Robin Hood's 87th summer brought more of the same: another amazingly beautiful Ogunquit Beach Day, a wonderful 4th of July Carnival, a Parent's Weekend that each summer becomes more like a family reunion as our camp families re-connect with each other and a competitive and spirited Green & White that welcomed over 50 visiting judges.

Our 11th summer as directors also continued some new and exciting trends; Hiking is becoming increasingly popular in The Realm and this summer saw our biggest hiking program ever – 5 trips. Staff led a record number of hikes culminating in the Saxon/Scribe summiting of Mount Kathadin (the end of the Appalachian Trail), a 4 day/3 night trip (more on the CITs later); Fitness exploded in The Realm this summer – abs classes continued despite Jamie's absence thanks to T-Pain and speed and agility classes were a staple before dinner; in addition, private fitness classes were offered and were very popular. Programming continues to become more individualized for campers as they get older and want to focus on certain activities. Summer '14 saw Robin Hood's 3rd CRH Gives Back Day – we walked four miles to support The Joshua Frase Foundation and then heard from former NFL football player Paul Frase as he spoke about his son's heroic battle with Myotubular Myopathy; we believe that of whom much is given, much is expected and we are proud of how the CRH family has embraced our Gives Back Program.

On a personal note, the beginning of our second decade as directors saw the largest CIT group ever; they were terrific leaders of their respective camps culminating in their heartfelt and inspiring final CIT speeches – there was not a dry eye at the beach (including ours). It has been a privilege to watch these children grow up and we look forward to welcoming them on staff and watching them lead The Realm in future summers.

We also celebrated Michelle Brockman's 25th summer in The Realm – Michelle's title is Associate Director; she does a million things but her importance to The Realm is not measured by her long list of responsibilities. Michelle and her family, have a deep love for Robin Hood and all who inhabit it. She is always there for people who need advice or a sympathetic ear or a sounding board. When not tending to her endless list of things to do, she is keeping a watchful eye over Robin Hood. Personally, she has been a great friend to us and each day in The Realm becomes better when we greet Michelle in the AM in the office; we hope she is with us for another 25 summers.

Plans are underway for Summer '15; potential staff are starting the interview process and our Maintenance Team is working on some exciting projects.

We are excited for the buses to roll in on Friday, June 26, 2015 – we will be waiting at the Gas Pump!!

TINKERS/PAGERS

TPs TPs ASSEMBLE!

Alright boys it's time to put the magic cards away, finish up that game of war, and let's look back on one of the best summers of our lives.

Remember coming into camp and meeting everyone for the first time. You all amazed me at how welcoming you were to each other. Remember doing the 16 laps and how cold the water was? I guess the heaters weren't working.

Remember when Blake pulled down the numbers in the dining hall on the first night. Beckett says, "That's my pen!" Remember the talentless staff talent show, where Henry was the only one with any talent. Remember having riflery every day. Or how about when Blake kept shooting at the wrong target during our first Riflery period? Eliot got the first bullseye!

Remember playing Giants, Wizards and Elves in Drama. I'm still not sure how Caleb won every game. Remember our first archery period, "Where did my arrow go?!" What about Beckett and Blake bouncing on the horses? "Leonardo DiCaprio is a ninja turtle" Remember the mysterious starburst. When Cal wanted to eat Blake's fake pizza? Remember when the camp photo only took two hours? No plate pizza party!!

Remember meeting your Saxon brothers and being introduced to camp at the ODT. Remember climbing rattlesnake and our bus getting stuck on the way back? Then Blake trying to convince us that he could lift the bus. Remember the bat show, "I have a comment!" The camoflauge EA and the swimming black bean...Jugglers have to clean our table every meal...How about when they flooded one of our tents with bug spray at the outpost? Remember Chris Ruggiero's One Man Variety show? "How did the table fly?!"

Remember the fair on July 4th...Beckett wins the color run and Henry raises the British flag. Remember going to the Mainers game and being on TV?? How about canoeing to the island and trying to skip rocks? Key word "trying". Remember the hundreds of bead-pet lizards Blake made? I'm still waiting for mine, Blake. Remember Caleb's Egyptian dancing and the glow stick party? Remember Johnny's British flag that doubled as a cape? Or how about playing Danish Longball with the cleaning girls? Remember the fireworks every night followed by Cal screaming?

What about our unofficial Gaga win against the Tumblers? Then our official win in bombardment along with beating the parents on Visiting Day. Remember when Paul Frase came to speak and our boat ride for EA? Final Four...Congratulations Parrots! Remember Beach Day and how cold we thought the water was? Remember walking up to the boardwalk and eating all the delicious food and going into the stores? Remember dancing in the dining hall and camping at the outpost? We Don't...

Remember our awesome excursion going to Story Land and the movies and camping out? Remember the bonfire and eating the meal cooked by the trips staff? Remember the Green and White Fake Break on Founder's Night, they had us all fooled! Remember when Green and White broke in the Dining Hall with the Flash Mob? We all ran out to see what was going on. Remember seeing the judges dancing and knowing that Green and White had officially broke? Remember competing our hardest for five straight days? Special shout out to Blake for being elected as the youngest captain in camp! Congrats on both the Green Heroes and the White Mafia on a war well fought. Remember song night and how amazing the songs were? Remember enjoying the last few days of camp all together as a big group? Take us back!

Eliot – How do you know the schedule?! You started as the most quiet but left as the loudest and it was awesome to see you open up as the summer went on. You're an awesome kid and you should never be afraid to be yourself.

Caleb – Caleb...CALEB! You found a way to make every activity a little more interesting, and we never knew what to expect. You had a great summer at The Realm and I hope you enjoyed every minute. Keep coming back to camp and you'll do great things.

Beckett – Remember how excited you were for every activity? Something you amazed me with this summer was your determination. When you have your mind set on something, nothing can stop you. I'm so proud of you for completing the swim test. I can't wait to see what you'll achieve as you grow up.

Callum – Having your area next to mine definitely made the summer a lot more exciting. Thank you for making sure I was awake nice and early every morning. You bring an energy to the group that cannot be matched so it is vital that you continue coming to camp.

Blake – Did you walk anywhere this summer? Every time I saw you, you were either on someone's back or their shoulders. You impressed me the most this summer because even though you were the youngest, you were able to do everything with the rest of the group and would be one of the best. You've got a very bright future at camp.

Teru – You are an awesome camper and a great addition to The Realm. You are so funny and were always making us laugh with you. I loved watching you break it down in the dining hall with the Saxons, you have the best dance moves ever! See you next summer!

To my Staff – I could not have asked for a better group of guys to help me lead this group. You all had something special to offer and I couldn't have done it without you. I'm honored to be able to call each one of you my friend. I wish you all the best and I hope to see you all again next summer. Take care.

TP's of 2014 – I know you were all new to camp, but you guys came together as a unit faster than any other group I've seen before. I, along with the rest of your staff, was so impressed with how close you all became with one another. Please every one of you keep coming back for as long as you can. Everyone in camp loved you guys and I can't wait to see you leading The Realm one day.

JUGGLERS

Jugglers, Jugglers, count off...Jugglers...
Jugglers...where are the Jugglers? Right now I need you all to stop doing what you are doing to remember one of the best summers of your lives.

Remember the first day of camp and we got to go to Cozy Corner for Jake's birthday? Jake took the Brass up on their "order whatever you want" offer and ordered a large coffee flavored milkshake. I think that day set the tone for the entire summer. Remember the first Sunday of the summer when we had a private pizza party with the Saxons? You all got a Saxon buddy and introduced each other to all of boys camp. We can't wait until you are all Saxons introducing your new Juggler buddies. Remember that one time our bus got stuck at Cozy!?

Remember when Magic the Gathering was the coolest game in camp? Remember when we went camping at the outpost? Remember our mountain trip and reaching the top in record time? Remember when the counselors had to take away Austin's farting teddy bear? Remember when Eli and Jasper did gymnastics for the talent show. They were so good. Whenever we had any free time in the bunks or in between periods they were always doing a backbend or the splits in various directions.

Remember when it took an average of seven minutes to count off over the first 4 weeks of camp? Remember when Toby got candy from Nikki? Remember when Spencer was on time for benches...we don't! Remember when Takeshi gave the $100 massages? Remember when Jasper remembered that his count off number was 8...we don't! Remember when Toby told Teru to call all of the counselors the wrong name? Remember when Adrien started talking in French? Remember the flip flops on the roof? Remember when we went dog walking with the Bards? Remember all the dance parties in the Dining Hall, Jugglers have some moves! Remember making humungous Sunday Sundaes?

Remember when we went to the stables one night for Evening Activity and we got to play in the arena? While at the arena we got to meet all of the horses and we even got to put names into a box to name one of the new horses without a name. Max won and the new horse is now called Sunny! Remember when Chase and Toby fell off the tube during tubing? Remember when we built that awesome tent in the part of the cabin that we weren't using...it was way better than the Squires. Remember when Jake was thrown in the lake after basketball? Remember when we went to the senior camp water front?

Remember Adrien and Max dominating in kickball? Remember when Tyler wasn't smiling – we don't! Remember Eli wanting to play football? Remember when Pierce had a hat trick in soccer a few days before Green and White? Remember our intense games of Gaga? Remember all of Tylers arts and crafts projects? Remember when Chase got up in Waterski almost everytime? Jasper, remember when you asked Jake if you could run back to the bunk? Remember Takeshi's sales pitch? Remember Spencer's elite play at Tennis every period? Remember Ethan's spike to win the game of newcomb? Remember when Ethan won knockout three times in one period beating Sam Garson twice and Ailbha once? Remember how good Eli was at gymnastics? Remember when Nolan played goalie in the soccer tournament? Remember when Austin went waterskiing and was a pro right from the start? Remember Toby being a wizard at Magic and his dominance at Riflery?

Remember going to the Mainers game and getting to play on the field, how awesome was that!? Remember Beach Day at Ogunquit? The whole camp went in buses and vans to Maine for a day of fun in the sun! Remember spending our time on the boardwalk? Remember our awesome excursion, when we went to Story Land and had so much fun playing all the games? Remember going to the movie after? Remember sleeping in tents and cooking that awesome dinner? Thanks Trips Staff for all your help!

Remember the awesome fake break on Founder's Night followed by the flash mob real break for Green and White? Remember when Jack caught Jake's bombardment ball in between his legs to win the game during color war? That play set the stage as one of many intense moments during the war. Remember how close and intense the Boche game was during green and white? It was so fun to watch you guys compete so hard and show great sportsmanship throughout the war. Each one of you gave it your all and at the end of each day we all came back into the cabin and talked and played games together as one cabin. Special shout out to the Captain and Co of the Green Heroes Toby Bloch and Jack Kops as well as the Captain and Co of the White Mafia Blake Lipman and Chase Brooke. You all were great leaders during the war.

JUGGLERS

Remember when Clay was racing some of the people in the cabin and he fell?? Remember when we beat the Tumblers when we challenged them to bombardment? Remember when we almost beat the Shires when we challenged them to Gaga? Remember all of the nights the fireworks kept going off after lights out? Remember how crazy everyone was when they got pop for the first time all summer...who knew so much energy could come from caffeine free pop. Remember all of the great bro-talks we had at night?

Remember when EHow was your counselor for GL swap day? Remember Clay's outfit on GL swap day? Remember trying our hardest to stay up all night on the last night? Remember the last few days of camp and giving it our all at every activity? Remember listening to the Saxon speeches?

Jake Baumoel – There are so many words that come to mind when I think of you, but the one that stands out the most is leader. You are a natural leader of the group whether it is on the field or on the stage. Being a leader is a great gift, use it wisely.

Toby Bloch – You once told me that you were the fastest reader in your class, well if you can read half as fast as you can talk there is no doubt in my mind that it is true. You made me laugh all summer and I am very grateful for that. I am going to miss talking with you.

Eli Brandt – You were always giggling and having a great time. Just like last summer you excelled at everything you did whether it was gymnastics, swimming or arts and crafts. You were competitive and always had admirable sportsmanship throughout camp.

