For 85 years, Camp Robin Hood has been home to children from all over the world. Friendships have evolved into shared life experiences – from traveling together abroad, to standing up at one another's weddings, to forming business partnerships. Our circle is seamless, linked with memory-emblazoned sunsets and magic-laden trees.

While year after year Robin Hood stays true to its traditions, we also evolve and broaden our vision to ensure interest and longevity. So what made summer 2012 different from the rest? Let us tell you...

Intensives:

Over the years, parents have expressed a desire for their children to hone special skills and interests. Campers have also expressed a desire to have more time to delve into an activity of particular significance. Thus emerged our Intensives Program. Through this new program, we offered specialties including Field Hockey, Lacrosse, Fitness Boot Camp as well as Theater, Riding and many others. Campers enjoyed extended time with campers who shared the same passion. As instructors, we were able to peel back the onion, further exposing and challenging campers to a greater degree. Not only did 25 campers complete their first Triathlon, but we have also heard from many parents their children did better than ever before with fall sports tryouts.

Pihcintu Choir:

As your children's summer parents, we feel a distinct responsibility to feed not only their bodies, but also their souls. What better way than to introduce our campers to the Pichintu Choir – a multinational children's chorus that brings together immigrant children from around the globe through friendship and music. We had the honor of spending a day with these inspiring children, which concluded with a concert - bringing a memorable end to an already memorable day. We hope to continue this tradition of broadening our understanding and appreciation for differences in the world around us.

More Exploration of our New England Playground:

Each year we work harder to expose our children to the incredible New England playground in which Robin Hood is nestled. We are proud to say every group experienced a facet of our White Mountain Region. We hiked; swam down nature-made waterfalls; tubed through local rivers; rafted; canoed; kayaked, and new this year – paddle boarded. Staying true to tradition, our oldest campers summited Mt. Washington and Mt. Katahdin.

Eighty-five years of joy and life-changing experiences. We feel privileged to be today's "camp keepers." We hold dear the responsibility of keeping The Realm strong, whole and relevant. And we are confident that one day, we will pass these keys to another generation of Robin Hood. Until then, we thank you for this awesome responsibility and for sharing your children with us.

Camp Robin Hood

Thank you Amy Jacobs, for all the fantastic photographs in this year's book!

TINKERS/PAGERS

To the Teeps of 2012: Nick, Toby, Chase, Ryan, Andrew, Andres, Mikey, Joe-Joe and of course, Takeshi. The summer is over, winter is rolling by, so let's take a moment to think about the unforgettable summer of 2012. So for old time sake, turn off your DS's, put down your candy, and please, please...PUT ON SOME UNDERWEAR...and count off!

Remember day 1 when we all arrived one by one and immediately became best friends? Hey Mikey, remember "everyone to the daft punk?" and how you thought we were going to a concert? Remember how strongly the summer started from our first group activity with the Jugglers? Remember Newcomb and how we decided to introduce water balloons? Remember how that wasn't enough so we sprinted to the Gaga pit to fit in a final game for the night? That sums up our summer: active, spontaneous and so incredibly fun! I wouldn't change a thing.

Remember completing your 16 on the first day? Remember cheering Mikey on during his 16th? Team effort! Remember when Nick took so long because he enjoyed looking at the "fishies" through his goggles for so long? Remember Joe Joe completing his and going on his own private tubing period as his reward? Remember how proud we all were of him?

Remember being the first group to go out of camp on a hike? Remember how Woody hates hiking? Remember kidnapping Woody and forcing him to come on the hike with us? Remember how hot it was that day? I was so proud of you guys, because remember how you just powered on? Remember how Willers and I had to carry Nick and Chase up for the last few hundred yards, while Andrew was already partying up top?

Remember all the out-of-camp trips we went on? Remember how no matter where we went it would always take us 20 minutes? Remember going to the Mainers Game? Remember eating your dinner with the players and getting stuff signed? Remember pigging out on pizza, fries, soda, fried dough and candy? Remember sprinting around the baseball field in between innings? Remember singing camp songs and making chants on every bus ride? Remember going to Clark's Trading Post? Remember the dancing bear? Remember that bear on the scooter, and that he also slam dunked a basketball? Remember the acrobats and how intense their tricks were? Remember the Wolf-Man chasing us during the train ride and Toby pointing and laughing at him? It was a hysterical day and we all had fun!

Remember the numerous campfires we had? They started strong with a bro sesh with the Saxons where you ate pizza and got to chill with your big brothers. Remember talking in front of all of Boys Camp about your Saxon brother? I was so proud of you all. A hundred kids watching and not one of you were phased by anything. Remember how many times we cooked fajitas, s'mores, steaks on the campfires? Remember canoeing and camping at the outpost? Remember the scary stories around the campfire? Dick's story about little Tommy and Sam's story about...does anyone know what Sam's story was about? I don't!

Remember all the fun challenges we took part in? Remember beating the Scribes at dodge ball? Remember not caring about the scores and just having fun? Remember when Andrew and Nick beat about 5 Tumblers during our challenge? Remember how we'd always dress up in black...or in kitty pajamas, Nick?! Remember the "intimidating" face paint? Remember running up to every challenge as a team? Remember trying to be intense but failing and just laughing every time? That sums us up completely, always laughing, always smiling and always having fun!

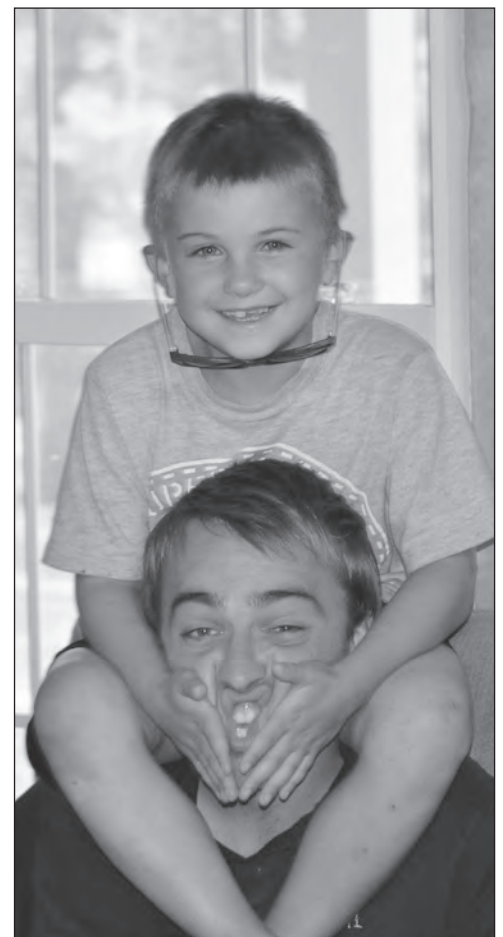

Remember all the random stuff that happened? Remember when Matt Schumann was awake before 8am? Remember when Joe Joe would know where his shoes were? I don't! Remember when Chase's area was clean and tidy? I do... kinda. Remember being shown the poopie pile at archery and aiming for it over the targets? Remember digging a toilet at the outpost and thankfully nobody using it? Remember our amazing ninja dance? Remember when I took out Joe because he didn't jump high enough over me? Remember when all of you made it to the island? I do, that was one of the proudest moments of my summer! Remember near the end of camp we had that storm? Did we let it get us down? No! Remember how we all went mud sliding and then washed it all off in the lake? That was such a great way to not let the rain bother us!

Remember being woken up by the Saxons on the 4th of July? Remember how we got them back with the pots, pans, whistles and water guns? Remember how hard Toby hit his plate with the spoon and it just cracked in half? Remember how fun 4th of July was with the carnival and the beach party? Remember countless beach parties with water ski, twister, water pong and what ever we wanted! Remember the dunk tank and the bouncy castles? Remember the inflatable water slide? Remember all of you losing your shoes?! Remember having an amazing meal that evening? Philly cheese steaks, fries, pretzels, fried dough? AMAZING.

Remember Beach Day? Remember burying Toby in the sand and building Ryan a mermaid's tail? Remember the huge waves and how we'd punch, kick and dive into them? Remember going out for a TP lunch and chilling together? Remember how good Andrew was at body surfing the waves?

TINKERS/PAGERS

Remember countless sand castles? Remember the water gun fight across the whole beach? Remember how confusing we found the buddy board? Remember how worth the buddy board was when we got to the Boardwalk and ate the HUGE ice creams?

Remember our mini Green and White? Remember the White Marshmallows and the Green Hulks battling hard? Remember how much fun you had? Remember how you guys went 100 times more intense during Color War? Remember the break? Nick doesn't because he slept through it! Remember the limos? Remember the countless fake breaks? Remember the captains? The mighty Green Olympians with Jonny and Sam, and how the White Savages had Szabo and K-Sol? Remember how much we enjoyed pump ups? Remember how you guys brought the intensity to every activity? Remember how you would be friends in the bunk despite competing so hard against each other? You all showed so much maturity and intensity during those 5 days and I could not be more proud of you guys.

Remember how epic our excursion was? Remember how you guys acted surprised despite knowing where we were going? Remember Storyland and the thunderstorm? Remember how that ruined our day?...no? Neither do I! Remember getting ponchos and running in the rain? Remember going down the log flume shirtless? Remember getting to the campsite and having a cook out? Remember how the flames were changing colors on the fire? Remember going to Whales Tale? Remember Takeshi in the hot tub with random confused families?

Remember going to the movies then going to Panda Garden with a last minute stop at Lickety Splitz for ice cream? Remember the best excursion ever? I do!!

Mikey

I loved how competitive you were and how much passion you had during any team sport. You were always the life and soul of every party in the bunk. Although your time here was shorter than expected, I hope to see you back next summer.

Chase

Whenever I watch Titanic and the infamous "stand back I say or I'll shoot you all like dogs!" comes up I'll think of you and smile. You were an important part of the Teeps and although I know you aren't a huge sportsman, the fact you took part and gave it your all meant the world to me.

Nick

When I saw your name on the list of campers, I was delighted. I'd heard how great you were in 2011 and you didn't disappoint. You're an extremely friendly member of the group, which was shown when everyone in the TP's voted you as a Color War Captain. You have a great camp career ahead of you. Please keep coming back.

Joe Joe

Joe, if I had a dollar for every time I had to tell you to clean your area, I'd have more money than Bill Gates. You were such a great kid to have in the group this summer. You were enthusiastic about everything and I loved seeing how hard you played during Color War.

Takeshi

Communicating with you every day and seeing your English improve was one of the most rewarding things this summer. You got so into Color War, which was so great to see. You were always polite and on your best behavior. Thank YOU for making my job so enjoyable. Everyone in camp knows who you are and loves you! I hope you can keep coming back for years and years.

Andrew

It was a blast getting to know you this summer. You and your brother fit right into junior camp, and it was great watching you dominate every game of knock out. You represented us at the archery tournament and really left your mark on camp!

Andres

When I think of you, I'll always remember your big smile and how much you'd laugh at anything and everything. I loved having you as part of the TP family, and hope you keep coming back to camp for years to come.

Toby

I love just sitting and having a bro sesh with you Toby, even if listening to you talk can be exhausting! You are one of the friendliest kids I have ever met; you always put other people's happiness in front of your own, and it was a pleasure getting to know you. I know I'll see you in 2013. See you then!

Ryan

Ryan, the legend himself. You were the gymnast/ninja of our group. I loved making you do ridiculous things like walk on your hands to and from activities. The kids in the group all adore you. You were an amazing Color War Captain, and an amazing asset to the group. I know you missed your family at home, but I hope you miss your TP family enough to come back in 2013.

JUGGLERS

Welcome to Jugglerville, where the sun is always [verb ending in -ing], the birds are always [verb ending in -ing], and the kids are always [verb ending in -ing]! It's a [adjective] place, full of [adjective] campers. And it always smells like [noun]!

Woah, woah, woah, not all at once! Before we start yelling out adjectives, nouns, and adverbs, let's take a moment to reminisce on the glorious summer of 2012.

Remember the very first day of the summer? Henry is the first to arrive and slowly Jugglerville begins to populate. Our corner of Junior Camp fills up, our bags unpack, and for the only time in the summer, our bunk looks presentable. Remember our first activity as a group? Bocce! A fun game and a great way to learn our way around The Realm. Too bad Luke gets here late. Finally, the Jugglers of 2012 have assembled. Remember newcomb with the TPs? Remember when the balls became water balloons? Remember our first game of gaga? A perfect first day of camp followed by many, many, many more of those to come.

Remember the first campfire? Everyone gets their Saxon buddies and we eat pizza with them at the ODT. Remember getting introduced to the whole camp? You got your first taste of camp tradition that night. Remember our awesome talent show performances? Singing with Nicki, dancing to Fun, and shaking it to Beyoncé. Henry and Luke bringing down the house with superstar solo performances. Remember making stuff in crafts and woodshop and painting our bench and map of camp? You were without a doubt the most talented Juggler Group of all time. Remember looking forward to lazy Sundays but never sleeping in? I make it to my first Sunday brunch since Friar year.

Remember all the cool places we went this summer? Remember dragging Woody to the top of Green Mountain and leaving him there to face his fears? Remember the view from the fire tower? You all swore you could see camp. Our next trip was to the Sanford Mainers Game. Remember running the bases and meeting the players? The twenty-minute van ride home. Remember the bear shows, Chinese acrobats, and bumper boats at Clark's Trading Post? What was the Wolf Man's problem? Mikey is frustrated at the architectural design of the amphitheater. Remember Beach Day? Loving the waves, the sand, and the boardwalk. Getting a great group lunch together at Huckleberry's. Liam can't go but has the best day ever on camp with Steve and Nurse Paula. Remember our canoe trip to the Outpost? Hearing stories from Dick, watching fireworks, cooking fajitas, and driving Michelle to her whit's end. Remember Jesse's birthday? Henry's birthday? Caleb's birthday? My (and Emile's) birthday?! Trips to Cozy Corner and Pizza Barn, full stomachs and big smiles.

How about all the fun and hilarious times we had on camp. Remember the beach party with DJ Wood? Caleb has "the time of his life." Remember rap battles? Pajama jump? Silly string wars? Kick the can? Rocket balloons? Snack Boys? The Fourth of July Carnival? Fried Dough and the obnoxious cannon and bagpipes across the lake? Remember intensives? Inter-camp tournaments and events? Taking third in the soccer tournament and giving it our all for the Challenge Cup and Spirit Day? Good ole' Ignacio makes an appearance with Birchmont. Remember bombardment with the Scribes, capture the flag with the Squires, and gaga with the Jesters (just to name a few challenges)? Remember the magic show? Creeeeeeeeepy! The fort we made with sheets and blankets? Glow-sticks and toys? Scavenger hunts for clues and candy? Swimming to the island? Greenberg bench pressing campers and Dudley? Kan-Jams? Magic the Gathering (I'm not sure if you guys know how to play it, but it seems like fun)? Going hard during team handball? Pajama jump and skits followed by donuts and the trampoline? Remember mini Green & White? The Great Green Hulks take on the Mighty White Marshmallows in a heated and fierce battle over cracker eat, spelling bee, trivia, flags, and songs. Remember waking up to Passion Pit and falling asleep to Bon Iver? Jugglers have great taste in music.

Remember being on time to anything? Remember always wanting to shower? Or when Alex successfully taught me how to yo-yo? Tosin said a sentence without the word "pardon?" Luke turned down an opportunity to hang out with the Scribes? Sam wore matching shoes? Jesse slept in normal positions? Zubi didn't know the capital of a country? Santi frowned? Toby didn't want to play tetherball? Emile was bad at ping-pong? Tanner left dead animals he found on the ground? Caleb made appropriate jokes? Henry's area was tidy? Liam went a day without getting tons of mail? Gabe was good at sports? Mikey had a good hair day? Greenberg had his hands in his pockets? Connor wasn't on a mountain? Dudley's shirts weren't color coordinated?... WE DON'T Remember "bro sesh?" Playing mafia, doing Mad-Libs, so many Mad-Libs, recapping the day, and reading about Milo's adventures in my favorite book, The Phantom Tollbooth. I hope you all get a chance to finish the story. Remember "breakfast, lunch, and dinner?" I get a craving for cookies and next thing we know we're suiting up to raid the dining hall. Dick busts us and I'm sent off to face my punishment. Turns out the joke was on you as I return to the bunk with the sought-after treats. These sessions were my most looked-forward to part of the day. I loved hanging out with you all together at night and watching the bonds form throughout the summer. Do you remember... THE VAMPIRE CAT!?

Remember visiting day? It came all too soon. As fun as it was, it meant having to say goodbye to many of you. Jugglerville looked a little empty but we picked up two new friends, Logan and Tosin. Remember waiting for Color War to break? It finally happening and everyone sprinting across camp to find the limousines filled with Captains and Judges. Logan might not remember that since he didn't feel like getting out of bed. Green and White kicks up full swing as the Green Olympians do their best to battle the victorious White Savages. Jesse and Sam do a great job as Captains and every single one of you does a great job participating, playing hard, practicing good sportsmanship, and having fun. I could not have been more proud of the way you all handled yourselves during your first ever Color War. After five long days, the White Team celebrated their win with steak and a movie.

Remember our epic excursion? Fantasy came alive at Story Land. Remember riding the pumpkin carriage, seeing the three little pigs, chatting with Mother Goose, stuffing our faces, getting dizzy on rides, and going on the log flume over and over and over and over and over again? Dudley and I pose for a picture at the top of the ride. Next stop? The coolest campsite ever. Remember swimming in the river and playing on the rocks? We start off day 2 with delicious pancakes and head to Whale's Tale. Remember all the crazy slides? Remember riding the half pipe and getting flushed down the toilet? The lazy river proved to be the most popular attraction. We finally headed to Conway for a movie and Chinese food. Remember our final stop at Lickety Splits? No excursion is complete without ice cream.

Remember our last week in camp? The fun never died down with GL swap for a day, Founders Night, Awards Night, campfires, listening to the Saxon speeches and imagining you guys up there in the distant future. Congratulations to all of you for your many accomplishments this summer!

JUGGLERS

Logan Alderman

Boston Logan...I've never met someone named after an airport before. But it suits you because you are all over the place. You have so much energy and your fun-loving spirit is what camp is all about. Also, your mealtime concoctions and messes were nothing but "nasty".

Santiago Balbontin

You had a smile on your face at every activity and my only complaint about you is that you left us early. We all appreciate how great you are and your buds are lucky to have you as a friend. It was fitting that your count-off number was 1 because you're one of a kind. So mature...now stop chewing through your clothes.

Toby Caicedo

If I could look into a crystal ball I'm sure I would see you, Cristobal, doing great in Colombia and counting down the days to come back to camp! Do they have tetherball there? You are a mighty ball of energy and your enthusiasm to sprint to every activity was awesome...even when you didn't always end up in the right place.

Emile Filion

WHYYYYYYY did you have to stay for only four weeks? Whether you were acting like a puppy or playing a game of soccer, you did it so well. You were the youngest in the group, but you didn't show it or let that stop you from being a part of it all. I am so proud of you for how you dealt with any hard times thrown your way. I know you have a long future here, congratulations on a great first summer.

Alex Ginsberg

Remember when you showered or clipped your nails? Oh wait...Your resilient efforts to remain dirty were admirable. I'm so happy you committed to the full summer and I know you are too. You move to the beat of your own drum while being an integral part of the group as a whole. Best of luck with your new school in California! Judging by how you did this summer, I think you'll do just fine.

Caleb Nadell

You are hilarious and wild and crazy and incredibly intelligent. Next summer we have to play more chess. Your willingness to try new activities is a trait not many have so don't take it for granted. The way you sit on a dining hall bench is a testament to how unique and creative you are. The Realm is just as unique a place, so keep doing Caleb and camp will give back everything you put into it.

Tosin Odunsi

Head, shoulders, knees, and Tosin! Thanks to your sweet accent, I never got tired of hearing your 1,000,000 questions every day. You jumped right into camp way too late in the summer, but you made the absolute most of your time with us. You treated everyone with kindness and respect...even though we were always out to get you in mafia.

Henry Rodin

The moment I saw that mohawk I knew you were going to be trouble. Turns out you were anything but. Though I must say that a good portion of the time we spent together involved cleaning your black hole of an area, you impressed me with your performing skills and blew me away with how kindhearted and sweet you are. Not to mention you have ridiculously cool style.

Sam Rosenthal

I will never forget the 1,000 layers of clothing you used to get warm, or the 1,000 mazes, puzzles, and stools you made in woodshop. You're an incredible shooter and swimmer and when you put your mind to it, you do great on land as well. You understand and love camp so much and it certainly loves you back. I'm lucky to have gotten to know the ways of Sammy Rosenthal over these past two years and I can't wait for more.

Jesse Schumann

Lambchop, you are one special kid. Remember how we could communicate just through facial expressions and noises? You used your knowledge of camp from last summer to welcome new friends into The Realm. Hold on to all of your drawings, they're amazing. Even that one of me as a grumpy old man...I've gotten to see you come out of your shell so much in two short years. Watching you shine on stage during G&W could not have been cooler.

Liam Seiler

Maybe a near fatal illness is just what you needed. You not only conquered your sickness but you came back a new man with a new understanding and appreciation of Robin Hood. You may have missed Beach Day, but you stepped out of the infirmary loving camp for what it is. Plus (don't tell anyone this) Beach Day is waaaay overrated. I hope you have a great year. I'll see you on the next season on Modern Family. Luke.

Tanner Slesh

Tenner, T-Dog, and most notably T-Bone, where do I possibly begin. I can't remember a time you didn't smile...nor a time when you slept with any clothes on. Camp is such a special place with so much to offer and as you grow, I hope you notice that your love for camp can be matched by your love for hiking and nature. You will soon become a cornerstone for this group, so keep coming back.

Luke Swirsky

Remember how long it took to get a smile on your face? Remember how once it was there it never went away? Looking back on this summer now it is very hard to believe that this confident and charismatic celebrity ever doubted being here. You're a beast athlete and you're a superstar. You are so mature and so goofy at the same time. Can you think of any better combinations?

Santiago Zubillaga

Let me start by saying how proud I am of you for finishing your stay in The Realm strong. Seeing you smile and watching you have fun always made my day. I strongly encourage you to come back to this place and continue to explore all it has to offer. The world is full of amazing places (as you know, you geography master) but there's no place like camp.

Staff

I've been trying to put into words how thankful I am to have worked with all of you this summer and all I could come up with is lucky. I feel so lucky to have your hard work and dedication to camp and the kids, I feel so lucky to have learned from all of you, I feel so lucky to have gotten close to all of you. Thank you for making my first summer as a group leader easier than I thought it would be. Each of you deserves all the praise I can give. You are all embarking on new adventures this year. I'm confident you will all find great success both in camp and around the world.

Jugglers of 2012

It doesn't happen often that the Jugglers get to operate as their own group. You took advantage of this to the fullest by opening your arms and hearts to each other. You will be each other's bunkmates for the next seven years. You will be each other's best friends for the rest of your lives. You might not know it yet, but keep coming back and you'll soon discover the magic that's in store. Thank you for the perfect summer.

Much Love,

Gabe

SQUIRES

Well Squires, I know you all must be busy playing with your iTouches and brushing your teeth, but take a few minutes to sit down and enjoy some memories from one of the greatest summers in The Realm...

Remember Opening Day? Starting the summer off with a great period of bombardment? Remember Lee getting pegged over and over? Remember Khalid being the midnight-waker-upper? Remember Ricky being too tall for his bed? Remember Cam's sleep talking? Remember awesome bread roll eating contests? Remember Phil's love of baseball? Why are we only playing softball!

Remember Will's loud snoring? Remember how Andrew always had that yellow hat on? Remember when behind the bunk was a new bathroom?

Remember hiking up Green Mountain? Awesome views at the top, I loved that. Remember hiking safely down Green Mountain? WE DON'T! We do remember falling all the way down though. Matt definitely takes the award for best spill. Remember going to play soccer in the rain? Oh wait! Fake out, first camper hunt period. Remember being properly clothed for that? Remember to go to the bathroom before hiding also!! Remember Nico and Lee dropping their Cozy on the ground?

Remember Posen's handlebar? Remember doing splits during waterski? Remember eating beef stew in the hammock, Khalid and Zach? Remember applying deodorant to the right parts of our body? Francesco wants to play "Sponge" not SPUD. Remember the group having bad chaffage? Remember footballs being pancakes? Remember Jack getting covered in horse drool? Remember the overnight camping trip? Awesome fajitas and s'mores. Remember the bear/raccoon that came to the camp ground that night? Remember staff going pole dancing every night?

Remember Peter eating the Oreos he found? Remember Na ni Bulele? Remember Nico loving squirrels? Remember the Cozy Corner song? Remember Echo Lake? Some awesome holes in the water there. McDonalds for dinner! Remember beating Birchmont 14-0 in basketball? Remember the waves at Beach Day? Remember showing Rhod the moon?

Remember Green and White? Cam and Khalid are Captains, and it was a truly great war. Remember excursion? Story Land and the log flume? Campground was also really cool... Remember Whales Tales? Remember the best movie we have all ever seen, The Diary of a Wimpy Kid? Panda Garden for dinner where they hooked us up with the buffet. Remember the last few days of camp? Dubstep parties in the middle!

Squires of 2012, this has been my favorite summer yet and that is because of you guys. I couldn't have asked for a more awesome group and it is remarkable that you are already this close at such a young age. I hope that you all had a blast this year and you keep coming back to the place we call home. To close it out, all I want to say is Squay Guys, keep loving life and being you. See you all next year!

Khalid Al-Mutawa-1 – I don't think that count off number will ever leave you Khlaidd. I love how you get camp so well at such a young age. (Maybe it's because you have been here for 5 years?!) I hope you ride this place out and continue to contribute your hilarity to The Realm.

Lucas Asner – Remember how you always had the cleanest area? You had a great smile, which could help knock away a bad situation and helped make my life easier. Come back and maybe you will be able to find your socks.

Zach Bohm – We're gonna skip to one kid and one kid only. Zach Bohm... Zach Bohm... For your first summer, you fit right in and I am so happy that happened. Hope to see you back next summer as your camp career seems very bright.

