maestro and Ausar-Sahu... Ethan serving tennis balls too hard and Chester trying to show off his skills... Visiting day karaoke in the rain.

"Are you ready for the Octagon Beaser!!"... Remember when Trent fell in the lake... Zach asked "what's a mountain trip"... Remember Vincent's secret stash...Sloss's hilarious jokes...Farva's relationship with the PJs...Zach the honorary foreigner... Edoardo kept breaking his thumb...the Capture the Flag with the Lancers that never ended...World Cup Finals in the sauna...the hazing hammock...the Flexall challenge... "Wait a minute -Edoardo's been here before? See Lips '93"...Manuel rapping - "I found you miss new booty"...3:00 am benches...Bourque as the Tin Man...Big Woody's morning confession...Farva's black market/wise investments...Alfonso's tattoo parlor... Sloss's excellent hands...Sheinman's bro sleeping over... "Stop being insane!"... Sloss thinking he's Mario as he unclogs the toilets and his list "you know when you're addicted to Nintendo when you name your dog Yoshi and sort through his poo looking for eggs"...The Scribes' water fight on the porch... Reading the Da Vinci Code... water balloon gladiator...A-nuts telling the zoo story...Nati as Group Leader.

Green and White...the drum line at 5:30 am and Vincent cursing at them for waking him up...everyone misspelling calendar during the spelling bee...the chipmunk running around the bunk... Greg broke the light...Farva broke the table...Edoardo "Arriba, Arriba, Arriba" "It's Okay"...Hamad always around... Will and Goodman's injury and magic recovery...White losing EVERYTHING... Angelo on lazy day...Feldman's pledge process...Zach's dad showing up for the day...Teddy's coming out shirt...Vincent sleepwalking...Where's Haynes...playing volleyball better with the Bards...Jelin's promotion by default...the Mainers game with special guest Christopher...the money ball...Greg breaking his guitar string while changing them...Edoardo's knowledge of the kama sutra...six week sunset...

Excursion

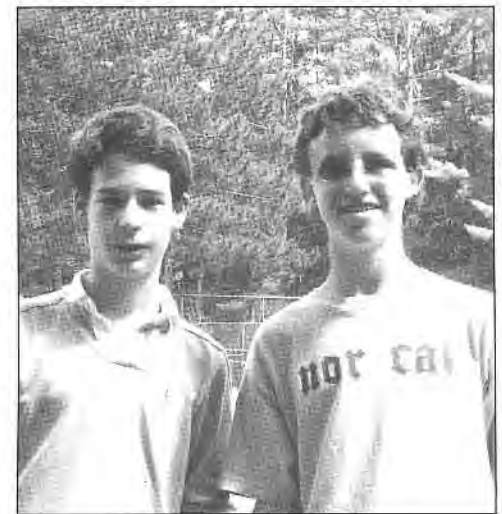

Dartmouth...Alpine Sliding at Stowe...Ben and Jerry's factory...Burlington...Cabot Creamery...Whales Tale...Talladega Nights and the Pirates of the Caribbean - Chhaya and Feldman break dancing on the quad for spare change...Visiting the sorority and fraternity houses...The raccoon outside the lean-to and the haunted woods...Feldman freaking out...Our custom made shirts "Why can't we all just get along!?" and "Toadilly Insane"...Ethan doesn't know which way west is and subsequently getting lost for four hours...Sheinman fell off the alpine slide...Remember Cohen's excellent fajita making skills...Cohen's intelligence - asking if we're going to the cheese factory while we're at Cabot...Farva's new pants...Feldman annoying the locals everywhere we go...cooking with nothing then finding everything...Feldman grinding with manikins...Farva's bad girl tattoo on his face...Where's Andy...Greg gave Teddy a wet wily...Chhaya and Wolf got yelled at when they jumped into the lazy river.

Friars of 2006: You guys are insane. I had so much fun this summer and I hope you all did too. Thank you for making my first summer as group leader an amazing one. Just remember what we talked about during our Fri-Fri at the Wall. You don't all need to be best friends but if you can get along with one another your group will unite and become an incredible Forester and Saxon group just like mine, Ben's, Max's and Teddy's. I hope you all have a great school year, stay in touch, and keep coming back to the greatest place on Earth. Peace boys.

To my staff: Teddy - you're the best first year aid I could have asked for; you will make a great Group Leader some day... Ben Jelin, you are more than just "important other staff;" your presence alone helped me get through this unique summer. Max - it was unfortunate that you had to leave early this summer, we all missed your great personality. Thanks for all the work you did this summer and I hope you have a great freshmen year at college. I would not have survived the summer with any other staff; thank you for making it so much fun and I hope to see each of you back until you're all wearing a hat and cane. Peace.

FORESTERS

Boys, I hope you're all having a great year, enjoying yourselves, and staying out of trouble. Let's all take a moment to remove ourselves from the real world and remember the fantastic Forester summer we all spent together.

To help take you back let's remember some of the things that made this summer so memorable...volleyball at the grass court with music...Hitting trees at the homerun diamond...Brody and Mikey trying to hit trucks...Being on duty for Boys Camp...Beasting the Shires...just kicking it together in the bunk...our philosophical conversations about the world, religion, life, etc (shout out to Saad)...tubing at water-ski all summer...Hanging out with Dick in the bunk at night.

Without any further ado let's meet the crew...Saad, the philosopher...Ghazi, the peacekeeper...Barry, the lone camper to go through immigration...Becker, the amateur poker star...JB, Chicago's pride and joy...Borden, Nati's BIC good looking and Mr. Nosebleeds...DCK, the nice guy...Cloutier, BIC all around athlete...Cristal, Girls Camp BIC good looking...Frif, all-around great guy...Javier, dancing machine...Gonzo, the special Spaniard...Goldman, nasal voice...Greenberg, the trustworthy...Grossman, world-class drummer...Brit, full Mormon, half beast...Elias, runner extraordinaire...Kinslow, I love your music expertise bro...Laddon, my future first client...Lebard, bugger...Leopold, mr. gullible himself...Plater, always down to ball...

Romoff, the big, beastly Canadian...Schwartz, the ladies' man...Szabo, reppin' for the larchizze...JT, Mr. Baseball...Woody, Master helper...Zipkin, a true Canadian.

Remember the first evening activity of Ultimate Frisbee at the far far field...the first boys' campfire, Big Woody's '86 chant...Gladiator ball in the rain, Arnot's injury...Brody as GL...Gonzo catches insects...squirrel pisses on Brody's bed...West End game 66-61..."I would wear a dress if it wasn't so gay" - Cristal..."All you can eat buffets are a gimic not a challenge" - Frif...2hr soccer game...tag team fighting...the haircuts...rafters attacking Leopold...Javier's dance...British Bulldog, Woody laid out by Borden...Lonestar ghost...Grossman's drumming on the porch...Jack's ingredient naming skills and keen nose...group rap about Brody and Mikey...Saad is a philosopher...Shires cleaning out our bunk...Leopold's airball at Winnaukee...Greenberg and Zipkin's diving finish...Brody's five question rule...Jake belly flops for a steak bomb...Magic school bus in the den...Jake expressing how he's comfortable with his body in Arnot's room...Goldman's rather interesting cut...Leopold telling Dan to think happy thoughts about him at night...Greenberg being convinced the backroom light was inhibited by a ghost...

Remember watching movies in the bunk with the projector for Woody's last night, Beasting the Shires 8 for 17, Where's Woody?, Is Dick Roberts the GL?, Poltergeist attacks Greenberg, Band night with Julius C, Shires dress you guys up, Big Woody & DC thinking Goldman looks a little too good, Szabos flagels.

Remember Green and White...breaking at 6am with a drumline down to the waterfront where the Judges came in on jetskis. Counselor captains are announced. E-Tard and A-Nuts are captains of the Great Green Gladiators and Cox and Gillian are captains of the Mighty White Pirates. It turns out to be one of the best and closest wars in history. White takes an early lead at the swim meet and Green battles back to make it a 6 point war at one point. The Foresters battle intensely for all 5 days. I am still so proud of both teams for that awesome soccer match we tied 3-3. Foresters are represented well in almost every skit throughout the war, Jack leads a cheer. Cristal and Schwartz have an incident at Danish longball of all activities, gotta love the intensity. The Mighty White Pirates are victorious and I lose as a member of the Green Team!

Remember excursion...schools out for summer...Juan's interesting conversation choice while driving to and from Canada...the rollerblader on one leg...the weirdo in-charge of jet-boating, seeing Camp Cody there...van getting stuck...Jack scared to jet-boat, Jack's rafting adventure, Jack gone wild in the whirlpool...Borden's transformation to dirty...Leopold's metro station...raindance...Whitewater rafting & Paintball...Goldman sniping a frozen brody...Brit's special meal in Canada...Zipkin's puke and run...Leopold's border incident...Jack's whale tale...Walmart...Brit's cameo uniform, Jack's unique purchase...Brody going for the wave not the bear.

Then it was back to camp to close out the summer...Big Woody's night on duty punking the Shires...Our group bonding session with Dick at the ODT to prepare all of you for what should be an amazing Saxon summer...

To my specialty staff, Carter the kids adored you. They always enjoyed your company and were able to have fun whenever you could be around. I remember you showing me that video of Zipkin eating a bug and right there I could tell just how good you were with the kids. Cameron, you helped me out so much whenever I asked for help, the kids definitely enjoyed your company as well. I feel fortunate to have had such good specialty counselors that were able to take the time away from their specialty areas and enjoy being around the campers. Thanks again guys you were invaluable members of my staff and were truly able to relate to the kids. Mikey, thanks so much for everything. I don't think these kids would have been able to have had the summer they did without having you on my staff. I am definitely looking forward to seeing you on staff again next summer, hopefully my staff. I can tell you will be a great counselor in the realm for many summers to come. Good luck with your transition to college, I know with your character you should be fine and have a fun time.

Brody, it's unfortunate how things had to end this summer. You are ready to blossom as a person and I can't wait to see it bro.

Boys, all in all given the circumstances this summer I think you did a tremendous job. As a group it seemed you were fighting a bit of an uphill battle throughout the summer. However, you were truly able to come together after green and white and we had a great excursion in Canada. Next summer I hope you hit the ground running. I see so much potential in your group. There is no doubt in my mind you should be one of the best Saxon groups to pass through the realm in a while. This group should run things in the realm next year and serve as great role models throughout boys' camp. While you guys delivered the laundry I saw how you were able to take the most remedial of tasks and have fun with it. Your ability to embrace your roles as Saxons is what will make your summer so special. I can't wait to see all of you as unbelievable counselors, but let's not get ahead of ourselves, in the meantime you have a great summer to look forward. It should be the best summer all of you have spent at camp. Be sure you cherish every moment and above all cherish your friendships that you have forged over many summers here. Last but not least our fitting softball game to close out the summer with Juan and Geoff hitting trees to opposite sides of the field. Biiiiiyo!!!!

SAXONS

Oh, Saxons. It's hard to believe the summer is already over. Where did it all go? More relevantly, where did our entire group go? Sure this summer has been fraught with challenges, but we have stuck together and the Fo'5 family lives on. And luckily for us, it is also jam-packed with some tasty memories. So start salivating boys, 'cuz here comes the main course...

Remember our first meeting on the upstairs back porch? Seems like yesterday and forever ago at the same time. Remember how exhilarating it was to finally beat West End at the House? Congrats to Roger (The Stud) and Alex (The Beast) for leading the charge and bringing basketball glory back to The Realm. And don't forget Peaches (Miriam/Low-Life), whose inside presence reminds me of Bill Lambier with an oversized head. Remember the suicides they ran at the end of the game and #3 pushing Roger. Beast my Rod!!! Remember going to Wal-Mart and witnessing Regan get acquainted with the ladies? Oh Lenny. The chef clock, Spiderman head and ridiculous lights we acquired. Remember when Andres was not diving gracefully off the dock, being immature at activities, wielding shovels dangerously over Dicker's head, or yelling at the entire camp to beast his rod? We don't. Remember Marc's socially savvy usage of the word frickin? Eheh, he frickin' went like this (enthusiastic backwards leg kick).

Remember that first activity of team handball. So beast. Is it lunch time yet? 'Cuz all I wanna do is FEAST! Remember Marc's interpretive dancing at Julius C.? Wow was he in the zone. What about the July 4th fashion show? Jamie's frighteningly professional walk down the aisle. And later that night, guarding the flag. Remember beasting in the weight room during the meals? Roger dropping the curl bar and the whole dining hall falling silent. Remember the Deal or No Deal commercials? The flower dance and the mail-order brides. Marc coming up to me during the skit and asking where the nearest punching bag was located around camp.

Sorry boys for ever taking a day off. Turns out I was the glue that kept it all together. Vance's welcoming arrival (botch). Roberts' legendary 45-minute embrace with Emily Rempell as Jonas, Vance and A-Nuts stood in the doorway in awe. They knew each other?!? Rest in Peace B.B. Bunker. Marc's memorial sign on top of the entrance. Remember all the laundry duties and Myles almost crashing the golf cart during one of them. Breaking down the dining hall: 6-7-666-77!!! Get it right! Remember when Dicker was not either painting the lines at baseball, in the back office, selecting songs in the balcony, driving around the golf cart or playing his axe? We don't.

Remember Katahdin: screaming hey ladies at night and arousing the fury of the uptight park ranger. Turn off the music, you're disturbing the mosquitoes! Jenny botching, pumping water by hand, eating chicken fajitas, the elite crew running up the mountain and Peaches being at an all time low with his offensive and strange brand of immature feminine humor. Chad - remember our conversation about the nature of being and consciousness? O Billy. Remember swimming in the gorge? Remember when Jonas was not being exploited as Chester's personal slave at tennis? We don't. James stay in the bunk you uncoordinated Aussie! Myles taking him down despite being seven years younger and half his size. Never underestimate the importance of body control boys. Roger leaving duty and being caught with Foresters at the Lancer Bunk. Solid work my man. And of course, remember my long-term grundle issues. Don't come in, I'm grundling myself! Oh William the Fifth there's gold bond everywhere. The disease spreads around camp. James and Amit walking in on one of my airing-out sessions. I mean for the love of god just knock.

Regan: I had to pick it up with my bare hands! Remember monotone Marc's daily arts and crafts projects and graffiti all over the walls. Remember his daily updates about the day's events. Hey A-nuts, you want a cookie? Thanks for the sword Marc.

Yeah dude Yeah. Remember night five? I don't. LeBron James catching B-League arena footballs courtesy of D.C., taking cell phone videos and A-Nuts spooning Roger and falling asleep on the floor of his room. Ryan's amazing catch that caused the injury. Remember the Indian Acres Volleyball Tournament: look at his chest! Ya' know he's a gymnast. Remember Green and White: Green beasting everything. A-Nuts is Captain. And Talent Night: White step-dancing (Pi-rates!) and Jonas and co-owning the stage. Chad and I doing the drum line and Roger and Myles dancing. The band: A-Nuts, Chad, Dicker and David. Oh Zach Reisler. Green wins song-night. Are you not entertained!?! Is this not why you were here?!? So beast. A-Nuts as Maximus. The Night Five burger run. Alex's bed on the brass table. The Snowvillage Inn Visiting Day mishap, Cockboy Stevens, Jam Sessions, Dicker and A-Nuts performing I Am a Rock. Cafweast.

Remember being owned by Jamie Cole, destroying the Foresters by 40 runs in one inning, and late-night kitchen raids. Remember visiting Jack and having to apologize to Juan and D.C. for doing so. Being immature. Remember the Arena Football Day: the blimp, kicking field goals, getting our picture taken and being with all the good-looking people. Remember going to Jillian's, playing pool and air hockey and leaving as the Jim Beam girls were coming in. Remember getting flashed by H.M. and E.L. Remember Avery getting nailed in the leg during softball and making the Avery noise (ooaoaoa!)? Remember mountain biking? Nuts nailing Peaches and scorching down the hill to the smell of burnt rubber. Remember The Fire Lounge, The Jazz Garden and the B.B. Bunker. Remember setting up the p-lot during visiting day, or at least some of us. Remember the fake break: it's an air horn! Throwing the candy. Remember Jamie's mom being a beast. It only makes sense I guess. Remember Nuts making fun of Sara's laugh and the rest of the group following suit. Happy-Go-Homo!

Remember George's posh accent, Regan's tendency to mumble, and the upstairs foreign poker den. Remember A-Nuts sharing his Subway sandwich with the group and Jacob professing his love with a tomato hanging from his open mouth. Remember Dicker throwing out the coach from Birchmont: He's outta here! A-Nuts for Captain! The A-Nuts flag. Thanks guys (and Cox). Wow, the second half of the summer sure was great. Remember Jack Frifelder and the llama on the way back from the West End Tournament. Marc making his bed unbeastable. Jacob: get off me I'm e——! Avery climbing the tree and getting the tennis ball and Gatorade bottle down. Finish 'em Ferg! Myles nailing Dicker in the face during bombardment. Jenny Trips' road rage. Monotone Marc's signature saying: Hmmm? Attention on camp would Alex Mann please report to the old riflery range with a rusty nail and a tub of peanut butter. Thank you.

And Boston: our navigational woes, late night McDonald's run, seeing the Tour de France movie at the Omni, our lengthy trip to the Science Museum exhibits. Kidder's BBQ: diving off the diving board, Jonas not being able to complete a whole flip, the wonderful bean dip which could only have used a bit more refried beans. Get in the van! Call up the guy on the couch! Big Mike of Fish Monger fame, going to the wrong Days Inn at first, seeing Stevenson. The Red Sox game: Atta way now kid, frozen rope now here! Big C— now batta big stick kid! Oh baseball banter. Remember when the Bursteins were not sleeping? When Peaches wasn't getting butt? When the world wasn't tipping on its axis? When Jonas wasn't playing Tracy Chapman "Fast Car" during the last few days of camp? We don't. Remember Jamie falling off the roof, Marc and his fireman costume, quoting Halo and Kimbo, powning newbs, Indian chants in the dining hall, the horseflies that started swarming the cabin towards the end of camp, and trying to undress Jonas in the dining hall? Did he just get mad? That is so un-Jonas. And finally, staying up in the back porch on our last night as campers.

Boys: thus culminates our Fo'5 family experience. While you may be divided as counselors next year, I assure you the separation is only physical. You will always be a band of brothers and I will always be your older brother. I look forward to seeing most of you whenever I'm in Boston and without a doubt for five days every year at the Realm. Someday, I hope you can foster the same bond with your kids as I did with you. It was a rewarding and unforgettable ride from Forester year 'til now, and I cannot thank the fates enough for giving me the opportunity to be your group leader two years in a row. I love you. Keep in touch and Fo' 5 forever.

So this is where I sign off as your group leader in name. But I will never sign off as your group leader in spirit. And that is the way I want it. So long boys, and never forget to remember...

TUMBLERS & JESTERS

To the tune of "What I've Been Looking For" (because I live for High School Musical!): It's hard to believe, that I didn't see, That I was gonna have a great summer, Thought I was alone, with no one to hold, But then I met all the Tumblers! This summer was like no other, I want you to know...