Chase Brooke – Your unique personality brings such enthusiasm to the group. I hope you keep coming back to camp and enjoy it more and more each year! It was great to see you participate in Green and White as a Co-Captain and compete in all the activities you have been enjoying all summer.

Adrien de Barmon – You were a great friend to everyone in the cabin, which made your goodbye very hard. Everyone cannot wait for next year, when you come back and we can get to know you even better.

Spencer Fiske – Your enthusiasm to try new things was something that we all admired about you. Your love of going down to the lake and getting in the water; whether it was for waterskiing, swimming, or tubing was like none other. Coming to camp was a great learning experience for you; I can remember how proud of yourself you were when you put your contacts in for the first time without any help. And believe me, I was so happy for you too.

Austin Goodman – You lived up to the Goodman name with your constant jokes and humor. Whenever someone in the cabin needed to laugh they would come and find you. You always knew how to cheer someone up. We can't wait until next year.

Jasper Karlson – You are a fun and unique kid that beats to the beat of your own drum. Your caring personality made you a great friend for several others in the bunk. We can't wait for you to come back next year.

Jack Kops – I was so impressed by the way you just began life at camp so easily. Your ability to make friends and integrate into the group speaks about your outgoing and welcoming personality.

Owen Lenox – Even though you were the youngest in our group you were one of the most mature and wisest kids in the bunk. Everyone in the cabin looked up to you in some way or another, you were a great friend to have and every time we talked at night you had great comments about what we were doing right and suggestions about how our cabin could get better.

Tyler Lipman – I am so glad that you had such a great time at camp this summer and were able to find so many things that you were good at. Whether it was horseback, riding, crafts, or tennis I hope you can continue doing the things that make you happy. I know that all of the people that worked with you this summer enjoyed the various activities that you did together.

Max Lippard – Even though it was your first summer here your love of camp was unlike anyone else's that I have ever met. Every night when I would come around to tell you guys good night and ask how your days were your answers were always the same. "My day was fantastic, how could it not be we are at Robin Hood!" Your attitude about camp helped encourage everyone in the cabin, even the counselors. Thank You.

Takeshi Nakajima – Having you back in the group was so much fun! You always tried your hardest and there was always a smile on your face. I admire that about you.

Nolan Rosen – You are the little man with the memorable hair and best dimples in camp. Even though it was your first summer at Robin Hood you made a huge impact on the cabin. You were a team player, hard working and most importantly a great friend. Whenever someone needed a person to play with or talk to you were the person that everyone would turn to.

Christian Scott – Having the opportunity to spend the last few weeks of camp was a great privilege for all of the campers and staff. You are a great young man and just know that no matter what happens in your future you will always have a family here at Robin Hood.

Eli Sobel – Your energy was unlike any other in our bunk. You were always excited, always ready to go, always moving. I know you liked playing all of the different games that camp had to offer, Your morning/nightly hugs were something that all of the counselors and brass members alike looked forward to getting and we all look forward to getting them for many years to come.

Pierce Terowsky – One thing that I respect about you is the fact that regardless of the sport, you could go into any game and be one of the best. Even though you are one of the smallest kids in camp you are amazingly athletic. Your determination and unwillingness to back down are inspiring to watch.

Ethan Torrens – You are polite, a great listener and always attentive. Whether it was getting ready for waterfront or when I called benches you were always there and ready to go. I appreciate that!

To my staff... thank you for making this a great first summer in The Realm. Being with some of the youngest kids in camp can get hard at times, but you all were amazing and made my job that much easier. I just wanted to take time and thank you all of you for everything that you guys did throughout the summer. I hope you had a fantastic time as well.

To everyone... Just remember each and every one of you has something unique and special that you bring into the cabin. Never forget that. Also, I just wanted to let you know... you are all my favorite.

SQUIRES

SQUIRES?!? OH YEAH!!!

Eamonn just blew his whistle so it's time to put down those Magic cards, put that game of spit on hold, stop freaking out about the chipmunk in our bunk, and get ready to relive the summer of our lives! These Squires were on fire all summer long, so let's take a trip back to the summer of 2014.

Let's Boogie!!

Remember...the first day of camp, with so many faces both old and new. Remember Bombardment in the rink the first night, followed by Indian Run as we tried to tire you out. Remember when you all woke up super early the next morning excited for the "Big Day". Remember when school started really early...on Nick's bed. Everyone was there: Princess, Pepper, Slush, and King. Even the Fat Priest was there!

Remember all the fun we had with Vicente waterskiing. Remember when Eli forgot to let go...Graham waterskied all the way across the lake...Henry's pants fell off while tubing...Nick's pink life jacket...Christian was the first Squire to fly..."He's a beast, we call him Ryan"...the pontoon boat ride. Remember when we learned that it's a great idea to dive head first into the water while wearing a life jacket. Just kidding. We spent so much time in the waterski boats, and even up until the last few days of the summer, all we wanted was more tubing/ waterski on our schedule. Donuts, anyone?

Remember when we all attacked Ben at the waterfront. Remember when Dick dumped Pickles in the water at waterfront...pajama jump cheers...GG Incorporated...Pickles' obsession with rafts...sun's out, gun's out...the Squire dance on the docks...Gonza's pajama jump clothing...colored tongues at the marina...So many great memories at the waterfront!

Remember when we beat the Jugglers at gaga. Remember when we invented TriGaga. I think we need to share that invention with the whole camp next summer! Remember when Amos rallied 29 balls with Jason, and Amos was exhausted...Kap mows them down in soccer...Amos named all the D-hall flags...Squire Sundaes...Amos fell in the puddle...Manhunt during the rainstorm...the muddy gaga pit...super-human newcomb on PVD...Nick's amazing block during the soccer game...Andrew was invisible during camper hunt...Ben's portraits were so accurate...running through the hailstorm.

Remember when we called Nichols "Nipples"...we brushed the knots out of Pickles' hair...Vicente gave everyone funny hairstyles...we tried to figure out what a vegan was (Nick's a WHAT?!)...Pickles was vegan for a day...we had a Spanish dance party...Eli used his shampoo with the seal on...Ryan cleaned James' area...Gonza stepped on the lemon shampoo...you made the staff laugh on skit night...Pickles had a pony tail...for a few minutes. Remember Ryan's polygamy...Remember when James' area was clean – never...Ryan was Graham's area designer...we had Wiggle parties...after two weeks James still didn't know everyone's names...Christian's laugh sounded like a suffocating pig...James wrote a love letter to mystery girl...James was sleep-singing...the bacon lawsuit...Graham fell out of bed and slept on the floor...Andres kept calling Pickles "tickles"...Jason's smelly surprises...Carly got Nick good, and he got her back...Andres got double stung during the Saxon-Scribe fake break...

Remember going to the Mainers game and eating all the park food? Remember our mountain trip and racing to the top? Remember the nature museum? Remember our trips to Cozy? You can never have enough ice cream. Remember Beach Day? The whole camp went to Ogunquit and we had a blast, so much food, fun and sun. How epic was our excursion!? Everyone killing it on the ropes course...finding Humpty Dumpty at Storyland...the splash battle...finally spending time with the Jesters on excursion. Remember our campsite and the awesome bonfire?

Remember the Squire Book Club...the 6-minute change...the Big Bang hair races...the Squire dance...the 10 and under team came in 8th out of 64...we had a legendary riflery dance party...Gonzalo did 5 jobs...Vicente had triple-crown challenges...we learned the full name of Rattlesnake Trail (Stinky and the stick etc.)...Cheers to the gov'na!...Graham's dance moves...Andres' sleep surprises...Graham's tree swing karate dojo...ABlab...vertical throws off the Friar bunk...Andrew killed G&W archery...the green team's alma mater made us get emotional...everyone got duped by the brass fake break...Pickles and Christian were obsessed with cute animals...What the hook gon' be?...we need a tower!...the man cave – no girls allowed, unless...Jungle Boogie. So much happened, from the first week to the last week, and it was all soooo legit.

SQUIRES

Nick Barone – You never forgot your count off number – maybe because it never changed from 1! Your confident character has a big influence on the group. You impress everyone with your vast knowledge of science and completely random facts. Your laid-back attitude was contrasted by the great effort you showed during Green and White. As you can tell, camp loves you and we can't wait to see you back next summer!

Amos Blumberg – Remember when you first walked into the dining hall and named all the flags? You are always a fantastic sport and a great wealth of interesting knowledge. Your enthusiasm in tennis and soccer are really appreciated. We're really glad you figured out that at camp you need only one outfit each day.

Gonzalo De Ruz – Your amazing athleticism and open-mindedness helped you to improve your English and get better at many activities. Your willingness to sweep and keep your area clean is appreciated.

James Dodge – You are always positive and have great sportsmanship every day. Being the talented athlete that you are, you play an important role in the group. You have so much swag and definitely spend more time gelling your hair than anyone else in camp.

Henry Flug – I've never seen anyone want an "underdog" as often as you. Your easy smile and sense of humor really helped brighten everyone's days. It was great to see you adjust to and embrace camp.

Eli Greenfield – In your first summer in The Realm, you became a part of the group so quickly that before 2 weeks were up, you were determined to stay as long as possible. The intensity you brought to every activity will do you well in green and white next year.

Noah Grossman – You bring great determination and intensity to the activities every day. You challenge yourself and strive to succeed, even in the competitive swimming intensive. Your fellow bunkmates look up to you and you shined as a leader in color war.

Nathaniel Hill – You are easily the most polite kid on the planet and we really enjoyed getting to know you over your short stay. A smile never left your face and your wealth of World Cup knowledge was astounding.

Ryan Kao – Two Realm records!? WOW!! You are an incredibly talented young man and the enthusiasm you bring to activities is infectious. If there were a poster child for leading by example, you'd be it and your superb character shines in the camp environment.

Sebastian "Pickles" Karlson – Another fantastic summer at The Realm! Your comedy is valued, both on stage and throughout the day. Your fun attitude helps everyone enjoy every activity.

Graham Napack – It was your first year in The Realm, and you became part of the group right away. Your optimistic attitude made every day a big day. You are not only a well-rounded guy and a great competitor, but also an impressive performer. I can speak for the group when I say that your skit night performances shocked the crowd (in a great way). Get pumped for next summer!

Andrew Schmidt – You never fail to impress us with your athletic ability. You are definitely a quiet leader in the group and everyone looks up to you (not just literally). We're really happy that you decided to stay 7 weeks. You had a superb green and white.

Oli Snidow – You put great energy into everything you do, both inside and outside the bunk. With a smile on your face, you were able to improve at many sports. You are a proud member of the Squire Book Club. Every meal was a dance party for you.

Andres Tello – Your easy-going attitude and constant smile make everyone's days better. Ever since our first game of sharks and minnows during basketball, you have tried your hardest in every activity. Your great effort will help you in your future summers at The Realm.

Christian Ziebold – I was so impressed with how quickly you adjusted to the camp lifestyle. Within days you made multiple friends and got right into the groove of things. You were always confident in yourself and I never heard a negative word come out of your mouth. I really hope you return next year and stay as long as possible!

"14 That's All...
*Let's Boogie!"

Staff – Hi from Nebraska!

Hi Squires. I miss you all the way from Nebraska. There couldn't have been a better group to welcome me into The Realm. I have so many fond memories of our time spent together. Looking back on the summer of 2014 all I can do is smile, thank you boys for everything. I hope you all have an amazing school year and see you next summer!

ARCHERS

Archers, Archers!

Put down those cards, stop playing tether ball, and put those water balloons away. Get ready to jump back into the greatest summer of our lives...

Remember opening day and the arrival of 20 hilarious Archers...Carter Burden is the first one to arrive. Then Santi, Nacho, Logan, Liam, Ginsy, Jake, Sam, Jesse, Henry, Cooper and Cooper, Caleb, Ian, Tanner, Jacob and Angelo...and then Brooks, and then Andres, and last but not least, Tosin Odunsi, all the way from London!