Lorenzo Casetti Burchi – You came into camp at an odd time though you quickly found your place in the group. You competed very hard in Green & White and you found your new love of dancing to dubstep music. Hope you can make it back for the entire time next summer.

Peter Cohen – Fresh off of your split from Ray J, you decided to spend your summer in The Realm. You always competed with Schumann for the best-kept area and have been an integral part of the Squay guys of 2012. You've had a great start to your camper career and should definitely come back for years to come.

Francesco Colombo – When you're not asking questions, you're always goofing around and lightening up the day. You rarely complained and have refurnished your bedroom at home with gear from the woodshop. Hopefully you enjoyed yourself this summer because camp is a great place for you and will treat you well for years to come.

Cam Cramer – When you could actually get an acceptable outfit together for the day, you would always bring your "A" game hilarity to keep the group laughing for days. You led a great team during Green and White this summer as Color War will be something you will continue to love. I'll see you back next summer; hopefully you'll remember your batman socks.

Will Crystal – Will I am, time to give us all some knowledge! You are very mature for your age. I'm glad you started clowning with us by the end of the summer though! Hopefully your year is great and we see you next summer bud.

Edoardo Di Giovanni – Edo, despite the large change of pace from Italian life to life in The Realm, you adjusted pretty quickly. You were enthused for every activity during the day, even when you didn't know what was next – thanks for making scheduling that much easier. Watching you waterski was always the highlight of the boat ride, and helping you perfect your long range jumper on the junior camp basketball court was fun too. Hope to see you back next summer!

SQUIRES

Maxamillien Escalera – Doopey, always remember nani bulele at home. Your cuteness was greatly appreciated by all of camp, and you never seemed to have a problem with anything during the day. Bring your “towel” to camp next summer as camp has much more in store for you for years to come.

Lee Karlinsky – Lee, although you were always covered in dirt, you still had a smile on your face. I’m glad you quickly fell in love with camp and I hope you are here for years to come. See you next summer!

Andrew LoMedico – What’s up lax bro? Hopefully this year you can perfect your flow! You were a great dude who had a great skill for motivating the group, which I really appreciated. Excited to see you back in The Realm next summer.

Matt Mailman – Matt, time to get on the benches! Hopefully you avoid hitting your head or tripping on the way there. I’m going to miss you this year, and hopefully you don’t keep your parents up with the creepy voice you do at night!

Ricardo Malasecca – You are an awesome camper. Thank you for being a great listener, and bring hilarity all day, every day. Hopefully next summer you are committed to Camper Hunt as much as you were this year!

Nicolas Quijano – You are very clever for a youngster and have made a mansion for your hamster in the woodshop. You had a blast at every period during the day and improved your English skills immensely. Can’t wait to see you back next summer for the full time.

Philip Schmidt – When you weren't poppin 3's on the JC Court, you were down to Lesh hardcore with the group. Despite your athletic nature, you are always able to goof around and chill with everyone. You really broke out of your shell and hope to see you for summers ahead.

Ben Schwartz – At the end of the day, I'm sure that I like bacon more than you do. Thanks for being a funny dude who was always willing to pick up the group. Hope you are here next summer!

Dylan Siegel – When you weren't eating beef stew in the d hall, you were down for great basketball sessions. Your birthday bonanza was a huge hit and you really found your niche in the group. Hopefully you will be back for Color War next summer.

Jack Ungar – Even though you were one of the messiest kids in the group, you were always willing to help clean the bunk and make other peoples areas neat! On that note, your drive to help people in general is unparalleled by someone your age. We are so glad to see you have made camp your home in such a short period of time. Keep coming back.

To my staff – I love all of you. This being my first year as a group leader, I didn't quite know how I was going to handle you guys. But once the summer started I didn't have to worry because you are all great counselors. Thanks for giving these kids the summer they deserve. I hope you all had a great time.

ARCHERS

Archers, Archers! Put away your PSPs and cards! Last point in ping pong! Last basketball shots! No, really, last shot. Okay, just a few more. We're taking a trip back into The Realm to remember the awesome group that was the Archers of 2012!

It seems like Opening Day was just last week. Old faces and new faces stepped off of the buses and into The Realm. Eyes felt the warm New Hampshire sunlight. Noses took their first deep breaths of that pine tree air. Ears heard the first crunch of needles beneath their feet. Old friends reunited and new friends met for the first time. No time to waste, over to the Infirmary for a lice check! Remember playing taps while we waited in line? We kept getting cut, but it was worth the extra wait! Down to the cabin. Time to move in. This pile will be for shirts, this one's for pants, that one's for socks. Remember how long those piles stayed organized? Two days? Remember our first evening activity? Four way capture the flag. We won! Oh wait, you need all four balls? We've just got three!

The Archers of 2012 were full of energy and in the first couple weeks I quickly found out that I would have to work hard to keep up. We hit the ground running and never looked back. Remember gaga hands. Naetro goes hard in the pit. Goodman got rid of that root. Remember swinging for the trees. Remember swinging for the trees on the quad. Nick's bat was on fire in homerun derby. Remember Soccer World Cup. Remember when Jonny broke Tanner's bed. Remember when Nick and Pablo disappeared into theirs?

Remember inter-camps. Late night archery tournaments: awesome. Remember giving it our all in basketball. Khalil gets big down low. Remember our "perfect" record in softball. Remember Sean's diving catch. Remember Blue and White?!?! We dominated soccer. Daniel, Tanner, and Rodrigo combine for six goals. The British staff go wild. Remember winning both games of newcomb. Remember basketball at Winaukee. Remember the Robin Hood tennis tournament. I know Julien does.

Remember sleeveless fist pumping in the dining hall. Remember all of Narayan's dance moves. Remember trampoline basketball and Paxton's 360 dunk. Remember bro sessions; doing "remember whens." Remember ping pong on the basketball court and Jaden's glowstick party.

Remember the last basketball shot? And the next one? And the next one?

Remember our camping trip – we hiked a mountain. Remember Billiam's "boot and rally"? He's sick, no wait, he's just Billiam. Remember the mayonnaise at lunch and doing trivia for the extra apples. Remember ever trying so hard to get fruit before? Remember the stream and fajitas that night. (Don't take too much chicken.) Remember the campfire and surprise guest – Dick Roberts in the woods. Remember Little Tommy and the raccoon scampering around behind Dick. Remember waking up way too early in the morning – I'll bet Naetro does. Remember going swimming in the river and me trying to figure out why you swam in the icy river but not in the lake. The lake is only too cold when it's instructional.

Remember J-Ro's squirrel trap and the squirrel? Meister, don't touch that sweatshirt. Remember the Cheese Monster – QUESADILLA! Remember the Hunger Games, gymnastics and flipping over the mat. Everybody tackles the cheese; Marco tackles the Hugo.

Evening activities were the perfect way to end the day and the Archers started wondering what it might be from the moment they got up. Remember the Pajama Jump, Camper Hunt and Counselor Hunt? Remember finding us in the waterfront shack and joining the dark side to watch the sunset. Remember Oscar's maze, the sandbar, and when we played newcomb and the locals...cheered. Remember Thursday night football – I know David does. Remember challenges with the Yeomen, the Squires and the Bows? Phew, that was a close one. Remember the scavenger hunt – Goodman starts a chain reaction. ZOMBIE APOCALYPSE!!!

Remember tubing, double tubing, tubing rocks paper scissors? Flug will never lose. Remember watching your GL get flipped off the tube? The Nkontchous dominate the double tube.

Remember Echo Lake – swimming to the other side. The Archers discover Kan Jams and playing keep away. Remember digging a hole underwater – who knew that was possible?

The Archers of 2012 were stacked with summer birthdays. Remember all that cake – my arms are still tired from carrying it around the dining hall. Remember Cozy Corner and being the only group in history to want fudge instead of ice cream? Remember Pizza Barn and the pizza party at the ODT. Where's Mad Dog with the Soda? Happy Birthday again to all the Archers who had their birthdays at camp and thanks to all the parents who supported the birthday parties! Everyone else, ask your parents to change your birthdays to July. I want more ice cream.

Remember Goodman spelling "Flente's" name; Debo curses me from the depths of the Bayou. Remember Big Woody sending everybody back to the bunk to wake up Jonny? Remember trying to wake up Peter... every morning? Remember Marco and Gabi coming in the middle of the night; Edmond appearing in the morning. Remember golf at the far far field.

One of the highlights of every summer is Beach Day. Archers 2012 hit the sand in style and strutted the boardwalk like it was 1983. The water was warmer than usual and almost everybody hit the surf at least once. Highlights included Paxton eating...everything.

Remember our dance; remember when Fuente bounced Khalil in handball; Capture the Flag with the Forresters and Shires; and, going to intensives. Remember the marina and eating ice cream and candy on the roof – finish it before we get back to camp!

Remember Excursion! We started it off BIG at the mountain park. How many ways can you go from the top of a mountain to the bottom? Will anybody go full speed on the coaster? Make sure you give the thumbs up before you go!!! Coolest zipline ever. Mad Dog loses his hat on the plastic tubing hill. Over to the ropes course – we’re pushing our limits and monkeying around up in the trees. Moyo conquers the course. That’s what it’s all about! A couple of daredevils hit the black diamonds, the rest of us stay green and blue. Let’s go shopping at the outlets. Some fresh kicks for danger. Cool off with some ice cream. Time to head over to the campsite. Wait, are we in Nascar country? Who can spot the most hilarity aka the fewest teeth? Cook up some juicy late night steaks and beans. The group demands s’mores before bedtime. Always a great way to cap off the day. Day 2: Wake up and nobody’s throwing rocks. That’s a good start. Make friends with some Canadians. Do they know Julien? Remember Peter’s special pancake? Did we just pass a theme park? Did we just pass it again? Let’s go in. Funtown Splashtown, heavy on the fun. Meister, Goodman, Tyler, Pete, and Liam join forces to dominate the five-man slide. Everybody comes together for a classic lunch. Time to go home, it was a fun excursion. PSYCH!!! Movie time! Spider Man is way better than Bat Man anyway. Remember Spider Man dunking at the Garden? Let’s get some food before we get back to camp. Yankee Smokehouse serves up a feast, but who wants the local food when you can have Subway? I know what I want. Some more Cozy Corner. We finally get back to The Realm after an incredible two days. Definitely one to remember. I hope you all enjoyed it as much as I did.

After Excursion, the Archers had a few days of regular camp to remember why we love The Realm so much. Remember Capture the Flag with the Foresters and Shires? Remember Michael’s evening card tricks? Remember late night McDonald’s? Remember goodnight songs? Meister wants Coldplay.

Remember sunsets on the lake and showering in the lake after EA. Remember Candy Canteen and saying “please” and “thank you”.

REMEMBER GREEN AND WHITE?!?!
Everybody wake up. Where’s Jonny? Run to the waterfront!! No wait, to the grandstand. Is that Dick and Chuck in morphsuits? Fireworks on the field! Limousines roll up. You know who it is. Jonny’s repping the Archers. K Sol, Szabo, and Kadis let us know this is going to be an awesome War. Back to the cabins to, um REST? No way! Green and White is in the air. Captains and Co’s get picked with the help of the Most Honorable Andrew Arnot. Everyone casts their ballots and the group elects Captains Paxton and Meister and their Co’s Meido and Billiam. To the dining hall for our last meal as a group for the next five days. All of camp gathers at the barn for the bean pick and from there it’s non-stop intensity. The Archers go hard in everything they do for five days straight. From diving catches in Frisbee to making art out of trash in the dining hall, the intensity is high and everybody is giving 100% for their team. Archers are all over the Green and White Talent Show. Tyler goes to infinity and beyond. Night Five rolls around, and both teams sound amazing. Scores are read and "IT'S ALL OVER!" The group is reunited for a round of the goodnight song. Looking around the circle, we know we've earned our lazy day and are going to finish out the summer strong.

Narayan Achar – Were you only at camp for two or three weeks? It feels like you were a part of the group from Opening Day to Closing Day. To come late in your first summer and still fit in so well and make friends so easily is really a compliment to who you are. Keep being funny; keep being you. I can't wait to see you at camp for longer next summer.

Tyler Adelman – Your southpaw softball pitching is second to none. You always compete with heart and energy. That is such an admirable quality and it made the summer so much more fun for you and everyone around you. I can't wait to play catch with you again next summer and see what I'm sure will be at least a 95 mph fastball by then.

Daniel Agmoni – You always led by example and made all of the counselors' jobs so much easier. You are an incredibly good sport, competing hard, but respecting the game and your opponents. Also, you dominated Blue and White soccer and when you nutmegged one of the West End players, all of the British staff and I were going crazy.

William "Billiam" Chang – You kept us laughing. Your daily words of wisdom and fortune cookie sayings were among the funniest things I heard all summer. Keep coming back. I think you have a lot to give to camp.

Michael Daloia – Playing Set with you was great. We really got to relax and just hang out. I still haven't figured out the magic trick where you cross out numbers on a piece of paper, but don't worry, I will. You are a really thoughtful dude and I hope you are having a great year.

Julien Filion – You made Pete and me look foolish running across the rocks after we rode down the river. I'm pretty sure the people around us thought you were a counselor and we were really big hairy campers. You're awesome. I can't wait to see you next summer. Say hi to Maxim for me.

Benjamin Flug – In a world of "not chill," you are "so chill." I was really bummed to see you leave so early this summer, but I know you had cool stuff to do. I hope you had a blast and I know you will be staying the full summer soon. I have to tell your GL next year that you have ten of that rainbow shirt because that was probably the most confusing thing ever.

ARCHERS

Nathan Fuente – Whether they are for riflery or archery, you definitely love ranges. Congratulations on all of your qualifications and awards this summer. Your hard work and practice seemed to really pay off. You are a very cool dude and it was great having you this year.

David Geldzahler – CHEESE. You might have the happiest personality of anyone I have ever met. Your smile cheers up everyone you meet and you definitely made me laugh more than a few times. I'm excited to see you next summer and even more excited to know when the next Geldzahler brother will be entering The Realm. Have a good year.

Jake Goodman – My man. Keeps it funny. Some of those videos you made were pretty hysterical. You kept everybody laughing. Your area looked like a Bed Bath & Beyond by the end of the summer with all of the fans and lights you had collected. Have a great year and try to keep the same pair of shoes for at least a week.

Nathan "Naetro" Grossman – I really hope I have been spelling your name correctly because it's probably one of the best nicknames I've heard. The fact that you have embraced it so much shows how much you love and get camp. I expect you to have pi memorized to ten thousand places by next summer. I also expect you to rule the world soon after that. Have fun this year.

Paxton Hansburg – When are they gonna learn that Skittles is all they need in Candy Canteen? You are a born leader and when you get excited it is infectious. I would play Ultimate Frisbee with you any day, and I am pretty sure you could throw from Colorado to Philadelphia, so we should try some time. See you in a few months.

Samuel "Debo" Laoye – You are the best dressed horseman I have ever seen. It seemed like you were always smiling and having fun, whether it was playing a sport or pretending to chase ninjas across the beach. Have a great year.

Marco Marsans – Chilling with you during rest hours is a privilege. I am bummed I did not get to do it more. You went out on top in your first Green and White experience, being escorted away from your victory in the swim meet by bodyguards worried that your thousands of fans would try to swarm you. You are incredible and I know you will keep coming back because camp and you have so much to offer each other.

Kyle Meister – One day your headphones singing is going to make you the winner of American Idol. You had some crazy drives to the hoop in that 3-on-3-basketball tournament in the Barn and it was fun to watch you compete in inter-camps. You seem to embrace camp and that is what it's all about. See you next summer.

Jaden Meyer – By far the most swagger of any Archer ever. Whether it was playing lockdown defense in basketball or running through the cabin with multi-color glow sticks, your personality showed through and you brought energy to whatever you did. Have an awesome year; I look forward to seeing you again next summer.

Meido Nkontchou – By the time you had been at camp for two days, it was impossible to tell that you had come late. You slid right back into the group without any hesitation. You did a great job as a Green and White Co-Captain. You were an awesome addition to the group. Have a great year.

Moyo Nkontchou – You put on a show in Green and White soccer. I am pretty sure that on one play you literally dribbled passed each white defender at least once. You slid in perfectly with the backroom boys. It was way harder to get the back room quiet at night after you arrived and that is because you kept everyone happy and energized. Have a great year.

Rodrigo Quijano – You were our only camper for a day. I was so impressed with your English speaking ability. Your talent on the soccer field and your interest in making bracelets also impressed me. You hopped right into your first summer in The Realm and I know you loved it. I hope I will see you again next summer.

Jake “J-Ro” Rosenthal – I was so impressed by your great attitude about being at camp with a cast. If it hadn’t been bright green, I probably would not have noticed it was there most of the time because you were so energetic and happy. I hear that that squirrel trap caught something this weekend, so the wait is finally over. Have an awesome year.

Nick Russell – You had an awesome summer. You seem to really love and understand camp and I am excited to see you coming back summer after summer. I am even more excited to see where DJ Nick Nack’s next hit single lands on the charts. See you in a couple months.

Tanner Snidow – I was so impressed by the way you just began life at camp so seamlessly. Your ability to make friends and integrate into the group speaks to your great personality. You also had probably the only header goal I have ever seen in handball. You are an awesome dude and clearly loved camp. I can’t wait to see you back for longer than 2 weeks.

Edmond Thiriez – I have never seen somebody sleep with a fan on their chest every night. Until this summer. You always seemed ready to goof around and have a good time. I hope you had an awesome first summer and I will see you next year.

Khalil Walker – I called benches 9 weeks ago. I’m still not sure you showed up. All jokes aside, you seem to embrace, understand, and love camp like very few Archers do. Your ability to think and speak in our group campfires demonstrated your intelligence and I thought was really cool. Also, you may be the only camper to ever actually be good at goalie in team handball. Have an awesome year.

Sean Wood – Keeping it goofy. You can be off-the-walls silly and funny at times and it’s awesome. You had so much energy this summer and clearly enjoyed your first summer at camp. Those bracelets and necklaces you made were pretty dope. I may have to start wearing more jewelry. I am looking forward to seeing you next summer.

Pablo Zubillaga – It felt like any free moment you used to work on your basketball game. That practice clearly paid off in some of our inter-camp tournaments and the 3-on-3-tournament where you drained jump shots. You have a lot to offer camp and I am excited to see you come back.

To Everyone – Staff and campers of the Archers of 2012, this was my fifth year in The Realm and first as a GL. Each and every one of you contributed to making this incredible summer happen for me and I could not be more thankful. Staff shout-outs to Peter Labes, Mad Dog, Jonny Price, Hunter Weaver, and Gabriel Baquero-Puig.

YEOMEN

Yeomen Yeomen, now is that special time of the year to sit down, forget about school for a second, get off instagram, pull out your best juntagram and read this story of the epic summer of 2012.

2012 was the summer of FUN, laughs, diseases, more fun, boating, and so much more. Remember the canoe trip – Grant telling stories, Pablo showing off, crazy tent life and the best fajitas in the world. Remember floating down the Saco – slightly more chill. Then we brought our talents to South Beach aka Ogunquit beach for Beach Day.

Let's not forget our impressive victory in the challenge cup. After beating the Saxons all we had left was to defeat the Big Bow Family. The game: spud. While the Bows fought a valiant fight, their best efforts were no match for the Showmen. We are now the holders of the 2012 Challenge Cup and will remain on top for a whole year.

Remember beating West End 11-0 on the field across the road right before Parents

Visiting. Notable goals from Mekaheel, Santi, Gabi and Pablo from a solid 40 yards out.

We were all sad beyond words to see all the 4-weekers leave but it was not in the Yeomen spirit to sulk around and chalk the summer. You all spoke from your hearts at our campfire and on your last night and that was absolutely incredible to watch. You all love camp and I know that you will be back for years to come because this group has a very bright future ahead.

Green & White: WAKE UP! Green and White is breaking at 5:30 in the morning. White Savages v Green Olympians. Congrats to the captains and co's, but more importantly this was the most competitive war that I've seen in years and that held true for the Yeomen. Szabo and the Savages came out on top in the end. EVERYONE COME BACK FOR GREEN AND WHITE!!! You guys will not have a better 5 days in your entire year and you will kill it. I'll be there.

EXCURSION!!!! Two jam-packed days of ridiculousness and tomfoolery. Watching you all come down Geronimo at Water Country and attempt to figure out mini bowling the first day was only properly capped off by Will's delectable steak and potato dinner. Drinks, appetizers and cookie s'mores, compliments of the Stop n Shop groups. Waking up to start day two with Monkey Trunks could not have been any better. Dark Knight, Panda Garden, Mini Golf and WALMART – what a day, what an excursion. One of the best I've ever been on guys.

Aaron Alderman – Even with your late arrival, you had an exciting few weeks at The Realm. Remember jumping on trees pretty aggressively. Hope to see you next summer for longer.

Faisal Al-Mutawa – A lot of people in the group look to you as a leader, not only because you have been here the longest but because you are a compassionate and aware guy. Congrats on the cracker eat victory.

Benji Asner – Your love for camp is evident from our campfires. It was great to see you with your brother and reminds me of how my brother looked out for me when I was a camper. Your love for riflery grew over the summer and it was great to see you excel in that area and gain a new passion.

Danny Attia – Thank you for doing the little things and being a great kid in general. Your tennis game was on point this summer and you made an impact in Green and White. Remember the dolphin dance? Don't come late next summer because there is definitely something missing when you're not here.

Jacob Barber – Sickest dude on camp! Ahh we miss you so much bud. Remember swimming to the island...you sounded good. Remember trash diving for your retainer? You are a smart and driven kid and I cannot wait to see you here for years to come.

Vince Barone – Classic situation of a behind-the-scenes Group Leader. You go about your days in a quiet way, but everyone notices that you are doing the right thing and loving camp. Remember beasting in golf that one time? We were so happy you stayed for the whole summer and I hope you have a great year.

William Boffa – STOP LAUGHING! Just kidding, your fits are absolutely hysterical. Your performance during the Yarchmen Scavenger Hunt will go down in the record books. So happy to have you in the bunk.

Santiago Caicedo – You were a trooper this summer. I know you were concerned with your big move but reading this now I am sure that you are doing great. Know that we all miss you so much. Don't get a haircut till yours looks like Toby's.

Gabriel Carrasquilla – Need some Tums?? I could find you every night hiding in Will's bed waiting, waiting for a battle. Even though you took a few years off from camp, I think you made a fantastic decision to come back. You immediately fell back into place with the group and I hope there is no break in years from here on out.

Alex Chang – You are the definition of a quiet leader. You go about all that you do in a low-key manner, but I can always trust you to do the right thing. I'm so happy you stayed for G&W and your athleticism came through big. Remember to stay confident, stay open to new friendships and keep coming back.

Lorenzo Colombo – Ever since you came a day early we could all tell how genuine and sweet of a kid you were going to be. Great job helping out and excelling on the archery range this summer. Can't wait to see you come back next year to do the things you love and add your positivity to the group.

Mekaheel Gbajabiamila – Coming late into a foreign environment is never easy but you made it seem that way. From killing it in our intercamp soccer matches to immediately making friends of all kinds in the group, you are an inspiration to all new campers. You tried so many new things and I respect that so much. Hope to see you back here friend.

Ethan Gimbel – Remember eating burritos at Dark Knight? I want you to realize your importance to this group. Even though you're not the biggest guy, you put your whole heart and effort into everything you do.

YEOMEN

Jackson Greeley – It was great to see you mold with a diverse crew of Yeomen this summer. You got Green and White from the break and even with your finger, it seemed like you loved every minute.

Aaron Gurman – Remember our epic stare-off in the first week. 42 minutes, no flinches. You were a big help with acclimating new campers and I still want that Expos hat.

Patrick Harvey – No one knew that on the court you would be draining 3s until that basketball tournament. I know you've done a fair amount of moving around the world, but realize that camp is a constant in life and I have always found that extremely special.

Felix Helsmoortel – After the first few days, you really made a place for yourself in the group. We all remember you beating us in ping pong. It was a pleasure to have you in the group and everyone will look forward to you coming back!

Jack LoMedico – You're such a sweet, loving kid. The influence you had on this group in just two weeks was absolutely contagious. Everyone loved your sense of humor, especially when you were "housekeeping." This group is so lucky to have you for years to come.

Matt Longfield – Nothing could stop you from going HAM this summer not even being sick. The joy that you got from Burger King was the same joy we get seeing you compete and have fun at activities. Dominate this hockey season but also realize how much fun you would have during Green and White.

Tim Longfield – Timmy, you're a constant source of happiness not only for the campers around you, but for the staff as well. You go about your days quietly, but in a way in which people look up to you and that is a special trait. I hope to see you and Matt for the war because it is a part of camp where you will thrive. Hello.

Enrique Lopez – You overcame adversity at the beginning of the summer. You are a brave kid and came out with the best summer of your life. Remember how you felt at the end of this summer and carry that feeling over to the start of next summer and it will be even better.

Ethan Marx – Ethan you started us off right with the first song of the day this summer. It was great to see you become more outgoing as the weeks went on. Having a sibling at camp can make this place even more special and we hope that you and Gracie can share The Realm for many years to come.

David Massart – It seems like that smile was permanently implanted onto your face for the entire first 4 weeks. You were open to new activities and to embracing camp, which I love to see.

Pablo Melasecca – You are best friends with every member of this group. You're the glue that holds this group together and it was awesome to witness that this summer. You stole the show in our dance and started to share your personality with the rest of the camp. See you next year for the full session.

Taymour Nakib – FISH. It was great to see how quickly you fit into this group after such a short time at camp. You are a very kindhearted kid and got along with everybody. It's awesome that you understood the importance of camp in your few weeks here.

William Neary – From baseball to the canoe trip and skit night, you gave everything a shot this summer. You are hilarious, compassionate and talented and we all can't wait to see you back.

Tommaso Olinas – You started off your summer by breaking the Island Swim time record (on the way back!). You were great during Green and White and it was great sleeping next to you for the last bit of the summer. Have a great year.