Girls, this summer was truly unlike any other, so I would like you to get off the swings, put the tetherball down, and take a few minutes to step back into the summer of 2006.

Remember when...you first stepped into camp...getting used to the smell of pine needles, meeting the rest of your group, finding your areas and settling in...the first night – learning camp songs and games, playing the M&M game and doing speed dating...whether it was your first summer or not, everyone was very excited and a little bit nervous about the fabulous summer that laid ahead of them.

Remember when...we made you all take showers early and put on the craziest outfits you could find, just so we could parade around camp and go to ice cream with D.C.!...say my name, say my name – citrus chip...eating so much ice cream and then having absolutely no room for dinner...remember getting in a line and playing telephone just so you could learn that you were going to ice skating...coming back to find a new camper, Chloe, waiting for us in the bunk...then having a social on the quad that night...What a day!

Remember when...Kibriyaa wasn't shakin' it, Jess wasn't swimming in her clothes, Josie wasn't with the Scribes, Lauren wasn't being poked by Steve Duckham, Julia wasn't hugging, Hannah's dimples weren't showing, Susie didn't have a million bug bites, Alex brushed her hair and Monty wasn't dressed to kill...
WE DON'T!

Remember when...Sammy wasn't squealing, Jamie wasn't performing, Marge didn't look like the girl from the Grinch, Katherine wasn't telling stories, Chloe's shelves were organized, Nicki wasn't breaking hearts, Jacklyn wasn't chasing PJ, Daniela wasn't cracking up, Sara C hated home, Allie wasn't cheering people up, Sara Brown could go swimming, Emily put her glasses somewhere safe and Lainey pronounced "suave" correctly...

WE DON'T!

Remember when...we went to Ogunquit Beach...the long bus ride there...a group went to Huckleberry's for lunch with Julia...eating so much candy and dipping dots...going swimming in the freezing cold water...keeping the counselors company when they were on water duty...Daniela showed up and everyone was introduced to her – she fit into the group immediately...finally, the long bus ride back to camp...getting back to camp and taking a nice hot shower!

Remember when...we went to see Pirates of the Caribbean with the Squires...a bunch of you ended up sitting in the hallway with Stecher instead of watching the movie...going to Banana Village with the PJs...playing 18 holes of mini-golf and then playing video games and getting tickets to buy candy and toys...going to the outpost with your bunk...taking vans instead of canoes...cooking dinner and sleeping in tents...Hannah was woken up with donuts in her tent for her birthday...climbing Green Mountain...climbing the tower at the top...having pizza at the outdoor theater a few nights before the four-weekers left and talking about our favorite summer memories...

Remember when...everyone hid Lainey's Teen People...we played newcomb ALL the time...we were always playing palace and doing da' dip...singing "take me or leave me"...we played special mad libs every night and you learned the a-word...Penelope and Phil got squished under a canoe...Jamie got her cast off...a-ma-zing...

Jess always wore the same, tied, black shirt...you did impressions of counselors...the backwards scavenger hunt that you waited so long for...BOCCE BALL!...watching High School Musical...the amazing talent show dances...the rainy visiting day...doing karaoke...meeting everyone's parents and saying goodbye to the four weekers...

Remember when...Adriana got to camp...just a few days later Green and White broke at 6 AM...everyone heard the drumming and ran to the quad and then the waterfront...the counselor captains were announced and then we went back to the bunk to pick our captains, Marge and Daniela, and co-captains, Sam and Lainey...playing every sport imaginable, doing different crafts, dancing and acting...Miranda showed up on night two...the White Pirates and Green Gladiators had a great five days. I am so proud of you girls for playing hard and fairly. You were great competitors throughout the war.

Remember when...we had a very lazy lazy day...we said goodbye to the six weekers...we welcomed Sarah, Katie, Quinn, Squid, Paige and Maddie into our group for the last two weeks...we had a few relaxed days in camp and then set out on an amazing excursion with the PJs...starting off at Pirates Cove for mini golf...eating lunch there and then heading to Santa's Village...going on the floom and roller coaster, getting stamps from all the elves, and buying things in the gift shop...the traffic jam on the way to the campsite...arriving there, setting up tents and making steak for dinner...cheers from tent to tent: "Hey _____ how was _____"...waking up the next morning and getting Dunkin' Donuts before going to Attitash for alpine slides, water slides, euro bungee and lunch...finally ending the excursion with a movie and Pizza Barn...excursion was a-ma-zing, but it was only two days out of an incredible summer.

To my staff: we clicked together so well from the minute the TJ staff was announced. From cleaning the bunks to watching the kids, we made a great team and I couldn't ask for a better group of counselors to work with during my first year as a group leader. Cate and Larissa – even though you were both so busy with your specialties you always managed to spend so much time with the girls. Thank you for your devotion to our campers and for your witty comments on Sunday nights. Hannah – I hardly knew you before this summer and you so quickly proved to be a great counselor and a great friend. It's going to be hard to get used to not talking every night before bed and seeing you pop out of bed every morning. Carolyn – you are one of the most well-balanced people I know and I have loved every minute I have spent with you this summer. We have formed an incredible bond that I know will last for so long. Being a TJ staff member may not have been what you expected, but you were amazing. Lisa – I loved being in your group for the third year (haha Jesters 97 and Bows 98). Although you didn't turn out to be the meany I thought you were, you did turn out to be a great counselor.

Jules – I don't know what this summer would have been like without you by my side. You surpassed all of my expectations and I think we made a really great team. We are so lucky to have spent these eight weeks together because we didn't have to go searching for each other during free periods- you were always there for me for whatever I needed. Thank you for putting up with me, for being a great counselor, and for being the best friend I could ever ask for. I love you wifey, for ever and ever. Scribes 03 – It's unbelievable that so many of us have made it this far. You girls are my support system and what keep me coming back summer after summer. I love you will all my heart. CL4E! Viva Jocelyn.

And finally to my Tumblers and Jesters: Thank you girls so much for being the main reason behind one of my best summers in The Realm. You are amazing girls with very bright futures ahead of you, in and out of camp. I cannot wait to watch you continue to grow up and grow closer together. Remember that I am only a phone call or an e-mail away if you need anything, or if you just want to talk about camp! I love you girls to the moon and back. Thank you again for an unprecedented summer!

BOWS

Well girls, the summer has come and gone in the blink of an eye but luckily I am here to recap all of our memories from start to finish. So push your beds together, stop giving massages, put your foursquare game on hold, and get ready to laugh, cry, and smile while we relive the unforgettable summer of 2006.

Remember the first night of camp – playing the pony game, m&m game and then trying to learn Mafia? We started off with 13 girls, but soon after, Maria joined us all the way from Spain – what an addition! We will never forget how she would put herself to sleep – who knew that bouncing around would do the trick! Callan came 2 weeks into the summer, but by then Lizzy already had 6 of her 12 boyfriends.

Remember Cozy Corner with Nati and DC? Everyone was so hyper – we could have run to Greece and back on all of that sugar! Back at camp...Dis-offs, Lindsey started modeling early in the summer, and Maddy began her mission to do backward rolls from bed to bed. What was really in that popcorn pillow? Kenzi's supply of gum never seemed to run out, and Julia had a fancy flashlight. Bizzy gave out her Mardi Gras beads which came in handy for our Barbie themed social and for Schorr's rock star outfit.

Remember rock climbing? Katherine conquering her fear of heights, and Callan came crashing down! Remember how you thought we were going to the outpost but had Subway instead? Subs, cookies and sodas definitely took our minds off of the rainy weather! Remember the song game? Maria had to sing all of the songs in Spanish for us to give her team points, and the winner was later rewarded with triple candy canteen!

Remember our inside jokes? Just because it sucks, doesn't mean it's yours...We see something outside with red eyes...“Your sofa king stupid”...sexy mama parties...

Kenzi smelled like Lays...your tag is showing...because you're bowtarded...there's a bug on my bed and its nasty looking...JUST SAY NO (to older men? NO! To LICE!)...Rachel was a dead man...the frog pooped on Callan's shirt...part of my brain is in my throat...it's a staircase that's Chinese...just walk away...feel my butt (Katherine)...vamoose!

Remember Gurman's jig, Jordana's rock-hard bed, Bizzy's One, Two Step dance, Caity was horse obsessed, Maddy hated waterfront, Lucy lost her hairbrush, Maria saying “salud” and “one moment”, Callan was bit by a fish, Julia's cleaning, Jordyn's miles and amazing newcomb skills, Katherine's tasty fudge, Lindsey beasting at soccer, Sara being craaaazy (or was that the staff?), Bizzy's reading everything in sight, Nickole was in the Robindel dance competition, Alexandra loved Cheetos! Remember the 2 am feeding?

Remember watching Ferris Bueller's Day Off with the Archers? Kudos to Nickole and Maria – they were the only ones to actually sit with the boys. I think we liked seeing Pirates of the Caribbean 2 and getting McDonalds more – sorry to all of those who couldn't go. Remember ice-skating? Did we even skate or was it more of a food excursion? Pushing each other on crates, and going for a picnic afterwards. Remember the two incredible songs you girls wrote? Singing Every Time We Touch and Who Said at girls campfire – I was so proud!

Remember the talent show dance? The “temperature” sure was rising! “Hip hip hip-hip-hip.” I've never seen a group of Bows dance like that! We also represented in the Wizard of Oz – Sara and Katherine lit up the stage as munchkins and Bizzy guarded the Emerald City like a pro! Remember parents weekend in the rain? Luckily we kept spirits high with some karaoke...“Life is a highway, I want to ride it all night long...”

After 4 weeks passed we sadly said goodbye to three girls, but were lucky to have Jordyn and Miklain join us! Remember being woken up at six in the morning to the sound of booming drums breaking Green and White? Congratulations to captains Kenzi and Callan, and Co's Maddy and Lindsey on the Great Green Gladiators, and the Mighty White Pirates. Everyone played their hardest and I am so proud of all of you for keeping the competitive nature of color war outside the bunk. We said more sad goodbyes when the 6 weekers left, but we were lucky enough to gain Zoe and Cori who completed a great group for excursion.

Remember excursion...starting off with Dunkin Donuts, then off to Water Country where Miklain was fearless and went on Geronimo – Zoe and Cori came back dry and the rest of us watched people pick their wedgies. More rides, then lunch by the car, and Dippin Dots. After Water Country we journeyed to York's Wild Kingdom only to find out that the zoo was closed – we made the best of it and ate TONS of candy and walked around the town. Callan and Rempell had some problems with the Ferris wheel but the operator didn't seem to care. Eating dinner at the Oceanside stand where Cori began her weird obsession with touching people's hair – did those people even feel it? Everyone tried Zoe's fried clams, yummm. Blasting Penny and Me and Life Is A Highway all the way to the campsite, where we struggled to get settled. Waking up to the sound of rain was not the best way to start day two, but we made up for it at the Mall of New Hampshire. Cori, Zoe and Jordyn had time-telling problems, Callan, Julia and Miklain bought matching bags. Miklain bought bling bling, and Julia realized that she looked good in headbands. Off to bowling (the alley right by the prison) where Miklain discovered her creepy face that seemed to work magic until we realized that Rempell didn't know anything about the rules of bowling – "doesn't a spare mean that you have one pin to spare?" Hannah and Schorr beasted the fire – those fajitas were amazing! Zoe luckily found the bathroom – but could she find it in the dark? Remember sleeping in the lean-to? Thanks to Cori's expert nature facts we knew that a raccoon had invaded our campsite – don't worry Callan, you'll make it through the night! Remember pulling into Old Orchard Beach and seeing all of the amazing rides at the fair? Eating lunch on the beach, going for Chinese food, and seeing Monster House was a great way to wind down our last day, – I think the staff liked the movie a little more than expected. Blasting Jock Jams on the way back to camp and then stopping for one last treat at Cozy Corner put an end to one unforgettable excursion – Rempell was a little too excited for Peppermint Stick!

Remember when Maddy wasn't tripping, Kenzi wasn't getting leaked on, Lindsey wasn't stripping, Maria wasn't using her yellow towel, Lucy wasn't wandering, Jordana wasn't logging her laundry, Callan wasn't hyper, Julia wasn't up at the crack of dawn, Gurman wasn't getting packages, Sara wasn't sweating, Bizzy wasn't at play rehearsal, Katherine wasn't making camp jewelry, Caity wasn't wearing a skirt, Nickole wasn't harassing male group leaders, Miklain wasn't helping, Cori wasn't playing with her gum, Zoe wasn't dressed up, Jordyn wasn't looking in the mirror, and Alexandra wasn't putting on sunscreen... WE DON'T!

Well girls, I hope you have enjoyed our little trip down Robin Hood Lane. I just want you to know how much I love you all – you truly made the summer of 2006 a memorable one. I hope to see you all back next summer – and none of this 4 week business! I trust you all realize that there is a unique bond between each and every one of you, and it is so important that you keep in touch over the long winter months – write letters, call, email...whatever it takes!

To my staff: I couldn't have made it through the summer without you – each one of you contributed significantly to everything we did as a group, and I can't thank you enough. Hannah: I have four words for you – you are so ACE. You were the perfect addition to our staff – please please please keep in touch. Kidder: Our personalities seemed to mesh from day one, and I simply could not have asked for a better friend – I love you. Rempell: I don't understand how it took being on the same staff to realize how similar we are. You are my headband sporting, spandex wearing, music listening baaaaaby and I love you soooo much.

To Jocelyn: This summer would have been so much harder without all of your support and friendship, I love all of you from the bottom of my heart – please come back so that I can too.

So ladies, I will leave you with an excerpt from one of our bow songs that I hope you will continue to sing over the year: "Cause when we are together we're friends forever, and when we are apart we all start to cry – Can't you feel our hearts beat slow, we can't let one go – because we are the BOWS.

QUILLS

*Heyyy Quilllls...It's that time.
Grab your Cetaphil, hold onto your blankies, open the gates and seize the day, because we're taking a hike down Memory Mountain – just try to stay on your feet.*

To paraphrase Paris Hilton:

I don't mind spendin' my time just hangin' with you Quills 'cause I don't find too many girls who make me laugh like you do.
Even though your love lives are crazy,
even though the toilets are clogged,
if you show me your bums again,
baby...I'll tell you to put some freakin' clothes on and get on benches or Kim will make you do push ups.

We hoped to get back down with at least 11 of you and to my surprise we surpassed our goal, though some of us will never be the same. You've never had a shortage of crazy inside jokes: Good job Peyton; Hurricane Tiffany; Camilla and Vicky; feel the burn! Jess's miss-ups in front of the Yeomen; meet me in the club; Dick! Jennie's leaf salsa; cabin ball; "pinching solves all your problems;" "Right, 'cause they're your friend;" this is truly a mountain!; Shakira, Shakira, Ugg-Ugg, Pre-Pre and Ho-Ho, QUAD, I'm taking this one all the way to Mexico; "can we have a bun?"

Remember Jessie's sleep talking and Chelsea declaring that she would eat? Remember when Jess tried to kidnap Charlotte or when Emily and Ellie were pushing the sailboat while T-baum was just tanning on it? How about Birchmont Day: Mel and Elise showcasing their softball skills while Jenny tore up the soccer field. I also still can't get over their salad bar...I was so impressed with all of you that day. Your athletic skills were definitely superior to your never-ending renditions of Stars Are Blind. Remember Lexi busting out the Bahamian National Anthem and Amelia going to Russian Camp? We finally got our Deal or No Deal sundaes on our crazy Yeomen-filled day: ice-skating, ice cream and a social! Aren't you guys sick of each other yet? Your social lives were far too eventful and complex to rehash here in detail so you'll have to refer to the BF Chart. Wait then. The first four weeks passed so quickly. We were certainly hooked up with our Visiting Day schedule: both morning and afternoon wood as well as water ski. Then we made the best of the weather with Ben and Jerry's and Quill/Yeomen karaoke in the Dining Hall. I think all your parents loved your performance of Yeah! by Lil' Jon. Thank goodness Sarah Sull left us with those fantastic toilet paper holders. I think those, as well as the "poop-flush-wipe-flush" signs, are what finally won you those Mrs. White Glove Shirts. Our Lice Party was an appropriate way to end a ridiculous day. What an emotional rollercoaster: one minute you were all sobbing, baby teddies and blankies in hand and the next you were up and dancing to "Just a little bit...of lice!" and "My lovely little lice..."

We all had our predictions about when G&W would break but I think we were all shocked to wake up to a drumline on Tuesday morning. Chelsea and Camilla and Mel and Carrie led their teams beautifully and you all did your Green Gladiators and White Pirates proud, keeping up the fierce competition from the bombardment rink to the soccer field and still striving to maintain the standard of sportsmanship you had set this summer. But THE WAR didn't put a damper on your silliness. Remember when Chelsea dropped Charlotte's cards in the toilet? Riddles, the box, wedgies from

So let's begin: Remember the first day? A year earlier you were Bow/Quills and now thanks to thirteen fabulous new additions we had the biggest group in Girls Camp and the new bunk! Blob tag was definitely a bigger hit than the vegetable game even though your staff had been waiting all day to play it.

Remember the elaborate toilet-paper fashion show? You guys loved performing for evening activity, especially when it meant another opportunity to goad Carrie into doing her "Dad Dance." Did that really make it into the G&W Talent Show? Our first out-of-camp excursion was our belated birthday party for Vicky and Jessie - Cozy Corner with DC. That went a little more smoothly than our mountain trip.

dance, 2-4-6-8 couples we discriminate, counselor skits-footfire, "what now?!" Chelsea and Sarah getting married in the rain, "I knew this one was brighter!" Maloney-baloney, Emular-cellular, icky-vicky brownie, Gabe kneeboarding, Simon, constant nudity...

Excursion: no corkscrew, no fajitas, no problem. The first time really is the deepest (last row is the longest, last stall is the biggest), eatin' great even late at Wendy's, she's a dead fish, our picnic on the beach, three question limit, eating a pint of Ben and Jerry's in the van, comedy (you loved it). Your varying body temperatures and fantastic musical taste made the trip so enjoyable. Remember: the broken van door, John Tucker Must Die = the greatest film ever made, our PG party for Haley, EAT THE CAKE. And finally, singing the alma mater as we pulled into camp at 10 pm.

Remember: the purple birthday suit, half an hour of ice skating the day you returned, REVERSE, greasy watermelon (sweet victory!), watching Newsies and Ellie and Ariel's concert for internal beauty, truth or dare, shoot kiss marry, "I have a secret," waterfront every day, and just livin' like rockstars...

To my staff: Thank you Rachel for always being in good spirits, and Ciara for your investment in and love for our campers, which was always apparent to everyone. Jodi, you clearly made a considerable impact on the girls. Mackenzie, thank you for being so helpful and easygoing; it made my job so much easier. Thank you Kim for taking so much initiative and keeping everybody in line, on top of being our group translator. Stephanie Heidi Mann, thanks for DJing, impersonating (mummy and puppy), catering (Milanos and Cheez-Its), beasting, socializing, cuddling, and always listening to and supporting your staff this summer (all 4 weeks). Lindsey: my Buddha, I don't know what I would have done without you. It's been such a comfort and so much fun having you beside me this summer – except when you're behind me, helping me back up the van. Please keep coming back; camp needs counselors like you.