Remember when the Archers woke up at 4:58 AM on the first day of camp, over 3 and half hours before breakfast? What a way to start off the summer. That's got to be some sort of record...and then the trend continued for about the next ten days. You boys really made the most of each day. Shortly after your arrival we were introduced to Nacho and Jacob's nightly shenanigans. Caleb being the ultimate ladies man, Jesse being the ultimate rubik's cube man and Sam being the ultimate fish/ always in the water man.

Remember Jacobs's commitment to doing 100 pushups each day...which only lasted about a good 4 days. First EA of the summer, STORMING THE TOY, aka senior water front and jumping on the new inflatable we got this summer. Once again, Sam is in his natural element. Remember our mountain trip and stay at the outpost? Remember the Mainers game and the snacks at the concession stands being more exciting than the actual baseball game...And how can we forget, Nacho was eating nachos during the game – that was awesome.

Remember our first challenge of the summer... A classic Archer-Yeomen Bombardment game to follow dinner. Although we didn't come out on top we showed a lot of courage competing and keeping up with a very athletic Yeomen group. However, later into the summer we took on the Squires and showed complete domination. The defeat led by Brooks and Santi and how can we forget Cooper Strauss' game winning catch.

Remember our first archery period of the summer? 18 deep walking past the Homerun Diamond and Rink enthusiastically chanting, SMOSS, SMOSS, SMOSS!!! This seemed to be a recurring theme throughout the summer, the archers just love SMOSS!

Remember heading to Maine for Beach Day...you guys running around playing on the beach and in the water. Remember how full we were after eating all that awesome food. Remember the BBQ back at camp to finish the day?

Remember when the archers were all on the benches on time...and when we were always on time, and even early to activities... when Jacob was first on the benches...when Sam refused to go into the water...when Nacho nailed his number 2 on count off... Blue and White day, the constant correct NBA free agency rumors at lunch...Ginsberg didn't wear crocs...Sam wore shoes...Dermer and Hamad being the AGL...and Wheeler... being the first table cleaned off in the D hall...Liam was not at LAX...WE DON'T!

Remember when Ginsberg told us his favorite number was 6, then Cooper Malley telling us his was 13, then Ginsberg later changing it to 8...hashtag hygiene.

Remember Henry being the biggest rap god to come through The Realm...LeBron coming back home...candy canteen is still on the way. One of you better remind me next summer...Lo's amazing daily faces... 4th of July...and the carnival...the color run and the ice cream truck...and how could this day be complete without Sam setting an all time camp record with number of corn dogs taken down. Hashtag 10...AY YO KI!!!

ARCHERS

Remember excursion the Monday right after PVD...first stop Dunkin Donuts...where everyone was trying to get as much food as possible for less than five dollar. Then we were off to Monkey Trunks followed by bowling aka the worlds best arcade ever. Day 2 consisted of going to the greatest water park of all time...or was it...Liquid Planet. I know most of you guys wanted to go to Boston, but we're just going to have to wait for that trip...

Remember the awesome fake break video for Green and White...and the next day experiencing the real break. Remember the jellybean pick and cheering loudly for your team as your colors were revealed. Remember the intensity at all of our activities throughout the week? Congrats to both the White Mafia and Green Heroes on an amazing Color War.

Remember how Carter, Ian and Cooper Malley are beasts in team handball...Sam's mysterious nighttime noises...Final 4...congrats to all the red and blue parrots out there...congrats to Nacho, Santi, T Bone and 'Lo for dominating and coming in first place in the 12 and under soccer tournament. Remember the power outage...Freedom loses power...Cozy Corner back to back nights...thank you Cooper Malley and Caleb Nadell...a surprise visit from the mayor...or was it Rod? We love Rod.

Remember when the Archers didn't have basketball or instructional swim...when the bunk was clean...Being active during activities and being chill during down time...having the cleanest bathrooms in camp...when we listened to the whole song American and not cutting it short...WE DON'T!

Remember Caleb's constant hilarity in the dining hall, leading every dance possible? Playing the song Shower as much as we could...hashtag Archers love to shower...Getting dirty in the lake in the gaga pit...one of our more intense EA's...Definitely one of our best.

Remember when our bunk wasn't big enough to fit all of us...When we didn't have enough staff...When you guys weren't playing magic...when you guys wouldn't memorize the decks and know right away when one of the cards was missing...when you guys would try and create a business with them? WE DON'T! You guys are all going to be CEO's one day.

Remember how long it would take to do our remember whens...when Brooks would all of a sudden become super hyper at night...when Santi would carry his tennis racket with him wherever he went...when Jessie could do his rubik's cube in between the walk from his bed to benches...when you guys all had an obsession with reading.

Ginsberg – You are one of the most smiley kids I've ever met. You make the best out of any situation and are one of the few in the group who don't mind taking one for the team. Keep coming back. You're the man.

Greenfield – You are way too smart for your age and have a bright future ahead of you. The stories and explanations you give about technology never fail to amaze. You are also very dependable and a pleasure to have as a camper. Don't ever change. I can't wait to see you as the developer of Apple in 20 years.

Kreindler – You bring a lot of passion to the group and also have a big voice that is heard throughout camp. You were a great addition to the Archers and I hope to see you back here next summer for the full session.

Cooper Malley – You are one of the most energetic people on camp. You always try hard and have fun, which is really great to see. I look forward to seeing you grow up in The Realm over the next several years.

Nadell – No one has dance moves like you. You put on shows in the Dining Hall and the crowd always loves it. You are a key member of this group and always have something to contribute. Keep being you and don't change.

Tosin – You are a great kid. You're easygoing, polite and always nice to everyone. The group really likes you and the staff appreciates your awesome personality. We hope to see you come back next summer for longer.

Sam – I know you're probably too busy swimming to be reading this, but if you are by some odd chance reading this, please change out of your speedo. Keep the acting career going. You're hilarious - keep doing you and keep coming back.

Jesse – You are one of the smartest kids I know and are wise well beyond your years. You are the consistent peacekeeper of the bunk and a great leader. It was no surprise you were color war captain once again this year.

Henry – You were always active and willing to participate. You clearly love camp and I can't wait for the summer when you finally get to experience Green and White. The Rodin's are The Realm's newest power family.

Ian – It's hard to be the new guy, but you fit in right away. You were always very competitive and put 100% effort into all activities. I hope you convert that competitiveness into a love for camp and come back for many more years.

Tanner – You always seemed to be smiling, and a mischievous smile at that. You kept every day interesting, and you kept us on our toes. Thanks for your entertaining contribution to the Archers of 2014.

Liam – LAX bro, but never relax, bro. You were always excited and causing excitement. Your food stash was second to none, but your willingness to share was also impressive. You are eccentric yet caring, an interesting and exciting combination.

Logan – You are one of the most enthusiastic, funny kids in the bunk. Your athleticism shined through in every activity played this summer. I know that you will be a leader in The Realm for years to come.

Carlos – NACHOOO!! You were one of the most athletic kids in our group. No matter what sport we played you were always good at it! You were certainly one of the leaders of the group! See you next summer!

Santi – Santiago Balbontin, Balbontin!! From Chile! It was a blast having you come back this summer. I have never seen anyone so good at soccer at such a young age. And who knows...you could be playing for Swaziland soon!

Carter – We enjoyed spending the summer with you. Every time you spoke a word, everyone in the group would listen. You had a leadership role in our group and we are proud to have you as a camper!

Angelo – Angelo, you are probably one of the funniest kids I have ever met, whether you meant to tell a joke or not. Everything you said was funny. Hope to see you for the whole summer next year!

Brooks – You played a big role in our group especially because you were the person that everyone looked up to! Brooks, you were a leader in the group, athletic, and definitely one of the funniest kids!

Cooper Strauss – You are an amazing kid. It was great to see you bond with the group as much as you did after it being your first summer in The Realm. Also, I have never met anyone who can do such good seal noises. Can't wait to see you back here next summer.

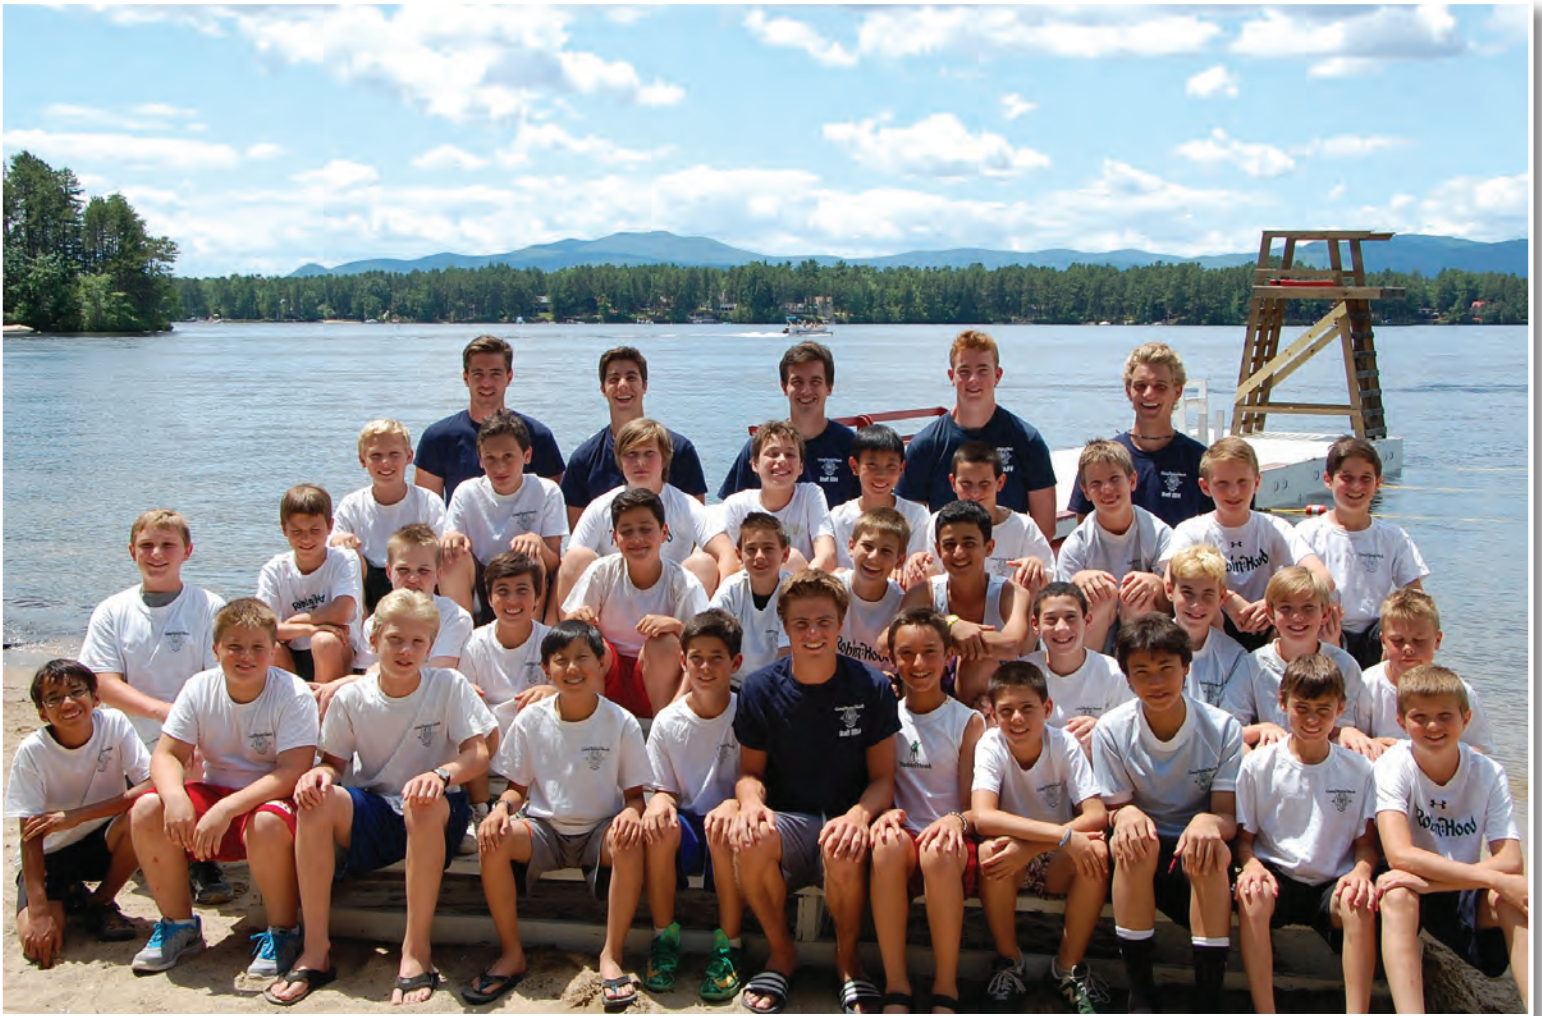

Andres – You are a very spirited camper who was always fun to watch. Even though you came late, you still managed to have a great impact on the group. You made the best out of each day in The Realm.