Andres Sanchez de Movellan – Looking good or goodly looking? What you said at the camp fire was from the heart and had a positive influence on the rest of the group. We can tell that these four years have been a huge part of your life and you'll make the best of your upcoming years in The Realm.

Tomas Sanchez de Movellan – You were the most energetic kid in the group and that provided so much hilarity. Your skit on Talent Night was hysterical. We know what this place means to you and what you mean to the group.

Philip Schneider – DC said you are the best tennis player in the group. sick. You had a pretty epic exit to Robin Hood after Parents Visiting. I hope you agree that you have found your camp with Robin Hood – you are a great addition to The Realm! I hope to see you back next summer.

Joshua Shafer – Are you on steroids? Remember the 22 straws? You're probably the craziest and goofiest kid in the cabin, yet it is also clear that you get camp just as much if not more than any other Yeoman. It was fun to see you dominate both the mock and the real Green and Whites. Keep doing what you're doing.

Ryan Siegel – Barely saw you off of the basketball court this summer. Thanks for being a great kid and leading by example. It was a pleasure to have you in the bunk and I can't wait to see you next year, hopefully for Green and White.

Jonathan Suna – You had us laughing since the first bro-sesh. I've never seen someone have so much fun being a cripple at camp. Glad you healed up because you really stepped up during Green and White and that was great to see.

Austin Terowsky – Congratulations on being a captain and the most resilient dude on camp. We had so much fun with you at the end of the summer and we urge you to have a bigger voice from the get go. Great summer. Can't wait to see you back next year.

Grant Wasserman – You played really well in all the intercamp tournaments. You were friends with a lot of different people in the group. We all wish you the best with your Bar Mitzvah.

Reid Watson – Mr. Watson – sooo nice to see you! You have an incredible sense of humor and I loved getting daily jokes from you on the benches. We were so happy you stayed and I can't wait to see you back.

Andrew Weitzman – AAGL. You are mature beyond your years and a true intellect (for a US kid). We couldn't be happier that you stayed full and your perpetual optimism was a spark for me at the end.

Zubi – Your first night started off with a bang and you kept entertaining us for the rest of the four weeks. It was touching to see how much you love this place and your bunkmates in the last couple of days, especially the last night. I can't wait to see you thrive next year when I'm sure you'll come back for the full session.

Yeomen of 2012 – I told you all at our first campfire that I wanted to come back to show one more group the summer my counselors showed me and to have one more group of friends to call my own for life. I could not be happier that it was you all. You are full of character, competition and compassion.

To my staff – What can I say to describe this summer. I cannot thank you enough for all your help and hard work. I hand picked this team and we could not have had a better summer.

list of all songs of the day

Calvin Harris Remix
So Good – B.O.B.
Fade – Timeflies
Take a Walk – Passion Pit
Favorite Song – Polite Boys
Fire and Rain – James Taylor
You've got a Friend – James Taylor

LANCERS

Lancers, LanceStars, LanceVegas, Green Lancers, Crumb Star Millionaires, Ducks, L-Diablo, Troupe 264: By now I'm sure you are all comfortably nestled into your petty winter lives, and the summer of 2012 may seem like nothing but a distant dream, so brace yourselves, and get ready to 'Take a Walk' through the best 7 weeks of our lives.

Remember night one? Eagle ball on the soccer field, WarshDogs vs. TeamTeam in an epic battle, but as always, the WarshDogs prevail. The summer got off to a hot start and before we knew it we were graced with the arrival of more lancers. First AJ joins L-Diablo, then came the Brazilian duo. Next the sporty two of MKG and the Meathead, followed by the humanitarian Gonzalo, skrimp/pretty boy Josh, and our own spice of England, James. Bringing up the rear to finalize our All-Star squad, we get ET and Mr. Fish. Finally The LanceStars are complete and ready to run The Realm.

Remember our first mountain trip? We summit the menacing Rattlesnake Mountain in under 90 minutes, and Troupe 264 learns how to ID the trees of New England on the way down #GrayBirch. Then we head over to Sandwich Beach. First off, what kind of name for a town is "Sandwich," and secondly, why was Camp Cody being so mean to Sherman's GF? Whatever, all is well that ends well, and in the words of Public Enemy: "The Police Stink!" We drive home and end the day at Cozy Corner...SIKE, Steak Bombs!

Remember Gonzalo's shower shenanigans, Evan's no-handed prowess in contact sports, Alejo's rock, scat session on the benches, and scoring in terms of fun? Remember going deep sea diving at waterfront, jellyfish tag, and Patrick's "Lancer for Cancer" head shaving initiative? Remember Adam asking if Brazil had trees, Zane taking a quick nap on the toilet, and the Dark Knight taking over our bunk at night? #FriendsAndMemories

A few weeks into camp Troupe 264 sets off again, this time to Mt. Major, where we expand our knowledge on trees. Jay AKA Bear Grylls provides us with the 19 must-know tips in order to survive in the wild, and Patty lays a bounty on our potential Vertes visitor. We reach our apex and it becomes clear that Alejo and Warsh have differing opinions on dogs. Next we're off to Weir's Beach, where we make friends with the lifeguards. Justin shows off his gymnastic skills on the playground, and we chase after the local ducks. We head over to Wal-Mart for an unforgettable scavenger hunt. Some decide that YOLO is more important than the competition and buy One Direction posters... worth it. Team Spain takes the gold with a clever Raid purchase.

Remember challenges? Always jamming to The Warning as a pump up. Beating the Arrows in bombardment (barely) and losing an insane Capture the Flag battle with the Friars. Hold your heads high boys, it was an amazing game. We finally get redemption after beating the Yeomen 3 games to none. And I don't think anyone will ever forget the epic Gimbel fight, 2 CHAINSS$$.

Remember Alejo's birthday? HeyLadi's on the way to the Conway. We do a little shopping, get some ice cream and play some Wiffleball on the grassy quad. We load the bus again and watch the new Spiderman...way too many lizards. We close out the day with a tasty Pizza Barn run. BEST DAY EVER.

Remember when Wolf was on time for benches? When Warsh wasn't asking hilarious questions, when Gonzalo wasn't kissing grandmas, Pietro wasn't talking about fish, when Zane wasn't a beast at everything, when no one was playing cards, when Jimmy and Vertes stopped talking, when Justin was healthy and wasn't doing flips, when Adam wasn't ticklish, and when Patty wasn't using his PowerBlaster, WE DON'T.

Before we knew it, Green and White had arrived. 5:30 AM wake up to the sounds of Sherman's wookie cry and the fire alarm. We finally make our way up to the soccer field, where we find two limos, the judges in one, and our counselor captains in the other. Congrats Captains Jay and Margo and Co's AJ and Adam. Savages vs. Olympians, it was on. We started it off with an epic softball game, with White coming out on top from a game-winning hit from none other than Adam Shreibman. Then LanceVegas graces camp with its first G&W Water Polo game in over 20 years. Gonzolo and Kique butt heads the entire game, as the lead switches hands time and time again. This marathon of a game ended the only way it could, a draw. That game is something camp won't soon forget. Watching you kids fight with all your heart for 5 days was truly remarkable. On the scoreboard the Savages come out on top, but at Robin Hood, we're all winners.

Remember Excursion? This time we are actually leaving from breakfast (sorry Vertes). Not knowing what to expect, we load the vans and head south to Hampton Beach Harbor. We eat a quick lunch, and AJ stuffs his face with syrup-less pancakes. At around 1pm we board the Whitestar Express for some legendary Deep Sea "Fishing." Classic Chum! While we don't catch or bite any fish, we learn valuable lessons about America's Olympic skillz, and Sherman's true feelings on the kids are revealed. After 5 yield-less hours, we get back on the vans and head to our campsite. We set up camp, and a few of us squeeze in a quick game of putt-putt before feasting on steaks loaded with SBR. Then we feast s'mores, and as the rain starts to fall, we get to bed. Then came the legendary day two. Waking up to the pancake blob and scrumptious bagels. We hop back in the vans and head on our way to the then unknown destination of Cranmore Adventure Park. "We're ready for war, we're ready for Cranmore!" Your staff leads the way with laughter and ridiculous no hands challenges on the ropes course. Remember Sherman's encounter with a large bird that liked him a little too much? Patty and Dan go for the black, while Noah and Jimmy learn how to toot it and boot it. We squeeze in a quick trip to the outlets before slamming an incredible Applebee's dinner. Last but not least we end up seeing any movie but The Dark Night... SIKE it's The Dark Night. We wear our towels as capes into this epic film.

Remember our last few days? GL switch is a hit. Kruse introduces us to Dizzy Wiffle Ball, and we follow up the next day with Dizzy Kickball; we've never looked so uncoordinated. Remember our last EA? Steal the Bacon on the Beach followed by PJ Jump followed by shower with bio-soap in the lake, and sunset gazing throughout it all. What a way to go out. Our last activity is infection, that stuff crazy. Our final night begins with McDeez, we chill way too hard, and the late night crew plays a few rounds of moonlit gaga and bombardment.

LANCERS

Sean Becker – Sheeeen! I had so much fun with you this summer. You truly care about the welfare of the group as a whole and it shows in every activity. Whether you know it or not, you serve a vital role in this group's dynamic.

James Burwell – What can I say, it has been so much fun being your counselor this summer; you always kept me smiling and laughing and you infused so much energy into this group. Oh, and you are kind of good at everything...it's not fair. You are an ideal Robin Hood kid and I can't wait to see you back here for many summers to come.

Lucas Casla – First off, the whole group is indebted to you eternally for saving us from a shutout against the Friars in Challenge Cup – that was so huge. Seriously though, the group rallied around you more than you know. In everything from inspection to softball, people follow your lead, and I know you always lead them in the right direction. Make sure you stay in touch with all of us this winter.

Alejo Caslo – ALEEJOOOO! WRONG. Like many first year campers, your summer started a bit slow, but once you settled in, the group loved you. We all had so much fun with you. I can't thank you enough for your birthday fiesta, easily one of the most memorable days of the summer. Also, hope you've still got that rock.

Pietro Cassetti Burchi – Amozzarella! Aballotelli! Eh Mammamia! I know it can be tough being thrown into any environment where you don't speak the language, but given the circumstances I think you had a great summer. The group always looked to you for hilarity, and you never disappointed. You found a way to clown around on your own terms and that shows a lot of poise. Mr. Fish, keep coming back.

Jon Galan – I had a blast with you this summer. You never complain, and your smile is infectious. You are also one of the most genuine people I've ever met. It's easy to tell that Robin Hood is the right place for you.

Gabriel Gama – Ever since our first soccer period (where you successfully made fools out of the whole group), I could tell you were a Robin Hood dude, and you didn't disappoint. You know when to be serious, you know when to be ridiculous, and you know what's good. Keep coming back.

Noah Gilstrap – Noah, what can I say? Since the minute you were dropped off, you were nothing but fun. As cliché as this sounds, you really get camp. I'm so happy you got to experience your first Color War this summer. I know it's something you'll always remember.

Jeremy Gimbel – My dude, never got a chance to tell you this but you had an awesome Green & White. You fought your heart out and you were the difference maker in a few key events. I hope you realize how much you mean to this group. You are a role model that everybody in the group looks up to in one way or another.

Alexander Hersch – AJ, there's not a kid in this group that doesn't consider you one of their best friends. You have the ability to connect with anyone on the face of the planet; a skill I know will get you far in life. You've gotta keep coming back because Robin Hood deserves a personality like yours.

Jonas Jacobson – Todd Collins, every time I looked at your blush-red face and that cute little button nose this summer, it made me smile. That's what you do for this group as a whole. You keep the energy up, and the spirits high. A day without Jonas would be a day without color. I'm really gonna miss you this winter.

Justin Kao – Your knee injury was probably the worst thing to happen to the group all summer. But your positive attitude and cheery vibe really picked up the group and speaks volumes to your character. You may not realize this yet but you are such a Robin Hood person, and this place needs you just as much as you need it.

Javier Lopez Gonzalez – Javi, sometimes I think you are too studly for your own good. You and benches did not mix well together this summer but just about everything and everyone else did. You could be hanging out with just about anyone in the group and I wouldn't be surprised. Whenever you weren't waterskiing, you were chatting it up with a Crumb.

Eric Margolin – One word; BEAST MODE. In all ways, you are a force to be reckoned with. You are a clear leader of the group, but you don't have to yell or be loud to do it. Everybody in this group already has tremendous respect for you, and it's for all the right reasons. Keep being the man.

Lucca Mariani – You were easily the coolest kid on camp this summer. Always rocking a low cut v-neck and a bathing suit, your swag was undeniable. If I didn't know that it was your first year, I would have had no idea. You came into a pretty established group in The Realm and fit right in from the moment you arrived. Keep up the hilarity that you provide at all moments and just keep being yourself; this group truly loves you for all the right reasons.

Gonzalo Montiel De La Vega – Gonzo, you are easily the nicest person I know. I couldn't thank you enough for everything you did this summer. You're smart, funny, and I don't think anyone on camp can think of one bad thing to say about you. This place can offer you so much more than you know.

Jay Oliva – For a 13-year-old, you have tremendous judgment. I don't know where it came from, but you just always seem to be making the right calls at the right time. You really emerged this summer as a leader of the group and I know you'll lead LanceVegas to glory for years to come.

Adam Schreiber – After finally being able to observe the wild Adam in his natural habitat, I can truly say you are an unbelievable person (and the best Schreiber). You are one of the sweetest most kind-hearted kids, who is always just down to clown. I know you love The Realm and The Realm loves you; stay golden.

Zane Segalas – Oh Zane, it's scary how much of a beast you are. I know you are gonna get a chance to show off at the House next summer, and nothing would make me happier. It was quite a tease only having you for two weeks this summer, but two is so much better than nothing. There is never a dull moment when Zane is around and you always find a way to have fun with everything you do. Please come back for the whole session next summer, I promise you won't regret it.

Evan Strauss – We got off to a rough start this summer, but I can't thank you enough for picking up the energy in your last couple of weeks. I know you may feel like you've outgrown camp, but I can promise you that Robin Hood still has more to offer you than you'll ever know. Trust me and come back.

Enrique Tello – ET PHONE HOME! You are easily one of the quirkiest kids on camp, but also one of the most spirited. You do everything you do with a passion, and were truly a joy to be around this summer. Thanks for everything.

Michael Vertes – Vertes, you are a handful... in the best way possible. You are so much fun to be around, and whatever I'm doing with you is gonna be at least interesting. The group looks to you for reassurance in a lot of fields which is great, because your positive energy and swagger is contagious.

Zachary Warsh – WARSHDAWG. I know that by now our fantasy team is sitting atop the league comfortably in first place, and Dustin Keller is averaging at least a buck 50 per game. Seriously though Zach, I had a lot of fun with you this summer, and you have one of the bigger hearts that I've ever seen. Stay golden and stay in touch.

Joshua Wolf – Wuddup Skrimp dog? You are the perfect blend of a pretty/posh boy and a full-blown Robin Hooder. You have been such an integral part of this group since you found The Realm four years ago and it truly shows. Please keep coming back and doing your thing.

Boys, I couldn't be more proud of how much you grew this summer. You came in as a timid group of 24 individuals and you left as one loud united front. You guys are inclusive, kind-hearted, confident, and hilarious. I can't thank you enough for giving me the best 7 weeks of my life. Please keep coming back; Robin Hood needs Troupe 264 just as much as Troupe 264 needs Robin Hood. Never take this place for granted. PEACE, LOVE, CAMP.

Friars, Friars count off...Oh wait...
Empty your water guns, put down
those brooms and those iTouches, flip your last area, and take a seat to re-live the epic summer of 2012.

Remember opening day...of course Mikey has been here for days. He was so helpful power washing the decks...Not. Remember Stone arriving before any of the staff is out of bed. Soon after, the buses started to arrive and our summer began with 23 campers. Summer days quickly passed with team handball, volleyball, homerun and boating filling up our days.

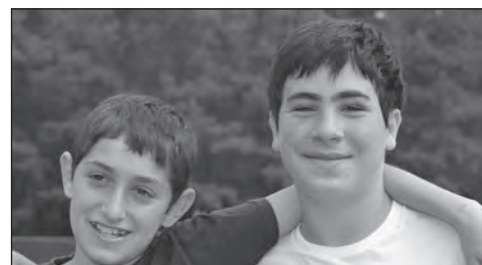

Remember big events at camp like Spirit Day – playing Birchmont on our home turf. Podl and Wassy rocked their game of tennis though and grunted after every point to piss the other team off. Remember our mountain trip...Sobel's "swim" down the rapids – those were some intense natural water slides. Manny had the best last day with that unbelievable view at the top.

Remember Beach Day; it is obviously one of the best days of the summer but you guys made it even better. We got a discount on Splash shirts and brought that style back. Remember, the horrible chaffing. Mikey why did you buy a ring? Are you Frodo? We got back to camp, glad we had so many showers in our bunk and avoided the lines.

Remember Parent's Visiting Day. Highlight was not our parents but the cookies, amazing as usual. Remember Danny's dad being great at ultimate and Napach's dad's unbelievable catch in softball. Thank you Eli's mom for the brownies. It would not be a Parents Day without some tears - remember when Danny made Cooper Sobel cry, nice one.

Four weekers left and camp got in gear for Green and White but excursions delayed the break. Remember the first day of excursion. The longest drive to a beach in Maine. At the beach Rybo, Podl and Wassy all trying to make some new friends with their tanning placement. Remember watching a guy kite board. Guys, we are going to Canada for a maple syrup tour. Thank you Patrick for driving us. Remember not being able to find the overturned bucket that marked our campsite. Who marks a driveway with a bucket? We set up camp with steaks for dinner and it was a great night. Insane rain kept us up and soaked through everything. You guys were troopers.

Standard wake up day two with milk and cereal for breakfast. Remember white water rafting...Navy almost knocking out Mullaney's tooth...chicken fights in the pool...relaxing in the hot tub. We got back to the campsite in one piece and all our teeth still in place. You boys went crazy having a van vs van paintball fight. Remember when Napach did some stone tossing. When we finally settled down we relaxed around a campfire.

We wrapped up excursion on day three in chaos. Remember when we didn't go to fun town. Remember when we dropped off Ethan and picked up Pepe. Getting to see Batman in IMAX was sick. We finished up wandering around the mall and then made it back to camp around ten ready for Green and White to break.

GET UP! LETS GO!! 5:30 Green and White broke. Remember running down to the waterfront and a quick change of direction up to the grandstand. We came upon two big black limousines taunting us from afar. Surprise counselor captains are already in the limousine! Congrats to Podl and Bear leaders of the Great Green Olympians and Mikey and Rybo leaders of the Mighty White Savages. Great B team basketball game boys. Remember our intense ultimate game. Remember Sobel's game winning Danish catch. KJ dominated soccer. White Team had a spectacular push for an almost comeback in volleyball. Eli had a header in soccer which threw him back 5 ft.

Remember the last week. We wrapped up the summer with chill EA's. Sadly Mullaney left us a little too early. Remember our trip through the Odyssey.

Let's take some time now and remember the whole summer. We danced at our 1st dance party with DJ Wood. You ran from staff during Camper Hunts. Remember being blamed for the bat incident. We had a sick set up below the bunk, and many late nights there. Remember the concert on the quad... remember when benches were on time... we don't. Remember Gladiator Ball EA, Podl cried for the 2nd time of the summer from laughter. Remember, Frankel trying to catch the bear in the act at the Archery Range. Mullaney's one-handed tree shot, Jackson's non-tree shot but still being the first in the group to hit them. Remember when Bear yells at himself after messing up... Mateo and Harry Butler being butt buddies, playing basketball all the time. We can't forget about GL Swap day, with K Sol proving why she deserved Captain. Remember our canoe trip to the marina and loading up our backpacks with all you could get. Remember Zombie Apocalypse during the rainstorm upstairs and barricading the doors shut.

You boys had so much happen this summer the list goes on. Remember Mullaney being super protective of Sheldon and Navy's creepy laugh at the sandbar. How about when Mullaney was an MMA fighter or Rosecan laughing at every bad joke. We can't forget about Swain taking his shirt off in front of girls after every period. Remember Founder's Night - we gave a good gift but what was better was when Napach tried to make a joke. Remember when Eli hit a double and completely skipped first base. Frankel getting walkie talkies was classic. Remember Jackson not talking and Jackson not hitting trees. Don't forget about The Nasach attitude, the race of the slowest. Remember how Stone was always in just underwear, or in his bed.

We had fun with activities like Spud. Remember playing with ghost numbers, kicking it all the way to the Far Far Field. Also, the Hunger Games at Archery and playing squirrel with the scribes. Of course we beat the Lancers in every challenge.

Remember Mateo being a great friend and digging through the mud to find Luis' iPod. Max and Napach keeping the heat all day.

Food was a huge part of our summer. Remember how bad our Sunday Sundaes cheers were, especially the Jonny's friends one... Jackson and Podl loving Saltines. Thanks for having a birthday Jamie – remember not being there for the celebration in the dining hall?

Wrapped up our summer without holding back. Remember finally going to Cozy on the second to last night of camp. Podl you got Emery with your watered down milkshake. Remember playing steal the bacon for our last EA.

Boys you absolutely killed it this summer. It was a pleasure to have all of you. I cannot wait to see what Forester summer holds. You guys are finally becoming close as a group and it is great to have been a part of that. You kept me on my toes all summer with all your crazy ideas and shenanigans. Have a good year and keep being reckless but stay safe.

FRIARS

Manuel Balbontin – Your positive attitude towards camp always raises the groups' spirits and brings a smile to our face. I hope you had a great rest of the summer, and hope to see you for more than two weeks next summer.

Stone Black – You've been here for seven years now and it becomes clearer every day how big of a role you have in this group. Keep coming back and you can continue to help lead this group into its future summers.

Henry Boeschstein – Bear, it is hard to believe it's only your third year at camp, as it seems like you have been with this group from the very start. You have a very bright future ahead of you at Robin Hood; hope to see you for years to come.

Ryan Bollman – Rybo you are giant, and even though you tower over your group mates, you are still one of the friendliest, most kind-hearted of them all. I can't believe it's just your third year, but it's clear to see you have solidified your role in this great group.

Mikey Brockmann – What can I say about camp that you don't already know, you've been here ten years now and it amazes me each day how much you have grown from when you were the tiniest of Tinkers to the young man you have become today. I know you will continue coming back, and I cannot wait to see you help lead Boys' Camp as you move up through the ranks.

Harry Butler – Though it was only your second year in The Realm, you bring a needed British presence to the group. You always make people laugh with your hilarity and I hope you continue coming back to finish your camper career and beyond.

Luis Cahen-Salvador – You are always trying to bring a smile to everyone's face in the group and make them laugh. Your mischievous ways can get you in some trouble occasionally, but your intentions are always good-spirited.

Pablo Carrisquilla – It's amazing that even after being away from The Realm for a few years, your ties here pulled you back, and you were able to fit right back in the group like no time had passed.

Marc Frankel – You are the king of timing, whether it is with your jokes or assisting the staff, you are always eager to help out and drop whatever you are doing to benefit the group as a whole. You are extremely mature for your age and I see you being one of the leaders of this group in the coming years.

James Fuente – Though you are not the most talkative person in the group, you always choose your words wisely and when you do, it is always to the benefit of the group whether it is a joke or a serious notion.

Andrew Garson – Rabbi, you are known all around camp for your generosity and energy, and it helps to set a great example for your group. Every year you grow more and more mature, and I hope you have a terrific year.

Harrison Green – Even though you showed up late, you jumped right in and didn't miss a beat all summer. Your athleticism makes every activity we have just that much more enjoyable to watch. I hope you are able to come for the entire summer next year.

Daniel Henschel – Your constant unnecessary highlight plays always bring a smile to my face and shows how you truly never waste a minute in The Realm. You are a great part of this.

Fernando Igartua – You are one of the calmer, quieter ones of our group, but you definitely have your moments when you get the group going and cracking up. It was great to be your counselor this summer and I am excited to see what is to come.

Eli Josel – There can only be one, and it's you. You entertain the whole camp and even the judges. I can tell how much camp means to you, and you are a perfect example of someone that can thrive at camp and be yourself.

Ian Napach – You are one of the funniest kids in camp. The progress you've made from last summer to this summer has been astounding. Don't throw any more rocks and you'll be on your way to a great camp career.

Kalju Jake Nekvasil – KJ, you were a great new addition to the group. Though you came late and left early, you definitely left your mark on everyone. Right after you arrived, Color War broke and your performance was outstanding. Can't wait to see you next year.

Mateo Peyrouzet Garcia-Sineriz – You have truly shown me this summer that you understand when we talk about forming these strong bonds between friends that last a lifetime. I hope you continue to form these bonds with all of your group mates in the summers to come.

Joshua Podl – You know you are one of the leaders of this group; you are always trying to get everyone to listen up or play that last inning of softball. Your intensity is unmatched in the group and I hope you realize how much of a role you play in keeping this group along the right path.

Jackson Pollock – You play a quintessential role in this group in keeping everyone's spirits up. Not everyone in camp can see that side of you yet, but we do and when you let the rest of camp know you for who you really are, you will become a leader of Boys Camp.

Oscar Rojas – Though it was your first year, you jumped right into every activity. You could clearly see your dad's passion for camp in you and I hope that you continue returning to The Realm.

Ethan Rose – Your intensity showed in every sport we played, it was clear you were a fantastic athlete. You really fit into this group and we hope you can return for many years to come.

Andy Rosecan – It was great to see how much your presence in this group has grown since last year. Plus, you really took it up a notch with your athleticism too! I'm looking forward to you bonding more with your group in the years to come.

Jose Sainz – Pepe, you are a clown. It is such a joy to be your counselor with all of the energy you have; you always keep us on our toes since we never have a clue what's coming next. Hopefully during the year you are able to stay in contact with everyone and keep coming back for many more summers.

Manuel Sanchez de Movellan – Even though you were only here for the first four weeks, it was clear that you are a beast at all activities and a friend to everyone. You are very vocal, which is hard for many international campers, especially in such a large group with other leaders. I really hope you are able to stay full session next summer.