To my Quills of 2006: thank you for all the laughs and all the memories. Thank you for allowing me to learn so much about each of you and about myself in the process. It was truly a pleasure being your Group Leader. The 27 friendly, fun-loving, smart, sensitive girls who made up the Quills of 2006 should be those who lead Girls' Camp into the next phase of its existence. You have so much to give and so much left to experience in your Robin Hood careers. I can't wait to watch you climb the ranks in the years to come.

ARROWS

For the following paragraph, please fill in the blank with the word or words indicated in the brackets next to it that best suit your article:

Flechas, flechas, bancas! _____
[Your count off number] S.A. Alright, now that we know that we're all here, the time has finally come to _____ [sit/lay/flip/trip], take a break from _____ [basketball/ice skating/gymnastics/tennis/dance/homework/ soccer/anything that you're "supposed" to be doing at the time] and relax while reminiscing through the _____ [amazing/fun/unbelievable/unforgettable/fantastic/incredible] summer of 2006!

It all started on June 24th when Lauren Zipkin was the first to arrive at The Realm. Shortly after her, the rest of the group started arriving, and the beds in bunks three and four were quickly filled by their new owners. On that first day I could already see that the rumors I'd been hearing were true, this group was going to be amazing. Although most of you had been together at camp before, some of us were new to the group and started to get to know each other with the blind animal game, where we realized Katie was not as well educated as we expected as she yelled out "Monkey, monkey, monkey!" repeatedly all over the girls camp field. Soon after, each of us started assuming our own special roles in the group and the summer started flowing smoothly between activity periods and "free time", as it does every year.

Remember when we went mud sliding, Maite getting hit in the face by Taylor's kickball, mo-mo-moesha!, evening activities with the Lancers like backward scavenger hunt, boot camp drills, speed dating, name that tune and the campfire. The rock band and socials, makeovers, skits, lip syncs, movie nights (The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants and The Newsies – Maite's new favorite movie), spa night with the Bows.

Remember Banana Village and the Jurassic Park game, Ice skating, going to the movies and Cozy Corner, followed by doing Maite's vocal therapy on the way back. Climbing Mount Hedgehog: The beautiful views, the great conversations, and the staff planning to eat Jessica. Remember when Taylor wasn't on Katie's shoulders, when Jessica wasn't tripping over something, when Maddie wasn't hyper or when Halle wasn't talking to herself or in third person? WE DON'T!

Remember WAN, the Super Hi-tech Internal Tent, Halle's pick up lines, Bessie's humping llama camp, your impressions of the Brass during make your GL and AGL laugh, animal spud and Zoe as an armadillo, Maite being identified as a daddy long legs, chipmunk poop on the beds, the chipmunk, the bat in the bunk and Katherine and Maite freaking out (and later being made fun of by Taylor even though she was just a s freaked out), the storm, Halle's birthday package: I saw this shirt, it made me go hey! We have a doggy that looks this way. Parents Visiting Day, chilling in the bunks because of the rain and then getting ice cream and karaoke in the dining hall.

And for some memorable quotes: "I don't have any balance" – Jessica Tenenbaum, "The mustard always wins!" – Anonymous, "I've never done anything to God, and what does he give me? Bug bites!" – Rebecca Curran, "Never have I ever farted in a crowded elevator", "Dude, I do that for fun!" – Maddie Josel and Sara Friedman, "Thanks baby, thanks mami" – Isabella Boschetti, "You have a price sticker on your forehead" – Bessie Schwarz.

At the four-week mark it was time for Pino, Alejandra, and Martha to leave, and we all said our good-byes with tear-filled eyes hoping to have them back for longer next summer. However, on that same day, we also got Kat, Isabella and Alessandra and the group kept getting stronger.

Then came Green and White. Remember the AMAZING break with the drum line, picking captains Katie and Halle, and CO's Sara and Rebecca. You guys did such a good job, congratulations! The Green Gladiators and the White Pirates. When Mr. Lamb got captain. Taylor and Sara in the dance, Emily singing her original song, Jessica making a hole in the floor while practicing her long jump. It was a really close war and you guys all put up a great fight by doing the best job that you could and I was SO proud to watch all of you come together and grow during those five days.

When G & W was over, another hard blow hit our group as we had to see all the six-weekers leave, but as sad as it was, the Arrows stayed strong and started counting off to: we – are – the – only – seven – left – yeah!

And then came excursion. Remember going to Funtown / Splashtown, the four hour long drive to the campsite, the late night trip to Wendy's, rock climbing on cliffs over the water, Bar Harbor, Pirate's Cove mini golf, the cheese and crackers picnic at the beach, that breathtaking view and playing Chinese fire drill, swimming and making s'mores. Shopping in Freeport, the short and problem-less drive back to Conway, seeing John Tucker Must Die and then having dinner at Panda Garden. The last row is the longest!

Arrows, coming in as a first year group leader this summer I was a little nervous and hesitant, but you girls immediately made me feel welcome and comfortable. Whether it was Becca's constant fellowship and positive attitude, Katie's amazing leadership and talent for sports, Sara's maturity and self assurance, Arielle's constant effort, Martha's openness to anything and everything, Maddie's outgoing and secure personality, Jessica's clumsy, own-worldly and amazingly unique self, Andrea's independence, Taylor's fun, bubbly and energetic personality (and stories), Kat's easygoing-ness, Alejandra's strong and independent opinions, Emilie's talents, Halle's relaxed but strong leadership and uniqueness, Alessandra's willingness to try new things, Pino's sweetness, Lauren's reliability and consistency, or Isabella's constant willingness and effort to help others; each of you gave me something great to learn from and cherish forever.

You guys are such an incredible group of girls and I am forever grateful to have had you this summer. Watching you makes me remember everything that really matters at camp and verify why I keep coming back every summer. The love that you guys have for camp and each other is truly outstanding so just keep coming back because each summer gets even better than the one before.

To my staff: I could not have gone through this summer without you. Emma and Rosie- you guys were so good with the girls when you weren't at your specialties. Thank you for everything, it was really great having you. Dana and Zoe- the term first year aide does not do you guys justice. You were even better counselors than I expected and, believe me, I had ridiculously high expectations. You both stepped it up anytime that I needed you and the girls are equally obsessed. I love you so much and enjoyed every moment we spent together. Bessie- having you on my staff this summer only confirmed the amazing friend that you are. If you weren't on a trip or organizing one, you were always with the group making our girls (and staff) laugh. You know how much I love you. Katherine – you were the perfect AGL and I could not have asked for anything more. Getting to know you this summer was one of my favorite parts of it. I could not have imagined how amazing working with you was gonna be and I hope we can cross “staff paths” in the future.

To the Jocelyn crew: you all know how much you mean to me and the impact that you make on me each and every summer. I could not have done it without you and I love you with all my heart. Please come visit me in Mexico. Bernstein: I will see you here next summer.

Girls, it was an honor having you this summer and I can only hope to be with you again in summers to come and see you grow up and take over Girls Camp.

I am confident that you will grow to be the most incredible Scribe Group The Realm will have ever seen. I love you Arrows with all of my heart. Thank you for everything!

BARDS ON THE BENCHES...it's a beuuuuutiful morning! Although some of you are probably actually doing your homework (Dicker, Tremayne, Beaser), I can guarantee that most of you are just pretending (Kruse, Keara, Big Mak), which is why this is a perfect opportunity to do a little reminiscing. Bard summer has certainly been memorable with an assortment of some of the funniest, sweetest and intelligent girls in camp. Girlies, before you tear through the rest of this yearbook (I can hear Bailey squealing now), here's a chance to reflect on some of the crazier, wonderfully insane times we've had. Here we go...

Remember the m&m game on the first night of camp...learning about everyone's pet peeves...Emma and Sam's "hair masks"...Bard staff lying about leaving camp, you guys getting angry and running away (followed by a looovely song at the tennis courts)...s'mores at the outdoor theatre...teaching Aurelia how to make a s'more...our first real "talk"...Katie and her Y...then her L...breaking five mirrors over the course of the summer "we're going to have A LOT of bad luck"...Jess's ridiculous games during mealtimes...Marta and Mercedes finally arriving...Mercedes never remembering her count-off number "umm, 4!"...Jess's perfectly matched tennis outfits...Katie's fiiiine legs...Katie having to do trash and wipe...

Remember all of our late arrivals (Rachel, Nadia, Valerie, Claire, Chandler)...girls

campfire and get to know your group leader (Emma is NOT a NEB, she loves the waterfront)...Sam and her "craps"...intense games of softball...swimming with the Friars...scavenger hunt with the Scribes...Spaceballs!...Candy canteen four times during the first week of camp...Aurelia's never-ending attempts to get tan...Beitler breaking her toe trying to kick Keara...every single member of the group sneaking out to the bombardment rink...CETAPHIL...Mt. Potash/Mt. Hedgehog fiasco...learning how to pop squats (Keara can finally do it)...antarctica song...Beaser's dog shrinking in the wash...Emma knowing the lyrics to every song she sang...little-bittie-tittie-committee...Dicker and Shiny...Dicker as Glenda...Keara's trunk...Big Mak's movie of Emma discovering the trunk...Michele always having her nose in a book...Lauren being fully nude at all times...Keara's waterski disaster (how's the bum?)...Lauren's waterski disaster...Sam: I want to crawl into a hole. Bards 20 minutes later "Sam your hole is ready"...

Remember Ogunquit...Emma, Sam, Lauren and Aurelia freezing during neck duty...Jessi having to ride with kitchen staff (and then promptly writing a nasty letter to her parents)...buying mass amounts of food only to have it taken away that night...Nadia's break-dancing...Mique in the animal game (ROARRR)...backwards scavenger hunt with the Friars...Big Mak and the buttload of stars...Bailey's somersaults down the quad...snap cup with Missy and Anna...dressing up and watching the sunset with the friars...DC taking us to Cozy (and losing the money)...Shannon's incredible soccer playing (and the injured hip that accompanied it)...McDonald's with the Friars and interesting games of truth or dare...Eduardo's knowledge of Kama Sutra (#28 is very popular)...Jess's spicy Hawaiian candy...Subway at the Outdoor Theatre...Beaser's bagels and granola bars on visiting day...Rachel being an orphan (thanks for rubbing that in Keara)...

Remember Green and White...Emma and Sam freaking everyone out on Sunday night "do you smell smoke?"...Lauren leaping out of bed...Beaser and Katie as captains, Shannon and Daniele as Co's...intense games of volleyball, soccer and tennis...Emma, don't you think you should get out of bed? Your sister is a captain"...sitting on the beach during lazy day...G&W finally ending and the Bards coming together again...

Remember excursion, road-tripping across Vermont...never getting lost, just stopping at every gas station to make sure we were going the right way...Amy and Lauren with all the kids, Sam and Emma and Bertha the Cherry Van...Dunkin' Donuts on the first day "America Runs on Dunkin...and so does?"...Arriving at Killington with half an hour to go on the Gondola...buying Red Bull at the peak...Valerie, Keara and Claire going on the waterslides...Alison, Mique, Nadia and Chandler getting carsick...arriving at the White River Campsite...Bailey falling off of the see-saw and being saved by a 21-year-old EMT...swimming in the river...throwing fajitas on the fire (Daniele, will yours ever be cooked enough?)...Katie "breaking" her nose...Katie "hyperventilating"...Emma sleeping in the tent with the girls...Lauren freaking out...waking up to rain in the middle of the night...off to Petra Cliffs (Nadia that's a lovely view)...Chandler spread eagle up the tunnel...gourmet lunch from Price Chopper...picnic by the water...Pirates of the Carribean with the Friars...our scary campsite on the hill...insane rain...insane 12-person tent...insane night...Ben and Jerry's tour the next morning...skipping Dartmouth and hitting up Conway in time for Guldies and outlet shopping...Subway on the way home...

Remember the last four days at camp...no-one allowed to mention the words 'packing', 'home', or 'last day'...last Bard talk at the Outdoor Theatre...Jessi and Keara lugging Keara's trunk full of food to the ODT...talking about your first year of high school (don't worry Katie, Lauren will be nice)...lying on the beach during our last period of canoe...never have I ever...our final days as the Bards of '06.

Girls, I can't think of a stronger way to end our summer. As Chester once said, you've made a 180; as a group, you've fallen into a rhythm that I'm certain will carry you through to your Scribe summer. Throughout the last seven weeks, we spent a lot of time learning how to come together as a group, and how to appreciate these short weeks in The Realm. As your counselors, our only hope is that you girlies continue to grow into the quirky, strong, insightful and compassionate individuals you've shown yourselves to be, and that you do so at your own pace. Above all, we hope you've learned that sharing a tent with eleven of your best friends is always worth losing a little legroom for...

Jess, Katie and Aurelia; although you were all new to Robin Hood this year, you interacted with the girls as if you had known them forever. Thank you for being so fun-loving and for taking on this challenge with the rest of us. We could not have handled this wild bunch of girls without you. Michele, thank you for putting up with our crazy antics. You were the voice of reason when things got out of hand; always the calm one out of the bunch.

Lauren, let me begin by telling you that you are the biggest bundle of warmth, strength and craziness I have ever come across. I have so thoroughly loved sharing a bunk with you that it's difficult to imagine nights without debriefing sessions and mornings without light rock and not-teeth-brushing in your face. You are part of the reason my summer has been so unbelievable, and I cannot wait to be on staff with you again so that we can dance our spineless, rhythm-less bodies all over camp for another summer.

Sam, as a first-year group leader, I was worried about countless things. The kids, of course, but my staff as well. From leadership straight through to the end, I have leaned on you more than you know. Though we were never very close as campers, I now see you as an integral part of my life at camp. Thank you for always supporting me; for telling me to chill out, calm down, stop singing and laugh; for walking, not running the short loop; for being such a lovable, honest friend.

Bards of 2006, remember a quote from your favorite song this summer, "So many adventures couldn't happen today; so many songs we forgot to play; so many dreams are swinging out of the blue; we let them come true...we want to be forever young..."

SHIRES

*Do you love us? (do you love us)
Do you love us? (do you love us)
Do you love the Shires
Now that we can sing (which we can't)*

Shires, now that I have your attention – or have finally gotten you to stop singing out of tune, pleasssee put on some clothes, turn off your iPods, put away your trashy magazines, grab some food, get out of my bed, get ready to CHARGE and relive a summer of pure SHIRE DOMINATION.

REMEMBER when the shires weren't... naked, attacking Molly, wearing each others' clothes, straightening their hair, sweeping inspection, bucking for awards, playing volleyball, mix-matching bathing suits, passed out in different beds, trying to harmonize, going to basketball, hyperventilating, napping, hanging out with the Foresters, being woken up, blasting music at every waking moment, showering, storming activities, or just generally being crazy everywhere they went...we don't!

REMEMBER the slow start – absolutely no Shires to speak of until BFrye attacks us...finally the NYC aka Shire Group Bus arrives...skeptical of all new girls at first...trying to find a name for pen, or is it porn?...mud fight in the rain...the talent show dance...we're all in this together and Molly's moves...fourth of July: Eurobungy and the crazy guy operating it...yeomen torturing us...Tuck and Jill BIC sail...
Lindsay practicing her smile for photos... harassing Amy's boyfriend (David or Jeremy?) and Brittany calling him...4 week Miss White Glove Champions...the hiking trip:
bear, moose, marshlands, Jodi...our bus driver's crazy double finger on the way to ice skating...getting lost on the way to West End but making it to see the last 8 minutes and an RH victory...Allison and Tuck's big award song...cleaning the Forester cabin...Jenny's visit and waking you with cheesecake...the preparation before beach day...constantly waxing each other...Bob's crazy driving and song performances on the way to Ogunquit.

REMEMBER Britt's laxative cookies...
Shinny on the quad...the drawing above
Jill and Britt's bed...furburger...40 Year Old

Virgin with the Foresters and Dick Roberts...Lili's black eye...asking Gillian a million questions...Linds and Lili: why is the sky blue...Rachel and Jill's mikvah...
Evergreen softball tournament: Marta, Juan, and his fear...doing the Island swim... finding Bia's padding...Bree: did you know that...Vicki always rocking the crafts shack...the Sarah Potts' dance move... watching Lost...shaking boobs in front of Amy...“forgive me, I'm Mexican”...Almu and Lucia's hair removal machine...our obsession with Grey's Anatomy...Estefanie's mix-up with the Saxons...singing all the time...Tuck hating boys...Julie and Elizabeth: “Brittany rules”...Ali never on time for anything...Bia's impression of Mike Meyers... red light, green light everywhere!

REMEMBER Jill aka God during mafia... dance off with the Bows...SNL skits... the window lurker...wee little leprechaun...
broom people on the porch...gossip hour...squirrels getting down...back shower party...Bizz's chicken burger...Wedding Crashers quotes...Sir Walter...going out for Chinese food (no swearing!)...seeing the Eurobungy guy at the movies...going on a sunset boat ride and loving the gourmet dessert we got: Oreos and trail mix...tubing accidents...sunscreen massage...Allison's elf book...clorox bathroom everyday...Jill's picture under her bed...Kristen's random solo dancing... hiding Arfie...being mean to Linds...
Terry's flirting...peace necklaces...Jill's wart clinic...our laundry turning pink...
Rachel's pillow story...cheer off with the Scribes...our Shabbat dinners...Marilyn leading runs...switching GLs: Gill having the PJs, Ethan gets the Shires...“lots of latkes”...Elizabeth's obsession with

Lili...Robindel competition and dance team aka Wiggins, Schorr, Bia...harassing
the Brod constantly...Grandma Ilse, Julia and Stephen come to visit...Shi6...hellllllo doctah...prutting ALL the time.

REMEMBER Parent's Visiting: bunking it during the rain, karaoke...the duffel bags of candy afterwards...being models for Deal or No Deal...getting the rest of the campers that would complete our group...the Green & White Break – Shires are the first ones up and on the quad...White Pirates vs. Green Gladiators...Congratulations to Rachel and Lindsay as captains, Bizz and Amanda as co's...Chloe arriving day 3 ahead of schedule...actually being nice to each other for once...all of your performances on talent night...Caroline's running...

Rachel's great acting and general entertainment...BFrye winning photo for green...Ana's stellar sports skills...paddle, paddle, paddle, whack...Canada cheer at the end of song night...peeing on the quad...hiding Gill's bed on the docks... thank you girls for being so supportive for those 5 days!

REMEMBER the last two weeks: being challenged by Yeomen, PJs, Saxons, and losing every time...two hour meetings with DC in the cottage...Shire shirt debacles and finally getting pink ones...Leopold and Jack's birthday cards...Terry and Jill hiding in bed...Allison's new man...the teaches of peaches...Sofia always napping...the photo room...doing sundaes and soda money... making special boards...always wanting to meet with Chuck.