To my Staff –

I couldn't end this without giving you guys a shout out. Without you, these guys wouldn't have had the incredible summer that they did. You guys made my job as a first year group leader so much easier and I really appreciate everything you did for me. One day you guys will be leading camp and I know you will kill it.

To my Archers of 2014 –

You guys killed it this summer from the beginning to the end. You guys made my first year as a group leader very easy and one of the best summers I have had at camp. You guys are already a tight knit group, and with that being said, there is so much potential for you to grow into the leaders of camp. Stay in touch with as many people as possible. I can't wait to see you guys as the Saxons of 2019. Keep coming back.

YEOMEN, GUYS, YO, SERIOUSLY, YO GUYS, YO, SERIOUSLY!!!

It's time to take a minute, put down the screen, stop playing ball, put away the cards, and listen up as we recall the greatest summer of all time. Yeomen killed it from day one, and I loved every minute of every day of the summer. I'm so thankful to have had you guys the past few years. Let's get down to it, and relive the summer of 2014.

Remember the first day? 32 twelve year olds flow in throughout the day, finally everyone is here for our first evening activity of the year, soccer. Hunter and Mason lock down the defense, George scores the game-winning goal, and everyone does the nae nae.

Remember canoe wars and battleship? Shout out to Bruno and Connor for getting up on waterskies first try! Remember Khalid reminding everyone to be on our Jackie Robinson shiznit? Ajay is Houdini, we take a five minute picture with the whole camp, camper hunt for EA, nearly half the group wins.

Remember Peter's birthday, the Mainers game, you guys killed it on the bus ride back. Remember flipping the water toy, beating the Archers in bombardment, the Ice Man, Jaime and Bruno hijack Jack, Zach drinks ketchup, paddle board wars, the scavenger hunt, bringing a couch back to our bunk, it's a three way tie, no one gets canteen!

Remember the 4th of July, playing frisbee in the morning, Marc and Hunter get hit in the face, the carnival, the color run with the Quills, Chris Ruggiero comes and Aidan teaches him a thing or two. Pajama jump the next night, Aidan and Jack win despite Mailman belly flopping.

Remember when...Will was bad at something, Mark had a high pitched voice, George wasn't reading, Jake didn't help clean the table, Francesco's area wasn't spotless, Charlie Payne danced at meals, Oliver couldn't waterski, Jack wasn't smiling, Dylan didn't want nuggets, Zach Zeller's hair wasn't impeccable, Hudson's stuff was in his area, Michael Pierro didn't want to watch the World Cup, and Gabe was unathletic??... We don't!!!

Remember the hike and overnight? Sadly, lightning stops us from reaching the top, but we have fun! Fajitas and skits at the campsite, Samuel wins the night and then turns into a werewolf, George tells scary stories after s'mores, getting McDonald's in the tents, waking up at 3:30 and not going back to sleep till 5:30,

Remember Mailman's rap battles, the sand bag, Peter caught slipping on second base, Charlie gets mad respect, Driver Josh's surprising six pack, capture the flag "commitment to the game," Jack stars in the talent show on the drums, Jake sets The Realm record for cup stacking, Ryan and Michael can't fall off the tube, the dead fish won't go away, Oliver breaks the camera, letting the Quills win in gaga.

Remember all of the intercamps? We beat West End 7-4 thanks to hat tricks from Marc and Jaime, you guys win the 12U soccer tournament, we had fun in the football tournament thanks to Jordan's play calling, Crystal dominates the basketball tournament, Bruno is the star of the softball team.

Remember when we played gladiator ball, Jack is a boat, Hunter is a tank, Drew scores the winner. Bloch chases Crystal around, Max only likes Gabe and Luke because everyone else is "too big."

Remember Beach Day? Yeomen win Ogunquit, the dust storm stops the day an hour early, but not after Ethan stocks up on candy, and Drew gets buried in the sand.

Remember PVD? We all learn how dangerous soccer can be as people take balls to the face left and right, Ricky's dad teaches us where Ricky got his talents from, Phil lights it up from beyond the arc for his parents, Michael's brother is a bombardment pro. We say goodbye to the parents and the four-weekers' last EA is balloon battle.

Time for the final 3. Lee arrives, just in time for the 3v3 basketball tournament, the ManU Hooligans defeat Winaukee and Alien Shiznit, Lee finds the magic spot thanks to his lucky tennis ball. We tube a lot in the last 3 weeks, Luke goes on top of Khalid, Khalid bites people. Ricky makes a surprise return from his 4 day hiatus just in time for the Marina.

Remember Excursion?! After Dunkin, kayaking is very relaxing, Niall nearly goes entirely under after seeing Luke's red ear. Uberblast is a blast, everyone gets toy guns for the campsite, we go to the outlets, Khalid and Marc get sick kicks. Guardians of the Galaxy at the drive in, seeing Lee in his movie trailer. Day 2 we go to Attitash, Schreiber and Podl wipe out on the alpine slides, you guys have lots of fun on the waterslides. Panda Garden for dinner, Ethan may have had too much junk food, mini golfing, Luke sets the high score while Charlie looks like Tiger Woods. The final day we go to Water Country and meet up with the Foresters and Quills. After an exciting few days, it's nice to be back for Founder's Night and Green and White!!

YEOMEN

Remember the video fake break, the hype builds higher and higher the next day, after dessert, the flash mob starts, everyone to the grandstand!! Judges run out and join in on the killer moves, Green and White is here!!

Congratulations to Peter and Khalid for being named captains, and Luke and Marc as co-captains. You all competed hard while staying close in the bunk, which made me proud. It was a very intense, close war until the end. Congrats to the Green Heroes for coming out on top!

Time for the last few days. Remember when we went to the sandbar, Khalid watches the Cosbys, "Marc Kanaaaaaan!!!", Ethan and Phil get dragged on the boom.

Khalid Al-Mutawa – Having been at camp for over half of your life, it is clear that you get camp. You are a leader of the group and you have to realize this. You can make anyone laugh at any time and I know I will see you back in the upcoming years.

Aidan Barber – Despite having only spent four weeks in The Realm, your love for camp is nearly unmatched. Your enthusiasm at every activity makes me so happy and you always have a positive attitude toward every person and every thing. Please come back for the whole summer next year, you will kill it.

Hunter Belisle – HUNTER!! It's always hard to come your first year and make an immediate impact on the group, but that is what you did. You were never afraid to put yourself out there and I know the group appreciated that. Your decision to stay an extra week and a half was awesome and I hope to see you back next year.

Zach Bohm – You are such an important part of the group. After missing last year, everyone was so happy to have you back. You are a leader in the group and you're always looking out for other group mates. The whole group dynamic changed with your presence this year, you were awesome.

Jaime Bohorquez – I'm so glad you came back. I loved being your counselor because you were always happy. It's very hard to come from a different country and bond with other kids at such a young age, but watching you make strong friendships is what camp is all about. Say hi to Nico!

Mason Brown – Although we just met this summer, I feel like I have known you for much longer. You came out of your shell and we all saw what an awesome kid you are. I love talking Cleveland sports with you and it looks like they will be more enjoyable to talk about now! You found a way to enjoy everything, and I hope you come back.

Peter Cohen – What can I say? You obviously love camp and camp obviously loves you. You are always smiling and keeping the group in an upbeat mood. You are a leader of the group. There were definitely times this year where you understood what being a leader entailed and you steered the group in the right direction. Before you know it, you will be leading Boys Camp.

Francesco Colombo – You are one of the most warm-hearted, kind people I know and everyone could see it from the moment you stepped into The Realm. I loved talking to you this summer, you definitely get it. I can't wait to see you for longer next year!

William Crystal – You are extremely smart and it shows in everything you say and do. You also happen to be one of the nicest kids I have ever met, as you are always looking out for others. I hope as the years go on you become louder and develop into a great leader of this group. Keep coming back.

Jake Danegger – You are always willing to help me or anyone else, and I loved watching you fall in love with camp and get closer with your friends. You are such a unique guy and had a great impact on the group's dynamics. I'm glad you stayed for four weeks this year, and I hope next summer you'll make the leap to seven.

Hudson Davis – After the first few days, you adjusted to camp extremely well. In such a short time, you became a very important part of the group and I never saw you without that goofy smile on your face. You are hilarious and your antics at night could not be forgotten. I hope to see you back next summer.

Max Escalara – You are the most energetic, wild person I have ever met. You could always make us laugh or pick up our group's energy level when needed. I loved seeing you become closer with other members of the group and your English really improved. The group would not be the same without you and I know you'll be back.

George Eustice – I think you are the most intelligent 12 year old I've ever met. You were always explaining things to other campers and even counselors. Seeing you become closer with kids from your school is awesome and I hope you remain close over the year. Never stop reading and keep coming back.

Will Godbout – It's hard to believe this was your first summer in The Realm. From day one, you gelled perfectly with the group. You're an incredible athlete and you're also a great kid. I hope you keep coming back because you will definitely realize how perfect you are for camp and camp is for you.

Ethan Hobert – Having a full summer under your belt before this year, you were one of the veterans of the group. I enjoyed watching you become closer with other group mates. You have the potential to play a key role in the group's future. I love your stories.

Marc Kanaan – You love this place and this place loves you. You truly understand how special this place is and I'm so glad you got to experience your first excursion and color war. Even though you might be taller than I next year, I really hope to see you back for many years to come.

Lee Karlinsky – It's not easy to come into such a close group four weeks late, but I was impressed to see how easily you fit in. You are very clever and very funny and I expect you to introduce me to all the movie stars one day! Keep coming back. Your love for camp is obvious to the group and everyone in The Realm.

Drew Kendall – You are such a compassionate, caring kid. Your maturity shined through from the minute you stepped foot on camp. You were always trying to make it easier for all of us and you weren't afraid to stand up against things you didn't believe in, which we really appreciate. You definitely have a place in this group. Keep coming back.

Ryan Kim – Not only are you an unbelievable artist, but you always had an awesome smile on your face. I wish you could've stayed longer, but Italy is a pretty cool place. I hope to see you back next summer because you definitely are a vital part of this group.

Ajay Lang – You were very quiet at first, but you quickly gained confidence in yourself as the summer progressed. You may not have realized this, but you had a large impact on the Yeomen of 2014. I hope you carry the confidence you gained at camp with you in the school year. See you next summer!

Michael Lu – You are one of the more athletic kids in the group. You are so easy-going and because of that your place in this group will only continue to grow. Everything you say is always important and positive. Keep coming back.

Matthew Mailman – I was sad not to see the Spongebob too much this year. That being said, your understanding of camp is very obvious. You're a great kid, you're hilarious, and you get what camp can do for people. Hopefully next year you will be back for the whole summer.