Ben Sobel – It's clear to me how much you love this amazing place; day in and day out I can see the affection you have for it. You always have that big smile on your face, no matter what the activity. I cannot wait to see what you become through the rest of your camper career.

William Swain – You are one of the goofiest, well-spirited kids I know, but you still remain as one of the most competitive and dominant athletes in this group. I love how no matter who you are hanging out with, you seem to fit right in and enjoy every second of it. I can't wait to see you on staff in a few years.

Gabriel Thiriez – You can tell how friendly and caring you are by the fact that you not only spend as much time as you can with everyone in the group, but you are also always checking up on your little brother to see how he is doing. Hopefully you can stay the whole session next summer, and everyone will realize how valuable of an asset you are to the group.

Max Wasserman – It was apparent this year that you became a leader of this group. You have grown so much this past year and I hope you continue to thrive within the group. I'm proud of you because you gave it your all this summer, and it's clear to anyone who knows you how much this place means to you.

James Weiss – Without a doubt you are one of the brightest kids in the group, although sometimes you get a little head strong, you always mean well in the end. You've been here for so many years and are such a vital part to the group dynamic; I cannot wait to see you next summer.

FORESTERS

Kim Pooresters take a load off, sit down and reminisce with me in what was the best summer of my life. I had watched you guys grow up in The Realm for many years but had yet to attain a true relationship with the group. I started off knowing very few of you, but ended up becoming very close with all of you. The hilarity you guys provided as well as your strong athletic abilities made my job the best on camp. You guys welcomed me into the group and I will forever be thankful for that. This summer has given me some of my best camp memories; I think all of you will feel the same after you review our summer together...

We came back to camp and took The Realm by storm. Remember our first evening activity of volleyball and Smiles being an athlete? The first week of camp was full of sports, fun, and loaf. Remember our Forester nicknames? The 4esters, Forkesters, Jersey Shoresters, World Touresters, On the Flooresters, Do your Choresters, Sing the Chorusters, Chuck Norristers, Al Goresters, Do Moresters, Back and Front Dooresters, Jewish Menorahsters, Where we take the Waresters. Remember our daily antics? Photo opts at every activity? Okay now silly face... And for the real photos, our ever-changing hand positions (throwing up the Dermer and the 4). Our dining hall cheers: "Der Dey Wuz", boxers underneath boxers to breakfast, and Lainey's Sweet 16...

Remember: Javi being Mr. Perfect, Bloch's riflery and dj skills; Alejandro's 9 times outa 10 she a 10; Tommy's insane ability to pick up sports; Cesar's cool as the other side of the pillow; when Dermer was Jar Jar binks; when Flash wore superman cape socks to West End; when Luis was close with his friend at North Conway; when Gotts was on time for every period; Grayhound's sick beat boxing; Kaptzan always having a good one; DK always using his lips; Jorge being the best Co on camp; Meister having a great birthday; Drux somehow always having a secret candy stash; Cody asking a lot of intellectual questions; Andres being related to Carlos; Ben Scheer's name is Ben Scheer; Schreibs' goofy faces; when Smiles was R2D2; Noah Thomas having the best music taste in the group; Fernando baila conmigo; and, how Wheeler was obsessed with Takeshi?

Remember Drake and Josh always together; Flash and Cristal always beefing; and, everyone knowing that his name is Ben Scheer? Remember Rick's Po Ti Valore and his constant Kief Laughlin jokes? Remember Rushton's facebook call and his domination in Beirut?

Remember all of camp getting hyped up for Sack even though 90 percent of them had no idea who he was? Then Sack actually coming and instantly fitting in? Remember Wheeler vs. DC and the definition of milking it? Will he ever be forgiven? Does Wheeler really even care? Remember Grayhound killin' it all day every day? Javi giving him the ball? Grayson being in the middle of the social for Seasons of Love was the highlight of the summer. Remember Cody missing 25 straight shots only to hit 2 clutch shots to win in basketball? Remember our group stretching before handball or Ben Scheer kicking the ball over the fence not once but twice? Remember Javi's incredible bear-handed catch? Remember volleyball at the sandbar? Remember Dermer and Gimbel's intense Ping-Pong games on the porch and everyone clearly rooting for the underdog (Dermer). Remember Flash always rocking the clip even though Meister clearly deserved it? Remember you guys absolutely killin' it at Forester aiding? I have no doubt that you guys will be some of the greatest counselors this camp has seen.

Remember how successful we were in Intercamp play? Remember our softball tournament? Remember Wheeler calling out Polite Boy lyrics from behind the plate? Or how we had to bring in Mariano a.k.a. Flash as a closer? Remember winning every game we played and never getting mercy ruled? And then going out for pizza and getting 100 slices for only 20 people?! At West End, we fought so hard for so long and the score didn't match how close the game was. The second game was a great comeback. Dreux's 8 blocks and Schreiber's high energy were huge in the game. All of you on the team deserve a lot of credit for how much effort you put in, and all our boys in the stands deserve a lot of praise for how much you were supporting your group mates. Remember Spirit Day? Our domination of most sports besides softball? Gotts and Schreiber being the two grandpas on the team? Cody's buzzer beater to win in basketball was phenomenal.

Remember our trip to Sack's house? A delicious lunch of steak tips, watermelon and pasta went perfectly with a nice dip in the lake. Remember our van stuck in Sack's sand driveway, then rushing to Conway to see Spiderman and quickly getting to McDonalds in time to meet up with Kaptzan? Remember saying "Taco Night" before letting it out, "Mom I grabbed the hoop," "Wheeler, the duck tape," "Accidental Fetal Release" as Ben Scheer would say, "The Eagle is flying," "Dat Ain't Right" and "Wrong!" Iron Man sounds, Ben Scheer's Pig Squeal, and 1 by 1 by 1? Remember when Dermer explained Freeze to Cesar? STOP! Or when Cesar got stack and Cristal got a sausage? Remember the mysterious rug/matt flipper?

Remember Excursion? Picking up Maddog and heading to Boston was the right move for the three days. Bumping Big Spender at all times during the day was necessary. We got in earlier then scheduled and had a nice relaxing lunch at the Massachusetts Steak House. There we learned all about Boston's surprising history from Cristal. Remember the cat pond? Those poor cats... Then we hopped on with Jumping Jim for the legendary duck tour. Remember quack quack? Mesiter's big birthday? Wheeler's fridge sit? All the available parking in Boston? Sky Zone being sick? Meister, Schreiber and Flash's sketchy sight seeing? The famous Cactus War? Going to see Ben Scheer Madness was a complete hit... Remember Goulash girl? "If I have never heard of it, it's probably not a real thing." #Fact... Remember Monkey Trunks? Maddog and ropes courses went hand in hand. Remember how we closed out the perfect excursion with the PG buffet and Dark Knight?

Remember Green and White? Captains Smiles and Flash with Co's Schreiber and Jorge made for a great war. Remember Noah Thomas' 4 in riflery? Smiles' lip sync – were Dermer and Scheer in that too? Remember the great soccer match? Tommy putting his team ahead for the win... Remember DK and Cody coming up huge for B Basketball? Remember Bloch saving camp from the dumpster fire of 2012? I was lucky enough to be able to watch mostly all of your games played. Every activity was so well fought and I applaud each and every one of you for giving it your all.

Remember our last week of camp? A little sneak peak of what next summer has to come with the Saxons being out of camp. Remember our letter and dead animal sent to the Bards? That ain't right! Remember our last two evening activities? First Steal the Bacon with the matchup of the century of Gotts vs. Smiles and then Soccer that was dominated by Tommy and Fern.

Remember our time here not being wasted? Remember the great memories we will always have with each other? This summer is one that I will never forget and I will always be grateful for you showing me such a great time. I can't put into words how happy I am that I have gotten to know each and every one of you so well. You boys really are camp and it is so evident in how younger groups look up to you. Your time is next and you guys are going to be unbelievable Saxons and even better counselors one day. I will continue to watch you guys grow and I am so pumped to see you develop into the great men I know you will become. Please know that I will always be there for you, just as you all have done for me this summer.

Javi – Mr. Perfect, you cease to amaze me. You made periods entertaining, as we all knew you would do something extraordinary. It is impossible to catch you in a bad mood, which made my job easy and fun. I wish you luck with your tennis and I hope you come back for full session next year to completely enjoy your Saxon summer.

Bloch – I've never seen a better representation of an individual being completely comfortable in his or her element. As good as camp is for you, you are better for camp. You truly care about The Realm and are always ready to help. It is awesome to see the joy you get from giving back to camp.

Alejandro – Un Lepe! You are the most energized 13-year-old Forester this camp has ever seen. Your endless supply of questions keep me on my toes and your toughness enables you to keep up with the older kids. You are a great athlete for your age and this group. Hope to see you back next summer.

Tommy – You make every activity exciting as you give it your all during periods. In the bunk you are considerate and get along with everyone. It is nice knowing that I can count on you to always be well-mannered and following directions. I am excited to see you next summer.

Cesar – You're as cool as the other side of the pillow. You came into camp knowing no one and very little English but left with many great friends. I'd like to commend not only the group for this but also yourself. It takes a lot of guts to come into such a tight-knit group and devote your summer to making friendships like the ones you found here. You are a very genuine kid and I can only hope that you will get as much out of next summer as you did from this one.

Dermer – STOP!!! with hands in the air. You are one of the funnier people I have ever met. You have the ability to laugh at yourself, which is so important in a group. We really missed you the week you went home, but there was nothing better than to see you return without missing a beat. It goes to show how tight this group truly is. Being injured for the summer put you in a situation where most would get upset, but you had the right attitude by refusing to let it get your summer down. Your constant hilarity makes my job worth it, and I am so excited to see you finally mature in the next ten years.

Flash – There's not a person on camp who has a negative thing to say about you. You are a great athlete, sport and friend. You are in every inside joke the group comes up with, and you are phenomenal at remembering when. I know I joke around with you at times, but you really are someone junior campers should look up to. Your persistence in the group's success makes you a clear leader. Our hair is very similar.

Luis – You are the prime example of an ex-foreigner. You have completely transitioned into a full blown American and a vital part of the group. I love our little arguments and am so proud of how you handled this summer. I know I expected a lot out of you and you surpassed those expectations. Your patience this summer has been highly appreciated, and I can't thank you enough for helping me out. You are a great friend of mine.

Gotts – Jake, I came into the summer knowing very little about you, but left with a great understanding of who you are. You are incredibly tough but have a legitimate sensitive side. I love seeing you interact with Maddy/Midge because it shows such a different aspect to your camper career. You are a clear-cut leader in this group and it is evident in the way people respect you. You give the group a certain bad-boy element and never apologize for it. I can't wait to gouge your eyes out again, and I hope to see you soon.

Captain – You are the most competitive on the field and the nicest off the field. You have a great understanding of what it means to be a good group mate. Although there are remarks unneeded, at the end of the day you supply the group with pure support. You are always looking out for others and take the role of the safety net. When you say it's not a good idea, it probably isn't and people respect you enough to agree. You came late but quickly bonded with the group again, and I can't wait to see you back next summer.

DK – DK, you are my biggest critique and I couldn't be more appreciative of it. You are constantly giving me advice and you continue to be my motivation to be better. You are hilarious in a very quiet way and it is evident that many people agree with that. You demand respect from everyone in the group and in return you give them knowledge. You are both book and street smart and one of the most clued-up people I've ever met. Continue to come back and share your knowledge with campers beneath you, they will need it.

Jorge – What a great summer I have watched you have! Your role in Green and White this summer was such a great thing to watch, as you were selected by your peers as a Green and White Co-Captain. You led beautifully from the back and were a huge reason why your team was so successful. I know I can speak for others when I say you have a certain respect for camp and what it has done for you that sets you apart from most other campers. The Realm needs more people like you, and I know that you will show those younger than you why this place is so important. I can't wait for you to help lead Boys Camp next summer.

FORESTERS

Dreux – I wish you came to camp earlier. You are such a spirited individual as shown through your Nike elite socks and it gives this group something they didn't have before you came, which is flare. You make every conversation so much better with your presence and everything you add to the group is a hit. Watching you light it up at camp against West End was one of the most determined efforts I have ever seen in Camp Robin Hood intercamp play. You find a great balance between being aggressive on the field and chill in the bunk. I know you will dominate Saxon summer in every aspect.

Cody – Choosing one word to describe you is quite the challenge as many words come to mind but none more obvious than hilarious. Although to some it might seem as if your mind isn't always awake, I know that you have a very intelligent sense of humor. I really have no idea what's going to come out of your mouth at any moment, but I know what ever you say, it will make me laugh. With this being your ninth summer, you are the most experienced out of the entire group but you do not hold this above anyone's head. I still remember you from junior camp and it is awesome to see who you have become. I know that you're still growing, and I am eager to see the final product.

Ben Scheer – You are the most considerate person I have ever met. You are constantly thinking about others and what is best for the group. Inclusive could be your middle name, but then again your name is Ben Scheer. I am so happy that I have gotten so close to you this summer. You have taught me so much and helped me remember what I have forgotten from my camper years: The Realm is a wonderful place to be stress-free. There is no one that shows that more than you. You always have a smile on your face and there is not much that can get you down. What is most amazing about your camper career is that it is only your second summer. You have learned so much and are just getting started. I am sure I will be thrilled with the man you become.

Schreibs – That face is permanently embedded in my mind. You keep me smiling everyday and are one of the few people on camp that can brighten up my day by doing absolutely nothing. You shine in this group and provide a goofy element that makes this group so diverse. You are by far the weirdest kid in the group and you should be mighty proud of that, mostly because Wheeler is also in this group. I love how you are able to lead in a quiet yet efficient manner and know that you will be a great counselor.

Smiles – The duck tape. You are the standard of which every camper should shoot for. You genuinely care about your group mates' wellbeing, and have the respect from each of them as well. Your time at Robin Hood is only just beginning and you are one of the most counselor ready campers I have seen come through The Realm. I am so proud of what you have accomplished this summer and am completely confident in your ability to lead this group to an awesome Saxon summer. You're so shmacked.

Noah – My friend, you ask the most questions out of anyone I've ever been a counselor for. I know at times it may seem as if I get frustrated and this is not your fault at all. Although 98 percent of our conversations were about music, through this I was able to get a great feel for who you were as a person. I think coming back full session would do a lot of good for you and the group. It is always tough to enter a group halfway through the summer. I think you would enjoy camp a lot more coming back for all. You are a great kid, just focus on different topics.

Fern – Baila conmigo mi major amigo. You can make me laugh at any point in the day. You are so comfortable with yourself and it is clear that people are comfortable with you. I am so glad that you came back this summer, and I think that you are too. We had a great three weeks and I encourage you to come back for your Saxon summer. It will benefit you greatly. Good luck at home!

Wheeler – You're too smart for your own good. Seriously please dumb it down for the rest of us. You are constantly in the know even if you are not supposed to be. Your week-long infirm stay broke my heart. The whole group was too normal, and we lost a big leader of the group. Wheeler, you have a lot of love for camp and this group. Your knowledge of camp history enlightens others in the group. You have the ability to persuade anyone on just about anything; make sure you're doing it in a positive way because kids do look up to you. Can't wait to see you back as a Saxon running camp!

Andres – The name Andres is not the only thing we share. You have a strong love for camp, as I do. I cannot take credit for this as you truly opened up to the group and embraced everyone as a friend. You are a wonderful camper because you are always excited about what is next. I hope to see you back next year, but I'm still not letting you get ice cream on the boardwalk. Have a great year!

Meister – You get it man. You understand camp at a really early age. You have such a great comprehension of what this place is about, and it is so amazing from a counselor's point of view to watch you teach others what The Realm means.

Everyday one can find you with nothing but a smile on your face and a pep in your step, although you are a slow walker. Sorry dude but you walk slow. You win the day unlike anyone I've seen before. You said that your only goal of the summer was to make it last as long as you can. You will be a Saxon next year, I know you will make it last! Have fun with Jabari Parker.

Grayson – What can I say? This summer was the summer of The Greyhound. You ran rampant through The Realm with a heart as big as Chuck's Playhouse. You made me laugh harder than I've ever laughed before, and that's not just because I love me some Knock Knock jokes. But in all seriousness, it takes a lot of courage to come into a place you've never been before and leave that big of an impact on the whole camp. You live on the edge and that can be a positive and a negative, but always remember that people will like you as long as you be yourself. You have a big heart, hound; share it with the world.

To My Staff – Although this group really did make it easy on us, more than anything I have to credit you all. Sack, Rick and Rush, you kept me on point through the whole summer. I had no worries leaving you in charge for many parts of the day as a lot of the time you ran the group better than I did. I am so happy with how close we became this summer and I know that that will never change. From softball tournaments to excursion we had the most fun, and I know the kids did as well. Without a doubt, we were the best staff on camp. Anyone who has something to say about that, know that THAT AINT RIGHT. Much love, close to too much love.

SAXONS

Saxons 2012

"Doing reckless things responsibly since 1995"

SAXONS, SAXONS count off!
1, 2, 3, 5, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 TA!
From bear stand-offs to beach trolling,
I have never met a group that does reckless things quite as responsibly as you guys. We have been through more trials than anyone could have imagined. Luckily, we came out stronger from all of them: 1 group, 15 strong (never at the same time), prowling through The Realm with the best of them.

I hope we never forget the memories that we've made this summer. Remember going more than two days without playing volleyball? Remember when everyone in camp had the same information on Bader? Not likely. Remember the very practical but ill instructed feeding regiment that Garson, Schloss and Podl thought up for Tiger and Gizmo? Yeah we do. Remember watching our boy Kief rip trees? Got to love the awkward conversation with Dennis in P-Town. Strange shows held in dark rooms anyone, followed by our record-breaking exit in under 24 minutes. The highlight of the summer had to have been Milstein's and Hugo's assault on Boston salads while stuck in traffic. "Si salads!" Or how about Milstein calling for some much needed home security for his five doors or for 20 feet of storage space?

Remember Hugo, Jake and Noah picking the worst possible night to move my bed outside? Luckily you got it back in before it started raining. Remember me trying to talk Garson and Schloss out of continuing their bear hunt. Remember the torch bearing champions who fought the bear? Maybe you guys will remember our patriotic stand protecting the flag on the fourth of July and seeing our brothers making some hefty sacrifices. Remember stopping in the mattress store after Mt. Washington to ask which mattress would be better for our brittle bones? Remember Pablo's unprovoked face plant at the waterfront courtesy of his own flip flops? Remember Coach Iain showing up huge at the Indian Acres volleyball tournament? Remember the Canada vs. Kuwait stand-off at Team Handball? Remember when I was the only one who didn't know how to get out of the shower when the doorknob fell off?

We must hold the record for the longest running water pong tournament. We will get the videos from our dunk contest with Sherm on alley-oop duty. Noah, that probably wasn't the best evening activity for a recently cleared collar bone. Remember letting the younger kids win the Challenge Cup? Remember never really knowing what the Cabaret was all about? Remember when Robin Hood became a dance camp? Remember Sherman getting around hitting two singles and one double over the course of the summer? Remember when Zipkin came back from Vienna to a spotless area? Remember all those lovely long walks? Remember Press of all people being the one to bring toilet paper to song night?

Remember Saxon dance version 2.0, trying to get Rack City put in at the end of our dance for Sam? Remember when Chayya got his own song? Remember when Jake wasn't asleep before 11:00? Remember a time when Sherman had his pants on his hips where they should be? Remember when we were all convinced that the world's strongest woman was a male sumo wrestler? Remember how it took only 2 hours before we had to call maintenance up to our room, a situation that Noah only made worse.

Remember our unsuccessful volleyball game on the beach and all the girls that came up to us because of our skills? Remember the * head room keeping us busy all day every day?

Pablo – You were great; I will always remember squeaking your name and how easy it was to get you out of bed in the morning. You came into a solid group as a new camper and you couldn't have made a more flawless transition. You were always prepared to help out even when you clearly didn't want to. Always smiling and willing to listen, you were able to make friends and well done for putting up with "you know who" at the end of your bed for three weeks. Also, thanks for showing everyone else up while surfing on excursion.

Garson – You only got 4 healthy weeks of camp, but you killed every second. Watching you take a lead roll on our canoe from design to execution was amazing. I don't know if PETA would have an opinion on our roach battles, but they were great while they lasted. It was awesome to watch you go hard and exceed the majority of the group in volleyball one handed. Remember that house we saw on the way to the hospital? You may well be running camp in a few years, and you will certainly make a great FYA.

Goodman – Living with a "who cares" attitude, yours and Milstein's room was a haven for laughs and misdemeanors. Nevertheless, you always came with a mature attitude which kept the group on level ground on many occasions this summer; I wish you could have been there from the beginning. Remember following me out of camp on Katahdin? You were the first up Katahdin! Remember being by the pool late night on excursion?

Guillaume – Back for more in your second summer at The Realm I was gutted to learn that you were only staying for two weeks, but you killed those two weeks and you were here for the important bits namely Katahdin and green and white, I never asked but how did you end up with the biggest bed? I can't wait to see you back next year you will be perfect for the little kids with that big grin. Keep up the hard work and learn to play soccer properly.

Hugo – You finished your camper career with the style and heart that we've come to expect from you. If you weren't in the center of things, then you were disappearing into the shadows as the sun went down. Remember all those pointless walks? Remember driving back from Katahdin when we wouldn't stop for you? Can't wait to see you at the waterfront next summer.

Milstein – Your genius made the whole camp laugh this summer. You epitomized a good Saxon, always having time for the little ones, getting involved in everything and owning the Green and White Talent Show. Your "future of Camp Robin Hood" speech should go down in history. Remember face-planting the surf? Remember you, Goody and sunflower seeds? Ever the athlete (cough), you bring a different direction to every situation and I can certainly see you going far in life.

Perlick – Simply put, you get camp. You've grown up so much in the last year and it showed through this summer. You were always willing to help, you were always at breakfast, and you were always with the younger kids. You became a key part of a great group and you had a great Saxon summer. Your entrance on stage during the Green and White Talent Show will live on forever. What a hero! Remember late night by the pool on excursion? How did you and Hugo get your own room again?

Podl – Winning again, what a surprise. You always brightened everyone's day. Thanks for being a voice of reason when things got chaotic. You had a great summer; you have grown up so much over the last few years. You were so close with the younger kids, and you led camp from the front this summer. You will make a great staff member. The most memorable moment of your summer has to be your ascent to heaven during the Saxon dance. Remember walking up mountains in your underwear? Remember falling asleep every night with 16 other people in the room...some of the things that went on in that room.

Press – Why did you get here so late? You came with a buzzing attitude this summer and you have become a real athlete over the past year. You also really care about the group and about camp. Remember turning down the ac temperature on excursion? Remember being relegated to the small bed for doing so? Keep up the sports, the quiet intelligent foresight, and the good times for college.

Alejandro – In your first summer in The Realm, you broke into a close group really well. You spent a lot of time on the soccer field helping teach the younger kids. I will never forget the energy you put into that Saxon dance. Remember squeaking my name at me at every opportunity? Remember trying to play volleyball with your feet?

SAXONS

Schloss – It was guaranteed that if anything was going on, you were in the middle of it. Always up for a laugh (and always disappearing), you really understood what it meant to be a Saxon. You helped the new guys settle in, and you could always be found with a couple of TPJs on your back. Most importantly of all, you made the most of your last summer as a camper. Often last out of bed in the morning because of the previous evening's antics, you always had a story to tell.

Sherman – What can anyone say about the big man on camp? You had such a great summer. When you weren't running away from the butt of your latest joke, or out on the court practicing for "the big game," you where the coolest person to chill with, ever cracking jokes and bringing the mood up when the group was down. Remember being the * head more times than anyone else? That trek up Katahdin almost killed you, but I've never seen anyone push through so much pain before. It was inspiring and you brought that same attitude to everything you did this summer.

Rafael – It was so nice to see you back in The Realm this year. You fit right back in with your group and it was great to have you there for the second part of the summer. Ever the athlete, you breezed through Katahdin. What a blow when you and Noah went down minutes into the first day of Green and White, but you still managed to cheer your team on.

Zipkin – Always smiling, why did you leave for two weeks?! Our many long, late night conversations about my waking you up often made my nights. Thanks for putting up with that. Remember when I stole your table? You have been there from the beginning and it shows in the group's attitude towards you. Everyone knows you get camp, and it really showed this summer from your Green and White intensity to the fact that you where always down at theTPJ bunk helping out the staff down there.

TUMBIE TOOOOWWWNNN!!!!

Hey Tumblers, do you know how? To eat a pie! You put your fork in first, your knife in second, and that's the way you eat a pie! Turn off Starships, get ready for snack-time, pick up a delicious, moist cookie, and get ready to relive the greatest summer of your lives – the summer of 2012!

Remember when...we all arrived at The Realm on the first day, 10 young girls all here for the first time. We all bonded quickly though, getting a tour of where we would spend the summer. Starting off a little timid, it didn't take long for everyone to feel comfortable together and be themselves in front of the group.

Remember when...we climbed Green Mountain? The boys stranded Woody at the top but good thing the Brass asked us to save the day and bring him back to camp. I am so proud of how well you girls climbed! It wasn't easy but you all made it up and down without problems. For years to come, you will look at that huge mountain across the lake at the waterfront and feel proud of this huge accomplishment. The view and experience both outweigh any unwillingness there was to climb a mountain. Plus, we were able to go to Cozy Corner after and get ice cream!

Remember when...we canoed to the Outpost and camped out? You girls did an amazing job in the boats, especially since it was the first time for a lot of you. But we all made it in record time so we were able to go swimming before the rain came. It passed quickly though, just in time for us to make some fajitas. They were a little crispy and black from being cooked for too long, but we made up for dinner with everyone's favorite treat – s'mores! We were true campers by sleeping in tents and sleeping bags that night. Roughing it out in the wild is what camp is about, but let's just be happy we all remembered our much needed bug spray! Don't forget making up our famous cheer this night also, because of Sloane's obsession with a certain dessert. Thanks to the Tumblers, no one in Camp Robin Hood will ever again question how to eat a pie.