REMEMBER Canada? Going crazy on our cells...hiding people/sleeping to get across the border...running to Jetboating and getting drenched...Natila on the left and Sarah the Brainwash...wool sweaters... the Holiday Inn...channel 14... A-na-na-na-na...“we’re 15”...getting ready for 2 hours...dinner at Hard Rock... Rafting with Simon in the slow boat...Gill falling out and not being able to get back to the boat...“you girls have beautiful legs”... Jill and Potts as mermaids...Tuck pulling Gill from the whirlpool...getting tours of the city and visiting the Reitman house with Ilse...Toyo for dinner and the Hibachi man throwing onions at everyone...Chloe prutting...“my Lili”...ordering food at 2 am...Who’s Tim Horton? I don’t even know him...Lindsay’s accidental text message to Gill...Where’s Brit...wanna tell secrets...scaring Ana in the night...Bree’s lessons...waking up early to shop...going to Reubens...lactose intolerant smell... waiting outside Old Navy and attacking Urban...Reitman country house swimming and Bizz being pushed in the pool...photo shoots...a little game called tampon vs. the wind...finally getting back to Conway and dance party at Upcountry...Terry’s food never coming...What was the best part of Canada? Getting Arrested! Don’t forget getting back to camp and being pranked by the Foresters and Woody and trying to get them back...Ana Isabel: I was afraid of you Allison...and obviously Amanda’s first.

To Bree, Ana, Ali, Lili, Chloe, Ana Isabel, Marilyn, Almudena, Lucia, Kristen, Estefanie, Brittany, Sofia, Caroline, Terry, Allison, Jill, Bia, Lindsay, Rachel, Vicki, Amanda, Bizz: I have never seen a group come together so beautifully in just two short months. This summer you impressed everyone with your energy, unity, and dedication to one another. Wherever you went, people could hear your laughter roar through camp. As your last summer as

real campers comes to a close, you can be confident in knowing that you truly have become the presence in Girls’ Camp that I knew you would be. As I have told you time and time again, you are going to be one of the greatest groups of Scribes to pass through the Realm. Please don’t forget next summer isn’t the culmination of your years here, it is just the continuation of the ongoing cycle that is Robin Hood. Remember to support each other unconditionally – this place and your camp friends can get you through anything if you stick together. And please remember to cherish your sense of humor and collective ability to make even the most mundane activity incredible; it’s what makes your group.

To my staff: I can’t even begin to express my gratitude towards the six of you. We worked as a great team and somehow managed to keep these girls in line! Thank you for your constant support and smiling faces, it truly made a difference. Molly, we knew little about each other coming into this summer but I quickly learned that you are one of the most fun-loving, responsible, quirky people I have ever met. What you meant to me this summer is only rivaled by what you meant to these girls. I have never seen a first year aide connect so well with each and every one of their campers. Thank you for everything. Spotts, from day one I knew it had to be the two of us together the whole way. This summer I think you reached your full potential as a counselor – you influenced our campers tremendously and were an invaluable part of the group. Honestly, I’m not sure I could’ve made it through this summer without your friendship and constant support. These past two summers have allowed us to cement a friendship that I hold close to my heart, please come back and take a spot; you deserve it more than you know. Finally, to the Jocelyn Crew and all my friends: thank you for your endless support, laughs, and unprecedented crazy memories. You made my summer.

Shires, as you finish reading this you are probably going to return to stalking the camp website (and staff members) in anticipation of the 2007 season. I want to simply say thank you – thank you for making me laugh, for absolutely making my summer, for letting me be a part, if even a small one, of one of the greatest girls groups in Robin Hood History. In this 20th anniversary of Girls Camp, I am proud to say I was apart of its ongoing success for 11 summers. However, it gives me even more pride to know that whether I return or not, we will be leaving the traditions in the hands of you girls. Know that I am always a phone call or text message away, and that each and every single one of you girls has impacted me in a way I can’t express within this word limit. It was a privilege to be your Group Leader; I love you.

p.s. Bobby Fisher: where is he? I don’t know, I don’t know...

Dearest, darlingest Scribes of 2006: Put away your books, sign off, grab your bears, get cozy and prepare to read the greatest yearbook article ever! I know that by now your tans have faded and your bears probably don't sing anymore, but your presence as the Scribes of 2006 created a vital spirit in Girls Camp that will live on forever...

and Alex Mann Behind the Music...the rubber chicken ending up on poor Eliza's bed...dinner with the Saxons at Panda Garden...missing the movie, going to Wal-Mart instead and having a dance party in the parking lot...Labes and Lauren buying a coffee machine to counteract the lack of caffeine in camp.

How about the time when you all left dinner early for no reason and I chased after you asking what you were doing and

What does a mini-sized pizza look like? The poor patrons of Pizza Barn will never know...Missy and Ilyse's Subway application for employment...Deal or No Deal models...Sonia and Ana, "Amigas by mail"...Zab's awesome hydroplane entrance to the Realm...E falling down the dining hall stairs and sending cheese everywhere...Anna drinking the spit cup in the talent show...Kadis' Bob the Builder watch, may it rest in peace...the squirrel threesome...Squirrels Gone Wild – if you don't remember this it's because I just made it up...the chipmunk that left a little present on Labes' book, and by book I mean cell phone...Liv hiding her phone with her box lid... "Sonito, sonito."

Remember the birthday BBQ at Jackie's... Missy, Sarah, and Courtney paddle boating with water snakes and getting stuck in the pond...Anna kfwasting the Spongebob piñata...Winnie the Pooh ears and party hats...Cozy Corner's new ginormous home, complete with a bathroom (but who really needs a bathroom, right Missy?)

What would we do with out Grandma Esther...Hannah's tone deafness...Sofia and Ana's late night Shakira sessions...that one time at band camp...oh, wait, that was from a movie...Sonia's dip...me dominating Katahdin...Claudia 'seeing snow for the first time'...watching Lauren spray bug repellent on her face from the van... Shauna's attempts at screaming...me screaming, "CLEAN!"...cleaning the PJ bunk and doing their laundry, eww!...the rainy parent's day...Kristina's shopping spree at Wal-Mart – apparently they don't have a lot of things in England – I'm sure you're the coolest kid in school...Maria's oversized beach hat and faux fur vest, hot hottie hot...Zab: "I'm going to go home, yada yada yada yada, and call you guys."

And who can forget excursion? Meeting Marco and becoming obsessed with him,

In one of our first bunk meetings, Ilyse asked me how my Scribe Group became so memorable and I said that it just sort of happened. This summer I watched it "happen" with you girls. Each one of you is a quirky piece of a very complete puzzle (yes, this was derived from E's speech.) You girls never cease to amaze me with your openness and ability to welcome people into your group. When the summer began I was a little bit intimidated coming in and being your GL. On the first night, Labes climbed into bed with me and chatted me up and made me feel so at ease. I truly believe that a group of 22 sixteen-year-old girls as cohesive as yours is unprecedented.

Shauna realized how mindless you were and laughed and said "I don't know"... Sam Dicker hooking it up with candy canteen...July 4th US vs. UK (whose side were you on, Kristina?)...the Blue Collar Fashion Show, waah waah...Zab holding an imaginary gun to her head in the Mt. Washington picture...OG's a-mazing cameo with the band...when you guys made me walk a line... "He probably didn't bring them, he probably made them" – Shauna and Missy...E and Caitlin's slapping fights...Rosa Parks sat next to the bus driver...Pee on Dock Club... "Ooh, dots!" – Jenny Trips.

Let me remind you of some of our fondest, funniest, and most fabulous memories...OG's new do...Sarem Labenauer, Sarah and Labes, Siamese twins joined at the sweatshirt... Shauna breaking the dining hall window but saving us from the bee...fake body parts and the rubber chicken...my pole dance to "Out Tonight" making him birthday cards... "I just want attention" – Marco... Big T in the 15 passenger van vs. the parking garage... telling our conductor that we go to Shooting Camp... Katie surprising her mom, so cute!... eating at Rainforest and asking if we could go to Build-a-Bear after our next activity, not knowing that that was the next activity...

"Sha-na-na-na, Sha-na-na-na, hey hey hey, the rest of the Scribes!"... "Oh my goodness, oh my goodness"... my special running skills and Boston marathon paraphernalia... that time when I was writing the yearbook article and I said the whole thing was going to be about me and then I said I was just kidding... "We shall overcome"... dressing in rainbow and having the best recess ever... becoming group leaders for the day and the GLs becoming scribes... chipmunks in the bunk!

Thank you to my sick nasty staff: Ingrid, Brenner, Jenny Trips, and Kathryn. I know that you share my admiration for our amazing group of girls but I like that we all knew them in different ways. Ingy and Trips I'm still sorry about the sink issue during pre-camp, great first impression... Brenner, I wish you could have been here the whole summer but, don't worry, honorary Scribe, Adrian, did a wonderful job taking over as AGL.

Alex, I am so happy we got to be Saxons and Scribes together again. I love that we have stayed friends for so long and I'm so happy that we tend to cross paths during the year. I also want to thank the Saxons and Scribes of 2002 for the constant laughs, support, and good times. And to my cousin Bernstein, I am so happy that we have finally become so close this summer. I love you so much and I'm glad we live so close to each other.

Nati, oh Nati. You are like a part of our family. We've been best friends since we met you in seventh grade, straight out of public school with your beeper and scraggly hair down to your butt. Even though I've known you so long, you always surprise me and entertain me. I mean, when did you learn to play piano? Who would have thought when you came as a Scribe in 2000 that you'd be the head of Girls Camp in 2006? You work so hard for this place because you love it so much and you have done so much to insure that Girls Camp stays strong.

To my lil' baby, Julia – I love that we have been able to spend our past three summers together especially since we don't live together during the year. I am so lucky to have a sister that is my best friend in the world. I love you and, no matter what you think, you will make a great group leader.

Thank you Robin Hood for allowing me to grow up in your safe haven for the past 10 years. Only those who experience a summer in the Realm can understand the magnitude of this place. Thank you D.C. and Jamie for believing in me and for your support. Thank you Chuck for your dedication to camp and thank you Michelle for being my mentor and my friend.

And, lastly, to my Scribes of 2006: Thank you for making my summer so incredible and helping me to forget that I just graduated from college and I don't have a job, ha ha. I love you so much and I am so grateful that I was able to make such strong connections with all of you.

In the beginning of the summer a little girl wrote down a wish: "I wish to know all of the Scribes." You girls did an exceptional job of becoming prominent leaders of Girls Camp. I am so proud of all of you. I know that your group has been through a lot, but here you are still standing strong, not an ounce of your spirit is gone, you go on and on and on and on... Your resilience is what keeps you genuine and inspiring. I'm sure that you will make amazing counselors, group leaders and captains some day. Just like you encouraged girls' camp to keep coming back in your speeches, I urge you to keep coming back for as long as you can. This place is indescribable and people like you are what perpetuate the magic in the trees. I love you.

"Because maybe, you're gonna be the one that saves me. And after all, you're my wonderwall... Doo doo doo doo doo."

Well, beads continue to be the name of the game at the Camp Robin Hood Art Shack. Beads of every shape, size and color magically are transformed into beautiful bracelets, necklaces, anklets and earrings to be worn all summer long, and faithfully throughout the year. It became a status symbol amongst the counselors to be given a piece of beaded jewelry by a camper, and they were worn with pride.

As always, we were mighty fired up... with the copper enameling kiln that is! We were very busy with copper pieces of every imaginable shape and size, and after cleaning, decorating and firing, some amazing pieces were born. They could be seen around camp as earrings, necklaces and other wearable art. Beautiful work campers!

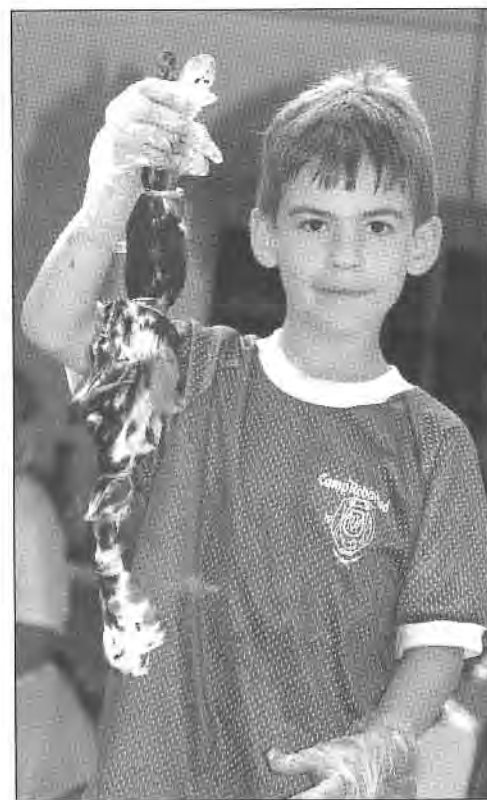

Of course, tried and true camp crafts are still going strong here at the Realm. Lanyard was as popular as ever, except that now it comes in every imaginable color from neon to metallic. Creations that ran the continuum from simple to multiple-stringed would appear, made by boys and girls of all ages. Hemp and string jewelry were all the rage, and at anytime in the Shack you could see fingers flying while campers created amazing multicolored friendship bracelets and beaded hemp jewelry to be worn by boys and girls alike. Don't forget about our beloved Tye Dye, a perennial favorite for every group. The colors and designs are always awe-inspiring, and the shirts are enjoyed by everyone.

Painting and Drawing was a new addition to Arts and Crafts this year, and some really beautiful painted boxes and other works of art were born. We also added a cooperative program with the Theatre Department wherein we created and finished the stage sets and props, and the actors themselves came in to work on their personal props as well.

Indeed, Arts and Crafts was a very busy place this summer, and Assistant Director Cate, and staff members Rosie, Danielle and Claudia made it happen each and every day. They were always there to expertly guide a camper through a project, help with materials and cleanup, and lend a hand in whatever way necessary. Their humor, creativity and kindness made Arts and Crafts the place to be! It was truly a pleasure to work with them. Finally, thank you campers for your patience when teaching each other or waiting in line to finish a piece of jewelry, forgiveness when we dropped your bracelet and all of the beads fell off or your copper enamel burned, your understanding when we temporarily ran out of supplies, your compliments, conversation, congeniality, and most of all – thank you for making Camp Robinhood Arts and Crafts a wonderful place to be this past summer.

My third year at Robin Hood brought with it a lot of hustle and bustle in the Ceramics Studio, along with a lot of surprises – the biggest being when the Lancers came to the scheduled period! I enjoyed myself immensely this summer due in most parts to the help given by Reggie.

I saw a lot of junior camp: TJs – Margie, what a beautiful bowl and Danni, I loved the turtle; TPJs – future surgeons of America! I'm not sure you boys helped your patients though!; Squires – some of the best wheel work I've ever seen; Bows – I enjoyed seeing you immensely – what wonderful things you made; Archers – I think you were the group I saw the most of and you boys always kept me entertained. Dylan Schattman – you know I LOVED your designs!

Then there was senior camp that included the Quills and the Arrows – lovely pots on the wheels; Lancers – some really weird stuff!; Bards – you guys were more interested in the social side of ceramics I think!; and, a brief appearance by the Shires – who turned out some nice things.

Overall I think it was a successful year. We started work on the wheel early and I hope everyone who wanted a turn got one. There were a lot more finished pieces including, amongst many, a fantastic flowerpot by Miss Lauren Zipkin and an extremely interesting face pot by Charlotte Levine!

So thank you for such a good year, a massive amount of gratitude goes to Reggie, Carolyn, Cate, Danni, Claudia, Lizzie and Phil – such an amazing crew!

The summer of 2006 in The Realm's Woodshop was awesome! From the very start the woodshop was filled to the brim with enthusiastic and creative budding engineers.

Projects ranged from the good old fashioned 'box with lid' to Go-Karts, airplanes, hockey sticks and ping pong paddles to name just a few. We've both been amazed by the effort, creativity and skill amongst all the campers in the Woodshop this summer.

The Junior Girls Camp created some stylish mini-chairs built by Kibriyaa Morgan, Montana Black and Lauren Cole. Each chair was put to great use within their bunks. Name plates, bedside tables and peg racks were also very popular projects throughout the summer. Sarah Sullivan designed and made a Photo and Writing box and some classy toilet roll holders. Sarah picks up the Most Improved Award - well done Sarah! Alexia Knowles amazed us with her skills when making a birdhouse/penthouse fit with skylight and staircase - lucky birds! Congratulations to Alexia who earned the Best in Girls Camp Award.

The Senior Girls Camp produced some fantastic projects all summer - we had a collection of bedside cabinets, name plates, peg racks, bookshelves and music boxes. For Founders Day Gifts the senior girls made a sign for the new Outdoor Theatre plus a picnic table and Girls Camp Sign.

They were all lively and enjoyable groups to work with. We had great help from Eliza Stout and Zoe Kessler - thank you!

The Junior Boys could not stay away as they created endless armories of swords, guns, tanks, boats, paddles, cubbies and boxes. Alex Bloch designed and built some 'inventive' projects including a car assault course and stick of dynamite. Jake Gottsegen progressed with a fantastic Foosball Table. Vincente Ocampo built a marvelous airplane model and earned Best in Boys Camp Award - congratulations Vincente! Team Yeomob (Yeomans) designed and built a go-kart - the mechanics involved were Alex Schumann, Matthew Schumann, Eric Arnold, Oliver Weil, Corey Boeschstein and Nathan Mullaney. Micheal Polisano created another special project - he crafted a 'Winter Wonderland' and for his efforts and skills throughout the summer Micheal earned the Most Improved Award. Well done Michael!

The Senior Boys Camp built some interesting projects including hockey sticks, bedside cabinets, cubbies, ping pong paddles, cricket bats and chess sets. Boys Camp Founder's Day projects included a Sunset Bench from the Foresters (constructed by David Woodstien), a swing bench from the Lancers, a mirror frame from the Squires and an Adirondack Chair from the Friars. The TPJ's, Archers, Yeoman and Saxons made excellent progress on a fence for a softball pitch... We were very impressed with campers and counselors that contributed to building their Founders Day projects.

Finally, we'd like to thank all the campers for great 2006 summer in the Woodshop!

This year in The Realm we had an exciting summer in Photography!

The junior camp was especially involved with photography. Junior campers such as Jackson Pollock, Nathan Press and Jack Boffa loved coming to photography and using the pinhole cameras; they shot great pictures of the scenic waterfront. The junior camp not only used pinhole cameras but also enjoyed making photograms (black and white pictures without 35mm cameras), and just trying to find the perfect place to take their pictures. Junior camp also learned how to process and develop their photos to make the negative that are now their pictures. The Tumblers/Jesters enjoyed doing photo shoots around camp, complete with hair, makeup, and fashion accessories.

Senior camp was involved with some of the same activities, such as photograms, pinhole cameras and general picture taking. However, senior camp developed a deeper understanding of photography, expanding their knowledge of the steps to making a good picture such as test strips and using the filters.