Ricky Melasecca – When I heard you were leaving at four weeks, I was heartbroken. Four days later you were back in the bunk unpacking and scared the mess out of me. I couldn't have been happier. I'm so glad you came back, your politeness and compassion for others is so impressive. You care about every single person in this group, and as you continue your camper career, I hope you continue to establish yourself as a leader.

Connor Nowak – I can't remember a time when you weren't first on the benches. You always listened, which made everything so much easier the Yeomen staff. You totally got everyone with the laser pointer at night, which was only part of your hilarity. I could always count on you to make me laugh and I enjoyed getting to know you.

Samuel Olarte – You were always smiling and happy which in turn made everyone else smile and be happy. You were quiet at first, but I'm so glad we got to see your personality come out, especially during skit night. I know I speak for the entire group when I say that I hope you keep returning to The Realm summer after summer.

Olive Paumgarten – You are unbelievably mature for your age. Every time you spoke, I always listened because it was always something important. You have a great sense of humor and your waterskiing ability is unreal. Keep it up!

Bruno Peman – Coming all the way from Spain, you fit right into the group since day one. You are hilarious and provided the group with several laughs throughout the summer. You and Jaime make a great duo and I hope you come back.

Michael Pierro – I really enjoyed getting to know you, especially once your outgoing personality came alive. You were always smiling and seemed to enjoy every activity. Have a good school year!

Phil Schmidt – I'm so happy you were able to stay the full seven and experience your first color war and excursion. Your role in the group grew so much this year and it will only continue to grow in the future as you come back. I know you will continue to kill it in the upcoming summers.

Dylan Siegel – NUGGET BOY!! You are the most even-keeled 12 year old I've ever met. I've never seen you get upset about anything and I'm glad to see you mature and love camp more and more. Camp has clearly become your second home, keep coming back, and keep balling.

Luke Swirsky – I don't think it is a stretch to say you have the most swag in camp. You are so confident in everything you do and I loved seeing how mature you became this year. Camp loves you, you love camp, and you definitely are developing a leadership role in this group. Sooner than you realize, you will be running The Realm.

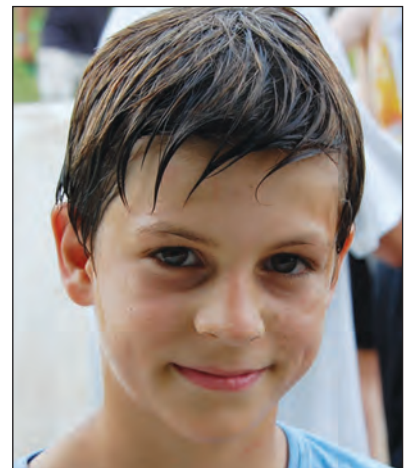

Jack Ungar – I'm so incredibly happy that you were able to come back to camp this summer. You bring people up. You are always so happy and appreciative and I actually cannot remember a time when you weren't smiling. Never stop smiling and keep coming back.

Charlie Zinamon – I'm still not sure what your real voice sounds like. Either way, your presence definitely grew this summer, as did your love for camp. You are an athlete and I know you would excel during color war. I hope you will experience everything camp has to offer next summer.

Gabe Zolot – You are such a fierce competitor and such a nice kid. Watching you compete made me so proud. You have so much heart and you are a terrific athlete. I really hope next year you stay long enough to experience Green and White, because you are perfect for it.

To my staff – I said it in pre camp and I'll say it again, we definitely had THE best staff in camp. I could trust each and every one of you with just about any situation, and the kids loved all of you. I'm so glad to have gotten closer with you throughout the summer, and I hope you all had as great of a summer as I did. Stay in touch, and hopefully I'll see you all next year.

Yeomen 2014 – It was an incredible summer and it wouldn't have been this amazing without each and every single one of you. I enjoyed getting to know all of the first year campers, and it was great to get closer with those of you I've had the past two years. You guys really impress me with how much you understand and love camp, especially at such a young age. Keep coming back, cherish every moment, and I can't wait to see you lead Boys Camp in a few years.

LANCERS OF 2014

THROW THAT MONEY UP!
It's time to stop wandering, scheming at Monopoly, and eating that candy. Grab a coke or some bug juice and sit back to relive the amazing summer of 2014, otherwise known as The Summer of Terrance.

The summer started with 23 of you moving into the Castle on the Hill. Remember when Fuente had the most athletic Danish period ever seen? You should probably throw righty and standing up, Fuente. Remember world cup and Ethiopia being every team's country of choice? Gimbel rains 3's...Jonas mistaking Habib for LeBron James in the first week...Pikachu! We CAN'T play without our mascot...Goodman and Fuente collide, the world stops...the Cookie Monster and his moonwalk homerun...Federico and his tasteful songs. Remember 'evening shadows' and of course, our whole group being a wrecking ball? I think we owe camp a bench and an Adirondack chair.

Remember Sir Terrance Sisyphus of the 50 Acre Wood? The crowning ceremony headlined by Gimbel's wonderfully artistic crown. Remember when Goodman got de-ranked in archery?...Natro refuses to do waterski but ends up loving it...Meister's private volleyball session...Doing the Nay Nay in the corner of the dhall...Camper hunts being the counselors+brass vs. the kids...Jonas' tennis moonshots on the quad and Benny winning a nighttime lullaby and Sam Garson's cleaning session. Remember trip Jordan's diary and Tunley's broken wrist? And the winner of twinning day goes to Meister and Gimbel.

Remember the scavenger hunt? E-hows tanks being the most important item and Max Perlick's eloquent poems about camp.. Billiam pushing Hunter in the trash...the T.A. sandwich...Benny finds Tanner...Daloia loses odds are to Meister...Billiam and his tennis racquet...Tanner get's a ring...Kubbinga's own goal...Tanner and Pablo's $20 bet on the dimensions of the home run diamond...Jonas and Paxton's cracker eat ends with Paxton spewing crackers everywhere.

Remember beating the Friars in dodgeball? Chaos ensues...Winning the 13 and under Flag Football tournament and the soccer team coming in 3rd? You boys should be so proud of yourselves. Remember when Goodman and Fuente shared silverwear? Some kids refuse to shoot with their hands in handball...Pablo finds a present in the lake...Bug zapper initiation...Parkour down moment...Humans vs. Zombies with all of Boys camp...Billiam freaks out during a group meeting when he thinks he's staying for green and white...Dodge is the next Tony Romo...Spending our night in the barn during the epic storm.

Remember the foundation run for Josh Frase and the sketchy onlookers? You boys did that walk like champs, couldn't be more proud. Remember when Cody scared the random walker on the side of the road? Natro dominates in the bball tournament... Fuente's sister treats him with respect... Dodge's activities at cozy corner...Hunter breaks a very significant piece of camp equipment ONE day before the basketball tournament.

Remember the film crew and Brett jumping off the tower at least 40 times when the helicopter was flying by? Adelman and Benny at steal the bacon...Cody and his bug zapper go on a spree...Lebron James makes his announcement to return to Cleveland while half the group is at Indian Acres and Garson goes crazy and HAS to call his Dad to celebrate...Andoni falls off the wall in GaGa... The Friars beat us in capture the flag when Shafer runs over Benny...Fuente and Billiam both have a secret love for eating insects... Garson sleeps outside the infirmary because he doesn't want to wake the staff...Tanner making the 15 and Under Soccer team!

Remember the talent show? Amazing job... Especially you, David, you made Miley Cyrus proud. Remember our hike up Mt. Morgan and James driving on the wrong side of the road? Finding the biggest leaf (sike), Daloia loving the view for approximately two minutes and then getting ice cream after? I think you have enough lollipops to last you until next summer. Remember getting dunked on? 'Get DUNKED ON!'

Remember when J-Ro wasn't falling? We weren't being filmed? Habib wasn't asking questions or Goodman wasn't wandering? When we could get through a count off with Andoni saying 'seven' correctly? When any of you weren't eating candy? When we ate the fish from excursion? Natro wasn't with Nick?

After an amazing four weeks we said goodbye to the four weekers and were left with 15 boys, ready to get down and dirty for some deep-sea fishing.

Remember excursion and paintball being the first activity? Cody gets hit in the neck, counselors have far too much fun and Paxton can't understand why...Fuente and J-Ro can't seem to understand that 'don't take your mask off' means, 'don't take your mask off'...Going to the camp site and setting up our tents in a matter of minutes to go talk to the employee at the store... Seeing 'Transformers' at 9:30 at night and needing Chipotle. TWAK, TWAK. Remember the water park? Jonas certainly doesn't but at least he has a new phone. You all loving Mini-golf the most and wanting to stay the whole day. Counselors do some improv and take you all to FunWorld where we take over, winning every ticket in arcade games only to spend it all on...candy. Remember the Nashua Silver Knights baseball game where Adelman lost the bat spin contest?... Counselors do tug of war...Habib, Meido and Oscar run wildly around the stadium looking for a foul ball...Habib gets a broken bat.

Remember deep sea fishing and worrying that the fish were too smart for us? No, they have not evolved overnight...Goodman catches eight fish and Oscar bites off the head of another. Amazing excursion boys!

Remember founder's night that saw Cody get his ten year vest and many of you get water bottles and flags for doing the right thing and coming back year after year? Remember the brass fake break that had ALL of you thinking it was real? Finally, Green and White broke at dinner with the flash mob and we chose captains with J-Ro and Paxton leading the White Mafia and Hunter and Meister leading the Green Heros. Congrats, boys. So many memories from an incredible five days.

LANCERS

Remember Gimbel's comeback in dodgeball?...J-Ro's interception in football 'what do I do?!'...Paxton breaking Hunter's ankles in Danish Longball...Meido's half field goal in soccer...Adelman's boat gets stuck under the lane line...soccer moms and stay at home dads...Ducks are Jonas' favorite animal (Heroes fly together!)...Fuentes becomes the best softball player ever for Green and White...Remember the 1 (!) point lead for the Mafia going into day 5? What a memorable day 5 that saw the Heroes pull away thanks to an epic song night with one of the best Alma Mater's that I have ever heard. If any of you are missing camp, put on "All I Want" by Kodakid. Boys, I'm so proud of how you handled the war. You left it all on the field but when the activities were done you became a group again. You're so far ahead of where Lancer groups typically are. I loved watching you for those five days.

Remember the five days after Green and White? Remember the pool party on the quad?...The pvc pipe...The schoolyard joke book, Jamals face hurts...Jerome is down?...The toad at our canoe period was EVERYWHERE thanks to Flash and Goodman...The spider wall of fame in our bathroom...Meister makes a sign that says "Beware of my ___"...Tunley challenges the caffeinated Adelman...J-Ro's soccer saves...Narayan cannot shoot a basketball without opening his mouth...Remember awards night? Lancers take home the hardware capped off with Hunter winning all boys camp Sportsmanship! Congrats! The last two weeks were amazing, boys.

Narayan – Although your time at camp is limited, you really make the best of it by not wasting a minute in the two weeks you are here every summer. You're a great soccer player and a hilarious guy that always keeps the atmosphere lively at activities. Keep up the good work when you come back next summer.

Adelman – I've never seen a worse player at the game 21 in my life. Besides that, overall you are a great camper who is very intelligent and helpful. You are always there to volunteer for the daily chores no one wants to do. I can tell when you're a Saxon you won't have any regrets because you will have left it all on the field through out your camper career.

Chang – Leslie, you are definitely the funniest kid I have ever met but you also know when to step up and be serious when the situation requires it. You always seem to make the most of every period, give it your all, and have fun. On another note you aren't getting your mcdoubles.

Daloia – You had a great summer. You gave your all at activities and did a great job connecting with the new campers and getting them prepared for the camp lifestyle. We hope you can stay longer next year and don't forget your lacrosse stick!

Alex – You started shy in the beginning but once you found your place in the group you really opened up and showed us who you really are. You really seemed to be improving at a lot of activities, improving your set of skills. You really fit into the group and we hope you will return but be sure to practice your bobbling for team handball next year.