Remember when...we went to the Mainer's baseball game? Even though we didn't watch too much of the game, we enjoyed hanging out with the other groups and eating lots of yummy food and candy. And let's not forget how cool it was when everyone got to run the bases on the field! Remember Beach Day? We spent the day endlessly reapplying sunscreen, buying gifts for our SSS, and enjoying Ogunquit. You all caught onto the buddy board beautifully making the day safe and fun. The water was quite cold, but we all braced ourselves and endured the temperature to play in the ocean. We also didn't let the little rain put a damper on our day. Instead, we just made the best of it and had an awesome time. One of the best days of the summer – sun, ocean, boardwalk, fun dip, Dippin' Dots – what's not to love?

Remember Claire's birthday? Claire's area was magically decorated in the middle of the night by the Birthday Fairy...I swear it wasn't the counselors. Waking up to Dunkin' Donuts for breakfast, Alison and I knew we couldn't fool you guys when we got up to "go for a run" even though we were wearing our pajamas when we left to get the food. The day was filled with even more food with a cake at lunch (skipping around the room in our Robin Hood way), followed by a trip to Cozy Corner!

Remember Spirit Day? All of the girls left to go to Birchmont to play sports against the other camp, but we stayed at camp with the boys. You were all outstanding cheerleaders. Remember how we made pom-poms to put in our hair and use, and how we all made signs to support Robin Hood. After some tiring cheering, we were lucky to get a fun boat ride from Michelle. Unexpectedly, the boat died, but we were saved with a camp van and went to ice cream!

Remember when...we had a girls' day at camp and the refugees visited? It was such a neat experience that we met new friends from all over the world. Meeting them and hearing their stories showed how many similarities they have with us even though they seem so different. This is something that I hope you girls will never forget and realize how special of an experience it was.

Remember my birthday? 19 on the nineteenth. I'm so happy I got to share my beloved birthday box with you girls; my mom has sent it to me since my first summer, and it's nice to open with a group of my own now that I am a Group Leader. We also got to see the greatest movie ever – Brave. It meant a lot to me that I could spend my day with all of you; and, Dara came this day to add to our group!

Remember Visiting Day? It was so nice to meet everyone's parents and see how you all were similar (or not) to them. Playing mafia with your families and showing them what we do daily at The Realm. They all must have been so proud of how you girls have grown and matured during the month you were away from them. You played sports you'd never even heard of, danced in front of people you didn't know, and became friends with 9 other strangers.

Sadly we had to say goodbye to the four-weekers the next day, including our counselor Teenac. It was hard to see our friends go but we quickly moved on to get ready for Green and White! It broke at 5:30 in the morning with air horns and limousines.

TUMBLERS

Tumblers were split into two teams with fearless captains Claire and Caroline. Joining with the Jesters, you girls played amazingly for five days with Claire and Dara as the White Savages and Caroline and Lily as the Green Olympians. Both sides put up a good fight, but in the end it was the White who feasted on steaks and saw the movie Ice Age on Lazy Day.

Immediately following Color War, we got to the greatest part of the summer – excursion! We loaded a bus and went on our way to Storyland. We had a blast with the fairy tale rides and exhibits, despite the fact that it down poured for a small portion of the day. We didn't let it get to us though; we let it pass and went on with our fun. Later on we went to the campsite to swim in that cool river, and make fajitas. We cozied up at night sleeping in the same tent as the Jesters. The next morning we ate some delicious chocolate chip pancakes and the s'mores we missed out on the night before. On the bus again, we journeyed over to the water park Whale's Tales. We spent the day in the wave pool, on the lazy river, and on some crazy water slides. Afterwards, we saw the hilarious movie Diary of a Wimpy Kid and ate some Chinese food! And of course it wouldn't have been excursion if we didn't get ice cream after. After two fun-filled days we headed back to camp.

Remember some of our amazing evening activities? Having a campfire and s'mores with the Scribes on the first night and learning all of the cheers, igniting the Tumbler obsession with Kruse, oh sorry, I mean Ducky. Others include an intense backwards scavenger hunt, extremely creative paper bag skits, going to Cozy Corner, spa night, photo scavenger hunt, hair wraps, grooming the horses, camper and counselor hunts, car wash, going to Chrissy's house and making ice-cream sandwiches, and of course pajama jump! Most of these activities ending in the beloved Candy Canteen. But the best one yet has to be challenging the TP's to a game of GaGa. It was a close match with both groups winning a game, but with GaGa champs Sloane and Claire on our side, the Teeps didn't stand a chance! Decked out in pink, the Tumblers showed the boys just how tough girls are, and not to underestimate us.

Remember when... Claire slept in late... Elisabeth wasn't giving massages... Sloane wasn't wearing her shades... Jasmine wasn't being athletic... Carly wasn't being sassy...

KJ wasn't smiling...Dara was walking fast... Maddie wasn't asking questions...Caroline's sunscreen was rubbed in on her face...Julia wasn't saying "puffy hummus"...or Lily was speaking in Hebrew? WE DON'T!

To my staff – I honestly couldn't imagine a more perfect staff. We all meshed together perfectly and worked as a team. You're all great with the girls, with patience, warmth, and enthusiasm in everything you do which is exactly what they needed. The summer wouldn't have gone as well as it did if it weren't for each of you, so thank you for being amazing!

Carly – Your sassiness was always very entertaining and funny for the group this summer. Keep singing and dancing for years to come!

Caroline – You're so mature for your age and wise beyond your years. I love how welcoming you were to all of the girls and friendly to everyone. I know you'll succeed in anything you try in your future!

Claire – Your athleticism and willingness to try anything made you an amazing and easy camper. You're so bright and mature for your age and I know you have an amazing future ahead of you, (Clahhh)!

Dara – I admire the courage you had to come halfway through the summer into a group of girls who already knew each other, especially being from a different country. But you fit in perfectly and were always open to making new friends!

Elisabeth – Your contagious smile brightened everyone's day. I loved how you were friends with every girl in the group and brought everyone together.

Jasmine – It was so great to watch you open up as the days went by; you're so silly and fun to be with. Keep doing sports, you'll be amazing at every one you try.

Julia – Waking up next to you and seeing you first thing in the morning was always an awesome start to my day. Your energetic personality brought fun to everything we did this summer.

Katie – It was so cool to get to know you this summer and watch you get more comfortable at camp day by day. You're so easy going and kind to everyone.

Lily – You are one of the goofiest girls I know! I could always count on you to bring some laughs to any activity we did this summer. You always made the group smile!

Maddie – I loved how you were always joking and giggling at every situation, making the day more fun. You were always open to new people and hanging out with every girl in the group.

Sloane – There isn't a person at camp who didn't want to be your friend. You're so friendly and a great leader. Never change your silliness and have fun with everything you do Bone!

To my Tumblers of 2012 – Who could have believed that all of you who came as strangers would leave as a bonded, tight-knit group. You were an amazing group of girls and made my first year as a Group Leader easy and fun. I am so happy with how the summer went and it's thanks to your willingness to do anything that made it go so well. Each one of you will always be special to me and I hope you all keep coming back for years and years until YOU are Group Leaders! It is so exciting to watch you girls begin your camper career as my time dwindles down. This is a really special place and I hope you cherish it forever and appreciate how lucky you are to come to Robin Hood. Always remember to be open to new things and people at camp, and don't rush through your camper years. I can't wait to watch you all grow up and see you as Scribes in 2019!

(Tune to peanut butter jelly time)

JESTERS – where do I even begin, I feel honored that I got to have you all for two years in a row. I seriously believe that you guys are the best group and have so much potential as the Scribes of 2018. I know you're all at home, listening to some fun tunes and going to school but stop for a minute as we remember what a great summer we had, and relive the moments that made this summer magical. Where do we even begin...remember the first day of camp when you all found out we got the new cabin for the second year in a row.

Remember the mobs, going to Jodi's cottage to make unique cookies, playing Apples to Apples, Yimi falling off the hammock until we were all dying of laughter, stealing my mattress back from Ellie-only to realize that it actually was her mattress, the doggie door being made in our cabin and then Zoe making a new one, Haley's show that she put on at night, Se'van (Billi), Waking you girls up at 7 am with pizza and m&m's, Maddie sleep talking-"don't let that chicken eat me," Zoe - "cantaloupe is pissing me off," INAPROPRO, "Because clouds are black and stupid," Giving Bob the balloon a proper goodbye (he was a great friend), spitballs at the barn, trying to win as many prizes as possible on Jordan's birthday and succeeding, and when Billi sneezed on Dermer's face.

Remember when we had an intense game of greasy watermelon, Haley making a yummy lactaid bosco stick, Billi never falling in necomb, Billi's secret confession of what she does on the dock, Zoe's "Go rooster", Maddie and Molly's fall off the bench where Molly couldn't stop laughing and crying for an hour, Sadie's pillow for your butt, Ditch bocci and have a dance party at the OTD, Water balloon fights, Attacked Alison with water, Billi hung up a long piece of floss and had everyone in the cabin stand up together and floss their teethe, Julia's insane jump roping.

Remember climbing Green Mountain, getting Cozy Corner before, Izzy falling down at least 100 times, holding on to each other's hands so we wouldn't fall, climbing up to the tower to see the amazing view, Billy Bob Joe Junior helping us up the mountain, taking lots of selfies at the top of the tower, looking at the beautiful view off of the tower, and by the end of the trip being so proud of what we all accomplished...I had never been more proud of you girls than on that trip, the whole time you girls were singing and telling stories; I never once heard a complaint.

Remember when Lily stuffed her face with blueberries, when we made Dick make announcements for us, "Stop flirting," Yimi fell from the hammock in Jodi's cottage and couldn't stop laughing, Haley throwing rolls of toilet paper around, Julia saying suspicious, pop and squat, when Paige and Zoe's shoes got stuck in the tree, Mr. Hanky song, Billi getting Febreeze in the mail, dancing freakishly, watching a woman throw away flowers when she claimed she was going to take them home, Natalie getting tangled in her clothes, getting so excited over cheese sticks being served, Maddie talking in her sleep - "don't let the chicken eat me," Zoe making us a doggy door in our cabin, and a tarantula and Jordan becoming friends.

Remember Beach Day, are we there yet???, Billi giving plastic surgery to the mermaid, jumping over every wave that came our way, trying to eat as much dip n dots as possible, rolling around in the sand trying to cover as much of our bodies as we could, buying things for our S.S.S., getting our tan on, collecting shells, and just enjoying the beautiful day.

Remember the start to this year's Green and White - fire alarms waking us up at 1 am and struggling to turn them off until Dallas saved the day, then being woken up at 6 am to loud noises and running to the soccer field to see limousines pulling up...jumping up and down at the realization that Green and White had actually broken. Haley and Nyla as team captains, and I was so impressed at what good sportsmanship you girls had over those five days, I have never seen a group get along so well and completely drop the Green and White when we were all together as a group.

Remember excursion, finding out that all junior camp was going together – the more the merrier! Driving up to Story Land where ya'all thought it would be a place where they would just tell us stories but bursting with excitement when you guys found out it was actually an amusement park. Remember running around in the rainstorm where we all got soaked...Remember camping out and playing in the river next to the campsite...eating yummy quesadillas and then s'mores...sleeping in the same tent snuggled together...The next day going to Whales Tales and trying to ride as many rides as possible...Eating Chinese food at Panda Garden...Going to see Diary of A Wimpy Kid where Billi screeched in the theatre when the hand came out...getting the best ice cream ever and then playing on the playground... returning back to camp, never being so excited to return back to The Realm.

Remember when...Kunmi wasn't planning, Yimi wasn't thinking, Natalie wasn't jumping around, Haley wasn't singing, Julia wasn't giggling, Paige wasn't hugging, Jordan not having anything to do, Shaina was unprepared, Molly wasn't questioning, Madison wasn't talking to a friend, Zoe without a pet, Kate wasn't posing for the camera, Mayssa not being a happy camper, Billi wasn't making us laugh, Emily wasn't pondering, Livy wasn't flirting, Dina wasn't being fearless, Lily being without a pal, Serena wasn't sharing, Olivia wasn't running around, Ruby didn't have a smile on her face, Izzy being quiet, Sadie not cracking jokes, and Nyla not dancing her heart out...WE DON'T!

Kunmi – You always knew what you wanted and had a very strong opinion of what was right and wrong. I loved that you always saw things clearly and always made sure that others felt comfortable and included.

Yimika – Your sweet nature is something that was admirable; you were always so appreciative of the good in people. You were always thanking me and your other counselors and that was very much appreciated.

Natalie – Your sense of diplomacy was such an admirable trait, you always knew what was right or wrong and made sure that others did the right thing. You were always energetic and I would rely on you to make me chuckle; you love having a good time and it really is contagious. Even though you came a few days late, you instantly fit into the group; you were always off with a friend having a good time.

Haley – Hale-Bale, it was such a privilege getting to know you even better this summer. Hands down you are one of the neatest and organized people I've ever met. You are always so helpful and caring with your friends. You truly take things to heart and try to make everyone seize the moment and have fun. I don't think you realize how much of a core person you are in this group and how much you contribute- I don't think there was a time when you weren't laughing or singing to us. I will never forget all of the silly commercials that you would sing.

Julia – Even though you could only come to camp for two weeks, I loved the time that you were in our group. You always had a cheerful attitude and put passion into everything that you did. I will never forget how every day you would be braiding someone's hair; your kind and generous attitude was something that everyone loved. I hope you keep jump roping and hope that you return next summer for a full 7 weeks!

Paige – I will never forget how every morning you would wake me up with a huge hug, which was the perfect way to start off my day. You were always filled with so many questions because of how excited you were about everything. I hope that you come back next summer for the whole summer!

JESTERS

Jordan – I loved our nightly chats about life; you are such an honest person who always speaks your mind. You have a way of speaking the truth but still saying what you believe in a caring and kind way. You were always planning things and coming up with new ideas of what to do. You are someone that anyone can come up to and you would listen to what they have to say and make them smile with your witty sense of humor.

Shaina – Shaina, Bo Baina, I loved watching you grow and mature over the summer. You have a way of life where you can do your own thing and are happy but still be a part of the group, that is something very admirable. I loved watching you call camp your home and realize how special of a place it was to you. You are such a caring friend and really look out for everyone else in the group.

Molly – Mol Bol, you never ceased to amaze me with how on top of everything you were. You continually outsmarted everyone and knew what was going on. You always seemed to have a friend by your side and consistently could think outside the box. I loved watching your love for camp grow- you really love this special place and appreciate all of its traditions. Keep helping the counselors out and telling us what the best evening activities are!

Madison – You are such a social butterfly, you are always smiling and chatting it up with someone. You constantly had a smile on your face and were always someone that your friends could go to and talk with about anything. I loved your excitement to try new things and how loving you were towards everyone.

Zoe – Zo-Bo, you made me crack up every day with your curious nature to explore and to accept new things. I have never met someone that can make a pet out of anything, whether it is a rock or leaves, you always had a new friend with you. You were concerned with how people felt and made sure that your friends were happy, and if they weren't, you always would try to comfort them. Keep giggling and I hope you keep coming back!

Kate – “Say cheese!” You always love being in the spotlight and telling stories to your friends. You have such an easy-going and happy attitude towards everything. I loved watching you grow into the group and how well you fit in. I saw this summer that you made friends for life and I hope that you keep coming back! Also, I'll never forget our secret-special handshake.

Mayssa – Mayssa-Bassa, your attitude towards everything is so admirable; you made my job so much easier by how communicative and helpful you are. You are the definition of a “happy camper;” you never complained and were always laughing. You knew how to cheer anyone up and were always so considerate of your friends. You better come back next year for the whole summer!

Billi – Billi-Bob, I've never met anyone before like you in the best way possible. I loved becoming better friends with you this summer and watching your enthusiasm for camp grow. You always kept us on the top of our toes, never knowing what you would say or do. Your excitement for life and the joy that you took out of camp is something unimaginable. You are truly the definition of a “camp character” and camp runs through your veins.

Emily – I loved watching you this summer grow into the clean, organized, thoughtful, considerate and caring camper that you are. You really seem to have the group's whole interest at heart and truly care that everyone is happy and comfortable. Your enthusiasm and fun-loving attitude is admirable and contagious!

Olivia P – Liv-Biv, I remember the first day of camp I met you I was instantly impressed with how excited you were to be there. Hearing how you handpicked this camp, I am so happy that it was beyond and above your dreams of what sleep-away camp should be. You always had a smile on your face and a positive attitude, and meshed so well into the group. You are a key and essential part of the group and it shows everyday.

Dina – I can't imagine not having you in this group; you contribute so much energy and joy. You are always the one to thank the counselors and really appreciate camp for what it is. I loved watching your love grow for camp over the summer and I can see how important The Realm is to you. You are a strong leader and someone that people look up to and can count on. That is such a great quality that you will always have. I will never forget your crazy dance moves that you would bust out during cleaning time; keep on dancing!

Lily – Lil Bil, when you first came to camp, you were a bit shy but a few days in you opened up and I loved seeing the real you. You have an easygoing way and instantly cliqued into the group. After the first week, it seemed like you had been going to camp for years; an outsider would have never known it was your first year. You brought something really special to the group and I hope you continue coming back every summer!

Serena – I am always impressed by how mature and understanding you are. You know how to balance being mature with being goofy, and absolutely know how to have a good time! You always appreciated the smallest things at camp, and that in my opinion is the thing that matters most in life. I love how caring and loving you are – never change!

Olivia S – You are the definition of a happy camper; whenever we would announce something, you would jump for joy! It was such a pleasure seeing you create friendships – it looked like you had been going to camp for years! I loved how enthusiastic and excited you were about everything. I hope you continue to keep beating everyone in basketball, and come back year after year!

Ruby – Ruby, you are one of the most easy going people I have ever met. You always did everything with a pace of happiness. I loved watching you grow out of your shell this summer; you maintained your independence even though you were always part of the group.

Izzy – Izzy-Bizzy! You really truly care about other people's feelings and make sure that everyone feels comfortable. Whenever a new camper arrived you were always the first to greet them and welcome them to the group. I could always depend on you to lead with a cheerful smile on your face. Your enthusiasm and energy about everything is inspiring. You understand camp on such a high level and it shows every day.

Sadie – I loved sharing an area next to you and loved watching you find your way through camp. You have such a great sense of humor and you always seemed to have a friend by your side. I loved how caring and considerate you were of other people's feelings. You have so much potential and I really hope that you come back next summer!

Nyla – Nyla-Byla!!! I remember the day that you became a Jester and no one expected it; it turns out it was one of the best surprises of the summer! Even though you came late you fit in so well with the group! I loved watching you grow this summer and had so much fun with you next to my area. You have an inspiring optimistic attitude that always put a smile on everyone's faces. Your awesome dance moves never ceased to amaze me and made cleaning up every day a fun time.

Dermer, Dee, Jeanie – I could not have asked for a better group of people to help me this summer. I could not have imagined this summer without you guys; you all always had my back and were always there to support me. You all were such good counselors and you always woke up every day with a bright smile. I love how close we became this summer; I really cherished the time that we spent together. I had no idea what to expect in the beginning of the summer; you all exceeded my expectations and went above and beyond every day. Thank you so much for everything; I love you girls so much.

Jesters – Where do I even begin...having you girls for two years in a row made for two of the greatest summers of my life. You girls kept me on my toes and made me laugh and smile everyday. I could not have asked for more; I loved watching you girls grow up from this summer. I feel like we are all a big family, sisters that will be in each other lives forever. I truly believe you girls have so much potential as a group and I know that you will all become strong leaders of Girls Camp one day. You girls have so much spirit and you are only 10 years old! You all have so much energy, love for camp, love for each other, and really cherish the traditions at camp. When we buried our time capsule this year, I knew that we had started something that you girls would be able to look forward to for the rest of your camp careers. I cannot wait for you guys to be Scribes and open that box, a lot will have changed by then but your group and love for each other will stay the same; it will have only grown more. You girls need to keep coming back every year so you can become the role models that you look up to now. It is your responsibility to keep holding on to the traditions and spread your love for camp to the younger generations. The Realm is like no other place in the world; the friendships that you create WILL last a lifetime. Never forget the people that have come into your lives and welcome new ones without hesitation; your family can only grow bigger. Remember to cherish every moment you have with each other, live each day to the fullest, stop on the Quad and just enjoy the love that surrounds us at camp. Every day you should challenge yourself to new things, sit with someone you have never sat with at lunch before, do your best to bring the group together by always including everyone, and embrace everything that comes your way. You girls need to stay together as a group; together you can accomplish anything that you set your minds to. Remember, "Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened." I love you girls to the far-far field and back.

Remember dinner at the campsite with Will, how we made fajita's each one in a different shape? Whether a candy or a swan, everyone let their creative side out that night!! Remember how we totally wimped out in the morning though...instead of rainy pancakes we got DRY DUNKIN!! I think we made up for that chickening-out-because-of-the-rain on excursion though with those delishhhh bagels...

Remember the Sanford Mainers baseball game...did anyone even watch the game? I think you were all too caught up with the candy, soda, man-dressed-as-a-moose, and...fried dough! F-R-I-E-D DOUGH F-R-I-E-D DOUGH F-R-I-E-D DOUGH DOUGH DOUGH DOUGH!!!! Stomach aches...worth it! Remember the bus ride back? How George scared everyone into thinking Brenda was driving 200 miles per hour? Little did you all know she was driving 35 miles per hour... Oh by the way Julie, Brenda called!

Remember so many fashion shows, wildly inappropriate skits (I'm still in shock!), and spa night when Woody let you paint his nails rainbow and Lizzie had a never-ending sign-up sheet for massages? Remember allllllmost beating the Yeomen for the challenge cup? If only we had done cupcake wars instead of spud...the Katy Perry movie would have been ours!!! There's always next summer...Remember when we FINALLY did camper hunt but it was just me and Emily and you gave us the work out of our lives, and we were STILL sore a week later? We almost got all of you, only 14 to go... Remember making cookies at Jody's, Julie's story, and Bows Got Talent? And ohmygoodness both backwards scavenger hunts? How could anyone forget Teresa's enthusiasm, Rosie's army crawl, Dana's song, or Tara's "dance?" I'm still trying to forget some of the things I saw that night... Girls!!! Don't pee there!!!

Remember learning how to make the perfect s'more? Tell me how to do it Maggie!! Power stance, patience, and rotation...BOOM the perfect golden brown mallow. Then remember making them at the ODT and doing all of those snaps for each other? 32 was a lot of Bows...

Remember Beach Day and how gorgeous it was as we trekked for 20 miles across the beach to our plot of sand? How the water was actually warm this year and you all ate so much that you could barely walk? Remember how you were covered from head to toe in ice cream, and then went and ate dinner at Splash? Yum! Remember eating mountains of ice cream at my house and accidentally microwaving the half baked for too long...you don't like milky ice cream?? Then remember going back to my house and watching Mr. Deeds...and then remember sleeping in those ahhhmaaazing fluffy beds? Too bad it was a sauna in there!!

BOWS

Remember playing mini-golf at Pirates Cove and getting those hats that were ohhh soooo attractive?? And when we did the water trampoline in your PJ's, did Pajama Jump, got to eat all those delicious doughnuts, and then made up all of those very memorable skits about your counselors?! Sorry about the Hunger Games when strange things started happening...it wasn't our fault that wild dogs attacked Rosie, that Dana was ravaged by an inch worm, or that Scurran ate nightlock berries!!! The Gamemakers gotta do what the Gamemakers gotta do...next time may the odds be ever in your favor!! And don't forget Ksol's Revenge...that glorious mix of bombardment and capture the flag (in-the-woods edition!) that kept you all captivated (and held captive!!).

You guys also swam to the Island like you were Michael Phelps and Ryan Lochte mixed into one (except obviously more talented and better looking), and I was so impressed when so many of you swam back again! Special shoutout to missss Lizzie who persevered through those waters and came out a winner, even though she missed the start of breakfast! Remember when we canoed to the Marina and somehow each of you bought 5 things even though you only had $2? Very efficient spending.

Then came Green and White. Those limos pulled up on the quad after an early awakening, and there were so many fireworks! Remember how you girls were quickly divided into the Savages and the Olympians? With Ari and Tessie leading the Green team, and Rosie and Dana leading the White Bows, the 5 days passed much too swiftly with tons of great sports, cracker eating, spelling, artwork, sportsmanship, friendship, and not so clean areas...Dana!!!! I'm only a little biased girls I promise...Go White!!! I know as captain I wasn't with you guys for a lot of Green and White but it just made the rest of the summer and each second I did have with you so much more special. Thank you for each giving Green and White your all!! Oh and I had a great nights sleep in the gaga pit... thanks bows!!

Girls, I don't think we're going on excursion... no, really I haven't heard a thing about the Bows going on excursion this year...it's definitely too expensive, too complicated... there isn't enough time left for the Bow excursion! JUST KIDDING pack those bags once again and let's relive the trip...Remember Fun Town Splash Town? The less-adventurous group and the wild group choosing which rides would be ridden? EXCALIBUR! Then remember the campsite and the stinky tents, opps sorry I mean TENT coughcough Rosie...Remember when Bree and Alison came and we were all eating some amazing fajitas...again!...when suddenly we blindfolded you and SURPRISE we arrived at Ben and Jerry's for an epic Vermonster... guys this is pathetic, we're not even half way finished...I feel like I'm going to puke...

That's how you're supposed to feel Tara! Little did we know, we thought bedtime would put an end to the day's excitement...then came the Beav-coons!! Gus-gus and his three babies came to amble through our campsite...and remember how Emily and I started our Native American rain dance that involved banging water bottles on the table and yelling HEY HA HEY HEY!! Remember those delicious breakfast bagels with Iain's make-shift grill and remember that, umm, creative trip down Saco River on tubes that took, umm, about 3 hours...? But remember how we got through it together and finished with smiles on our faces?? Then how incredible Brave was (I'm still feeling emotional guys...) and how delicious Panda Garden was? And Ohmygodbows ZEB'S your classic country store and candy land mixed into one... how perfect! Then remember that gorgeous summer rain that I love (I do actually love it!), and when you had the time of your lives at Walmart? Remember how we told you that you were going back to camp but SURPRIIIIISE Subway and Cozy...YAY!