The senior camp girls came up with a new twist to photograms. The girls made various clues to help their secret summer sisters figure out who they were. The Shires came up with many creative ways to make photograms on those rainy days in The Realm, experimenting with different designs, patterns and shapes.

During Parents Visiting Day, the campers and parents enjoyed scavenger hunts together around camp. The point of this activity was to give campers a chance to give their parents a tour of the camp while showing off their photography skills. I really think this allowed the parents to experience unbeatable "Kodak moments" with their children.

During Green & White, green team member Brittany Frye worked up a storm to complete all five categories of the competition; she even completed a picture of Chester for the portrait category.

I really enjoyed my first summer at Robin Hood and can't wait for the summers in The Realm to come.

ARTS & CRAFTS - WOODSHOP (Continued)

SUMMER AT THE REALM

We went "over the rainbow" this year – and in a big way! Within the first couple of days of camp, our department announced this year's program, which comprised of the multi-colored annual Talent Show followed by the main production – The Wizard of Oz. To end we produced a Variety Show culminating in a concert version of the big Broadway hit musical 'Wicked'. This is a show with a story that precedes The Wizard of Oz, so our season came full circle.

The Talent Show produced the usual array of diverse acts including solo and group dances, a variety of singers, instrumentalists, lip-syncing, comedy and bands. It is so encouraging that every year more and more campers want to take part to show off their individual skills. It was a great night.

Two weeks later we produced our big show. The Wizard of Oz has been a favorite movie since it first appeared in the 1930's and it's score has become a legend. Everyone knows 'Over the Rainbow', so it was no surprise to see the long list of auditionees when we announced the show. It took two days to see everybody, but finally we had a great cast and rehearsals started. The entire company worked tirelessly for three weeks and the end result was a resounding success. The first performance was seen by the people of Freedom and brought in an abundance of congratulatory remarks. The next night saw the whole camp on their feet cheering madly at the end of the show, proving yet again that the Robin Hood musical is one of the highlights of the season. Everyone deserves a mention, so here is the full cast list:

The Wizard of Oz

CAST

DOROTHY AUNTIE EM
UNCLE HENRY
MISS GULCH
PROFESSOR MARVEL GLINDA
MUNCHKIN MAYOR
MUNCHKIN BARRISTER
MUNCHKIN CORONER
1st MUNCHKIN
2nd MUNCHKIN
3rd MUNCHKIN
WITCH OF THE WEST SCARECROW
TIN MAN
COWARDLY LION OZ GUARD
1st OZ WOMAN
2nd OZ WOMAN
NIKKO
THE WIZARD

EMILY SCHATTMAN
CAMILLA JOHANSSON
FREDRICK BERL
EMMA BARNETT
ADRIAN SANDERSON
RACHEL DICKER
SARAH BROWN
CLAIRE LEWIN
SAMANTHA PEPPER
LAUREN COLE
JAMIE LEVINE
KATHERINE CURRAN
EMMA BARNETT
AARON WOODSTEIN
MIKEY BOURQUE
AUSTIN PEPPER
BIZZY MARGOLIN
NICKI MANETTA
KIBRIYAA MORGAN
BEN LEWIN
ADRIEN SANDERSON

MUNCHKINS AND CITIZENS OF OZ

JULIA POORVU
CHLOE CONLEY
SARA LAIBSTAIN
ALEX MINTZBERG
KATHERINE SHIFKE
SARA CRISTAL

JOSIE BERL
HANNAH COOK
MONTANA BLACK
JESSICA MINTZBERG
JACKLYN MONK
HALEY SHEEHAN

and bears, oh my!

...lions and tigers

Campers involved in the backstage and technical team were Paul Grossman (drums), David Woodstein (lighting), Sam Dicker (sound), Zach Reisler and Jack Freifelder (follow spots).

And so to our last production. This was a throwback to the days of television when "Variety" was the keyword. It took the form of a kind of 'Ed Sullivan Show' with a series of diverse acts and ending with a selection of songs from a Broadway show.

The Variety part included three dance sections performed by Kat Ratko, Adrien Sanderson, Imogen Richardson and the First Year Aide Boys. Ellie Tremayne did an amusing monologue and Aaron Woodstien wrote and performed a short ghost story together with Ben Lewin, Alec Singerman and Jeremy Slossberg. Cate Mackenzie played a piano piece and Ekaterina Karpenko wrote and performed her own song. Lauren Cole also sang as did Emma Barnett and Sam Dicker. Alex Mann, Tyler Goldman and Chad Burstein put together an instrumental medley. After an entertaining and energetic first half we moved on to the grand finale of the season - the Robin Hood concert version of 'Wicked'.

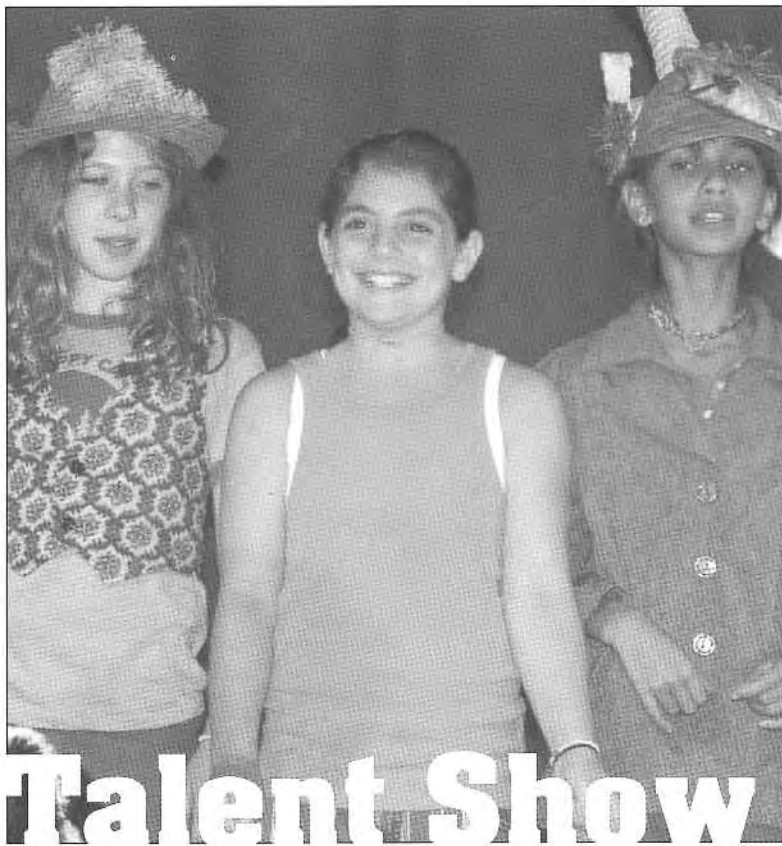

Three talented members of staff, Adrien Sanderson, Lauren Hellman and Zoe Kessler sang ten of the great songs from this show with Stephen Duckham providing a narrative of the story.

This brought us full circle and to the end of another great drama program at the Realm.

Talent Show

It was a great summer in the dance studio, and we were busy from day one. Some groups were occupied with choreographing dances for the Talent Show, while others enjoyed numerous games of freeze dance, musical chairs and dance-offs in classes. The Bows worked hard on an amazing dance to Temperature - great performance girls! The Shires performed a dance to a great medley finishing with an enthusiastic rendition of High School Musical, which was so much fun to work on! As well as the group dances, both OG and Hayley Sheehan worked on individual dances which were both incredible.

This summer we were invited to the first annual Dance Off at Robindel and we took our junior team: Sara Cristal, Nicole Morgan, Daniella Madrazo and Kibriyaa Morgan, and our senior team: Bia Madrazo, Bizz Wiggin, Anna Wiggin and Rachel Schorr to perform the dances they had worked so hard on. The juniors performed a cute dance to Freaks Me Out, and won the award for Best Shimmy with Sara Cristal winning an individual award for Best Stage Presence. The seniors performed an incredible dance to If and won the award for Most Enthusiasm, with Bizz winning an individual award for Most Effort. Both dances were amazing, and I was so proud of all of you girls for working so hard.

Then before we knew it, Green and White broke and suddenly both teams were furiously working for 4 days on their dances for the Talent Show. The competition was tough for both the senior and junior camp dances. In the junior section, the White Team had a great dance to C'est La Vie, with Sammy Pepper, Jamie Levine, Nicole Morgan, Callan Goldman, Emily Howard and Carrie Solomon performing amazingly. Giving them a run for their money was the Green Team, consisting of Kibriyaa Morgan, Daniella Madrazo, Julia Cohen, Ben Gordon, Dylan Schattman and Sam Andrus who worked on a spectacular dance to I just Can't Get Enough. In the senior section, the Green Team: Rachel Schorr, Bizz Wiggin and Anna Wiggin worked on a dance to Ain't No Other Man with the help of the Saxons, and then performed a breathtaking African Dance accompanied by live drums. The White Team: Bia Madrazo, Lindsey Rosenstein, Missy Freidman, Taylor McGinnis and Sarah Freidman, worked on a medley and enlisted the help of Jake Borden, Ryan Cristal and Andrew Cristal to show off their basketball skills in 99 Problems. Both dances were absolutely amazing, and all the hard work the dancers put into them definitely showed.

Thanks have to go to all those who've helped me out this summer: Adrian for taking classes for me when I needed it, and for choreographing some sweet dances with me! And thanks to Lauren Brenner for all her help during the competition and Green and White! As my second summer has now ended, I thank everyone who was enthusiastic about dance and remember - keep dancing!

This has been an amazing summer here at The Realm! Our 12 & Under Team placed 2nd in the Robin Hood Invitational with the following shooters competing: Kevin Goodman (Squire), Alex Slossberg (Archer), Stephen Gallagher (Archer), Diego Ducay Ferre (Yeoman) and Santiago Guell (Yeomen). The 15 & Under Team – comprised of: Alfonso Montojo (Yeoman), Stephen Hopkins (Lancer), Francesco Garosci (Lancer), Michael Goodman (Friar) and Kevin Laddon (Forester) – also shot quite well but didn't see medal at the Invitational.

Archery awards were hard to assign this summer as we had so many excellent shooters down at the range; however, certain people did shine through during the green and white tournaments.

The BIC ("best in camp") in Junior Camp went to Noah Garson for an outstanding score of 198 which was the highest score we had for any junior camper. The MIP ("most improved") for junior camp went to Chloe Conley for her effort in each session, and for making us laugh along the way.

The BIC for senior camp went to Nadia Hannan for truly a fantastic score during green and white of 213. (Nadia along with the rest of the Bards were lots of fun at Archery all summer long!) MIP for senior camp went to Santiago Guell – he surprised us each and every time he came out to the range as he out-shot himself every time.

It was a pleasure getting to know you all and we thank you for coming and visiting us at the Archery Range!

As another summer draws to close, it's time to look back at what has made canoeing down on the lake and beyond this year so memorable.

Trips to the outpost gave us some beautiful evening and early morning paddles with junior campers at the start of the summer. Where the Archers were lucky to get two beautiful evenings, the Bows faced untamable winds and on a second try, thunderstorms. We saw some fierce paddling from these Bow girls - well done!

Two of the hottest days of the year saw the Lancers take to the Saco River for the most ambitious canoe trip of the summer. Over twenty miles of paddling were tackled by the boys, over 2 days, with a night camping on the banks of the river. While we couldn't go fast enough for the liking of Swain and Sam Rosecan, everyone's arms were aching by the end of the day. I thought Mack Bennett might fall asleep on the spot. Thank goodness we had chewy bars to keep our spirits high! The night was spent by the camp fire in search of the perfect fajita. Day two and with muscles recovered, the distance was covered in double quick time. We were off the water just in time before the thunder rolled in. Remember: the bugs; finding water; Rikleen's base tan; the Rapid; 'paddle harder'; 'Is that a distance or time question?'.

A windy morning greeted Junior Camp for their Regatta on the morning of day 4 of Green and White. All dealt admirably with the difficult conditions but special mention must go to Marjorie Kozloff of the Jesters who single handedly won her race after her partner in the front of the canoe was unlucky enough to drop her paddle. Great paddling! The Senior Camp Regatta followed in the afternoon. Some strong paddling and some quick recall from those who had not canoed for a while made for a great contest.

Day to day there was no better place to be than out in a canoe on the lake - whether it was a peaceful paddle around the island in the sun, a game of canoe bombardment, tug o' war or a scavenger hunt. Remember: Alex Wolf dropping his paddle...again, and when I fell in!; Hamad learning to canoe; the paddle game with the TPJs: "no the other right".

Thanks to one and all who came canoeing this year. Happy Paddling!

The summer of 2006 at The Realm saw a new addition to the schedule with Mountain Biking! This program was as new to the camp as I was and was greatly accepted by both campers and staff. After a rocky start with my suffering and recovering from pneumonia and none of the campers knowing exactly what mountain biking was, the activity was soon up and running smoothly. I researched great trails in and out of camp and enjoyed many exciting times out on the New Hampshire (and Maine) roads with our senior campers.

Mountain Biking allowed campers to leave camp during scheduled sessions giving them an opportunity to see, smell and experience the natural beauties of which New Hampshire is renowned for. Although our times out of camp were fun and enjoyable, mountain biking was also a really good form of exercise and helped keep the campers fit and active. Various senior camp groups came back time after time, and even though they consistently complained of sore legs, I saw each camper become fitter and more determined thus peddling further each time.

My summer was awesome, but my most memorable moment was Bailey Friedman throwing down her bike in the middle of a ride to chase a turkey across a field.

I would like to say a special thanks to Jamie Cole for all her support in setting up and helping run the program. I would also like to thank all the regulars for turning up to the activity and all who helped out with the program. This summer was one of my most memorable and physical summers ever!

This summer was one of the wildest rides in Robin Hood basketball history. Let us tell you about how it all went down.

15 & Under Boys: West End was taken by storm for the first time in over a decade thanks to your valiant and beastly efforts. Led by a starting five of the Gesswein twins (Hanz and Franz), Matt Feldman (Spiderman), Ryan Cristal (Pretty Boy) and Peaches (Peaches), West End had the odds stacked against them from the beginning. The game was tight until the last two minutes when baby Cristal knocked down a three to seal the deal. This was followed by a rush of excitement within baby Cristal, causing him to hurl the basketball at the side of the backboard without any clear direction or purpose. The team took a hit – literally – when Alex Gesswein (Beast) was banned from league play by David Stern himself. Joining the elite ranks of Ricky Williams, Ron Artest, Bill Lambier and the like, the team felt they left Alex in good hands. We will not mention any of the other tournaments we played, especially the Maine Teen Camp disaster. I guess we were intimidated by the No Mercy under their eyes. On the way back from West End, our backup center was attacked by a llama who was trying to protect its offspring. In any case, we will tell you about how we beat West End – again.

Unprecedented since the days of Michael Brewer and Michael Jordan. Thanks to the gutsy play of new addition Myles Stavis, the team dominated The House squad easily. Further into the season, Stavis followed the lead of Kobe Bryant and got himself into some legal trouble. But all in all, the season was a resounding success.

15 & Under Ladies: You won the Forest Acres Tournament. That was good. You also came in second at Robin Hood's Tournament. That was pretty good too. Katie Davis (Moses Malone), Keara O'Neal (Shaq), Sara Lindenauer (Ron Artest), Lindsay Rosenstein (Spongebob Squareface) and Rachel Schorr (Big Baby Jesus) formed a solid hoops core that no other band of broads could contest. You played with big hearts and a strong devotion to your coaches.

To the father and son combo: You are Robin Hood. Thanks for the intense post-season competition. But never forget that you got cafweasted by Zandy and Roger, and that is the bottom line. Never come here again unless your game vastly improves.

In conclusion, we hope you guys remember the three main points that we stressed to you all summer. First: win for god's sake. Second: Have fun, but still win for god's sake. And thirdly, if and when you get the ball, your ultimate goal is to get the ball in the vicinity of the basket. Thank you for a hoopalicious summer at The Realm. And remember: Winning isn't everything, it's the only thing.

INTERCAMP ATHLETICS - SOCCER

win their tournament, they played with a gusto and confidence that was truly inspiring. Saad Al Essa and Ghazi Alnaqeeb controlled the midfield with unrivaled patience and calm. Trevor Romoff was an absolute animal on the back line, running down balls and taking out bodies like nobody's business. Kevin Laddon was the epitome of a hard working player, hustling until he could barely breathe on more than one occasion throughout the summer. Ryan Cristal really stepped up as the team's emotional leader this summer, making our jobs as coaches that much easier. All of this combined with the offensive dominance of Gonzalo Garcia en Enterria and the brilliant skill of Elias Kahan made the 15 & Under Boys team a force to be reckoned with in The Realm.

It was an absolutely amazing summer for soccer in The Realm. Passion for the game soared in front of the backdrop of the World Cup. Our strong international community brought with them an excitement that they shared with all of the soccer players in camp. When soccer wasn't being played on the fields it was most certainly being watched in the staff den or talked about on the quad. Who could forget packing fifty campers and staff into the den to watch the wondrous World Cup final between France and Italy?

Our inter-camp teams were truly some of the best camp has ever seen. We got off to an unbelievable start with our first tournament of the summer: our 13 & Under Boys Team bled green and white, battling all the way to the finals before being eliminated. Ten-year-old Archer Jaime Garcia de Enterria scored the goal of the tournament, turning an attempted clear by the opposing defense into a one-time blast into the top corner of the net. Yeomen Cameron Romoff had a spectacular showing as well, scoring two brilliant goals in the semi-final game. You boys had chemistry rarely seen on a club team, let alone at a summer camp. Well done, and congratulations on your fantastic showing.

The 15 & Under Boys team had a very solid summer. Although the team did not

The 13 & Under Girls' team had a solid summer season as well. Led by Katie Davis and Maddie and Taylor McGinnis, the team placed third in their tournament. These girls played with great intensity, but never forgot that they were out there playing soccer to have fun. Our hats are off to you! Well done!

The 15 & Under Girls' performance this summer was absolutely unprecedented. I have never in my time at Robin Hood seen a more talented, focused, or fun-loving soccer team. Everything came together for the girls at the last soccer tournament of the summer, a round-robin competition hosted by Robindel. We came out extremely strong in our first two games, basically scoring at will. Team captain Scribe Sarah Lindenauer scored a cool hat trick in the second game of the tournament, imposing her offensive dominance on the fields of our rival camp. Maddie and Taylor McGinnis were absolutely everywhere in the midfield; winning and controlling balls, beating the opposition with their speed, and providing their teammates with fantastic passes into space. Eliza Stout stood tall on defense the entire day, forcing opponents to make poor decisions and clearing the ball with ease. There is not much to say about the defensive play of sweeper Amanda Tuck...one had to see it to believe it. Her impeccable ball control and calm demeanor actually put opponents on the seats of their pants on multiple occasions during the tournament, and her speed left them wondering whether they were playing against a human or some supernatural soccer phenomenon. All of this though, would have been nothing without the outstanding goal keeping of Katie Kruse. Katie made every big save when it counted the most and maintained the team's composure in some extremely tough moments. When all of Robin Hood's games had been played, the results showed that a loss or tie by Birchmont in the final game of the day would result in a Robin Hood victory. In a truly miraculous game, the heavily favored Birchmont team was only able to pull off a tie against the underdog Walt Whitman team, resulting in Robin Hood's first ever victory at the Robindel Tournament! Thank you, Walt Whitman for your hard play in that last game. I see this as the beginning of a great relationship between our two camps! We owe you one!