Jose Angel – Cookie Monster, what can I say you're a Spanish beaut. You defied the language barrier which allowed you to connect with the group greatly. The Spanish jeans run in your blood because your amazing at soccer and you must have a family tie to Casillas or someone.

Dodge – This year you really fit into the group and really shined when you gave it your all at the activities with the group. You also killed it in the 13u football tournament...Mr. QB guy. The only regret I have is giving you the QB plays on your wrist. Hope to see you next year.

Andoni – Seven, your count offs kept everyone laughing throughout the day. You are a beast at team handball and soccer. I hope you stay longer next summer because you would be awesome at green and white.

Natro – You're a well-rounded kid that prides himself on the well being of others. If you want to continue your success on being a great camper you have got to seize the opportunity of staying longer. I know your heart is in the right place, just make it happen.

Habib – I think your decision to stay full was the best choice for you and it built a solid connection with the rest of the group. You provide the perfect combination of goofiness and athleticism during activities. I hope you got all of your questions out of the way this summer so next year you will know what's going on.

Hansburg – Let's be honest, you're athletic. It's awesome to see you come back summer after summer and play an important role in the group as a leader. Over the year keep practicing solving the Rubix cube because you're pretty mediocre at it. Keep in touch.

Kubbinga – After settling in, you really fit into the group and established yourself as a master of kemp. You are a really interesting kid being culturally diverse and being a funny guy in general. We hope to see you next year for a longer period of time and be more attentive at meals because you got a lot of jobs dude.

Mata – Consuela, you are hands down the best sweeper I have ever seen. You are always hilarious during activities no matter what the activity was and always willing to help out others in the bunk. Can't wait to see you next year.

Meister – You have size where it really matters...your heart. You're a hilarious kid who leads the group in a great way. You have the perfect amount of competitiveness during Green and White which makes everyone enjoy your presence. Can't wait to see you next summer.

Meido – When people get to know you, they can really see the funny kid that you really are. You are a very good soccer player as well as a great athlete at every other sport. It's so good to see you keep coming back and even though you can't stay the full summer, you make the most of every second that you're here. Can't wait to see you next summer.

Moyo – You are the deadliest mafia member to play in The Realm. You're a hilarious kid that brings immense effort at every activity. It's cool to see you compete in green and white with great passion and intensity. I hope the rivalry continues between you and your brother when you come back next summer.

Flug – This summer was a huge one for you. I pride you on trying to expand your friend group this summer with the whole group because you are a leader in the group. Your jokes kept everyone laughing throughout the entire day. I hope you stay longer next year because you would compete very well in Green and White and have a blast.

Fuente – You truly are a gentle giant. Not only can you level someone in team handball, you can pick someone up from hardships like homesickness throughout the summer. I like to think of you as a father figure to the group looking out after everyone and making sure that nothing gets in harms way of your boys. Fuendeisel, Fuendeezus, or even the Magical Fuente, I can't wait to see you next summer.

Geldzahler – Your love for the song Trumpets is out of control. You always seem to have a smile on your face throughout the day. We were sad to see you leave early but hopefully you decide to stay longer next year because you are such a good kid.

Gimbel – You are one of the best athletes in the group. Your competitiveness brings great passion and intensity to the group during activities especially during Green and White. You also have a smooth base line jump shot. Keep it up Childish Gimbinol!

Goodman – You always seem to be having a blast no matter what the conditions are or who you are with. The group can always rely on your comedic relief during the day when we really need it. I hope when you read this, you understand how beneficial and important you are to this amazing group.

LANCERS

Oscar – Even though you came late as a new camper, you really seemed to make friends with all of your bunk mates. You really gained confidence this summer and it showed when you bit the head off the fish on excursion. You're really funny at dancing in the dining hall and in the bunk, hopefully when you come back next year you can teach us those moves.

J-Ro – Seeing you lead the white Lancers in Green and White was awesome because you kept it a close color war and brought a lot of energy. I think all of the Lancers knew that picking you for captain would be great for the group by coming together and having a competitive but fun war.

Nick – You're a ball of energy and always keep others going throughout activities no matter what the situation is. I hope you decide to stay longer next year because you're missing out on a great part of camp. Green and white is for you – I think you should keep coming back.

Benny – I've never seen a new camper come into a group and take on such a high leadership role in the group like you did. You were always the first one to resolve conflicts in the group by thinking of the entire group before yourself. Plus, you break ankles like no other too. I can't wait to see you next year.

Tanner – You are well liked by every member in the group and it shows with your friendship towards everyone. Your attitude toward every activity was always positive and got the most out of every activity. You better stay full next year.

Edmond – I loved seeing you start to step out of your shell this year and start to take more of a leadership role. Your love for camp is so real and this place needs you to keep coming back. I would love to see you stay longer next summer; the group as a whole benefited from your hilarity and positive attitude towards activities. Also, our 15-U soccer team kind of needs you back!

Hunter – You bring great passion to every activity while exemplifying great sportsmanship. You displayed outstanding leadership skills as a captain during Green and White. You can drop the keys off in the morning...

Turner – You really made the most of this summer by giving it your all at all activities. You seemed to make many new friends, hopefully you can call your brothers. I think camp is a great place for you to shine so keep coming back.

Weber – Adjusting to the camp routine is a tough thing to do but once you got the feel for it, you had a blast. Camp is a place where anyone can excel in any activity and you showed it with your skill at mountain biking. We hope the Seattle crew will be back next summer. Can I get a...?

Sean – One of the highlights of my summer was you welcoming the three new campers in the backroom with open arms.

It's not easy being new here, especially as a Lancer, but you helped more than you can imagine. That says something about who you are. You're such a solid guy and I truly hope you continue to stay full session during your camper career because this group benefits so much with you in it. See you in ten months!

Pablo – You had such a great summer and I cannot emphasize enough how important you are to this group. Through the summer I saw you mature and become more social with everybody so I can't wait for you to beat the summer from the start next year. You have a sweet jumper and the 15-U team needs that jumper more than ever next year. Can't wait to see you next summer!

To my staff – You know how much I appreciate all the hard work you put in to make this summer the best it could possibly be for the campers. Thank you. Now, Lancers, stop playing the 5 Seconds of Summer song, sign up to stay full session next year, and I promise none of you will regret it. I love all of you and will always, always remember this summer.

Lancers – This was one of the best summers of my life. I was nervous to have such a large group of 13-year-old boys but this group is so much further than Lancer groups in years past. Above all else, I will be here every year for at least five days and I hope to see all of you as much as possible because you boys are ready to lead this place and to make your mark on camp.

Friars,

Take a break from the stresses that the school year brings, stop yelling spring break and throwing up the hand signal, and head to the Delta Fri headquarters to relive the summer of 2014,

Remember the first couple of days of camp, the LA crew rolling in early and then establishing ourselves as the biggest group in camp complete with 32 campers? Remember everyone's irregular digestive habits?

Remember the founding of Delta Fri? The initiation led by Matt and Shafe? Remember Marx throwing his shoes on the roof and T-Pain having to climb up and get them? Remember Nacho saving the door from getting thrown off also? Remember all the raves?

Remember playing flip cup for jobs? Mauricio's one handed catch? Shafe going beast mode on Mauricio? Dini's Nene? Remember Matt's #mancrushmonday insta? Remember Suna and Lauren's love? Remember Zubi getting hit in softball?

Remember 15u tryouts? Suna getting the last spot on the team as a bucket hat clad waterboy? The tournament right before

West End when we went up against IA's very own Macklemore and their other way too old players? Remember Phil and Suna dressing up on the sidelines? Remember Briar running on the court and the camp Cody kid trying to play with a cast? Remember all of you guys running through the tunnel and giving it your all against West End? It was worth it for the van ride back!

Remember Castle's toothpaste dancing, party-boying Smoss, and Tim and Grant getting thrown into the lake? Remember all of Zubi's toilet masterpieces? Remember all of our games of Balloon Battle?

Remember when team D won the battle? Remember when Nacho wasn't the favorite for captain? Remember when PG wasn't scoring? Remember when you stayed in your own canoes, kayaks and paddleboards? Remember when we got called first for ice cream?... WE DON'T, WE WANT LAST.

Remember getting put in charge of cookout and absolutely killing it? Getting rewarded with ice cream from Woody? Remember Zubi's flip off the tower? Remember Gabriel acting out movies late night or for the Shires on the quad?

Remember the sound being DJ PG?
Remember PG's free sixty dunks at the water front? Remember Steve living three or dying? Remember the Lebron Fathead's short tenure on the side of our bunk?

Remember getting our revenge on the Lancers for bombardment by beating them in straight games of capture the flag? Remember Shafe's truck stick to end it all? Remember our first campfire and feasting on Shafe's birthday junk food? Remember Patty falling off the gaga pit? Remember Grant's butterfingers? Remember sending our birthday wishes to Kaitlin and getting a letter back?

Remember spending an afternoon at the sandbar and establishing the Indian Wrestling Association? Remember Boffa and Suna's encounter with beef jerky and all of its side effects? Remember Suna and Zubi jumping out of the boat at Winaukee, taking away from our practice time for the talent show? Didn't matter, we still had the best dance easy.

Remember the mushroom growing in the bathroom? Remember gladiator ball, Chang and Pablo's collision, and Pablo looking like sloth from the goonies? Remember the real question being 'what think Faisal Al-Mutawa'? Remember Pat's sunburn? Remember Boffa and Dick's showdown?

Remember our skits? Chuck's soup line being wide open, Pablo's Perlich impression and Suna perfectly describing Grant? Remember raving at the social right after? Remember Zubi's not so secret talent? Remember Boffa getting caught? Remember Benji falling asleep at gaga? Remember cleaning every table in the dining hall?

Remember PVD rolling around and Marx greeting his parents? Remember Castle getting rid of the handle bar mustache? Remember Sam Asner winning the day? Remember Benji's trip to Cali? Remember Delta Fri beating the Foresters and Faisal in the volleyball tournament finals? Remember Petrone's Turks and Cacaos world cup team ending in an injury? Remember creating the ΔF headquarters?

FRIARS

Then it was time for excursion, first stop all you can eat pizza. Remember the knockout game and 2 v 2 with the two randos? Remember wearing clothes in the vans? Remember Donovan using facebook? Remember Shafer running to Faisal's tent for an odds are? Remember Vinny and Schneider losing their money at six flags and starting the Vincent foundation? Remember Faisal chickening out at the water park? Grant blowing money at the tower game? Remember white water rafting? Remember Jamie's wetsuit? Remember thrifting and getting jumpsuits? Remember playing cross the line? Remember paintball and Pablo's VIP welt? Remember slap cup and pie and ice cream for dessert?

Shortly after excursion came the fake break and then finally real Green and White. Congrats to the Captains and Cos! Although I didn't have much time to spend with you all during the war your competitiveness and sportsmanship impressed me a lot. Your volleyball game for example was amazing.

You guys also knew how to continue goofing off and being a group even in the war. The hailstorm is something you guys will probably never forget, nor will you forget Gregg the antichrist. Remember Zubi and Nikki bonding, and then Nikki, E-how and Castle bonding during the war? Remember Matt's tubing battles versus Zach Zeller and then Matt and Juan's unconventional tubing stances? Remember asking the office for a volleyball in your boxers? Remember Vince trading elites for a hat and cane? Remember Pablo's master plan on night 5?...GO PABLO

Remember GL swap, rocking all of Natalie's DG clothes? Remember our last evening activity complete with British bulldog, the rave in the lodge, Balloon battle and hot seat? Remember getting our Friar Jersey's and the ΔF on the sleeve?

Wali – You know what you're good at but you don't show it off to gloat you show it for the enjoyment of yourself or others. You are a very skilled dancer, athlete and most of all friend. It was great to get to know you this summer.

Aaron Alderman – It was great to see you try and succeed to be more outgoing this summer. You were always doing what you were supposed to be doing and voiced your opinion if something didn't feel right. See you next year.

Faisal – Seven years has clearly taught you what camp is all about. You always do the right thing when you have to. You're a clear leader in the group and you deserve to be.