Remember GL swap when so many dreams came true and Szabo and Andrew had you wild chickies for the day? Remember how you skipped all your activities and danced all over the quad, and how they let you do all of their make-up and pick them out dresses and even stuff their bras?? Remember when we heard the Brass talking about how they're totally going to be your real GL's next summer?? Girls, stop blushing!!!

Remember swimming at the ODT and doing paper plate awards on the last night? I've never seen such athletic skill in swimmers before the Bows of 2012...remember all those fantastic evening meetings? Pouring our hearts out, doing highs and lows, roses and thorns, snaps and stories!!! Where are the Annas? Where are the Annas? It's story time! Remember how that always brought our group together at the end of the day and how we loved it so much?? You guys each brought something unique to each meeting and you made them really special!

Well chickadees, it's been a good trip down memory lane and it was an even better summer. You guys gave all your effort to everything we did, had nothing but good attitudes and smiles on your faces, and you share an enthusiasm for camp and for each other that makes me confident in your abilities to continue the traditions of Robin:Hood and Girls Camp for all of time.

Never stop laughing, getting dirty, using funny accents, walking in a different way, singing a song you don't know, and hugging each other a little longer each day while you watch the sun set over the lake. You are all so kind, so sweet, so generous, respectful, and compassionate, and that will always serve you well. Never forget about all of our fabulous adventures during the summer 2012, because this summer our group became a family and we had the time of our lives! All my love.

Julia – Your huge smile and consistently positive attitude always brightened my day! You are such a happy and energetic camper, always up for the next activity, rain or shine. I'm going to miss our nightly chats!!

Zeena – Although you came to camp a little bit timid, you quickly jumped into daily life as a Bow! Whether it was playing lacrosse for the first time or swimming your 16 laps, you always put your full effort into everything you did and you were always successful!! I can't wait to see you when I visit Dubai!

Ellie – Your energy and love for camp is and always will be contagious. Your wacky parts in evening activity skits and very creative reasons why we shouldn't have to go to bed at 9:20 always made me laugh and got me excited for every new day with you!

Anna M – Your epic stories will never be forgotten by any of the Bows, myself included, because who has ever heard of a fairy tale where the princess has a bob and the prince doesn't want to rescue her??! Your creativity and your constant laughter made the Bows a happier and more united family. I can't wait to hear more stories at reunion!!

Anna H – Although you came into our big Bow family a little bit shy, you quickly came out of your shell showing the rest of us how to make everything fun and always enjoy camp! I'm going to miss your big goodnight hugs!!

Nat – Your wacky ideas, energy for ANYTHING, enthusiasm for camp, and wild-child side always kept me on my toes!! Between explaining your family tree and running like crazy through Girls Camp with your arms waving over your head, I could barely keep up! I knew I could always count on your warm smile and inclusive attitude to turn any Bows' frowns into HUGE smiles and make each day special for everyone.

Ariel J – Your excitement for each new day at camp, love of evening activities, and honesty in whatever we were doing was always enlightening and a good reminder of how lucky we are to spend the summer at Robin Hood! Your consistently clean area and constant influx of packages were both very impressive, as was your enthusiasm and attitude the first time you tried waterskiing!

Marisa – Thank you for all your energy and smiles this summer! You always gave 100% to everything we did, and you always made each activity fun for the group, which in turn made everyday better! You tried so many new things this summer and made so many new friends, you should be so proud of yourself for all that you did in just 4 weeks! I am so proud of you!

Sofie B – You are the most organized and time-efficient Bow! Your maturity astounds me, and I'm so happy that I got to live next to you for the first half of the summer! Thank you for your constant positivity; you were always able to put a smile on my face! I am so excited to see you grow up at camp and one day become a leader in Girls Camp.

Julie B – Whether at Gaga or cleaning your area, you always manage to make me, and the rest of the Bows laugh hysterically. Your sassiness is part of your charm, and I can't wait until you're a Group Leader, and your own campers know all of your surprises ahead of time! I can't wait for you to put on that ten-year vest when you're a Scribe and continue the legacy of Girls Camp! I'm so proud of you for everything you did this summer. Next summer you should actually learn how to sail!!!

Tessie – CHAAAANG! I'm so glad I recorded that wonderful laugh of yours and have it on video! It's been so much fun to be your counselor this summer; your energy always gave the Bows energy, even if everyone was exhausted. Your love of camp is infectious, and I can't wait to watch you move through the ranks in Girls Camp!

BOWS

Alex C – Your chatty personality and curious nature always make it such a pleasure to spend time with you. You are such an important part of the big Bow family, and I know you'll always work hard to keep the group unified. Keep coming back; The Realm needs people like you.

Ari – I'm so happy I got to know you so well this summer; you are so much fun to be with. Your generosity, compassion, and respect for others makes you a role model for the Bows. Thank you for all your effort and love this summer, it meant the world to me. Can't wait to go sailing with you and Brockmann again!

Lizzy – Each time you hugged me, I felt a little happier inside. Your love and knowledge of camp, and how important your friends are to you are so obvious, and so important to the group dynamic. Like I've told you before, never stop being the glitter and the glue! I know you'll keep the Bows as one big family!

Scurran – Whether dressed up as... something... or helping a friend, you never stop smiling, and never stop thinking of others. Your care for those around you and your generosity make me so proud of you. I hope you carry your happiness with you always; it certainly makes the Bows an even more special group.

Sophia – Thank you for your commitment to the Bows this summer. After a bit of a rocky start, you found your way, and it turned out that the Bows would not have been the Big Bow Family without you. Your cheery personality, and your openness to trying new things made you an important part of the Bow equation. I hope you keep coming back; I am so proud of how much you grew this summer, and of all the chances you took.

Carlota – I'm so proud of everything you accomplished this summer! I watched you mature and grow so much, and you know how much I love when you sing! Your love for camp grew each day, and that made me really happy. When I come to Spain, I want to try some of your olive oil!

Jamie – Your high spirits and willingness to have fun, as well as go with the flow, were so fun to be around. That southern accent and hip-shaking dance, were really hilarious and unexpected! Your enthusiasm for both your favorite, and less favorite, activities helped the Bows stay positive. The Realm needs people like you!

Sadie – From day one it was clear that you are hilarious and that you love camp so much. You are so easy to spend time with, and I feel so lucky that I got to know you this summer! Never stop smiling, never stop laughing; the Bows feed off of your love and energy!

Sara – That first day of camp seems like a million years ago. It was so much fun for me to be your counselor, and to see you mature over the course of the summer. I love how you know what you like and want, and always stick to that. Never let that change! I hope you keep reading until you've read a whole library!

Cami K – I feel so lucky that I was your GL this summer. You gave your all, and your best is all I ever could have wanted! Your hugs and smiles meant so much to me, and your spirit for love and camp is truly inspiring. Keep looking forward to the next day, and I know your strength and love of camp will always shine through!

Dana – Oh Bendy, you are a crazy child, but you made this summer so much more interesting and fun for the whole Bow family. You get so easily distracted, yet it was always love that distracted you! Love of camp, your friends or a beautiful tree. Your passion for life, and the joy you find in every day is how I want to live my life. Thank you for all your love and energy this summer.

Jara – After re-adjusting to camp after a few days, you blossomed at camp! You were always looking out for the other Bows, and always trying to get some candy! I love that you brought so many stuffed animals to camp. I had so much fun getting to know you this summer and watching your love of camp and your friends grow.

Cami M – MEATLOAF! I'm so glad that our crazy selves got to be Bows together this summer. Your wild bedtime antics and tendency to never get up in the morning, all the while shining that wonderful smile, made you all the more charming. Your quirky personality and love of camp added another great level of depth to the already fantastic Bow family.

Tara – Your maturity and growing love of camp made the Bows an even more dynamic group of chickies. I loved every second we spent together, and I so appreciate everything you did this summer to keep the Bows unified and close knit. You're going to be a great counselor some day.

Ella – No matter how many times you forgot your count off number, your excitement for each new day made me so happy! Your love for camp, and your enthusiasm to be in The Realm, made my job even easier and more fun. Keep coming back, Robin:Hood is the greatest place on the planet, and I can already see what a positive impact it has on you. I am so proud of you for everything you accomplished this summer.

Rosie – You are Miss Personality, and Miss One-Million-Questions! It was such a pleasure to be your GL this summer. You kept it very entertaining and always fun. I feel like you are four regular people's personalities squeezed into one body, and I feel so lucky I got to spend the summer with you. Thank you for never letting there be a dull moment.

Brooke – GEORGE! All of your energy was contagious and inspiring! I loved every moment with you, even when you would laugh uncontrollably for hours on end! You realize how special a place this is, and your respect for camp, and the Bows set an example for everyone else. I'll never forget how much camp made you grow and love life!

Kate – SLESH! I'm so happy I got to be your GL this summer. Not just because you're the spitting image of me at age eleven, but because your spirit is so pure, and you are such a happy person who is simply in love with Robin:Hood. You understand the magic in the trees, and you were a huge part of making sure the Bows stayed as a close-knit family this summer.

Ellie T – Your love of music and dancing gave everyone, even me, some rhythm. It was so fun getting to know you this summer! You love camp so much, and your ability to jump into any situation with an open mind is so important, and such a great quality to have. Never stop being the sweet and spontaneous girl that you are.

Maggie – I've said it before, and I'll say it again: you could run this group better than me! You are so caring, kind, loving, passionate, generous, and aware of your surroundings. You always made sure each Bow had as great a day as you were. On day one, we set a goal for each Bow to talk to all of the 31 other Bows everyday, and you repeatedly accomplished this goal. Keep coming back, and never lose your way with people, or your care for others; it sets you apart!

Teresa – Your consistently positive attitude, love of every activity, and consideration for all the Bows, is truly inspiring. It made every second you were here more fun! Your enthusiasm for life, the big things and the little things, was the motor driving a really spectacular and fun-filled summer. Keep coming back; the Bows need your energy!

WE BE...Straight Quillin'!

Gather 'round Quills it's that time of the year again. So put on some clothes, stop playing naked soccer, put away that game of spit, and get ready to re-cap on the best summer of your lives...

Remember the first night of camp? Playing a weird game that Katie made up: Blind Fact. Eating candy, but sorry, Rachel no chocolate for you. Paulina and Elena arriving the night before with the time change messing up their sleeping cycles. Elena only wanted to sleep while Paulina was busy making a beautiful pine-needle-free path to all bunks near ours around 4:30am. Waking Katie up just a half-hour later to present her with approximately twenty stones and pebbles. Jessie and Katie trying to make quatchet (Quills are ratchet) a thing, with no one else liking it. What about Quillers? Killer Quills! Glad we stuck with straight Quillin.

Remember our amaaaazing canoe trip? We didn't exactly know what we were getting ourselves into, but hey at least we didn't have to hike. Iain and Connor saving Georgia, Emilie and Sophie K. from a slight canoeing mishap. Getting lost and picking a random campsite to sleep at. Your counselors reassuring you that "we ARE NOT lost... Kinda..." making s'mores and playing family feud with senior camp questions...Getting up the next morning and cooking croissants in the rain, hoping the weather meant we didn't have to canoe back. I'm so proud of all of you girls for making it through that trip. Your counselors didn't stop convincing you that YOU HAD FUN! At least it's a cool story to tell...

Remember Spirit Day...Crushing Birchmont in every sport but softball. DC made sure we had a softball clinic the next day. Beasting them in basketball 43 to 2 with Gracie's epic 3-pointer and Mansfield's great ball handling. Playing soccer and running up the score because we hated the referees. Paulina playing goalie and asking if the King or Queen were coming when the players got on one knee due to an injury.

Remember Elise's amazing tubing fall quickly followed by a nose bleed. Her still grasping the tube with a blood mustache, her poor tubing partner getting splattered. Georgia and Izzy "crying" every night during Taps due to the beautiful trumpet. Whenever someone went too hard in the bathroom... "Rachel come plunge the toilets!" and her always being successful. I'm so proud Dallas didn't have to help us un-clog once this summer! When Noa asked where tennis was being held...The tennis courts, of course? Remember the Saco River? When Izzy and Caroline worked so hard at keeping the Quills in one united circle. Thanks for your work girls, while the rest of us sat there lazily getting red as can be! Remember when Belkin sneakily stole DC's tennis cart from him? When we couldn't make any group leader laugh during "make your GL laugh."

Don't worry girls I think you're hilarious. When Olive pretended she was peeing with the dye at arts and crafts right when the Yeomen walked by.

Remember when Noa imitated Steve Moss at archery and Jeanie at drama? Signing "ooh I feel so good like, I knew I would, ooh I feel so good." When Noa threw a tennis ball at Lorenzo...and missed. Embarrassing! When we started the Hunger Games hype that quickly swept threw The Realm. Making up your own district names and Paulina still having a district number written on her forehead at breakfast the next morning. Remember when we had a fire drill and we all arrived fresh in our towels.

Remember our amazing mountain hike? Acting out the name of the mountain to inform you of our trip; no one guessed Bald Face. You did amazing the whole day, with no complaints and you even had fun! Iain was the GL, AGL and Trips Staff for the trip with all questions directed to him. We got to jump off of the rock into the beautiful pools, and Paula loved to take pictures the whole way. Remember after, going to Cozy Corner for well-deserved ice cream? Olive getting locked in the bathroom and someone stinking up the whole place. Remember canoeing to the Marina – it was very windy but you girls did amazing! Liv got a huge bag of marshmallows and everyone else got two candy bars.

Remember our nightly meetings with highs and lows. Just when you thought Paulina was done she always figured out more to say. The new YOLO is now NOLOW! When Haley fell in tetherball against RaPo and Gracie...Let the kids play! When Paulina would shout "Gracaaaaay!" and when Rachel got stuck in the rafters...Ask a friend for help the counselors are busy! Remember Norman the magic guy and being blown away by every single trick. Remember our water balloon period on the Homerun Diamond. Your shirts vs. shorts soccer games (the other name was too visual). Remember our... unusual dance party at the ODT before making cookies in JoPo's cottage. Sophie and Katie not knowing how to cook. A swim at the ODT for evening activity and Paula could not wait to join! Her taking pictures after our swim. Duck from the boats; no more handstands!!!

REMEMBER WHEN...Lior wasn't friends with all the Yeomen, Elena wasn't beasting at tennis, Belkin wasn't turning heads, Ariana wasn't impressing us with gymnastic flips, Liv was appropriate, Olive was quiet, Elise was normal, Garson wasn't laughing, Sophie G. wasn't sweet, Caroline wasn't horseback riding, Izzy wasn't talking in a creepy voice, Sophie K. wasn't smiling, Pria wasn't cool, Paulina wasn't making everyone in camp laugh, Emilie wasn't dancing, Mansfield wasn't saying "Luv yaaa," Barbara was eager to get out of bed in the morning, Gracie wasn't BIC at every sport, Ivanna's area wasn't clean, Viola wasn't the nicest, Chloe wasn't caring, Rachel wasn't screaming, Charlotte wasn't making ugly faces, Tori wasn't being an incredible water-skier, Georgia wasn't dancing, Noa wasn't concerned about everyone's happiness, Maddy wasn't voicing her opinion...WE DON'T!

Remember Green and White breaking at 5:30 in the morning? Sprinting out of the cabin, thank Gd we had sneakers lined up next to our beds! Rachel and Noa Captain and Co of the Mighty White Savages, with Sophie and Elise on the Great Green Olympians. You guys fought a hard five days with little fighting, which is very impressive! Every intense match ended in a cheer and handshake for the other team; your sportsmanship was impeccable.

Remember Excursion? Leaving and going straight to Monkey Trunks. Getting sweaty and swinging around in the trees. Eating bagged lunches...kinda. Whatever, let's go to McDonalds! Eating a twenty-piece McNugget. Kristy being the best driver ever, and Connor and Jessie fighting over whoever gets to sit in the second row being harassed by the campers. Liv asking Connor about his mole on the back of his neck.

The Elbow Song! Going to Water Country and never wanting to leave...Unless it's for Walmart! Elise having to go back to get a putty that actually farted. Liv wanting to buy everything in the entire store. No big jugs of blue juice!! Getting your long sought after sushi dinner; eat up! Katie and Jessie getting a free breadstick. Hanging out in Icing until the mall closed. Every girl that passes deserves a "we're better than you" look. Driving home and Gracie couldn't keep her eyes open. Filming our entrance to camp whilst singing the Alma Mater. It was an amazing two days, thanks to you girls!

QUILLS

Lior Agmoni – The group was so sad to see you leave early. You effortlessly belong here and that can be seen during every activity every single day.

Elena Agmantegui – I have loved watching your English improve over the summer! You are a great girl with not only friends in our group, but other groups as well!

Olivia Belkin – You always seemed to try to do the right thing and that is something the counselors noticed and loved about you. You are such a great leader of this group, so you definitely need to stay for all 7 weeks next summer!

Ariana Chabot – Our gymnastics superstar! From your pitches on Spirit Day (I think you got almost all of our outs for us) to your layups at basketball, your never-ending athletic ability continued to amaze me! Ditch Camp Huckins and stay with us for longer next year please!

Liv Cramer – Liiiiiivvvrrrr. You're athletic ability never ceases to amaze me, along with your hilarious inappropriate jokes. You liven up the group every single day, and I know I can always count on you to make me laugh.

Olive Desnoyers – Our expert sailer! Your attitude changed immensely this summer and I could not be more proud. You are hilarious and I love how you're always smiling.

E-Fue – Put away your farting putty and listen up! You were amazing this summer, you crazy ball of energy. The Quills can always count on you to do something ridiculous and funny to lighten the mood which is always important. Love you!

Julia Garson – Seeing you leave at four weeks was unfamiliar and shouldn't have happened. I hope you had fun on family vacation... But not too much fun because we need you for all summer next year! You were a key part of this group and I miss your mischievous face sooooo much!

Sophie Goldberg – Our beautiful ballerina! I swear you never stopped smiling the entire summer. I enjoyed waiting for Green and White to break with you, and I'm so proud, you conquered your fear! Keep coming back; I know you will. We have to hang out in California over the year!

Caroline Haubenstricker – I am ridiculously lucky for having you as my camper for two years in a row! You immediately belonged to this group from the start of the summer and I loved watching you grow. Next year ditch the ponies for some more Robin Hood fun!

Izzy Humair – You managed to maintain a very positive attitude this whole summer, despite being sick a few times – extremely impressive. You are a fiery ball of energy and I love that and you!

Sophie Khalaf – You were such a great addition to this group! You made so many friends within minutes of arriving. Keep up practicing your softball; I know the intensive coaches would be proud!

Pria Koll – Everyone was so sad to see you leave after three weeks. You are a great leader of this group who never complains! It was such a pleasure to be your counselor!

Paulina Krekeler – I can confidently say I have never seen another camper with as much enthusiasm and energy as you. Seeing you leave at four weeks was so difficult! I miss your curiosity and questions about almost everything pertaining to camp. Better see you back in The Realm for summer 2013!

Emilie Lian – I was amazed to see how quickly you came into camp and fit right in with the Quills, an impressive feat. You did amazing this summer making new friends and keeping old ones from other groups.

Sarah Mansfield – It was difficult to not crack up at every inappropriate, yet hilarious, joke that came from your mouth. The girls look up to you and your humor. Keep coming back, Mansfield!

Barbara Martinez – It was amazing to be able to sleep near you near the second half of the summer. I can perfectly remember rubbing your back the first night of camp because of slight homesickness. When you left you told me that you had an amazing summer and cannot wait to come back. I'm so proud of you; leaving your home is not easy and you were able to make so many friends!

Gracie Marx – I will never forget you sinking that three-pointer in our basketball game against Birchmont. Not only are you an amazing athlete, but I did not hear one complaint from you all summer which made being your counselor such a pleasure. We're having an in 'n out date when we get home!

Ivanna Montiel – I hope your sleeping bag stopped smelling! Your English has improved so much this summer and I have enjoyed watching you grow this past summer! Keep coming back!

Viola Orsini – I still can't believe how much your English has improved this summer! You are so brave – coming to Robin Hood from a different country knowing barely any English and fitting right in is something to be so incredibly proud of!

Chloe Peyrouzet – You are such a vital part of this group, leading in a quiet manner. The group missed you so much when you left. Can't wait to see you back here for your arrow summer!

Rachel Podl – I hope you've taken off your "sexy shirt" by now! I can always count on you to pump the group up or get them excited for whatever we are doing. You excel at leading the group and it almost felt like I had a ninth staff member!

Charlotte Roch – Your ugly face competitions with Jessie were my favorite things to watch. You have a great sense of humor and know how to make anyone smile. Please keep coming back; you're vital to this group!

Tori Saltz – You are the sweetest girl I have ever met, I don't think you could be mean even if you tried! Watching you waterski was always so much fun as you effortlessly moved in and out of the wake. Please stay for longer next summer, two weeks with you is just not enough!

Georgia Saville – When it comes to dancing there is no one else I would rather watch but you! You're outgoing personality and constant smile made you a pleasure to be around. I am so happy that you stayed for an extra week, but next summer forget that house on Martha's Vineyard!

Noa Schumann – It was such a pleasure to sleep next to you almost all summer! Thanks for keeping our area so neat! You are an amazing girl with a great head on your shoulders. I can't wait to see you grow up into a successful woman!

Maddy Suna – Your maternal instincts are great for the group! I love your enthusiasm and love for camp and I know that you will be back here for many years to come!

Macy Zalud – You are a sweet, loving girl who came into camp and immediately felt at home. I'll never forget seeing how sad you were leaving after two short weeks, so next summer please give us more of Macy!

Staff – It was so wonderful getting to know each and every one of you guys. Your help this summer was amazing and the group would have not been the same without you guys. Thank Gd we had the Brit Twits to laugh at. My appreciation for all the hard work and energy you guys put in for these campers is never-ending. Know that I am always here for all of you and I better see you soon!

Quills of 2012 (Scribes of 2016):

It has honestly been one of the greatest privileges to be able to watch you grow this summer. Seven weeks does not seem like much time, but not only have you girls matured as a group, but you all as individuals have grown into fun loving, beautiful, young women. Appreciate every moment you have with each other and please don't get caught up in the petty drama, because I promise you that in just four short years you will be looking back on your camper careers with utter awe that it somehow has come to an end. Live it up Quillies and continue to be the eclectic, hilarious, genuine group of girls that I know you are. You can come to me for anything at any time; I'm forever yours.

I love you all forever and ever,

Katie

ARROWS

86,400 seconds per day, 7 days a week, all summer long we killed it. Proving everyone wrong: the Arrows were an unstoppable force in The Realm. Let's take it all back to where it began...a cozy (crazy and full) bunk with girls ready for their first CWTCH.

Bracelets on to unite us as a group and ready to go, we hit the ground running. Think all the way back to the first week...Kendall falling out of the gaga door, and the phrase "pulling a Kendall" was coined. Remember "The JEV" and its pulley system, an attempt to keep objects out of the black hole that was beside Evin's bed. Remember our lip sync where Ava dressed as a boy, everyone thought she was a little hottie...that was the first time Vicky had some strange thoughts. Remember our very first week of intensives we had two all-star tri-athletes – Halley & Lexi showed us how warriors work out.

Remember Spirit Day? We certainly won in spirit, even though the scoreboard didn't reflect our efforts. The Arrows displayed some impressive athleticism – Callie and Evin beasting in soccer, Lily and Emily dominating the tennis courts, and Maren truly leaving it all on the court (blood and skin included). Remember the Camp Robin Hood's salt crisis?! We managed to find alternative methods to salting our food and creative spots to hide our contraband. Remember determining that Evin doesn't have feeling in her face? Food ALL over, every meal! Speaking of food – if you haven't already – go pour yourself a glass of apple juice before reading the rest of this article. You all know, apple juice makes us CRAZY! Especially when spiked with pink lemonade!

Saco River was quite the adventure...we linked up as a group of 20 and floated down the river for hours. Inappropriate questioning got me to admit my deepest and darkest secrets...NOT...too bad Maren was on silent freeze most of the day! Remember Beach Day? Turns out it is one of the BEST days of the summer! Remember the Hippo, eating meals at Splash (salt packets to-go), visiting your staff at neck duty and Ellie's terrible burn? Ouchhh, not even Rachel's wonderful loving hands could help!

Remember all the hilarity that occurred in Siberia? Cai and Chanel's leg/arm dance had us all laughing. Remember Jane's botch in throwing away a pad? I went in with twigs like chop sticks to rescue the toilet! KABOOM, Scribes 15 now. Remember t – porch? Read that again Lexi, Tidy not t-! Remember receiving the mail? Letters from Quills '11 and friendly men...ILY (He's from New York, not India...). Remember Jane and Sarah's henna adventures, ending with ENAJ written on our toilet seat for the remainder of the summer! Remember loving the Yeomen... and their dad? How can I not mention the songs to Stacey's Mom and Forget You? (Thanks Quills '11 & Cai).

Remember all shenanigans that ensued each evening? Our dog show led by trainer Ellie, awards given to the best barks, outfits, tricks and looks! Minute-to-win-it, AKA, Kadis goes crazy out of control. Remember our photo scavenger hunt? Hilarity ensued as you pushed over buildings, grabbed clipboards and picked up male staff. Our camper hunts were always wild – the first time staff dominated, second time...not so much... you all ran free. Remember "Ellie Goes to the Castle," "The Cutest Couple," and "Rachel Plays Tennis?" Let's recall a little excerpt, "The moral of the story was that they can't eat babies" ...should I be worried Arrows?! Remember Birdy Wordy WOMP? Remember the wedding game? Sparkle Karma & P. Daddy, Jean Barnicle & Earl, Mikayla & Neema, Jade & Zoe, Penlope & Helen, Grandma Jane & Grandpa George, Nicole Morgan & Coco Banana, and Jamie & Alex...all lovely couples. Can anyone figure out which one I left off?! Here's a clue: Hannah, Evin and Vanderbilt clothing was involved...