Thank you so much to our Saxon Aide Ryan Shane. Not only are you a fantastic soccer player, you will make a huge addition to the RH soccer community when you are on staff next year. You really helped things run much more smoothly this summer.

Finally, to all of the soccer players at camp: KEEP PLAYING AND HAVE FUN WITH IT! Joga Bonito!

What better way to spend part of a summer day than playing ball on the Home Run Diamond, at the Ol' Grandstand, or on the Field Across the Road? They don't call it the national pastime for nothing.

While we had some rain early this summer, overall, we had a ton of sun and fun! Robin Hood's annual baseball tournament was rained out, but we got in our share of tournament play in softball instead, and the boys' and girls' teams made us proud. Plus, the littlest campers learned the basic rules of the game, and everyone worked on fundamentals like fielding grounders and catching fly balls on the run. Half the time everyone just wanted to hold BP (batting practice) or play games, so we did!

Here are some of the summer's highlights:

Girls Softball: The girls showed a great deal of progress on the field and unearthed another star player in Rebecca Curran, who ripped the ball in the tournament we hosted. As for the Senior girls, Biz Wiggin was once again the most dominating athlete in camp. She carried the team on her back to the finals of the major fastpitch tournament we attended, pitching her heart out every inning. Yet, the team's chemistry was what made the tournament special. Every girl on the team contributed to the success. I was so proud of how they came together as a team and rooted for each other. Of course, it helped that they had inspiration from the one and only Juan Maldonado. Beloved Juan inspired that team with his smiling presence and cool guidance throughout a long day of ball-playing. Thanks, Juan! I imagine you also smile at the memory of those impressive girls playing like a team on the field, and acting like the best of friends as they sang together in the van.

Boys Softball: The Junior boys traveled to Birchmont for a softball tournament, and the team had its ups and downs against some stiff competition. Hats off to Peter Labes for his stellar pitching all morning and afternoon. The Senior boys also traveled to a fast-pitch tournament, and we needed someone who could fire the ball underhand. Kevin Laddon willingly stepped up to the plate, or rather the mound. He was tremendous under pressure as the guys battled back from an early defeat to make their presence known by the end of the tournament, losing out in a heartbreaker in the semi-finals. The team's comeback that day showed great character and created another lasting memory. I was impressed at how the guys, like the girls before them, all rooted for each other and shared in the day's success.

For everyone who played and practiced, from the youngest girls fielding ground balls to the oldest guys swinging for the trees on the Home Run Field, having fun was once again the key to a successful summer on the ball fields. I was amazed at how many campers had the opportunity to practice and play and improve their softball and baseball knowledge and skills.

While everyone really made the summer memorable, I have to give special mention to one deserving camper. Saxon aide Sam Dicker was "Sam, my main man." He was also at the center of one of the summer's highlight moments, which came during a great upset victory during "Blue and White" when Umpire Sam ejected a Birchmont coach for an inappropriate comment about Sam's desire to get to lunch. Now Sam loves Nikki's food as much as the rest of us do, but the coach had gone over the line to question his integrity. Seriously, though, I can't say enough about Sam's conscientious assistance. It was great to have someone to count on every single day. Thank you, Sam.

Once again, all of the great campers and counselors made it easy for me because they followed my main rules:

1. Don't swing a bat near anyone else.
2. Don't throw a ball at anyone who is not looking at you.
3. Do have fun; that's why we are all out there!"

I'm grateful to everyone who made the summer such a success, for the smiling faces and laughter, and for the great attitudes that reflected the joy of being in The Realm. I'm looking forward to even more fun next summer. See you soon when Sam and I "play it again!"

Gymnastics this year took a different turn from last year with the arrival of new equipment. With new crash mats groups were able to focus more on tumbling, particularly the Shires and Archers. The Archers concentrated on their back- handsprings and four of you guys managed to get the skill down by the end of the period – good going guys! The Shires focused on their front tucks and front handsprings with the use of the springboard and within two periods were able to practice these skills unsupported – well done girls!

Mid-way into the summer Robin Hood's Gymnastics Team including Nadia Hannan, Emily Howard, Sam Pepper, Jacklyn Munck, Lindsey Mansfield, Callan Goldman, Chelsea Grain and Camila Johansson attended a meet at Robindel Camp for Girls. The group entered in on Floor and Bar and donned routines that were learned in three days previous to the competition. We still 'beasted' the other contending camps and in return for our efforts, we brought back a spare gymnastics beam courtesy of the Robindel Gymnastics Team. It was a hectic day but brilliantly fun; thank you guys for all your hard work on your last minute routines!

This year a lot of new faces attended Gymnastics included the Lancers and Yeoman who had a 'Gymnastics Off' with the Quills. The boys - Jake Tuck and Mikey Sez in particular have never been so enthusiastic!

Remember when Dylan Robinson created a new skill combining a Cartwheel and a Handstand and named it the 'D Rob', of course this skill was intended and not accidental...! Some of my best memories from camp life this summer were during my Gymnastics periods: Dylan Schattman only ever walking on his hands; Jake (Gotts) Gottsegen trying to run a warm-up while laughing hysterically; Stevie Solomon and Jesse Greenstein trying to motivate the TPJ/Squires showing the group 'exactly how it's done, and 'Friar Gymnastics' which in itself is a completely different sport! Lastly, my favorite memory would have to be the White Team Junior Talent Show piece – ooh argh me hearties!

Thank you to all the campers and staff who participated in Gymnastics this year in The Realm. It truly is a pleasure to teach an activity where it's a laugh a minute – I wouldn't spend my summer any other way!

INTERCAMP TEAMS

INTERCAMP TEAMS

INTERCAMP TEAMS

INTERCAMP TEAMS

Robin Hood tennis began under clear skies and cool temperatures with a camper-counselor tournament. This tournament provided a great opportunity for many campers and counselors across the board to interact, and a great time was had by all.

Throughout the summer, the Tennis Staff arranged matches for campers to be played against each other during free time. Also during free time, all campers wanting private instruction came to the courts for some one-on-one with the specialty counselors. Our hope is to do more of this in '07!

Inter camp began with the Boys 13 & Under at the Lake Regions Tournament hosted by Winauke. I am happy to report Robin Hood took first place with Aaron Segel winning the singles event. Good going guys!

Not to be outdone by the boys – our Robin Hood Girls Team went to Robindel for the annual Robindel Tournament between seven area camps. Congratulations go to Rebecca Curran who at 13-years-old captured the 15 & Under Title without breaking a sweat. Keep up the great work, Becca.

As tennis winds down for the season, we wish all a happy and healthy year. Hope to see you next year on the courts!

Green & White began early in the morning with the sound of drums and the roar of motor boat engines. There were over 100 hotly contested tennis matches played. Congratulations to the White Team for their overall victory.

Sailing this summer was very successful and seemed to have been enjoyed by all.

'Luckily' no one was bitten by sharks, although the number of "accidental" capsizes was through the roof. The Yeomen and Foresters were especially good at capsizing and seemed to prefer being in the lake as opposed to on the boats. The Archers, however, were very keen to learn and all improved dramatically over the summer: Sam, Stephen and Alex all deserve recognition for their effort and achievement. Also, an honorable mention goes to the Friars - thanks to Danny, Matt and Alex for making the last day so special. In Girls Camp, the Shires were eager to impress and certainly had some of the most skilled sailors in camp. The Bards always provided a lot of entertainment and hilarity while the TJs always put on an awesome show.

Thank you to everyone for an amazing summer.

HORSEBACK RIDING

The summer came & went so fast that it doesn't seem so long ago that our friendly steeds arrived at the Sherwood Forest Stables. Everyone was happy to see the familiar faces of SPECTRUM; the favorite of favorites, GIDGET; the fastest midget, SMEDLEY; dear old Smedles & PETER PAN; the scardy cat (It's OK Peter...we don't like thunder storms either). We welcomed the new arrivals: BAILEY; the cute little pretty little cream colored pony; JAKE; sweet gentle Jake, CJ; alias Cracker Jack, MONTY; the gentle giant, JACKSON; the big horse with a soft heart, TONTO; the Mexican pinto & last, but my no means least, BLUE; (B.Lue) the baby with the bluest eyes.

Within no time everyone had visited the barn, acquainted themselves with our four legged friends and was underway brushing up old skills, learning new ones & having a great time sharing our passion for horsemanship. I can't tell you how rewarding it was to watch you all build your bonds with your steeds & progress from one level to the next. We saw riders performing circles perfectly, demonstrating balance by riding with no stirrups, correcting their positions for more effective riding, posting trot & sitting trot implemented, school movements performed accurately, transition skills refined, confidence gained to ride alone, confidence gained to progress to cantering. Many of you were even bold enough to take on the challenge of jumping. The progress was endless and we commend all of you for your determination & discipline. Riding is a sport far more complex than others realize, for the horse is an unpredictable animal and not only do we work on improving our skills as safely as possible to make us better riders, but we have to 'work' with our horse, learning to adapt to each one individually & react quickly & carefully to every different situation. Hopefully you all feel you achieved both and enjoyed 'the ride' as much as we did.

As always, the summer was an eventful one! REMEMBER WHEN: Katherine & Ali, contently upon their favorite horses Bailey & Blue, continued to perfect their horsemanship skills, trotting, cantering, & even jumping (nicely done ladies); Steven G's boots got stuck; The Lancers' had riding

7 days in a row; A squirrel jumped on Di; Vicente & Bailey perfected the flying changes; Dylan S. performed some great circles in trot totally independently; Noah G. sped over the jumps fearlessly; Pablo was vexed; Emily R. gained her confidence & showed us how great her riding skills are; Charlotte L. & Jake trotted comfortably around the ring together; Gidget kept escaping from her stall; Claire L. sat quietly on Smedley when he got spooked (nice job Claire); Brandon S. dared to jump 2 feet fences; Shiny, Sam, Phil & Cam cleaned the paddocks (Thanks guys. How much do we owe you?); Keara finally trusted in her abilities & braved it alone (You made us so proud Keara!); OJ learnt how to lunge and helped Paul with Gidget's schooling (nice work guys); Matt N. rode Tonto for the 1st time; Kevin G. quietly demonstrated his fine equestrian skills on Blue; The TPJ's didn't want to play a game (WE DON'T); Danielle & Keara were on time? (WE DON'T!); Zipkin & The Squires didn't want to go on a trail (WE DON'T); The Arrow's couldn't answer our trivia questions (WE DON'T...ladies, you are very smart); CJ stood still (WE DON'T).

REMEMBER: Vicente & Bailey jumping 3 feet fences; how Andrea & Halle could ride any horse & adapt instantly to their demeanor; Bizzy's bond with Monty; Cody & Jake braving it alone & happily performing a comfortable relaxed posting trot (well done Cody); Leah finding the confidence to canter again; The Quills trotting with no hands (Don't worry, they had someone close by for this exercise); Mikey B's friendship with Tonto; Danielle & Smedley jumping perfect rounds; Julia P. & Gidget's friendship (so cute); The Shires jumping sessions with Kat; Rebecca always willing to ride any horse (thanks Rebecca); Chelsea & Monty; The Robindel Horse Show (congrats to all our competitors); Sam R.'s experience with Jackson on visiting day (well sat Sam); The TJ's

PROGRESS & ACHIEVEMENT AWARDS

Jr. Girls	Caitlin Ruzika
Jr. Boys	Cody Robinson
Sr. Girls	Leah Schatz & Charlotte Levine
Sr. Boys	Brandon Sneider

EFFORT & SKILL AWARDS

Jr. Girls	Allie Lee
Jr. Boys	Noah Garson
Sr. Girls	Danielle Jacobsohn
Sr. Boys	Vicente Ocampo

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE TO HORSEMANSHIP

Caitlin Ruzika & Alexia Knowles

becoming pro's at Simon's Says, knowing every part of the horse & his tack; Caitlin's love for Smedley; James W. never being phased by Gidget's antics; Sam A's great stories; Emilie S. & Blue; Mack & Gabe taking everything in their stride (real naturals, no wonder you two progress so fast); Tonto playing 'follow-my-leader'; Elise's conversations with Blue (communication is everything to a horse); Laurens everlasting friendship with Peter Pan.

REMEMBER WHEN:...oh, the memories are endless & so it is time to leave you to your own & we will look forward to many more to come.

Several horses may be special to you. Each one teaches us something different: One may teach you that you really have to work to ride them because they don't want to go! Another may teach you to slow down because they want to go fast all the time. One may teach you patience, another how to really ride, and then there is the one that teaches you the all important lesson of how to fall! Safety is paramount when riding, yet horses are unpredictable & as cautious as we all are in the sport of equitation, along the road to learning they occasionally take us by surprise. And so, when your horse spooks at something in the trees & chooses a different direction to you, we hope you land on your feet and land softly! Thankfully the 2006 members of the Tumblers club did just that: Cati, Bizzy, James, Haley & Matt, you guys are pros. Not only did you handle your tumble 'gracefully', you all stood up with smiles on your faces, brushed the sand off your pants & most importantly, never hesitated to climb back onboard. That is a sign of a true equestrian. Well done guys!

HorsemanSHIP, as we all know, does not end the moment we dismount (voluntarily or not!) It's hard to be a school horse: They work hard for us & so appreciate any extra love & attention we give them. They also rely upon us to take care of them. Whilst learning to groom & tack up/untack your horse is an integral part of our program, so many of you spent additional time at the barn helping with the daily chores for which we can not thank you enough!

OJ & EMILY: As Scribes you had a busy schedule, yet you both took time out of your days to help us, for which we are most grateful. You have accomplished so much, in many different areas, & we trust that your passion for the sport will long continue.

CATI & ALEXIA: You were both fantastic. Everyday, often several times, you showed up & gave our Robin Hood horses so much well deserved attention. We had the best groomed horses in New England. You both share such a natural & sincere love for horses that we know you will continue to explore & enjoy every aspect of horsemanSHIP. We hope to see you both back at The Robin Hood Stables next summer.

TO MY STAFF: What can I say? You were OUTSTANDING!! Our summer ran extremely smoothly. We saw all of our riders' progress from one level to the next, and we saw many proud & happy faces. It was both successful & rewarding, & I trust enjoyable for all. You all worked remarkably hard & embraced every day with such a fresh & positive attitude. You far exceeded my expectations, thus making it an exceptional summer not only for me, but also our Robin Hood riders. Life can be hectic & stressful, but there is peacefulness & fulfillment that comes when you share your love for horses with a child. We truly had an incredible team that did just that. Thank you! I know our friendships will remain strong, wherever life may take us. (And I am keeping my fingers crossed it brings you all back for another summer at The Realm! ?)

And as I wrap it up for another season, I leave with a huge THANK YOU to you all, campers, staff & horses alike, for a wonderful summer. I can't wait to do it all over again in 2007. See you all there. Take care & have fun.

As Marvin Gay said "There ain't no mountain high enough, ain't no valley low enough, ain't no river wide enough" for Robin Hood campers to venture out upon. This year the White Mountain region gave us some beautiful days along with some rainy ones as we journeyed out on mountain trips, canoed to the outpost and down the Saco River, and backpacked the Sawyer Pond Trail.

The Outpost gave Junior Camp the adventure of paddling across Broad Bay into Chen's hidden corner where the canoes were beached and the campers explored the campsite and went for a swim in the water. After all that exercise the campers gathered around and made their own personalized fajitas which were then heated on the fire and gobbled down by the hungry campers. One cannot go camping without making delicious s'mores around the campfire. The toasted marshmallows, crunchy graham crackers, and the melted chocolate cannot be matched. When the stars come out the campers start to get tired as stories are told by the fire. All groups enjoyed this experience however a special mention needs to be made to the Bows for their extreme canoeing down the channel!

Mountain trips are always exciting especially when it rains. The Yeomen and the Squires are the lucky two groups who have experienced this rainy day adventure with good spirits. Squires on Mt. Major and the Yeomen on Mt. Kearsage. The Tumblers/Jesters and the Tinker/Pagers/Jugglers tackled Green Mountain with ease. Mt. Chocorua, Sister Mountains Potash and Hedgehog, and Boulder Loop gave hikers beautiful days and some spectacular views. Great job to all groups who went on hikes.

Optional trips were enjoyed by many senior campers. The annual Lancer Canoe trip down the Saco River took place on two of the hottest days of the summer. The Lancers who paddled for two days and camped on the sandy shores of the Saco will never forget their paddling adventure. The five Shires who decided to go on the overnight backpacking trip had to trample through swampy waters and fly-infested areas to arrive at Sawyer Pond. The girls used quite a lot of bug spray that didn't seem to work.

For those Saxons and Scribes who had an interest in going on the extreme Mount Katahdin excursion needed to prove themselves first on Mount Washington (6,280 feet, the highest peak in the Northeast). For those with fears of heights, I believe we tackled them when the Scribes went down (on their butts) on the Tuchman's Ravine Trail. (I don't believe the brown stains came out in the wash.)

This year's Baxter State Park trip was tackled by 23 Scribes and Saxons. All of who summited Mount Katahdin. The weather held clear all day in order for us to see the spectacular views all the way up the mountain. Great job by all! And don't forget about that Ranger.

Remember When's:

When the mighty Tumblers hiked to the top of Green Mountain and met a nice old man who works at the Fire Tower...when the Archers couldn't get to bed forever...when the Arrows couldn't find Mt. Potash...Yeomen climbed Mt. Kearsage in the rain...when Adam Sez got bitten by a swarm of mosquitoes at the outpost...when the Bows twice attempted to paddle to the Outpost and got caught in a wind storm and then a thunderstorm...when the Shires saw a moose...when the Squires hiked in the rain...Fajitas at the Outpost...rain, rain, and more rain the first two weeks of camp...when the kitchen staff accompanied the Saxons up Washington and beat them to the top...chili at the top of the mountain...when Brad Jacobson made friends with a random old guy while relaxing in the back of the group...when the Lancers hiked up Chocorua and stopped ten minutes from the top to tan...the seven hour drive up to Baxter State Park...the ranger who wanted to kick us out as soon as we arrived...Jaime and Jake saw a moose ten feet away while filling up the big water cooler...waking up at 4:30 am to get on the mountain by 6:30 am...when Peaches and Jake jump in the frigid waters on Katahdin...the rock waterslide...and the leeches...pasta and s'mores for breakfast...Scribes mountain climbing count off...

I want say thanks to my staff and for all the 'other' staff who helped make the trips this summer a success. Thanks to Jodi Swain for all her hard work during the summer. And a thanks to Jake and Bessie Schwarz for a job well done...Remember take only pictures and leave only footprints!