Danny Arussi – It was great to see you integrate yourself into the group. Your goofy nature helped you break from your comfort zone early on. Hope your transition into high school is just as easy.

Alexander Brown – It took a couple days for you to find your place in the group, but once you did it was a great thing to see. You never had a mean or defiant moment and always tried your best at activities. Hope to see you back here next year.

Leopold – You were a great addition to the group. It was great to see you do things that you excelled at and do them because you were passionate about them and not because you wanted recognition. Hopefully you can come back next year for longer.

Benjamin Asner – The amount that you’ve matured since Yeoman year is astounding. It was awesome to see you integrate so heavily into the group and have the confidence to do things you hadn’t done before. Continue to show passion about what you care about, but don’t let people who you disagree with get you too upset.

Vince Barone – Vinny, you’re not the loudest kid in the bunk but your demonstrative enough for me to know how much fun you have here. You’re a really kind, silly and laid-back kid at heart. You’re a staple in the group and everyone expects you back.

Will Boffa – You’ve changed a lot since you were a Yeoman and you’ve found your place in The Realm. You’re still a goofball, but you’ve branched out to different activities and different people within the Friars. I know how much you wanted to stay the full session and I know you won’t forget that passion over the year.

Alex Chang – You always have a sneaky smile on your face as if you don’t want other people to find out how you’re having as much fun as you do. You compete your hardest in every activity and you make the most of your time in The Realm. You are a model camper, keep it up.

Lorenzo Colombo – It’s been really cool to see you mature both mentally and physically since Yeoman year. You have clear goals and passions and that’s something not everyone your age can say. Can’t wait to watch you in the Olympics in 2020.

Nicolas Dini – I’ve never met someone who can be so naturally funny by simply making observations. You have a way with words and a way with questions and you bring a smile to the faces of the people around you. I hope things are going well for you at home and that Faisal can convince you and your parents to sign you up for the full session next year.

Imanol – I knew I would be getting a good camper when I heard that you were friends with Gonzalo. You were a great addition to the group and even had influence on a lot of the older and established campers. Hopefully you’ll be able to come back and impact this group in the future.

Patrick – Your laid back personality allows for a lot of joyous and hilarious moments. It’s great to see how versatile you are and how well you mesh with all of the different groups in the Friars. I’m glad you had a great summer and I hope you can have a couple more.

Felix – You’re a very kind kid and you also have a great sense of humor. I loved watching your spirit, especially when it came to rooting for Belgium. I hope you come back for longer next year, I know everyone would appreciate it.

Joey Licht – I wish you weren’t so good at basketball so that you could keep coming back forever. Hopefully this year has made you realize how important this place is and how important you are to the group. Try to make some time to come back next year because this group is certainly better off with you in it.

Matt Longfield – It's clear that you have a lot of fun at Robin Hood. You do everything with a smile (or smirk) on your face. Be kind, continue to show respect to those around you and use your energy to love camp and help everyone love it with you.

Tim Longfield – You embody not wasting a minute. Thank you for always trying at activities, doing what you were suppose to and making the summer fun for yourself and everyone around you. Never lose your spirit.

Ethan Marx – You provided the soundtrack for the summer this year. I've never seen anyone throw a rave like you do. You've come a long way from your days as a new and shy Yeoman. You're a confident, well-behaved young man, equipped to start your life at your new high school.

Gabriel Massieu – You are the most entertaining person I've ever met. I've never seen anyone captivate an audience like you do with your movie reenactments. Keep being a diva and shining, I hope to see you back next year.

Pablo Melasecca – You are easy to talk to and you have a great personality. You're a silly kid and a big voice in your group simultaneously. I know there are pressures to do different things over the summer but you should let everyone know how important camp is to you.

PG Pello – It was awesome to see how much you cared about your group mates and counselors. Everyone loved to see you score because it was clear how much fun you were having. Keep DJing, having fun and most of all caring about the people in your life.

Justin Pierro – Your enthusiasm for new activities is unparalleled. It was amazing to see your face light up when we had water sports or any activity you really liked on the schedule, but you even seemed to enjoy things you thought you wouldn't. Hope you come back for another summer!

Sergi Romy – You were a pleasure to have in the group. You clearly knew what you liked and what you didn't, but you didn't complain about the activities that weren't your favorite. I'm sure you'll be back to continue building on your best summers for two more years.

Juan Sainz – All you want for the summer is for everyone to have as much fun as possible and that is really sweet to see. You are always there to help out and you try your best to provide happiness to your group mates and counselors. It's great to see someone who has fell in love with camp as quickly as you.

Josh Schneider – You are an extremely kind and well-intentioned kid. It's encouraging to see someone who loves camp and their group as much as you do after just a short period of time. Don't ever feel pressured to change and continue being the warmhearted kid that you are.

Philip Schneider – You are an enigma. You are also way too mature for your age. Still, it was nice to know that at least one Friar had a complete understanding of what was going on. I had a great summer with you and thank you for all you bring to camp!

Joshua Shafer – The best way I could describe you at camp is 'in the zone.' You are so comfortable and at home here and you care about everyone in your group and your counselors. You are so important to the group and I know you won't forget to keep coming back to exercise your role.

Ryan Siegel – It was inspiring to see you reach out to the new kids in the group while still maintaining your friendships from previous summers. You had a very successful summer reaching a lot of your goals and having fun at the same time. See you next year!

Jonathan Suna – It was awesome to see you continue to build your identity and take on a leadership role in the group this summer. You did everything you wanted to and you did it to the fullest extent. If there is anyone who doesn't enjoy your presence and your unique personality, I haven't met them yet.

Mauricio – You are an impressive athlete, kid, and friend. You're a little mature for the group, but it seemed as if you liked being childish and playing around with everyone. I hope you're back at camp next year and that you bring the same energy that you brought this year.

Austin Terowsky – You can be quiet at times but you make every word and moment count. You do what you want and you don't bother yourself with anything you dislike or don't care about. It's awesome to see you with your best friends doing your own thing.

Grant Wasserman – You truly made an effort this year to be your best and for that I'm grateful. You have your place at camp and in the group and you have fun with it. I'm glad you stayed basically the full session; hopefully you have two more full years ahead of you.

Skye – You made a very quick transition into the group and branched out from the collegiate boys early on. You bought into camp, which is tough at your age for a brand new camper. I hope to see you next year for the war, you would love it.

Zubi – You love Robin Hood and everything about it. Even if we are doing something that's not your favorite activity you still look right at home. Don't forget how much this place means to you and don't let anyone tell you that you should spend less time here. You'll get trees pretty soon buddy, don't worry.

Staff – There were a lot of changes this summer but you handled them well and dealt with a tough situation for all of us. Each of you tried and helped in your own way. I can't thank you enough for getting me where I am and for everything you did for these kids. They loved you and they loved this summer.

Friars – I know you don't like hearing you have potential but it's simply said because you guys are so awesome to talk to and have amazing personalities. You guys don't yet work as one unit, but you're well on your way. Listen to each other and anyone who can steer you in the right direction because once you guys work together and find your thing you'll be the best group in camp, easy. Glad to be a part of the ride and I'll see you next year for at least five days. Can't wait, put down your math homework, take a break from your day job for a hot second, and let's reminisce about the incredible summer of 2014. To start, I was so excited to have the best group on camp for the second year in a row, you can't even imagine. When I got the call I was going to be a GL I couldn't see myself with any group but yours. Sit back relax and enjoy the read...

...love ya'll.

FORESTERS

HEY FO' FOU'TEEN,

Remember when we arrived at camp extremely confused about living in the gymnastics area? But seriously the openness of the new bunk was perfect for you guys and we had the best location in boys camp!

Remember the sailing intensive, losing the rudder, and the noose tying intensive... "I am the captain now". Least intense intensive of all time. Oh yeah and that one period where AJ and Vertes almost killed some archers... Remember our drama period on day one nearly getting us banned from drama... Oh No!!!!

Remember Mariana, Snapchat best friends for life. Remember when Milstein went out of camp with us... I don't! Remember the staff bathroom parties... "chill with the cruncha munchas my dude"? Remember Strauss's pink eye and enclosed head injuries?

Remember Gonzo and The Crab, The Princess, The Tumor, and The Helicopter? Is that a woodpecker I hear... It's back! Remember Evan always being the first to die in mafia? Remember our Dining Hall chants... never said no Forester chants... Remember our intensity during the Final Four 4-Square games?

Remember Warsh's stringent diet... just kidding I'm going to eat cake for breakfast and am obviously taking the day off for Beach Day. Remember the vast difference in our Volleyball skills from the first E.A. to our Green and White Game, so proud of you guys... you'll appreciate Saxon year. Remember our relaxing boating periods, shoutout to Javi for bringing his speaker on a kayak.

Remember Flug nearly hitting trees with his bat? Remember not having any data or food in the bunk? Remember Flug wanting to do nothing but hunt dinosaurs and texting Lindsey... "It's my day off, Margolin you're the GL". Remember sneaking out of dinner through the kitchen during a thunderstorm... "Flug what's wrong with this picture"? Remember it being the summer of footage... just kidding that got old real quick. Thanks Goody for loosing my GoPro in the bottom of the lake. Remember Fight Nights?

Remember the volleyball tourney in the rain in your Beach Party uniforms under the leadership of the renowned coach Gonzalo Montiel de la Vega? Remember Javier passing during soccer... I don't. Remember Vertes being a "one man frat house" and his sister rocking PVD? Remember our barn time dance parties with the Shires? Remember beach day... playing Four Square on the beach and having a delicious dinner while everyone else was being engulfed by fog on the beach?

Remember the surprising athleticism of Strauss' and Warsh's dads, Mr. Schreibman nearly hitting Girls Camp Trees and the Vertes hitting back to back home runs? Remember our awesome tubing periods, going to the main lake, and boat jumping? Remember Petrone and Perlick living in our bunk? Remember our war with the Saxons over our van seat benches? Remember Scooter scooting around our bunk?

Remember Warsh snagging all of the Scribes' digits... score! Remember the all boys camp game of infection, Gonzalo's empire, and Javier going on the dining hall roof after specifically telling him not to... Remember our appropriate Forester dance... Vertes and Jimmy cross dressing, Fergalicious, and Warsh and Adam's milkshakes. Then playing it safe with our extremely creative Evolution of Hip-Hop Dancing. JK thanks Jimmy Fallon, you will never fail us.

Remember your count off numbers? Probs not, considering we did it twice all summer. "Foresters raise your hands, 1..2..3..4... Alright they're all here". Remember the West End game, Eric actually getting minutes and getting boards like Anderson Verajo, Kao schooling them during the half time show, and Javier acting like he was at a Real Madrid game? Remember steal the bacon, Evan wearing swim goggles, and sending two kids to the hospital... probably not a good look...

FORESTERS

Remember Jonas' typewriter written pops letters...they'll never get old. And his care packages of Baseball cards...what is this 1950? Remember McNulty not having a clue who LeBron James was when we were all freaking out over his decision? Remember McNulty transforming from a strict night watchman to the chilliest bro ever...we made such good time with him during excursion.

Remember Adam's all star softball team, I heard they're going to the Little League World Series this year. Remember all of the Plot Twists of the summer? Remember Flug's McNulty impression, "Javier get some sandpaper, I built this bunk with me own hands and I won't stand for it."

Remember Joe Biden riding shotgun in my Bugatti...Still sorry about not getting you guys those shirts, maybe next summer. Remember participating in intercamp athletics...I don't, but Javier does. Javier it's soccer not hockey...Remember D-Rob subbing in for Flug and killing it...We actually had an AGL for the second half of the summer. Remember AJ being Zach's dietician..."No Warsh Cinnamon Rolls aren't healthy and pasta is not a good source of protein."

Remember our 8-way spoon festival in the awesome triple bed built for Shaquille O'Neil? Remember Zach keeping that awesome 'Red Sox Nation' shirt fresh for home. "Zach is that Versace or Armani?" Remember Jonas quietly being the funniest kid in the group, but loudly being the quietest? That's an oxymoron if I've ever heard one or paradox if you prefer.