Arrows, do you remember when Sarah wasn't telling her life story, Lily's bed wasn't overcrowded, Cali wasn't flat tiring, Evin wasn't MEHEE-ing, Neema wasn't being a Noob, Sophie wasn't arching, Dani wasn't sassing, Vicky wasn't going out (Go Vicky! Clap-clap-clap-clap-clap), Mikayla wasn't beasting at Gaga, or softball, or life, Kate wasn't playing the piano, Zoe wasn't bump-set-spiking, Mariana wasn't cute and chipmunky, Derin wasn't high-fiving peoples faces, Cai wasn't singing, Maren wasn't being inappropriate, Chanel wasn't smiling & loving others, Halley wasn't bringing-it, Jade wasn't wandering, Lexi wasn't telling crazy CWTCH stories, Hannah wasn't EUUUHH-ing (picture the face too), Almu wasn't rocking Team Spain, Ava wasn't getting crushed on by A-12, Emily wasn't best dressed, Devon wasn't creating beautiful artwork, Aude Charlotte wasn't OYful, Julia wasn't obsessing over One Direction, Kendall wasn't talking to Bow, and Jane wasn't causing trouble in the bathroom... WE DON'T!

Remember Mt. Potash? You guys climbed that mountain like pros. Evin lost her mind on the way down, as the rest of us strolled down to the beautiful voices of Vicky, Julia and Cai. Remember our "Back in Time" dance? We rocked out in neon, strutting our stuff, you know that I don't give a number two! That was just the beginning of BRING IT – BOOM!

Remember our "cliques?" Gaga brought out the alliances of the "Black Mambas" (Hannah was an honorary member), "Jew Crew," "Foreign Fiesta," and more. Remember our swimming adventures at the ODT? I know you haven't forgotten to consider if it's going to be cooold at night before going to bed. Remember swinging for trees? Fantastic Founders Day gift, remember to hang it next summer!

ARROWS

After four weeks, we were sad to say goodbye to Halley, Maren, Devon, Kate, Emily, Ava, Sophie, Almu, Lexi and Lily. For many of you, it was your very first summer in The Realm; I hope it was an unforgettable experience...and the first of MANY summers to come! The rest of A-12, joined by Zoe, carried on with great anticipation of the break. Evin (attempted) sleeping in her sneakers and the bets were on! Congrats Callie girl!

Remember Green and White? How could you forget... You began cheering for it on day one! It started off early in the morning, screaming out of the bunk to see your favorite staff member as Captain Szabo! You all played with intensity, spirit and heart. Both teams, the Green Olympians and the White Savages made me immensely proud. Those five days won't soon be forgotten thanks to your support and love all war long. Chanel and Evin led the teams with poise, and all of you put your all into those five days. From bombardment to the swim meet to the track meet, you all displayed great sportsmanship and athleticism. I hope to see every Bard next year staying for the war; I'll be there!

Excursion was to follow – two days in the rain, under the stars, in the ocean and having a great time together as a group. Remember Cranmore? Alpine sliding, giant swing, tubing, zip-lining and ropes course...until the rain hit. We then had an impromptu Green and White song practice. You all carried on through the rain with bright smiles on your faces, making the best of the terrible weather. We then upped the sugar intake with TWO vermontsters and a trip to Zebs! The day carried on with a wild trip to the grocery store; teams took on tasks to create the perfect dinner. A cheese platter, chips and salsa, fajitas (fagetahs, right Hannah?) s'mores and cookies to follow. Our long CWTCH and sleeping under the stars was unforgettable... bringing us even closer as a group.

Day two started off with a trip to another state – JOKE – Portsmouth is IN New Hampshire. We kayaked in the cold water before a delicious meal of Chipotle and Coldstone. The dollar store provided us with great hilarity – bibs, balloons, giant cups & more. Watching the Dark Knight (Ellie, it didn't ruin excursion!) and dinner to follow. It was a great end to the summer, spending two days just as A-12.

The last week in The Realm flew by, but not without incredible memories created. We didn't slow down once, taking advantage of every moment in camp. We rocked our A-12 shirts with pride and sang & danced in the dining hall as one. Our last evening activity topped them all – quadruple threat – camper hunt, lake shower, canteen and adventurous gaga. That night was one for the ages...

Lexi – It's hard to believe this was your first summer at camp. You fit right in, creating strong friendships, and sharing all the hilarity each day with us at CWTCH. Your stories had the group laughing each night, bringing smiles to everyone's faces. Your spunk and hilarity is a great aspect of the group... much needed everyday!

Maren the Butler – I think we all can agree, three weeks wasn't enough. But let's be honest, you spent the entire time smiling. Your love for camp and your camp friends is apparent each and every day. You led this group with enthusiasm, athleticism and goofiness, always looking to make others smile. Prank toilet paper and mustaches; I can't wait to see you as a Bard during G&W.

Jade – Eh? I was amazed to watch you branch out to new members of the group while also strengthening your long-term friendships from years past. Your moments of hyper excitement kept all of us laughing, even though we sometimes feared for our lives. Don't wander too far because the Arrows need their Canadian pAasta-loving, sugar-loving friend!

Halley – You did a great job reconnecting with friends from last summer while also working hard to include all the new members of the group. Each year keeps getting better so quit thinking four weeks is enough! Your Spongebob obsession and moose hat (and boxers) won't soon be forgotten. Don't forget to BRING IT – BOHM!

Kendall – It was incredible to watch you branch out and create strong new friendships this summer. You took part in everything from the hodge-podge intensive...oops I mean softball intensive...to the courts with a smile on your face. You are immensely loved in your group, keep doing YOU and making the best of each minute in camp.

Julia – AKA JC3 – Contrary to your (crazy) belief, I love and have always loved you! It was great to have you as a camper this year – whether you were crushing on One Direction or making people laugh with your silly dance moves, you always had a smile on your face. You are a great friend to many in our group; easy to talk to and reliable. Julia, you've got that one thing!

Callie – Our helicopter. You are the definition of small but mighty. You showed us all that size has nothing to do with personality, in fact (as you put it best), you're FUN-sized! You were always goofing off and looking for a good time. You have made some strong and deep friendships within the group that I know will only grow with time.

Cai – Cai-ships were meant to fly! You are a sweet and fun-loving girl; an integral part of our group. Your deep-rooted love for everything camp shines each day. I am looking forward to seeing you continue to thrive as a senior camper and leader of Girls Camp. Always remember to believe in yourself and you will go far! I know that.

Jane – Big thank you for all your hard work during precamp (NOT!), the fun didn't start till you had your sisters by your side...then the hilarity didn't seem to stop. You brought excitement and enthusiasm (sometimes earth-moving) to everything you took part in. You are an essential part to this group... keep chasing your dreams, Wolfie. I hope catching up on Teen Wolf was as good as anticipated!

Aude Charlotte – I am so proud of the strong friendships you have made within the group. You did a wonderful job strengthening friendships from summers past while also making new friends! Your sweet and caring personality is great to watch as your counselor. I hope to see you staying all summer in years to come, a few weeks isn't enough!

Chanel, Channel, TV... or whatever name suits you today. As suggested for our shirts, you are an irreplaceable piece to the Arrow puzzle. Keep smiling and laughing, as your happiness radiates and is highly contagious! Goof off, play, laugh, drink out of that big bottle and love life as you've shown me all summer. Thank you for making me genuinely happy each and everyday.

Sophie – You had quite a long trip to get here, over 36 hours! But the journey was well worth it. Whether you were at archery or goofing in the bunk – your positive energy is contagious. The second half of the summer you were greatly missed by all, I can't wait to see Muncy shine as a rising leader of Girls Camp.

Mikayla – Our superstar athlete. Whether you were killing it in gaga, making an unassisted triple play in softball, or kicking it with the group...you were incredible to watch! I had a great time getting to know you this summer; I'll miss you all the way over in China. Keep your camp friends close because you are incredibly loved in the Arrows!

Sarah – You have an incredibly strong love for camp that is apparent everyday. Thank you for sharing your life stories with all of us – I know male staff truly appreciated those long-winded (and sometimes pointless) stories of hilarity. The friendships you have made over the years are incredibly strong and will last you a lifetime. Keep loving camp; let the countdown to next year begin!

Derin – You truly broke out of your shell this summer. Quill summer was just a warm-up for the fun-loving Derin that came to camp this year. You have created great friendships that will carry on throughout the summers to come. Keep bringing hilarity to every situation...just remember to quit high-fiving people's faces, okay?

Zoe – Although you were only at camp for two weeks, you truly left your mark on the Arrow group. Whether you were playing volleyball or fiercely competing in Green and White, you brought great fun to everything you did. I had a great time getting to know you this summer, stick with the Arrows and you won't go wrong.

Devon – You are one of the most genuine and caring girls I've ever met. You have an incredible ability to show how much you care to each of your friends on a daily basis. Your wonderful personality (and artistic talent) will take you far! Keep loving camp and your camp friends, you are a crucial piece to the Arrow puzzle.

Kate – Your Adele remix in the talent show was the highlight of your time here. Your hard work and dedication to piano was a pleasure to watch. We won't forget your safety pin necklace and blue hair! Continue to enjoy camp in the years to come and be sure to stay clear of the bears!

Emily – It was hard to tell you took some time off from camp. You slipped right back in, reconnecting with friends from years past while also forging incredibly strong bonds with the new members of the group. I hope you continue to love camp, friends old and new, and keep smiling each and every day!

Vicky – Whether you meant it or not, you made me laugh all the time! You're always looking to have a good time with your friends whether that's hanging on the quad after lunch or chit chatting in the bunk late at night. When you left for a few days you were sorely missed – displaying how much you mean to so many members of our group!

ARROWS

Mariana – Our chipmunk! Your horse and puppy noises kept us laughing for days. It was clear after 2 weeks you made a deep and powerful connection with camp. Your sweetness radiates; you clearly care for your friends with a deep love and concern. Thank you for our end of the summer treat, that was very thoughtful of you! I can't wait to see you shine next summer.

Hannah – You have an amazing ability to make others smile and laugh, regardless of the time, place or appropriateness. Your love for camp is apparent each day as you soak it all in and make the best of your time spent at camp. Continue to eat, sleep and breathe camp...it'll serve you well in years to come!

Evin – Quick check, do you have food on your face? Are you sure? You probably should go look in the mirror...all jokes aside, you are an essential piece of our group. Your leadership and enthusiasm for all things CAMP are impressive to watch. Whether you were cheering about Green and White or defending your goal in soccer, you always showed great enthusiasm. I'll miss the notes each night!

Dani – We all know you've got some suave hips girl. It was a pleasure to watch you continue to mesh with the group in your third summer. Although you were only at camp for a few weeks, it is clear you have formed incredible friendships that will continue to grow with time. I am looking forward to seeing you continue to thrive at camp in years to come.

Lily – Our little tennis star. You did a great job reaching out to every member of the group. Your bag of dress-up apparel and creepy pillow behind your bed brought hilarity to the bunk everyday. Birthday included, I think this was a great start to camp. I'm looking forward to seeing you come back as a Bard next year!

Ava – Were you new this year? It was hard to tell. All I can say is four weeks isn't enough! This is just the beginning of your Robin Hood career. I can't wait to see it grow. You were an integral part of A-12 from the get-go. After 4 short weeks, you've created deep friendships that will last you a lifetime. Keep dancing, smiling, goofing off and loving camp.

Neema – Our little noob! Completing the island swim with you at the end of the summer was a highlight of your time here. 1st island swim – such an accomplishment; I was glad to be by your side! It was incredible to watch your love for camp and your camp friends grow. Continue to laugh and love life as you've shown me this summer!

Almu (AL-MOO!) – It took you a few days to warm up, but once you did you were unstoppable! Your athleticism and silly moments were great to watch. Keep your Robin Hood friendships close and don't you dare leave us for another camp! It is clear from your first year The Realm is your home.

Ellie, Rachel and Alex – Thank you for all your hard work and creativity this summer. We created a perfect team that showed the Arrows an unforgettable summer. I could not have done it without each of you. Whether Ellie was having the kids make animal noises (or become animals), Rachel was playing cards or chit chatting on her bed, or Alex was making bracelets or teaching volleyball... I think we brought it all! I hope to keep in touch with all of you over the years – India, Wales and Miami on the horizon. Continue to do your best, and you all will thrive.

A-12, Scribes '15 – Thank you for showing me a wild adventure full of hilarity, happiness and CWTCs. Your love for camp and each other is radiant. I can't wait to watch you rise through the ranks as leaders of girls camp. Keep doing your thanggg and spend each and everyday smiling, laughing and loving life under the sun. I love you all to the deepest rock in the lake, to the stars on the quad, to CWTC in Siberia and back again.

1...2...3...A-12!

BARDS

Is you alright? Is you okay?
Good cause I wanted to know.

Well girls, its finally here. That time of year again, so put on some clothes, stop playing Egyptian rat screw, stop imitating glozell, gather round and listen up.

Remember the first day of camp, the Cleveland bus pulling in, Mel and I were hiding behind the Quill sign trying to fake you out. But SURPRISE your wish was granted and Mel squared rejoined the Bards of 2012 for a new and improved amazing summer to come. The first night we played two activities to get know each other, involving balloons, string and of course candy. Megan arriving the next day during gaga. Remember social of the summer? Starting the day off right by sending all of the Bards to dj-ing lessons with none other than Robin Hood's famous DJ Wood. Dressing up as hippies, creating our own theme.

Remember canoeing to the Marina with our Scribe Aides, floating down the Saco River, taking turns pulling tubes in hopes for no jobs at the next meal. Remember learning about the different species of birds as we bird watched each night in the beginning of camp, fantasizing on the Ugo. Going to Rocky Gorges for some natural water slides and swimming followed by going to the Whit for dinner for Hannah's birthday. Our lice scare during canoe, spending the period spraying and combing out everybody's hair, getting Katniss braids in the end. Countless games of gaga in the sun, spicing it up playing blind, animal sounds and even three legged. You can't forget Evie getting pulled off the side of the wall by Rabbi. Watching and cheering on Megan, Lauren, Sam, Cari, Evie and Izzy as they completed the triathlon.

Remember making friends with countless animals this summer? First there was Alvin the chipmunk and next getting a lovely surprise taped to our door: the bat. You can't forget that inchworm either. Keeping all the traditions in The Realm (which lead to 7:30 office meetings). Remember the Bard/Shire/Scribe scavenger hunt one night for evening activity, loosing all of James's boxers. Playing greasy watermelon with the Friars leading to Cari having Vaseline in her hair for the next week. Jen and Megan deep conditioning with her to help make it better. Our talent show dance – beach themed – and our music video still yet to debut. Watching our girl Glozell as she did her ridiculous challenges (salt and ice, cinnamon challenge, is that your breath?) followed by Old Greg which nobody understood but Evie.

Remember trying to utilize the new ODT this summer and making it "our spot". Going there to do our highs and lows of the day, to make s'mores and play endless games of cards. Remember our surprise 3-mile walk to Blue Moon the weekend Allison came in? Us psyching you out by telling you to wear rain boots and bring a raincoat because "a huge storm was coming our way." Finishing that night off by going to the ODT to play the risk game that Izzy and I found on Jodi's porch. Remember the night we thought it would be a good idea to all pile on to my bed? Well it was...until it collapsed the day before Parent Visiting Day.

Remember the best evening activity of all time? It was supposed to be a night of Robin Hood's own Bonaroo, which was going to consist of the Bards going up on stage, showing the camp our video, and doing our own circus acts. Instead it ended in a group of Bards in big t-shirts and bathing suit bottoms piled on a tarp covered in various ice cream sundae ingredients: Whipped cream, chocolate syrup, ice cream, oreos and last but not least rainbow sprinkles. After getting messy, jumping in the lake giving the fish a treat. Izzy stealing the greasy watermelon, which was left broken open on the porch.

Our mountain hike was quite the event. Two hours of straight climbing leading to half an hour of huge boulders that we had to climb and squeeze our way through. Hannah bumping her head but being a champ and shaking it right off. Getting to the top, eating lunch and taking pictures of the fantastic views. Followed by Cozy Corner of course, seeing the Scribes, Saxons and Shires.

Remember finally being allowed to go to West End to cheer on the 15 & Under Boys Basketball game? Getting there and cheering our hearts out, but unfortunately an upset came our way. The bus ride home was super fun though, spending the 30-minute bus ride with Shires and Scribes. Mel2, Kruse, and Shawn teaching you girls how to hey loddy. Which led to the whole bus ride consisting of appropriate (and some not so much) hey loddy's about everyone, including Mel and me.

Remember going to Birchmont for Spirit Day? Our tennis players Maddy, Evie, Sam, Alicia, Hannah and Jen leaving early to drive with DC. Meeting them to find out that Sam and Jen had just won their first game ever as doubles partners. Playing all different sports including kickball, which we came out victorious in. Eating the unlimited amount of food in their dining hall, finishing up with brownies for lunch. Finally, finishing the day by winning volleyball and meeting our new friend Lana and trading water bottles left and right.

Once again Beach Day 2012 was one to remember. Starting off the day with a bus ride to Ogunquit with the Shires on the short bus. It was the first time in years when the water was actually semi-warm. It was great to see the Bards storm in the water as one giant flock as soon as the whistle was called to allow people in the water. You girls never fail to prove to me that you are the best group in camp. Along with Jonny saying that when you guys were the first to show up at the buddy board for the first check in.

Remember excursion? I have to say it was the most relaxing 3 days that any campers could ever have at camp. You girls kept on harassing us with the question "are we going on excursion tomorrow? I know we are". Mel and I trying to deny it the best that we could, finally waking you girls up an hour early for breakfast convincing you that Dunkin Donuts was waiting outside for you. But SURPRISE! Time for excursion. Filling up the van with all of our baggage, getting lost on the way to the gas station, getting Dunkin Donuts and then we were off on our 4-hour journey. The trip was all going smoothly until the rain started coming down, and that is when Alicia lost it. During the down pour Alicia was sitting in the back seat praying to her gods in Spanish. By the time we finally got to the beach, it was closed because of the storm but that was okay we found an old fort that we explored and played cards and volleyball in. All until the unfortunate volleyball bounced off the wrong fingers and through the opening of the fort. That was the end of the volleyball for good. As soon as we got to the campsite, Maia and ????? made friends with the people jumping off the bridge. We cooked our fajitas and then joined the Friars for a bonfire and s'mores.

Waking up day 2 at 8 am ready for some white water rafting. Getting to Crab Apple filling out the forms, and getting our hot water shoes. Watching each of your expressions during the orientation was priceless (i.e. Lauren remembering her last white water rafting experience: getting stuck underneath the raft). Loading the bus with our paddles, preparing for the 15-minute super bumpy ride. Getting on the rafts seeing the fearless four in the front: Jen and Evie in Daire's raft, and Alicia and Cari in the Mel's raft. The 3-hour trip was full of twists and turns, bumps and relaxing rides. After the ride was over, going back to the base for yummy steak and an afternoon full of swimming and relaxing in the hot tub. Going back to the campsite for an afternoon nap before our pizza dinner. After dinner we did some more swimming and lounging in the hot tub. Realizing later in the night that Crap Apple was truly home to Crab Apples. Since they did not let us shower at the base, we all hopped in to the stream by our campsite for some natural washing up. Finishing up the night with a game of Jeopardy, Daire being the biggest asset of either team.

Day 3: Waking up even earlier than the day before: 7:30. Driving an hour to the first sight of civilization: a Dunkin Donuts. After stopping for some breakfast and gas, we made our way to the Maine Mall for 3 hours of nothing but shopping. Stopping at Claire's was the first thing on everyone's minds. Super Shoes were a hit with the Mel's, Carly and Izzy, getting super hot pink and blue plush slippers. After the mall going to Walmart for a quick 20 minute run in for some necessities (hair ties). After Walmart, going to the movie theatre to see The Dark Knight, everyone getting a surprise Mrs. Fields cookie. Wrapping up excursion was dinner to Macaroni Grill, everyone making up their pasta dishes, and scarfing it down in fear of missing the 2012 Green and White break.

Remember the amazing Green and White experience with Evie and Carly leading the Olympians, and Cari and Izzy leading the Savages. Both teams putting their all into every activity and leaving no regrets behind. Good job to both teams for your wins...just kidding sorry Green Bards. Remember the talent show with all the Green Bards in the skit, both teams in Glee, and of course how could we forget the lovely lip-syncs...good times. Good job to Jen and Lauren, Ksol and Kadis were well represented on those rocks. Congratulations to Lucy on an outstanding and well written speech! Lastly, let's not forget when Alicia finally admitted that she cheated when she was leaving. Overall, through all the sweat and tears it was a great Color War and I hope you girls had the amazing time that you deserve.

BARDS

Marta – I am so happy you decided to join our group this summer. Although you were cutely shy, your smile constantly lit up the group.

Marni – I am so glad that you decided to come back for your second summer. I saw a great amount of improvement in everything you did.

Celia – I am so glad that you decided to try camp out this summer. Your smile is contagious and your positive attitude was always apparent.

Hannah – Hannah, you are such a key member of the group. Your leadership skills shine through in everything you do. The group and I wish you could stay longer.

Selin – I am so glad that you came back this summer and decided to stay for longer. It was amazing to watch you break out of your shell as the summer went on.

Maya – I am so happy that you came back this summer. It was amazing seeing you fit right back in with the group. Please stay longer than two weeks next summer.

Blanca – It was so great to see you back in The Realm this summer. You are so sweet and a perfect fit for the group.

Ale – Every time I see you it brings a smile to my face, along with everyone else in the group. Your energy and positive attitude is contagious. Keep coming back because the group would not be the same without you.

Alicia – You are crazy and fun and fit in perfectly with the group. You know how to make anyone laugh and are always having a good time.

Maryam – I am so glad you came to camp this summer. I know it can be hard to break into a group of girls who have known each other for so long but you truly pulled it off, and fit in great with the group.

Maia – You are such an amazing and fun-spirited girl. You are so mature for your age and it shows. In everything that you do. You know how to be both serious and silly when needed. This group would not be the same without you.

Evie – There's just something about you that I can't put into words. You know exactly what the group needs in times of doubt or sadness. In your own silly and crazy way, you find a way to lead the group confidently. I admire your every move. You are in love with camp and it shows every single day; there is no doubt in my mind that you will be the next Chuck.

Izzy – You truly are the definition of young, wild and free, and I love every moment of it. Your openness and friendliness to everyone is admirable. Keep coming back; The Realm could use some more girls like you.

Maddy – I am so glad you decided to stay longer this summer; you were a huge asset during Green and White. Your sense of humor is always on point, and you never cease to amaze me with your outgoing and confident personality.

Lucy – Each summer you come back a more beautiful and confident woman. You are the most athletic 14-year-old I know, and I am not going to lie, it intimidates me. I am so glad you decide to come back each summer even though it's a little late. You are awesome – keep coming back.

Jen – Your energy level is always above and beyond. You love being the first one to jump up for any favor that I ask. You know how to have a good time and I can always count on you for a good laugh. Keep coming back (with your head gear).

Sam – You embody camp in everything you do. You know exactly when to laugh and even when to cry. You're truly someone whose coolness I envy. The group was so upset when you had to leave for a week, but we were so happy to see you back for Green and White. You know exactly how and when to use and be YOLO and I love it. You rock.

Cari – Your camp spirit and trivia knowledge is admirable, and some what creepy. More importantly, you are the most fun girl I know. I have seen you grow a lot since last summer, and am so proud of you. You lead the group with confidence and always have a smile on your face.

To my staff: All two of you were amazing. Mel: it was so great to be back on staff with you for the second year in a row. It is obvious that the girls love us and we are a perfect fit for them. We are always thinking the same thing and finish each other's sentences. I hope you have a great first year at college, keep in touch, love you! Amy: It was so great meeting you this summer and getting to know you. At first, I am not going to lie, I was so intimidated but throughout the summer I realized we are a great duo. I hope you come back next year, love you!

Well girls, I have to say this has been the best two years at camp that I have ever had. Starting off being an AGL for you girls last summer and becoming a GL this summer for you girls is more than I could ever ask for. Right away I knew that with Mel2 and the 19 of you, we were the perfect pieces for the biggest and best puzzle. You girls are the best group in camp, and that is obvious. Each one of you demonstrates an unbelievable amount of love for camp in every thing that you do. You guys are going to be the greatest Scribes to ever hit The Realm. Keep loving camp as much as you do, and keep coming back. I love you forever and always; over and out.

Carly – Wow, you blow me away every time you talk. You are one of the funniest people I know. You love the group and the group loves you. Be confident with everything you do and never stop coming back. This group would not be the same without you.

Megan – Be cooler. I dare you. I loved sharing an area with you this summer...what she order? You are such an amazing girl and I admire the way you always include everyone in everything you do. Your sportsmanship and friendliness is above and beyond what I would ever expect from a girl your age.

Lauren – You always know "the move." You are funny and carefree and I love that about you. You love camp and camp loves you. You have matured into an amazing, confident and beautiful girl. It has been a pleasure to watch you embrace everything camp has to offer.

Okay Shires...

I'm going to skip the awkward introduction and jump right in (even though I know you all love it). You guys knew I was your group leader before I did, good reconnaissance work Susie. I have never been so anxious for camp to start. Finally Monty showed up 2 hours early and there was no turning back. We became five by the end of the day and slowly gained more of you to reach our peak of 11 girls. So Shires, where you at? Now that you are all here, Hannah, Monty, Jenny, Sarah, Becca, Molly, Ashley, Ki, Rocio, Maddy, Marta and Susie – get ready to relive Shire summer 2012.

We found out quickly we all had the worst beds in camp. Every other night we broke a board in one bed or another. After Ashley breaking the bed and me falling through, we got enough boards to keep us comfy for the rest of the summer. The last bed fiasco was when Jenny arrived, sorry guys – I had to tell her not to sit right on her bed and stick to the corner.

We finally got to relax into camp – making s'mores on the beach, watching the sunset, tubing for the first time all summer, and making cookies at Jody's while playing Apples to Apples. Special treats like steaks for dinner with the Foresters-huge thanks to Dudley for cooking them – and Cozy for Hannah's birthday, were great. The days passed by too quickly while at camp, but let's slow down and remember the first four weeks.