Swimming, swimming in Lake Ossipee. When days are hot, when days are cold, in Lake Ossipee. Breast stroke, side stroke, fancy diving too... Everybody from Tumbler/Jesters and PJs to Saxons and Scribes enjoyed swimming at Camp Robin Hood this summer!

Many Junior Campers through Quills and Yeomen completed American Red Cross Swim Levels during the first month of camp. Swimmers demonstrated skills and completed courses from Level I – Introduction to Water Skills through Level V – Stroke Refinement. Senior campers worked on competitive skills like diving, endurance swimming and flip turns as well as water polo and relay races. Many many campers completed their 16 laps and were able to swim in the deep area, jump off the tower, use the water trampoline, swim to the island, as well as water-ski, kayak, canoe and sail.

2006 RED CROSS Certification

Level 1: Jane Arnold, Hannah Cook, Chloe Conley, Alana Harris, Jessica Mintzberg

Level 2: Will Tuck, Patrick Berl, Alex Block, Michael Brockmann, Alex Jackson, Shane McCabe, Matthew Noguiera

Level 3: Josephine Berl, Montana Black, Alexandra Mintzberg, Julia Poorvu, Sara Cristal, Allison Lee, Daniella Madrazo, Jake Rosen, Emily Sprague, Stone Black, Cavin Huntsman, Kyle Mintzberg, Jackson Pollock, Cody Robinson, Adam Szewczyk, James Weiss, Jacob Zweig, Frederick Berl, Jack Boffa, Matthew Chmielewski, Noah Garson, Benjamin Goldman, Olivier Weiss, David Grain, Andrew Karas, PJ Kennedy, Gray Mcdermid, Nathan Press, Michael Schloss

Level 4: Katharine Curran, Maria Garcia, Rachel Gurman, Sassan Arbanian, Ignacio Ducay Ferre, Jake Gottsegen, Jake Mansfield, Julian Resor, Matthew Schriebman, Matthew Flug, Hugo Marsans, Max Pollock, Jon Arnold, Steven Gallagher, Ben Gordon, Robby Nigro, Dylan Robinson, Sam Rosenstein, Dylan Schattman, Jason Schriebman, Alex Slossberg, Ryan Stecher

Level 5: Suzie Wager, Marjorie Kozloff, Nicole Manetta, Jacklyn Munck, Katherine Shifke, McKenzie Cohen, Lindsey Mansfield, Bizzy Margolin, Madeline McGinnis, Nickole Morgan, Caitlin Ruzika, Sam Andrus, DC Felman, Justin Golenberg, Chad Gottsegen, Clark Jacobsohn, Tyler Kruse, Diego Munoz Iglesias, Corey Boechenstein, Adam Breskin, CJ Cook, Danny Feinman, Michael Greenberg, Eric Levine, Mitchell McPhail, EJ Molinary, Angelo Revel, Oliver Weil

2006 SWIMMING AWARDS

Girls Camp

Progress & Achievement

Effort & Skill Jr. Camp Bizzy Margolin
Effort & Skill Sr. Camp Ilyse Rikleen

This successful summer wouldn't have been possible without the help of the fantastic Waterfront Staff. Aurelia, Ingrid, Steve, and Lindsay – I couldn't have survived the summer without you, thanks for all your hard work. Simon, what can I say? We didn't get to spend much time together, but you took over second month and did a fabulous job, I miss you already!

I'm looking forward to seeing everyone again for the Summer of 2007!

Four people new to The Realm revitalized the water-ski department this year: the Australians Leigh Killmier and James Thorpe, the New Zealander Regan Henderson and local part-timer Kim Donovan.

New staff and the addition of a third boat assured two things: more water-skiing and more fun for everyone. From the very first session it was clear this was going to be an excellent summer. Conditions were generally superb and aside from crowded weekends and the occasional rainy day, the lake was generally calm and clear, allowing the kids to maximize their waterfront time at The Realm.

As the sessions started, many of the campers surprised themselves at how readily their progress made in previous years helped them back up on the water. The campers new to waterskiing were equally as excited to get behind the boats. As is the case every year, the staff inevitably carry with them a preference for one activity or another. This year that meant there was a lot more wakeboarding and the campers took to the water and made progress beyond our highest expectations.

The water-skiers were also back in full force, with many TPJs, Squires & Tumbler Jesters progressing from Boom to Rope. Emily Labes and Sarah Lindenauer were back to their best on the slalom ski's, even though they were adamant they would fall. David Woodstein continued to work on dropping a ski and Ryan Globus is well on the way to becoming a slalom skier.

As tradition dictates, it's appropriate to include a few remember-when's: Archer Ben Gordon emerged from the water calmly inquiring, "Have you seen my bathing shorts anywhere?" after falling off the tube. The lovely and amiable Quill Group, who individually greeted us each morning with, "can we go tubing?" TPJ/Squires endless wave belly riding on the kneeboard. Pod's fully-clothed bare-footing attempt during the evening boat cruise. DC Screaming upon being unexpectedly soaked from behind. Lawrence's extreme belly boarding. James getting pulled over by Marine Patrol...again!

After the Color War, it was time to mix it up with some different activities. The first and definitely the most popular was tubing, where the Foresters especially had a lot of fun. Another popular activity was booming, which involved hanging off the boom as your body bounces along the water – although this years Scribes were unhappy they had to share their trademark activity with others. Sunset cruises were also a popular evening activity, although they often turned into thrill rides.

From myself and the rest of the crew, we would all like to thank you for your co-operation throughout the summer and we hope you enjoyed it - we sure did! Thank you to the Scribes, especially Sarah and Emily, for your help throughout the summer – it was much appreciated. Jon Katz's skills and knowledge were also very useful throughout the summer. Well we are now off to travel 'the states'. Stay safe, and maybe I will see you again someday in The Realm.

AWARDS

Water-ski:

Effort & Skill:

Sarah Lindenauer & Carrie Solomon

Progress & Achievement:

Ryan Globus

Wakeboard:

Effort & Skill:

Peter Durkin & Trent Elsbree

Progress & Achievement:

Andres Bernar & Michael Szweczyk

Kneeboard:

Effort & Skill:

William Chen & Gregory Gilban Cohen

Progress & Achievement:

Chhaya-Karrim Ausar-Sahu

The summer of '06 was a very successful one. Our junior campers learned the basic marksmanship principals and demonstrated an amicable understanding of them, while our older campers who, through dedication and determination, showed a remarkable improvement and are now learning the more advanced positions and competition shooting.

Some of our junior campers seemed to have lived at the range this summer. With Nicole Morgan and Jake Rosen gaining their marksman 1st class to Clark Jacobson earning his sharpshooter and being only three targets shy of his BAR1 (all outstanding achievements). Across the board our juniors showed a steady increase in skill and concentration with most scoring over 20 per target.

Our senior girls worked extremely hard and matched the boys shot for shot. Ellie Tremayne demonstrated remarkable effort and skill by gaining her marksman, marksman 1st class, sharpshooter and BAR1 in a little over four weeks; she is now working on her sitting and kneeling shoots. Charlotte Levine also showed her abilities by working towards her BAR1 from marksman. The senior boys continued to improve with some now pushing for their BAR5 and BAR6.

The overall standard of shooting was extremely high and the commitment given by the campers helped to add more trophies to the Robin Hood collection. We hosted a four camp tournament with four age groups. Our teams not only won each category but also gained 1st place shooter in each, a feat for which I am proud of all that took part.

Under 10's

Nickole Morgan	38/100
Ben Goldman	37/100
Ignacio Ducay Ferre	31/100
Julia Cohen	23/100

Under 12's

Charlotte Levine	84/100
Ellie Tremayne	81/100
Clark Jacobsohn	81/100
Nathan Mullaney	73/100

Under 14's

Alex Wolf	91/100
Andrew Becker	85/100
Gonzalo Garciade Enterria	78/100
Zach Reisler	67/100

Under 16's

Ryan Cristal	92/100
Andres Bernar	84/100
Paul Grossman	78/100
Andrew Becker	64/100

Awards

Pro-Marksman

Isabella Boschetti
Kyle Leighton

Marksman

Ryan Stecher
Adam Szewczyk
Matt Chmielewski
Caitlin Ruzika
Julia Cohen
Connor Fullbright
Eric Levine
Oliver Weil

Francesco Garosci
Alex Rose
Aaron Woodstein
Aleta Marsans
Leah Schatz

Marksman 1st Class

Jake Rosen
Ignacio Ducay Ferre
Benjamin Goldman
Kevin Goodman
Andrew Chen
PJ Kennedy
Jake Sherman
Nickole Morgan
Corey Boeschstein
Santiago Guell
Nathan Mullaney
Austin Pepper
Hadrien Cordier
Stephen Hopkins
Zachary Reisler
Livia Del Bue
Sara Friedman
Emily Howard
Isabella Bochetti

SCORE

I sincerely hope that all our shooters will return to the range next summer and work towards furthering their skills. With the same levels of dedication, effort and enthusiasm I am sure it will be as successful as this one.

Sharpshooter

Clark Jacobsohn
Mathew Harris
Charlotte Levine

Bar 1

Barray Alexandre
Ellie Tremayne

Junior Boys

Best in camp: Clark Jacobson
Most Improved: Jake Rosen

Junior Girls

Best in camp: Nickole Morgan
Most improved: Catlin Ruzika

Senior Boys

Best in camp: Alexandre Barray
Most improved: Zach Reisler

Senior Girls

Best in camp: Ellie Tremayne
Most improved: Livia Del Bue

HONORABLE JUDGES

In Camp:

Michelle Brockmann • Jamie & David Cole
Natalia Datorre • Jackie Hoglund • Chuck Illig
John Klein • Diane Morath • Dick Roberts
Michael Stringer • Richard Woodstein

In Camp Deputy Judges:

Nicola Boehm • Steve Duckham • Joan Klein

Visiting Most Honorable:

Aaron Adler • Josh Bailey • Brandon Barnett
Matt Baumel • Jeremy Brockmann • Matt Bronson
David Dickerman • Jon Figenbaum • Jason Fisher
David Freedman • Evan Hoffman • Geoff Holczer
Julia Holczer • Jeff Jablow • Jenny Katz • Julia Kidder
Jamie Koss • Keith Loughlin • Rick Lowe
David Margolius • Jon Meltzer • Alicia Meltzer
Molly Meltzer • Josh Morgan • Andrew Sobel
David Solomon • Ron West • Andy Woodstein

Visiting Deputy Judges:

Michael Holczer • Doug Lipsky • Scott Menell • Brian Snyder

STAFF TEAMS

WHITE
Capt. Gillian Reitman
Capt. Geoff Cox
Natalya Alexandrova
Emma Barnett
James Bayes
Dana Berschler
Amit Bivas
James Brenner
Lauren Brenner
Matt Brody
Danielle Donigan
Jon Emery
Stephen Foster
Zach Frumkin
Phil Gibbon
Hannah Globus
Lindsey Golden
Tyler Goldman
Jessie Greenstein
Reggie Halstrom
Lauren Helman
Regan Henderson
Larissa Kendzia
Zoe Kessler Lizzie Kidder
Leigh Killmier
Shaheen Laljee
Ethan Lieberman
Lindsey MacArthur
Nadiya Maksimuk
Adam Margolius
Kim Marx
Rosie Math
Duncan Mendelsohn
Katherine Morrison
Teddy Newmyer
Iga Niemczyk
Jodi Nogueira
Ciara O'Boyle
Alisa Olefrenko
Cally Osborne
Hannah Phillips
Rob Pickering
Sarah Potts
Snehanna Poylova
John Ratko
Emma Reitman
Emily Rempell
Imogen Richardson
Adrian Sanderson
Emily Schorr
Bessie Schwarz
Steve Solomon
Phil Solomon
Emily Stecher
Matt Szabo
John Szewczyk
James Thorpe
Lauren Tuck
Elena Vinogradova
Jessica Willett
Paul Wray

GREEN
Capt. Ethan Rothstein
Capt. Alex Mann
Andrew Arnot
Jessica Benson
Sarah Bernstein
Sam Berschler
Lindsay Binning
Simon Birchall
Jaime Blaustein
Vincent Boutin
Lizzie Bradley
Michelle Brush
Stacey Carlson
Dan Carter
Rachel Davis
Mackenzie Davis
Andrew Dunsmore
Kim Eun kyoung
George F-Harding
Billy Freeland
Eli Fuchsberg
Kathryn Fullerton
Max Greenstein
Rachel Gregory
Dan Grossman
Ingrid Halstrom
Julia Helman
Molly Herlihy
Michael Howard
Amy Huppert
Lori Jacobsohn
Krzysz Jaskolowski
Ben Jelin
Pawel Kaluza
Ekaterina Karpenko
Aurelia Kassaty
Jonathon Katz
Karolina Kubiak
Natalia Lazar
Yoni Liebling
Cate Mackenzie
Maite Madrazo
Juan Maldonado
Max Manin
Lisa Mann
Jenny Martin
Geoff Martin
Eddie Molinary
Sam Parden-Bell
Kyo Seon Park
Claudia Pensa
Alex Rikleen
Yensi Rivas Imitola
PJ Rodriguez
Jake Schwarz
Brad Shane Carolyn Siegel
Donna Singerman
David Solomon
David Stansfield
Katie Tillery
Cameron Wight

CAMPER TEAMS

TPI's

WHITE
Capt. Mikey Brockmann
Co. Jacob Zweig
Hamad Al Mutawa
Peter Durkin
Cavin Hunstman
JG Mansfield

SQUIRES

WHITE
Capt. David Grain Co.
Jack Boffa
Noah Garson
Michael Schloss Justin Zipkin

ARCHERS

WHITE
Capt. Jake Rosen
Co. Justin Golenberg
Stephen Gallagher
Chad Gottsegen
Clark Jacobsohn
Dylan Robinson
Sam Rosenstein
Alex Slossberg
Adam Szewczyk

YEOMEN

WHITE
Capt. Oliver Weil
Co. Matt Schumann
Ben Castleman
Connor Fulbright
Michael Greenberg
Santi Guell
Peter Labes
Ben Lewin
Mitchel MacPhail
EJ Molinary
Seth Porter
Angelo Revel
Aaron Segel
Sam Sherman

LANCERS

WHITE
Capt. Andrew Crista
Co. Brandon Snider
Erick Cival
Reinaldo Diaz S
Maxim Filion
Phillip Gallagher
Matt Harris
Marlon Merjos
Josh Serero
Alec Singerman
Matt Swain
Michael Szewczyk
Aaron Woodstein

FRIARS

WHITE
Capt. Adam Beaser
Co. Trent Elsbree
William Chen
Ryan Globus
Michael Goodman
Daniel Navy
Daniel Sheinman
Jeremy Slossberg
Alex Weiss

FORESTERS

WHITE
Capt. Ryan Crista
Co. Jake Borden
Jack Freifelder
David Greenberg
Connor Kinslow
Kevin Laddon
Nick Plater
Justin Taft
David Woodstein
Jordan Zipkin

GREEN

Jake Gottsegen
Matt Schreiberman
Cody Robinson
William Tuck
James Weiss

GREEN

Max Beitler
Hugo Marsans
Jake Sherman
Oliver Weiss

GREEN

Dylan Schattman
Jason Schreiberman
Sam Andrus
DC Felman
Ben Gordon
Tyler Kruse
Matt Nogueira
Ryan Stecher
Dylan Taft

GREEN

Alex Schumann
Eric Arnold
Nicolas Barry
Adam Breskin
CJ Cook
Peter Durkin
Danny Feinman
Sam Leonard
Eric Levine
Luke Morgan
Nathan Mullaney
Michael Polissano
Austin Pepper
Cameron Romoff

GREEN

James Newmyer
Kris Boehm
Mack Bennett
Cesar Clemente
Hardian Cordier
Gabe Gordon
Sam Gurman
Stephen Hopkins
Connor Kruse
Rueben Moreland
Santiago Ortero
Ryan Petrone
Alex Posen
Jake Tuck

GREEN

Alex Wolf
Chhaya Ausar-S
Mikey Bourque
Vincent Cloutier
Greg Cohen
Matt Feldman
Eduardo Fre Torelli
Lawrence Goldfarb
Zach Reiser

GREEN

Jake Szabo
Jake Swartz
Alexandre Barry
Justin Bennett
Dan Chandler-Klein
Louis Cloutier
Zach Goldman
Brit Huntsman
Elias Kahan
Matthieu Lebard
Justin Leopold

SAXONS

WHITE

Capt. Adam Fooksa
Co. Jacob Vance
David Burstein
Sam Dicker
Jamie Lynn Ryan Shane

GREEN

Sam Jonas
Myles Stavits
Chad Burstein
Roger Gesswein
Avery Hunt
Marc Navy
Ethan Snider

TUMBLERS/JESTERS

WHITE

Capt. Marjory Kozloff
Co. Sam Pepper
Lauren Cole
Susie Wager
Miranda Gastelum
Jamie Levine

GREEN

Daniella Madrazo
Lainey Segel
Claire Lewin
Kibriyaa Morgan
Chloe Conley
Adrian Peyro

BOWS

WHITE

Capt. Callan Goldman
Co. Lindsey Mansfield
Katherine Curran
Biz Margolin
Nicole Morgan
Andrea Myers

GREEN

McKenzie Cohen
Madeliene McGinnis
Julia Cohen
Rachel Gurman
Miklain Huntsman Jordana Serero
Jordyn Singerman

QUILLS

WHITE

Capt. Melanie Cohn
Co. Carrie Solomon
Livia Del Bue
Jessie Garson
Claire Gregoire
Emily Howard
Haley Sheehan
Ellie Tremayne
Abby Wentworth

GREEN

Chelsea Grain
Camilla Johansson
Victoria Blumenfeld
Tiffany Chen
Gabriel Kahan
Kjennie Kaplan
Charlotte Levine
Aletta Marsans
Emily Rose
Leah Schatz

ARROWS

WHITE

Capt. Katie Davis
Co. Sarah Friedman
Isabella Boshetti
Taylor McGinnis
Emilie Schattman
Alessandra Tesi
Lauren Zipkin

GREEN

Halle Shane
Rebecca Curran
Arielle Gallagher
Maddie Josel
Andrea Knox
Kathryn Ratko
Jessica Tanenbaum

BARDS

WHITE

Capt. Julia Beaser
Co. Danielle Jacobsohn
Rachel Beitler
Michaela Domecq
Michaela Fooksa
Nadia Hannan
Valerie Margolius
Alison Schwartz

GREEN

Katie Kruse
Shannon Romoff
Rachel Dicker
Bailey Friedman
Chandler Huntsman
Macia Katz
Keara O'Neill
Jessica Tremayne
Claire Sheehan

SHIRES

WHITE

Capt. Lindsey Rosenstein
Co. Amanda Tuck
Brittany Arditi
Ana Cappelin
Alison Castman
Carolyn Gregorie
Terry Horowitz
Jill Kozloff
Bia Madrazo

GREEN

Rachel Schorr
Biz Wiggin
Lili Chemla
Chloe Cohn
Ana Cordido
Marilyn Fillion
Brittany Frye
Sofia Gomez
Alison Howard

SCRIBES

WHITE

Capt. Katie O'Reilly
Co. Ilyse Rikleen
Courtney Barone
Missy Freidman
Kristina Johansson
Sara Lindenauer
Caitlin McCabe

GREEN

Samantha Kadis
Olivia Firstenberg
Elisabeth Fillion
Emily Labes
Hannah Magid
Lauren Rosenstein
Eliza Stout
Anna Wiggin

Fred Jones

While we were wand'ring carefree through the realm
Kicking up dirt and picking up stones Should we have stopped then and put them in boxes
Sturdy reminders, the substance of home

Year after year
We plead with the sun
As it sets but the days won't slow down

Chorus:

And we're sorry
To say
It's time

Now there will be sunrises
There will be stars
Everyday starts and ends like the days that have gone
But where is the soft song that rocks me to sleep
As the wind sways the trees
In the place I belong
Where the faces may change
But don't change anything
Life may move us, but we won't move on

And we're sorry
To say
It's time

Sunlight shines through the haze
As our glistening tears wet the smile on our face
Just this once can we stay?