Big adventures like our mountain hike, Saco River and Blue and White Day broke up our traditional camper days. Congrats girls you survived Mount Potash – thank you Dan and Will. Reading magazines and doing the cupid shuffle at the top made it a trip to remember. Leve – why did you walk through the river with your shoes on? Thanks for being my counselor while I went down the natural slides. Picking up Monty and going to Cozy Corner wrapped up our trip nicely. We could not have been more relaxed than on our beautiful float down the Saco River. As many of you fell asleep on the tubes, we floated tied together enjoying the sun. Sarah continued her tradition and left a piece of herself behind cause you never know with the Saco. We went to Blue and White Day ready to show off our athleticism. You guys played hard with the Bards. Winning volleyball, kickball and some tennis, we left with no regrets. Susie stepped up as the intimidator and we found out she could pitch for softball.

Excitement continued building through the four weeks. We had a sick social with special appearance by DJ Woody. You all aided for groups and sat duty when the Scribes were out of camp. Our favorite Tumbler arrived. Cheering our hardest at the West End games. It was unfortunate we lost both, but you guys showed camp how you can lead. Remember how we pulled into Cozy on the way from West End, bad joke. Not getting ice cream was everyone's low that night. Seeing a snapping turtle at the sand bar. Sarah and Ashley popping pimples. The talent show dance was the cutest; Send Me On My Way was a great song choice. You all did amazing; special shout-out for Ki: you came late and took on the solo no problem. Paddle boarding became a favorite activity over the month – Rocio where are you going? We are back this way! Bedtime was for winding down but Shires, you light up like fire after dark. Susie and Jenny went around ex-ing out mosquito bites to get rid of them. Susie and Sarah having death matches, appearances from Bethany the bug along with many of her friends, star gazing and high low high kept our nights bright.

Our final week of the four weeks began with Beach Day. You guys rocked the buddy system, never missing a check-in. After the right dose of water, sun and lobster we came back to camp worn out and ready to shower. Being the last to shower meant no water at first. Good job Becca, Monty and Molly for tricking the Scribes. We had the best showers that night with no one rushing us and we had full pressure. Remember taking our laundry up after Beach Day...stargazing and running from bombardment back to the bunk. The four-week point unfortunately came sooner than we wanted. Losing Rocio, Marta, Jenny and Ashley was a major low that night.

With a month behind us, our minds turned to Green and White breaking. Hang on though, we left for excursion right away and had to calm down about the break. We had a quick drive into Boston even with a pit stop for Sarah, Abby and Hannah. With Maddy waiting for us right when we got there, the drive was worth it. After backing out of one garage and finally finding parking in another, we headed to Chipotle (YUM!)...surprise Leah is eating with us! Next we headed to the Duck Tour. Remember Guido...Hannah and Sarah drove the boat- Sarah wants to be a duck tour driver when she grows up. Hannah's favorite period at school is art and Sarah likes lunch. Maddy and Susie good job keeping your hands in the boat, Guido says, "hands in it's just water." We had dinner with the Foresters at Fire and Ice and then headed up to Woburn and checked into our hotel. Then we went to Breakers for ice cream. Who knew a kiddie ice cream could be so large. After a late night we woke up late and started day two.

SHIRES

Finally able to sleep in, Ki, Susie and Hannah woke up afraid they missed breakfast. Just a scare cause there was breakfast waiting for you all in the room. Remember going to Sky Zone - wasn't that fun? Wait DC isn't your dad, no jumping today. Remember our drive around the outskirts of Boston... the sign, Murder- It's Not Okay. With a quick recovery we headed to Quincy market for lunch and most of us avoided being drenched in the huge thunderstorm. Hannah and Ki ran barefoot in the rain to make it back to benches. On to the Aquarium where we started off with the penguins, Maddy's not-so-secret obsession. We worked our way up the middle seeing huge turtles and hammerhead sharks. The majority of the visit was spent in the gift shop. Leve and I played and fell in love with the stingrays. If it's on Facebook, make sure you check out the seal family video right now it is full of clips of your seal counterparts. We continued the Boston tradition and got our City Sport shirts followed by a little shopping on Newbury Street. A quick late dinner at California Pizza Kitchen was then followed by Pink Berry. Surprise (not really), Jill and Hannah are here for dessert... that was better than Pink Berry itself. Adding to the list of visitors, Ilyse came to hang out at the hotel. Sarah got stuck between the bed and the wall, completely bent in half at the waist in case you missed it. Luckily she did not have to sleep like that and we all got to bed ready for day three. Another lazy morning and you all made 'delicious' waffles at the hotel. We made our way to Water Country and enjoyed the slides, the wave pool, the lazy river and amusement park snacks. Remember my new friend Peter and Abby getting stung by a bee and Monty carried her to the lifeguard that did not have a clue what to do. Another great lunch at Subway got us ready to go see Brave. Remember the little girl in front of us... what were those noises she was making? Instead of a normal dinner remember going to Hannaford and getting 'healthy' food. Remember Monty bought us good toilet paper. Sarah and Susie killed their hummus and ice cream in twenty minutes. It was so nice to finally get home and snuggle into our beds at camp.

Now the anxiety grew around Green and White breaking. Guesses of when it would break and fake breaks built up the energy and kept us all on our toes ready to run at any moment. WAKE UP WAKE UP! Green and White broke at 5:30am with the alarm from the waterfront shack pulling our attention down there. Then a sudden turn of direction we ran our hardest up to the grandstand. With two limos at the ready we got our surprise when the second limo opened up with our four staff captains coming out. We returned to our cabins; whoever thought you girls would fall back asleep was silly. We got an early breakfast and then picked Shire Captains for 2012. Congratulations again to Monty - captain of the great Green Olympians and Maddy - captain of the Mighty White Savages. With a long five days of great competition, late nights practicing for Talent Show and making banners, you girls stepped up and showed off your talents. You girls put a lot of heart into this war and wrapped it up on the fields with an amazing game of Danish. Remember when we never had an activity with the Scribes?... I don't. Remember when Ki swam in the swim meet. Remember when camp almost set on fire but Tug of War kept all the campers distracted. Remember Maddy having an asthma attack right before song night... and she ran for her own inhaler. White wins the war and gets to go see a movie along with steak dinners. While White was at the movie, remember Monty, Sarah, Ki and Molly walking Briar. He loved Ki's turtle, played in Cabin 5 and went for a swim with Sarah.

The War came and went in the blink of an eye and we came back together as one Shire group. Remember periods just reading at the outdoor theater, watching the Olympics instead of dance, kan jam tournament, dying your hair with fruit punch. We became tubing crazy. I became a waterski boat driver and got to pull Emery as he was on the tube. Monty, Susie and Becca - good job with lifeguarding... can't wait to see you girls jumping in for missing person drills next summer. Don't forget, everyone wants a Leve hug, including my flashlight and the water bottle. Good job Becca, Maddy and Susie, you made it to the island and back no problem. Remember booty bouncing at volleyball. Remember fruit punch instead of water at all our meals.

Remember when Susie didn't hesitate to say TA, remember when Monty wasn't talking to everyone, remember when Sarah wasn't making us laugh quoting Bridesmaid, remember when Ki wasn't starting a cheer in the dining hall, remember when Molly wasn't reading, remember when Becca didn't Rocio – Even though you had a hard start, you ended the summer loving camp. You have such great determination and it showed everyday as you worked on your English.

Maddy – You are a big piece of this Shire puzzle and you had a positive influence on the group throughout every activity.

Marta – You are too sweet for words. You were up for anything and were always good for a healing hug. Show Girls Camp to always begin and end things with a hug. There is no better way to show others your care.

Susie – You are camp. I know it's hard to let loose and not care but when you do, you shine and everyone becomes engulfed in your love for this place. Let yourself go while you are here and get all of Girls Camp to drink in every moment of camp.

announce that she was awkward, remember when Hannah wasn't giggling, remember when Maddy wasn't smiling, remember when Ashley wasn't screaming noooooooo, remember when Jenny wasn't sunburnt, remember when Rocio wasn't eating salads for lunch, remember when Marta had no friends... We don't!

Hannah – You care about everyone and make sure everyone is having a good time. I'm glad you talked this summer and we all got to see your rapper side. Don't hold back next summer and get to know all of girls camp.

Monty – You are helpful with anything anyone needs on camp. You are more mature than you realize. Keep working hard for camp and it will pay off.

Jenny – I'm glad you came back for a second summer and you better keep coming back. You were always ready to play and knew when to be serious. Keep grounded and show Girls Camp all the fun they can have.

Sarah – You never slowed down. You were a part of every piece of this summer. Always quick with a comment, you kept a smile on our faces. Next summer get every girl to be comfortable enough to be silly and not care who is watching.

Becca – You have an unbound love for camp. You will be an amazing asset as a Scribe. Keep loving camp and share how you feel until every last girl loves it just as much.

Molly – Your athleticism kept this group on their toes. You played hard and gave 100% every time even on the hottest days. Keep it up next summer and help kids learn how to play every sport.

Ashley – Your voice carries throughout our group. Now take that voice and lead Girls Camp with that big smile and joyful laugh.

Ki – You have such amazing energy. Be loud and dance forever. Keep the girls loud and light up Girls Camp every chance you get next summer.

Shires, you may be small but you are mighty. Thank you girls for sticking with me and giving me this opportunity. You can believe me or not but with all honesty I could not have asked for a better group to be GL for. I love you girls at your worst just as much as when you are at your best. Camp is in for a real treat when you step into The Realm as the leaders of Girls Camp. Each of you has something to give to Girls Camp. Your love, laughter, ability to rebound after upsets and loud voices will serve you well next summer. Enjoy the sun the stars and every inch of camp while you can. I cannot wait to see you all running The Realm next year.

Abby (Shire GL, Shire staff) – My lifesaver, twin, and snuggle coach. I wanted you from the beginning. I knew you were an amazing staff member but I had no idea how close we would become so quickly. We always were on the same page. You did so much for this group and stepped up with no complaints. I will never be able to thank you enough for helping me be in two places at once. Thank you for listening to me and making decisions with me. I am so happy we got so close. I knew I could come to you and say anything. I love how playful you are and you kept the energy up when I couldn't. You are going to be an incredible Group Leader; whichever group gets you will be very lucky.

YOSO is our motto...The Scribes of 2012 We'll never let this go... THE SCRIBES OF 2012!

*I can't believe you girls are Scribes!! Remember when I was your Arrow FYA?
We made a pact I would be your Scribe GL and look where we are. Scribes 2012 make things happen!*

Remember...the first evening activity, the traditional Scribe/Tumbler kidnapping? Blind-folding and leading them to the ODT with S'mores. Starting Scribe aiding so early in the summer, and being awesome at it? Being on duty during staff meetings...Natalie's interesting approach to cooling off a bunch of Tumblers. Leading the first Girls Campfire and Michelle being so impressed. Remember planning 4th of July? Taking a trip to Walmart and being extremely well-behaved. Pin the rattail on the Noah? Best activity ever. Our very artsy activity of Spaghetti fireworks. Kruse playing with something on the beach for a good 10 minutes until realizing it was actually somebody's braided hair.

Remember our daily runs in the first 3 weeks of camp? Preparing mentally and physically for Washington on the 4th day of camp, then having it be postponed. I know you guys were so upset...Remember finally climbing it, with Marj and Jackie leading us up the entire way. What mountaineers! Belen LOVING every second of it: "We come to America to learn English!!! What is this!?!?" Waiting at the observation deck webcam so Mark Kruse could see us at the top. Certain members of the group becoming a bit delirious as we descended...Our legs feeling like jello...Sami taking a tumble, Julia not being able to hold it in any longer.

Remember scary stories with Srupp and Foresters? Wearing nightgowns and bringing pillow pets. Lainey's scary story buddy holding onto her for dear life. The headless snow mobiler...Green eyes...Our intense scavenger hunt with the Bards and Shires. Stealing Jimmer's boxers, and him never getting them back...Remember when H.S. was on duty, and then you hated me for the next 24 hours until we realized what a big misunderstanding it was...? LOL. Remember the best evening activity ever: Candy pong!

Listening to dubstep and techno music,
Jackie getting a little too excited about Skrillex and breaking it down. Remember the newest Scraxon tradition: The Cabaret! or was it Calamari? Either way, it was awesome and you guys REALLY put a lot of effort into it. Remember sleeping at Jody's, homemade salsa and guac, watching Indian Summer, waking up early for the Island Swim?
Best AGL ever, Jody!

Remember playing gaga in the moonlight, our special "surprise" visitors... Dani peeing on the quad during make your GL laugh... say cool: "cool," say whip: "whip." Say cool whip: "cool whhhip." Canoeing to Huckins, I mean, the Marina... running into Lainey's semi-friend on a sailboat, and never seeing the actual friend. Remember thinking Green and White was going to break in the first 4 weeks? Visiting Day with the coolest group of parents. Lawn games... Julia's mom winning Croquette by a long shot... Marj's parents entertained by The Realm's newest activity... TT. Going out for dinner at Lobster Quest, then Walmart after. Buying supplies for a fake break.

Remember Katahdin? Bonding with JJ, our honorary Scribe staff, finding out how cool she was. Dani running up and down the aisles of Hannaford's and nearly giving me a heart attack with the items in her basket. Steaks, shish-kebabs and S'mores, we were livin' like royalty. Coming back to our campsite to find slashed tents. Encountering both types of bears! Nuria really liking one of the bears a little too much. We still owe you a pillow, Belen. Remember the actual mountain? Coming down and scaling rocks with a 500 foot drop on either side. Swimming in the river and taking showers with, of course, our biodegradable shampoo and soap.

Coming back from Katahdin and doing our fake break the next day... "Everyone look under your tables..." People actually sprinting to the very under-rated archery field... Lainey. Annie arriving... our G&W predictions. The early morning break which we all wanted so badly! Jamie leading the Mighty White Savages and Lainey leading the Great Green Olympians for your final G&W as campers. What a great Color War; I think the teams were perfectly even and the competition was awesome to watch. I can't wait to see you all compete on staff. Both teams' Senior Camp Lip Sync - those dances will be remembered for years to come. Julia and Lainey getting to lead a song/cheer on the song night. "IT'S NOT ALL OVER GUYS, IT'S NOT OVER UNTIL THE SCORES ARE READ." Mighty White Savages winning, and going to the movies, yet we had already left for excursion!

SCRIBES

Leaving at 11am on Lazy Day for the Cape with JJ! Hotel chilling, watching a very interesting interpretation of Mommie Dearest...strolling around P-town. Surfing the next day, wearing beautiful wetsuits, thankful there were no sharks. Heading to Lainey's the next morning to chill with Mimi...supporting Aly Raisman while in her home town. Hanging poolside, chatting with Aaron. Getting to Boston and having some trouble finding a parking garage that would fit our oversized van. Eating at Rattlesnake and saying goodbye to Annie. Getting back to camp late at night and seeing the "5th and 7th year aide." NOT being encouraged by them to go skinny dipping at 2am. Remember when Kruse wasn't listening to Levels?! Lainey's sweet 16...DATES REQUIRED really worked out so well! Discovering the Odyssey. The glow-stick trail leading us to pizza! Remember your last day as campers? Every activity in one day, including riding! Our final evening activity, leading you around camp with a treasure hunt, the Wall with guests...then biking to Cozy. I'm so glad you girls had a great last day.

Belen – You better be back for the first charade... We don't have this in Spain!!! I was so impressed with how quickly you fit in with the group. It honestly seemed as if you had been here since Tumbler summer. You have a special way of connecting with people quickly, and making people feel as if they've known you for years.

Julia – Remember your public page about Kris and Bruce Jenner getting a divorce? Definitely a highlight of my summer. You really are one of the sweetest, most sincere people I know. You are so down to earth and easy to talk to; I understand why everyone loves you.

Jamie – Be our guest, be our guest, caviar... Versace... be our guest, be our guest, Rolls Royce... Versace... You seriously are the funniest person I know. You constantly kept people laughing this summer, and always kept our spirits high. You are a natural leader and people look up to you.

Nuria – The secret American in Spanish disguise! Your English was better than mine at times, and it was great to see you helping other Spanish girls this summer. Can't wait to see you in Spain this year! I hope to see you back at camp in future.

Chelsea – Remember Green and White basketball when you scored 4 points? I will never forget the adorable look on your face. You were a great Scribe aide this summer and I heard nothing but great reviews about you. You will be a great counselor and I hope you come back next summer.

Marjorie – I was surprised the first day of camp when you didn't arrive fully waxed... you are the voice of the group with your loud spirit and constant socializing. You are such an outgoing girl and everyone loves you for it. Large Marj in Charge for life!

Natalie – Remember every morning when you woke up early, ready to seize the day? I loved watching you beast every activity in Green and White, you truly are an amazing athlete. I loved getting to know you more this summer, because sometimes I feel like we are the same person. No joke. MVP!

Sami – Following every rule! I am extremely impressed with how much you have matured over the summer. You are a great friend to all of the girls.

Annasley – Our Southern belle! Only staying 2 weeks, you had such an impact on the summer. Remember worrying you'd never make it up Washington? You impressed me so much with your positive attitude, always trying to think about the good side of things. Hope to see you next summer!

Lainey – Remember when Takeshi and Nick Barone fell in love with you? That is HUGE for you! You are one of the friendliest people I know. People are attracted to your awesome personality and leadership qualities, and truly love you for you. I expect to see you in Spain at some point this year.

Dani – Remember basically being dance staff for part of the summer? You are so mature for your age, and are always willing to do any task asked of you. I love that you never complain and always try to keep the energy high in the group when things seem to be getting low. Te quiero hermana!!

Jackie – JMunky, sorry I never followed you back on Instagram... Just did now! You have such liveliness about you, which is contagious. I love how excited you get about everything, because at camp, enthusiasm is so important. You always committed completely to every activity and I love that.

Annie – Only here for 9 short days, it honestly felt like you were here the whole summer. You got here and jumped right back in with the group, no hesitations. Everyone loves you, and your 9 days here made a huge impact on Scribe summer as a whole.

Anne-Bab – Meeting you in pre-camp I knew you were cool! I hope you had a great summer here at Robin Hood, and I was glad to spend it getting to know you better. Your fun personality fits in perfectly here at camp.

Kim – I am so happy I got you on my staff! I feel like we were always friends, but this summer our friendship really solidified. I feel like we both have similar senses of humor, and I love that we understand each other's weirdness. We still need to get that door fixed...

Scribes of 2012 – I could not have asked for a more amazing summer. Coming in as a first year GL, I was nervous. Now as the summer comes to an end, I am tearing up writing this, with how happy you all have made me. Although I am your counselor, I sincerely feel like I'm leaving camp with 13 new best friends. Leading girls camp, you all impressed us to the greatest extent. I don't think it is possible for you girls to have done a better job this summer. You will all make superb counselors one day, I am highly confident in every single one of you. I feel as though each and every one of you is a leader in your own way, and you storm through The Realm with your big personalities. You girls are a force full of life, people who genuinely understand this crazy place we call The Realm. We will never, EVER forget the Scribes 2012.

GREEN & WHITE SONGS – GREEN

Hungry Like The Wolf

Raising the ri-ngs let the games begin
Kadis hand pi-icked the Olympian team
(14)Do do do do do do do dodo dododo dodo -
Fearless competitors, we never looked back
Destined to victory, Olympians Stack
(14)Do do do do do do do dodo dododo dodo -

United as one
Flying the flags from all over
Raising the bar, white's stuck on the ground
And we're fighting for the gold
Track meet to bee, gaga and crafts
Olympians dominate the war
Savages never ha-ad a chance
Green team has been ruling the white

We trained all summer for these fi-i-ive days
Green is upon you like the O-lym-pic flame
(14) Do do do do do do do dodo dododo dodo -
Hot- blooded and your tactics aren't right
You keep on playing, though we finished the fight
(14) Do do do do do do do dodo dododo dodo -

Haven't you heard
Sam and Price are the two you need Kadis does sports, Jonny's takes lead once you learn, the less it hurts
We listen to Price, don't know what he says
With Kadis rockin' his bu-ddy band
The spark is alive, it's running inside and the green maintains the flame

Here to take the war
Here to take the war
Here to take the war

Now it's night five, our hearts filled with pride
We gave it our all, we won't stop now
See it in our eyes, it's time for our prize
Olympic glory does not die
We found our stride, Sam taught us to fly
White you fought hard, but now you're through Judges don't lie, you cannot deny
Olympic glory WILL LIVE ON!

Jerk It Out

Wake us up
Watch us run
Pump us up and let us go
Green will be winning the war sooner than you know
We'll make Sam and Jonny's dreams reality
Better than savages brutality
We'll take the gold

It's easy cause we know how it's done
White should stop now
It's already been won
We feel it
Running through our veins

And we'll take it all
Yeah we'll take it all

Hey, white
Get the hint
Your not suited for this race,
Can't you see Olympians have already set the pace
From London to the U-S-A and China Too
You can see green's flame burning bright and true
Olympic pace

We wont step down cause its our podium
You can see how
Green runs the realm
White feels it
A loss coming their way
AND WE TAKE IT ALL

Bronze – no
Silver – no
We are going for the gold
White doesn't have the skills to play Olympians
Savages bit off more than they could chew
They'll be on the run once they get the news
Green Conquers White

Cause it's easy now we know that we've won
We won't stop now
Steak night here we come
You feel us running through the Realm

(Jr. Camp) And we want it all
(Sr. Camp Girls) And we need it all
(Sr. Camp Boys) And we earned it all
(Staff) And we have it all
(All) GREEN WON IT ALL

Chasing Cars

Here we are Standing strong
Looking up

We don't need
Anything to show you home

If you breathe in
If you just slow down
Can we make summer days last us all year long?

We know each day
Is a gift
Cherished close

Day by day
And year by year
Our love is sown

If we slow down
If we can make it last
Forever our hearts will hold this feeling deep inside

Our sunset will come
But before we get too old
This is our moment to linger in the sun

Let's slow down
Breathe this in
We won't let go

We need the time
To forge these bonds
They'll hold us close

JR CAMP: We've only just come
We'll follow your foot-steps
It's clear to see we are living out all of your dreams

You've left us this place
Traditions to carry on Held close to our hearts each day
we'll pass them on with pride

ALL: All that we are
All that we strive to be
Comes from the magic that is beating in our hearts

I'm certain this won't
Ever truly be goodbye
Just know that Ro-bin Hood will forever be our home

Together as one
Sharing this spirit
Our love sown deep to grow unbound forever more

WHITE – GREEN & WHITE SONGS

Let My Love Open the Door

White's been seeking a challenge
Green's made it easy for us
We're stacked since the beginning
Sorry Green your team is a bust

Boys: This team has won the war
Girls: Our spirits have raised the score
Staff: We fought and wanted it more
All: SAVAGE WHITE

oooo-oooo (x3)
Select few: savages conquer all

Swim meet, track meet, and crackers
Never cheat, always play fair
Too bad greens made of slackers
Cook our steaks medium rare

Girls: The sun has set on the Green
Boys: Sol and Szabo know how to lead
Staff: olympics only last 2 weeks
All: SAVAGE WHITE

oooo-oooo (x3)
Select few: savages conquer all

Andy's spirit is on our side
Smooth sailin' enjoy the ride
Immortality, victory
Savage white its your turn to say

Boys: this team has won the war
Girls: our spirits have raised the score
Staff: we fought and wanted it more

oooo-oooo (x3)
Select few: savages conquer all

Blood and sweat, white is feasting
Invincible savages roar
Yolo white never stop beasting

IT'S OUR WAR!

Young, Wild, and Free

So what we play spud
So what we hit tress
We're just having fun, we don't care if green sees
So what we don't nap
Too bad we got bunk duty
The bear runs wild and free

So what we love snack
Always pick waterski
We're just having fun, we don't care if green sees
So what we buddy up
And hear stories from Srupp
The realm's the place to be

Aint No Mountain

Listen Judges
Ever since day one
Olympians on the run
White savages Up a ton

We dominated the field
Green tried their best at the lake
Not wearing floaties, a big mistake

We tied our shoes up Tight
Green couldn't run with the White
Savage speed was Out of sight

Cause judges you know that white will win the war
No reason to read the score
Price and Kadis can't ignore
That savages will go down in history

Remember the way, white pulled away
Green's Olympic torch put out by the rain
And didn't they say, they jump higher each day
But high on Mt. Olympus is where savages stay

Cause judges you know that white will win the war
No reason to read the score
Price and Kadis can't ignore
That savages will go down in history

Oh no Judges, green win? No way
Savages got Gold, can't stop us baby
Olympians not placing, juicy steaks we'll be tasting
Hey Green can you taste defeat?

Clap*

Cause judges you know that white will win the war
No reason to read the score
Price and Kadis can't ignore
That Sol and Szabo will end in victory

Man, I feel like a woman

Man, I feel like a savage
Da da da da da da
Lets go white!

We're going out tonight
We're gonna start a fight
Olympians will run and hide

Faster, Higher, Stronger
You're motto is no longer
White team has stole your pride

The best thing about being a savage
Is the prerogative of being number one

Oh oh oh
WHITE SAVAGES!

Fire And Rain

I woke up this morning, didn't know I was gone
Where are the lake and the trees I'm accustomed to
I looked out the window and it was just my front lawn
Where are the quad and the stars and the rest of you

Where's the sun and where's the rain,
And the summer days that I thought would never end?
No reveille to lifts me from my bed,
So I close my eyes and I can see you again.

We can wander the Realm, dear friends, under sky's bluest hue
I want to feel like I'm sitting next to you
Inside the gazebo or at the rendezvous,
I wouldn't have it any other way

Feel the sun and feel the rain,
And the summer days that I wish would never end
These memories live on inside my head.
So I never have to leave you again.

Been walking my mind to an easy time, when my world here was young
Judges know that time wont slow for where their heart is bound
Been wasting my time on these dreams of mine, for what I needed I found
My friends and me beneath the tress with magic all around

Feel the sun and feel the rain,
And the summer days that I know will never end
We open our eyes to the place we love again.
And to robin hood, dear camp, our love we send. (x2)