Standing together
As you all look on
In this room rung with banners of dreams you've fulfilled
We pray that we'll join you
Someday in your haven
Where camp never leaves you
And you're never gone
Yeah and all of these campers
Have taken your place
In their hearts your tradition lives on

And we're sorry
To say
And we're sorry
To say
And we're sorry
To say
It's time

Old Apartment

Broke the war on Tuesday morning.
Came out charging from the gate.
Stacked and on guard, Nuts and Etard,
Heard the drums reverberate.
And they began to contemplate....

Who paired the counselor captains?
Who tried to fix the war?
Who's gonna save the pirates,
When they're shipwrecked on the shore?

Chorus:

This is where we take the war.
Five days passed so quickly,
And the Green team played so sickly.
We beasted the White,
now we're missing the fight.
We want it back.

The Coliseum's thund'ring echo,
Pumping bloodlust through your veins.
Weapons clashing, Sabers slashing,
Battle fever in the air.
We'll win the crowd and win the war.

Now I don't mean to sound elitist,
Because I was a normal fetus.
But the White will never beat us.
So they might as well just SWITCH!

Chorus

We know that the war is almost done
Come morning two sides will rise as one
We'll rest our swords, the rest is all in fun
But we're happy here

This is what we've waited for
Broke the war on Tuesday morning
4 and a half days come and gone Battle tested Helmets crested
Our vic'try march is near its end
We want it back
We want it back

GIRLS: This is what we've waited for
BOYS: We want it back
GIRLS: This is what we've waited for
BOYS: We want it back
GIRLS: This is what we've waited for
BOYS: We want it back

Takin' Care of Business (Revised)

We wake up every morning
Grab our swords and get to scoring
And by 8:15 we're sittin' pretty Takin' orders from our captains
Then we go and make it happen
Everywhere we look there's pirates to pity

And if we keep our troops in line
We will beat them every time
Look in Geoffrey's eyes there's no mistaking
That the white is going down
And the green is standing proud
Come on, let's get this dining hall shaking

And we've been...
Beastin' on the white team, in the lake
Tearin' up the track meet, piece of cake
Winning for five days now, it's our war
Pirates hold on tight,
'cause you are going overboard
Look out!

It's as easy as danish
Shuffleboard and makin' bracelets
We even dig the sports that are mellow
But our choice of recreation's
Unrelenting domination
White has tried to fight but Pirates are yellow

And they see us having fun
Just a-winnin' in the sun
We tell them that we like it this way
Situation's getting dire
Gill and Geoff are getting tired
Don't worry 'cause tomorrow's lazy day

And we've been...
Beastin' on the white team, in the lake
Tearin' up the track meet, piece of cake
Winning for five days now, it's our war
Pirates hold on tight,
'cause you are going overboard
Look out!

And we've been
Beastin' on the white team, it's been great
Pirates walk your plank now, we'll eat steak

And we've been
Beastin' on the white team, it's been great Pirates walk your plank now, we'll eat steak
Peace out!

Burnin' Down the House

Pirates!
We rule the land and seas
No mercy
Gladiators, please
We have found the treasure chest
Green will walk the plank!

White Team!
We know our ship is strong
Green can't
Even sing their own songs
We have plundered through the Realm
Green will walk the plank!

Swim meet, skit night, tug-of-war
All day running up the score
White has nothing to fear

With your armor you're weighed down
Landlubbers get on the ground
You don't stand a chance

Pirates!
We rule the land and seas
No mercy
Gladiators, please
We have found the treasure chest
Green will walk the plank!

Now our ship is out of sight
Nuts and Tard won't see the light
In Davey Jones' Locker

Gill and Cox, our mighty captains
We still really miss the Saxons
We just crossed the line

White Team!
We know our ship is strong
Green can't
Even sing their own songs
We have plundered through the Realm
Pirates win tonight!

You Get What You Give 1-2-1-2-3 ARRGGGHHH

Wake up green
You've got the dreamers disease
Since day one
We've had you down on your knees
Pi-rates fought
And sailed through each day with ease

Geoff and Gill
Our captains picked a strong crew
Swept five days
What was the green team to do?
Rome did fall
And Gladiators will too

Until the war is over
You'll trail behind the white
Cause this ship sure ain't sinkin'
Hold on tight

We're gonna win this tonight

Drop your swords
Let's see you on the fields
Try to swim

With your breast plates and your shields
Nuts and Tard
The plank is waiting for you
One more breath
Any last words for you two?

For green the war
Did fall apart
The white survived
We had more heart
You're in harms way
You fell behind
Now step aside

We're gonna win this tonight

Drop your swords
Let's see you out on the fields
Try to swim
With your breast plates and your shields
Nuts and Tard
The plank is waiting for you
One more breath
Any last words for you two?

Woody talks and DC buys
Chuck does laps to exercise
We ask Nikki what's for dinner
Jaime tries to make us thinner
Dick Roberts loves shuffleboard
Chester drives a black accord Enemies Michelle does lack Why does Nati have a shack?

Until the war is over
You'll trail behind the white
Cause this ship sure ain't sinkin'
Hold on tight

The white has won it tonight

Still Fighting It

So here I stand
Friends at my side
So many feelings I can't keep inside
I've come so far
Look at me now
How I've grown up so fast, don't know how

It's not okay
I have to go away
Why must things change

Everybody knows
It hurts to grow up
And everybody does
I long to be back here
Judges know that
The years go on and
I'll keep co-ning back
We'll keep coming back
And this, is home, for me
Forever

I packed my bags
I left my home
Fearing I'd spend the summer alone
But friends I've made
Who changed me so
After just one month I could not go

And so I stayed
Too hard to go away
Why must things change

I found my home
We found our home
This is my home
This is our home

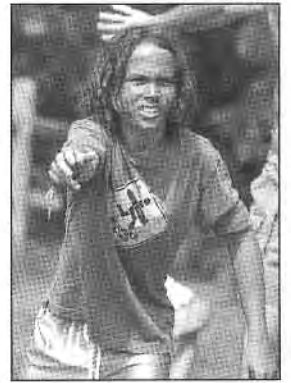

For Robin Hood
My love's eternal

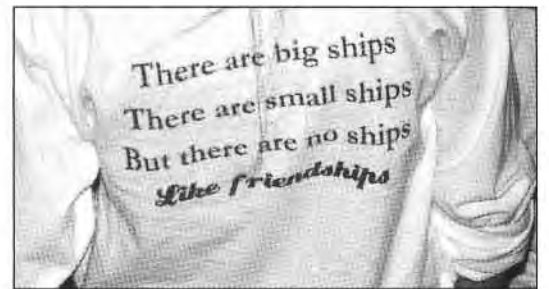

Why can't I stay
I want to stay

So I'll return
Can't pull myself away
Why must things change

Everybody knows
It hurts to grow up
And everybody does
I long to be back here
Judges know that
The years go on and
I'll keep co-ning back
We'll keep coming back and I'll keep co-ning back
We'll keep coming back
And this, is home, for me
Forever

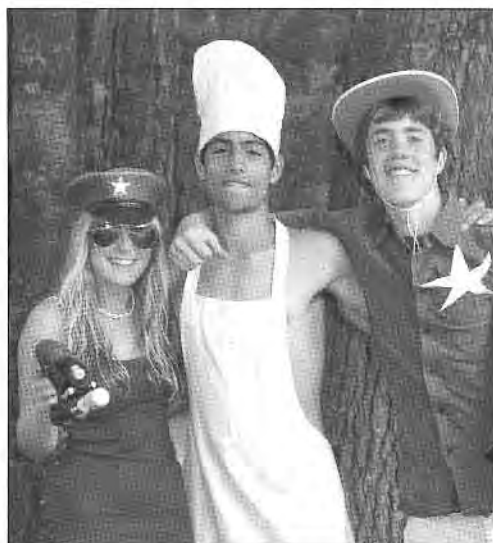

SPECIAL EVENTS

SPECIAL EVENTS

WE ARE FAMILY

WE ARE FAMILY

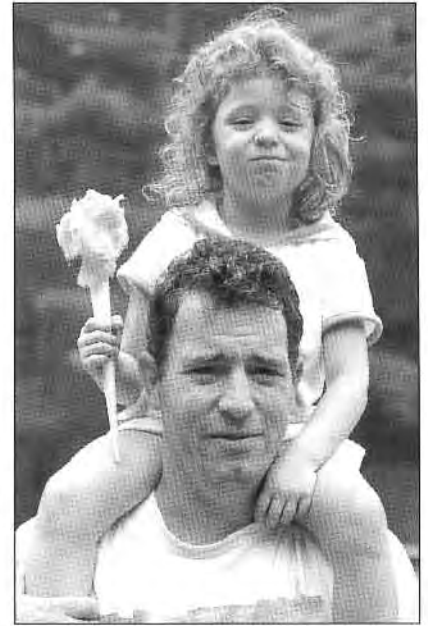

WE ARE FAMILY

KAMP KHARACTERS

KAMP KHARACTERS

CAMP GROUPS

page 6

TPJ's

Hamad Al-Mutawa, Sasan Arbanian, Patrick Berl, Stone Black, Alex Bloch, Michael Brockmann, Ignacio Ducau Ferre, Peter Durkin, Jake Gottsegen, Collin Harris, Cavin Huntsman, Alex Jackson, James Jardine, Jacob Kosowsky, Jake Mansfield, Shane McCabe, Jake Meister, Kyle Mintzberg, Joshua Podl, Jackson Pollock, Julian Resor, Cody Robinson, Matthew Schreiber, William Tuck, James Weiss, Jacob Zweig

page 8

SQUIRES

Max Beitler, Frederick Berl, Jack Boffa, Andrew Chen, Matthew Chmielewski, Matthew Flug, Noah Garson, Benjamin Goldman, Kevin Goodman, David Grain, Jr., Andrew Karas, Patrick (PJ) Kennedy, Hugo Marsans, Gray Mcdermid, Matthew Podl, Max Pollock, Nathan Press, Michael Schloss, Jake Sherman, Olivier Weiss, Justin Zipkin

page 10

ARCHERS

Sam Andrus, Jonathan Arnold, DC Felman, Steven Gallagher, Jaime Garcia de Enterria, Justin Golenberg, Ben Gordon, Chad Gottsegen, Clark Jacobsohn, Tyler Kruse, Diego Munoz Iglesias, Robby Nigro, Matthew Nogueira, Paolo Emilio Panzironi, Alvise Pisenti, Dylan Robinson, Jacob Rosen, Samuel Rosenstein, Dylan Schattman, Jason Schreiber, Jack Simonds, Alex Slossberg, Ryan Stecher, Adam Szewczyk, Dylan Taft

page 12

YEOMEN

Eric Arnold, Nicolas Barray, Felipe Barreneche, Corey Boeschenstein, Adam Breskin, Ben Castleman, CJ Cook, Jack Durkin, Danny Feinman, Diego Ducau Ferre, Connor Fulbright, Michael Greenberg, Santiago Guell, Peter Labes, Kyle Leighton, Samuel Leonard, Eric Levine, Ben Lewin, Mitchell MacPhail, Edward Molinary, Alfonso Montojo, Qadeer Morgan, Luke Morgan, Nathan Mullaney, Vicente Ocampo, Austin Pepper, Michael Polisano, Seth Porter, Angelo Revel, Cameron Romoff, Matthew Schumann, Alex Schumann, Aaron Segel, Sam Sherman, Ben Tannenbaum, Oliver Weil

page 14

LANCERS

Mackenzie Bennett, Kris Casey-Boehm, Erick Cival, Cesar Clemente Escotet, Hadrien Cordier, Enrique Cortina Pickholz, Andrew Cristal, Reinaldo Diaz Salazar, Maxim Filion, Phillip Gallagher, Francesco Garosci, Gabe Gordon, Sam Gurman, Matthew Harris, Stephen Hopkins, Sheldon Jacobsohn, Conner Kruse, Marlon Merjos, Reuben Moreland, James Newmyer, Jose Ocampo, Jaime Pelegri Souviron, Ryan Petrone, Alex Posen, Sam Rosecan, Craig Ruzika, Josh Serero, Alec Singerman, Brandon Sneider, Matthew Swain, Michael Szewczyk, Jake Tuck, Aaron Woodstein

page 16

FRIARS

Chhaya-Karrim Ausar-Sahu, Adam Beaser, Mikey Bourque, William Chen, Vincent Cloutier, Trent Elsbree, Matthew Feldman, Edoardo Fre Torelli, Alfonso Garcia, Gregory Gilban Cohen, Ryan Globus, Lawrence Goldfarb, Michael Goodman, Manuel Maestro, Daniel Navy, Zachary Reisler, Daniel Sheinman, Jeremy Slossberg, Alex Weiss, Alex Wolf

page 18

FORESTERS

Saad Al Essa, Ghazi Alnaqeeb, Alexandre Barray, Andrew Becker, Justin Bennett, Jacob Borden, Daniel Chandler-Klein, Louis Cloutier, Ryan Cristal, Jack Freifelder, Javier Garcia, Gonzalo Garcia de Enterria, Zack Goldman, David Greenberg, Paul Grossman, McKade Huntsman, Elias Kahan, Connor Kinslow, Kevin Laddon, Matthieu Lebard, Justin Leopold, Nick Plater, Trevor Romoff, Jake Schwartz, Jacob Szabo, Justin Taft, David Woodstein, Jordan Zipkin

page 20

SAXONS

Andres Bernar, David Burstein, Chad Burstein, Samuel Dicker, Adam Fooksa, Danny Forrester, Jack Friedman, Roger Gesswein, Alexander Gesswein, Avery Hunt, Brad Jacobsohn, Sam Jonas, Jamie Linn, Marc Navy, Ben Roberts, Ryan Shane, Ethan Sneider, Myles Stavis, Jacob Vance

page 22

TUMBLERS/JESTERS

Jane Arnold, Josephine Berl, Montana Black, Sara Brown, Lauren Cole, Chloe Conley, Hannah Cook, Sara Cristal, Adriana Peyro Escobedo, Quinn Falter, Miranda Gastelum, Charlotte Golnik, Alana Harris, Katie Kidder, Marjorie Kozloff, Allison Lee, Jamie Levine, Claire Lewin, Daniela Madrazo, Nicole Manetta, Jessica Mintzberg, Alexandra Mintzberg, Kibriyaa Morgan, Jacklyn Munck, Madeleine Olson, Samantha Pepper, Julia Poorvu, Paige Reifler, Lainey Segel, Katherine Shifke, Emily Sprague, Susie Wager, Sarah Woodstein

page 24

BOWS

Mckenzi Cohen, Julia Gilban Cohen, Katherine Curran, Zoe Ettinger, Maria Garcia, Callan Goldman, Rachel Gurman, Lucy Hoffman, Miklain Huntsman, Sara Rebecca Laibstain, Lindsey Mansfield, Elizabeth Margolin, Madeline McGinnis, Nickole Morgan, Alexandra Myers, Corinne Olson, Caitlin Ruzika, Jordana Serero, Jordyn Singerman

page 26

QUILLS

Victoria Blumenfeld, Tiffany Chen, Susannah Church, Melanie Cohn, Livia Del Bue, Elise Dubovsky, Jessica Garson, Chelsea Grain, Claire Gregoire, Emily Howard, Camilla Johansson, Gabriel Kahan, Jennie Kaplan, Alexia Knowles, Soraya Leroy, Charlotte Levine, Amelia Marran-Baden, Aletta Marsans, Clemence Parisot, Emily Rose, Leah Schatz, Haley Sheehan, Carrie Solomon, Sarah Sullivan, Jessica Tannenbaum, Ellie Tremayne, Abigail Wentworth

page 28

ARROWS

Rebecca Curran, Katie Davis, Sara Friedman, Arielle Gallagher, Martha Gilchrist, Madelyn Josel, Andrea Knox, Taylor McGinnis, Kathryn Ratko, Alejandra Sánchez-Pedreño, Emilie Schattman, Halle Shane, Jessica Tenenbaum, Alessandra Tesi, Pino Villanueva Urgoiti, Lauren Zipkin

page 30

BARDS

Julia Beaser, Rachel Beitler, Mercedes Calderon, Rachel Dicker, Micaela Domecq, Michaela Fooksa, Bailey Friedman, Nadia Hannan, Chandler Huntsman, Daniele Jacobson, Macia Katz, Katie Kruse, Valerie Margolius, Keara O'Neil, Marta Palma, Shannon Romoff, Alison Schwartz, Claire Sheehan, Jessica Tremayne

page 32

SHIRES

Brittany Arditi, Ana Cappellin, Alison Castleman, Lili Chemla, Chloe Cohn, Ana Isabel Cordido, Marilyn Filion, Brittany Frye, Sofia Gomez Ruiz, Caroline Gregoire, Almudena Heredia, Terry Horowitz, Allison Howard, Jill Kozloff, Sofia Madrazo, Estefanie Moreno, Lucia Muguero, Kristine Peters, Lindsay Rosenstein, Rachel Schorr, Vicki Senter, Amanda Tuck, Eliza Wiggin

page 34

SCRIBES

Courtney Barone, Sonia Calderon, Maria Ducay Ferre, Elisabeth Filion, Olivia Firstenberg, Marissa Friedman, Kristina Johansson, Samantha Kadis, Emily Labes, Sarah Lindenaue, Claudia Llanza, Hannah Magid, Olivia Marcontell, Ana Martin Posada, Caitlin McCabe, Shawn McGrievy, Shauna O'Neil, Katie O'Reilly, Ilyse Rikleen, Lauren Rosenstein, Eliza Stout, Sofia Villanueva Urgoiti, Anna Wiggin

Camp Robin Hood

June-August

65 Robin Hood Lane
Freedom, NH 03836
603.539.4500
Fax: 603.539.4599

September-May

3330 Somerset Drive
Shaker Heights, OH 44122
216.491.CAMP (2267)
Fax: 216.491.2268

www.camprobinhood.com

Jamie and David Cole, Owners/Directors