Remember Enrique's surprising massages, crafts skills, and his need to climb. Remember when we got called out for riding mountain bikes during camper hunt. Remember being scared of the big bad James Ashley, just kidding that sweetheart couldn't hurt a fly. Remember Niall going all out in activities, diving in volleyball, and bare handing like a pro during softball; Total sleeper in the Green and White draft. Remember not seeing McNulty or Niall for days at a time...

Remember Eric and AJ being in charge when Milstein was on a day off. Sorry Flug, you're still AGL. Remember when Gimbel nailed Jason in the face with a tennis ball, while losing to Jimmy in an heated match? Remember our hilarious kickball challenge with the Shires and Camper Hunt Challenge with the Yeoman? Pretty sure you guys are undefeated this summer.

Remember our lavish excursion, which could go down in the history books as the best excursion of all time...Well if you don't please let me remind you. Remember when Gonzo and I had to make a quick stop at the Louis store before meeting you at Chipotle, but you couldn't find a place to park in all of Boston...Remember our duck tour? What can I say, I'm a tough guy. Remember arriving at the hotel and feeling like Kimye with the luxurious lobby, nice rooms, and endless amenities. Remember our delightful dinners in the private dining rooms at Oishii and the Rustic Kitchen...Toro, Kobe sliders, and the mussels...yummy. Oh yeah, and Rick Ross at Fire and Ice. Remember being surprised by how cool the JFK library was. Remember the excursion challenge and Jimmy the ghost. Remember walking around Cambridge and chilling on the Harvard Yard, but Jimmy not believing it was Harvard. Remember shopping at Copley Place and the Prudential Center and Gonzo spending more than all of us combined at Vilebrequin, Louis Vuitton, and Orogold. Not going to lie Gonzo you got ripped off buying that gold face wash, but I hope McNulty's paid you back by now. Remember cracking up during Shear Madness and getting the entire front row at the Blue Man Group. Finally, remember bouncing out of WaterCountry early and seeing Dawn of the Planet of the Apes and getting Chipotle before returning to camp just in time for Founders Night?

Remember when we were working on our gifts during the ceremony, but never got them finished...

Remember Green and White... First being fooled by DC, Woody, and the video crew's hilarious fake break and then the real break... Noah showing up for what seemed like an hour to help even out the teams after Jonas left. Remember Green dominating in softball with the Friars and Danish with the Saxons? Remember Warsh only trying the activities that I was there to watch him? Remember Shmorgan inspecting our bunk, seeing the D-Day toilet, towels over the sprinklers, and laughing at Javier's shelf. Remember impressing Woody during your volleyball game and your hilarious Basketball game? Just FYI Green and White is supposed to be serious, but I love you clowns and am sure Ralby couldn't help but laugh at your guys' performance. Remember Adam Black Swanning during glee and AJ narrating the skit with all human props. Finally, remember Green coming back on day five and taking home the gold?

Remember the Foresters' Night 5 extravaganza and seeing the Jacobsons among other familiar faces on the laziest lazy day in history. And ending the evening eating leftover Seabass and lobster from Oishii courtesy of the most honorable Jonny Price and me.

Remember in the last few days when Marj killed it as your GL? We ended the year with a massive campfire and volleyball and eagleball in the rain. Finally, remember your mischievous last night... Playing dead in front of Dick, Bruce being on the loose, Vertes and Jimmy, and going to the far far field to watch the sunrise before we sent off Zachary and Gonzalo.

Justin – You made it clear that you're an extremely intelligent young man with a strong understanding of yourself. Additionally, you realize how privileged you are and truly take the saying "don't waste a minute" to heart. I know you'll find a place where you can utilize your genius and feel genuinely fulfilled.

Javier – Though you played by your own rules this summer and gave me a fair share of headaches by doing so, it seems that deep down you truly love camp. You were always clowning around and had a lot of energy throughout the summer. Remember, the key to true happiness lies in giving joy to others.

Evan – You realized the vast influence a positive attitude has on having a great summer. You quickly integrated into the group and cracked us up with your hilarious observations. You are an integral part of this group, see you next summer.

Eric – Though you've been a leader of this group for years, you truly exemplified the extent of your leadership this summer. You are extremely mature and responsible and it is clear that every member of the group respects you greatly. Additionally, you are very intelligent and seem to have a strong grasp of your identity. This year I would really like you to give your all in school because whether or not you enjoy what you're learning you have to utilize your full potential to open more doors for yourself in the future. You're a very amiable and funny young man with many insights.

Enrique – From surprise massages, to gymnastics and painting, you are a man of many talents that adds great diversity and a unique perspective to this group. Over the past two summers I've watched you become an important part of the group, while still finding time to do the things you truly love like painting and late night reading. Furthermore, you're a very intelligent and mature young man and you exemplified this over the summer through your calm demeanor and plethora of knowledge ranging from martial arts to world news. I hope to see you come back for many summers to come and hope you have a great rest of the school year.

FORESTERS

Zach – You without a doubt have the biggest heart of anyone I've ever met. I know you care about every individual of this group wholeheartedly and I know the group members realize this as well. You have grown immensely over the past several summers, and I can't wait to watch you continue to mature. Keep being the silly you that are and try everything, you know I believe in you!

Jonas – As you likely read earlier, you're quietly the most hilarious individual in the bunk, yet one of the quietest. You are extremely understanding and forgiving and someone that anyone in the group would feel comfortable opening up to. I can't wait to see you at the helm of boy's camp next summer and hope you make your way onto staff. Finally, you better kill it this year at Hawken with Adam! I know you two can run that school.

Jimmy – Before the summer began, Jonny told me that we would 'get on great' and he was absolutely right. You are a natural athlete and though you had spent less than a month in The Realm prior to this summer, I would've believed that you had been here for years. You so quickly became an integral part of this group with your charming and caring personality. You also ended my summer on a great note by cracking me up as my 'camper-staff' tennis partner. Come back next summer and help to lead boy's camp.

Noah – Though your time at camp was very short this summer, I know you would've stayed the whole summer if you could and understand that sometimes life gets in the way. That being said, you added so much to the group in your short time here with your great sense of humor, warmhearted personality, and exceptional athleticism that's certainly unfit for this group. However, I won't take any excuses for you not staying full next summer because you leading boys camp along with this group has been years in the making. I promise you won't regret the decision.

Gimbel – Over the past year you matured greatly and it showed this summer, as you shined as a leader of this group. Your sportsmanship improved greatly because you realized that winning holds much less value than playing honestly, respecting your opponents, and truly finding joy in playing the game. I know you'll have a great Sophomore year at Shaker this year if you can bring these values back with you. You are an awesome kid and I know you will excel throughout high school and beyond!

AJ – You're such an outstanding young gentleman and are undoubtedly the glue that holds this group together. You're an extremely intelligent, mature, responsible, and caring individual that will seamlessly transition into adulthood. You has this hilarity and sensibility that helped guide the group as a whole. Your appreciation of camp and understanding of its importance in shaping your character is remarkable for your age. I can't wait to see you lead boys camp next summer and have no doubt that you will excel as a staff member.

Adam – It has been a privilege to watch you grow over the past two summers. Though every member of this group has grown greatly, your transition is perhaps the most remarkable. Your personality is unlike anyone else's; You're honest and have a fantastic, yet very distinct sense of humor that could put a smile on anyone's face. Over this past year you've become much more mature without undermining your zany sense of humor in the slightest. Can't wait to watch you lead boy's camp next summer.

Vertes – You are the heart and soul of this group. Though you may seem wild to an outsider, you have a gigantic heart. You care so much about the wellbeing of each and every member in the group that you take it upon yourself to cheer those up when they're down. Furthermore, you're a hilarious and confident kid whose energy permeates to those around you. Finally, you better be back to lead boys camp next summer because I don't know what this group, and camp in general, would do without your personality.

Gonzalo – You're one of the sweetest and most easygoing guys that I've ever had the pleasure of meeting. I cannot thank you enough for being so helpful this summer, you were always willing to provide a helping hand without a word of backtalk. It has been amazing seeing you connect with the group at the deepest level. Over the past two summers I have watched you become one of the most well liked personalities on camp and can't wait to see you lead boys camp next summer as a Saxon. I hope you have a great school year back in Mexico and I look forward to witnessing you grow into a leader of camp.

To my staff – Thank you so much for your help this summer. I couldn't have done it without you. Hope to see you all soon.

Foresters – This summer was nothing short of incredible. Each and every one of you brings something unique to the group and you all wouldn't be who you are without each other. I can't wait to see you dominate The Realm next summer as the Saxons of 2015.

SAXONS

My dudes, it's that time of the year to take out your lanyard beads, put down your DS's, kick back for just a few minutes and sing a slow Staunch Men of Robin Hood With a quick Alma Mater.

Remember rolling into camp a day early just to help get The Realm looking perfect for the kids...Ultimate Frisbee for our first evening activity...followed by chilling in my area, assigning count off numbers, turning in phones, recapping last summer and making big plans for this summer – writing this article now, I can say with confidence we achieved and surpassed any big plan we could have possibly made for Saxon summer.

Remember Swain still being a beast at volleyball and spiking on Rybo's head. Weiss dumpster diving...sighting Smoss late at night...our first softball game...mad people hitting trees and Max's sick webgems only to be out done by Andrea's...having lunch with Chris Ruggiero, the one man one act variety show...Remember when Andrea didn't say something funny...We don't...Gonzalo going missing only to be found hanging at the waterfront alone, late at night...and Miguel casually snagging water bottles from the D-hall. Remember dominating Mt. Washington...hike one get one free at the top...Rybo applying hair product for the hike...all of us making it up and some of us trolly back down...Podl leaving his mark...then heading to Yankee Smokehouse to enjoy some quality FDA venison...Andrea and Gonzalo taking pulls of A1 sauce...Napach eating roots...and then capping off the night meeting the Nationals.

Remember Fernando wanting to split the world...storming the toy...hitting up Walmart for supplies...Fernando needing special assistance scooting around...buying Francesco, Marchisio, Fabio, and the one that died of a natural cause. Remember "So You Think You Can Sing"...Staunch was a hit...Josh first one hired back on staff to work the PA...Talent Show on Friday...My yacht the urban legend...then the night before Fourth of July rolls around just for the International staff to give us the fight of a lifetime...fight or no fight no one was getting past Swarm 6, Brass 2, and the Quad Defenders...not only could we have asked for better weather on Fourth of July but the new carnival rides were sick.

Remember Cavin finally looking in the mirror and Bear seeing his reflection...Fern's get one free deal...then we were off to Katahdin with Andy...Someone has something to say in Bear's ear...Saxons 100% Scribes 88%...Max getting hit in the head and everyone drinking from it...Gonzalo brings his tripod stool for the summit...never have I ever met nicer park rangers...great food on Katahdin...Andrea's best night of his life...Hotseat...Polisano looses yet another pair of blue flip flops on Katahdin...get back to camp late Sunday night and hit up I.A. for a playdate the next day...Josh classically arguing with the refs and Jackson's sportsmanlike thrust...Swain's rash...Four Square in the rink...Max joining the bows for gymnastics...architecturally redesigning the quad...water boarding Hunter for breaking the lower basketball ball hoop...Miguel becoming the first foreigner to hit trees...Pepe becoming the second...Andrea vs. Sobel matchup...or was it Max vs. Andrea...Fern genuinely getting satisfaction out of torturing Andrea...Gonzalo bringing the zoo with him everywhere including the elephants...Pablo, Pablo, Pablo.

SAXONS

Remember our one day excursion playing mini-golf...Poli's 16th hole meltdown... Miguel finally figuring out his best sport... the outlets...then hitting up Brookstone's for 2 hours just to chill in their massage chairs... dinner at Brandli's that everyone paid for except Max...Timberland is born...Jackson falling in love with Terriaki...Weiss stealing every broom in camp...Jackson is an Easter Island Maui...Weiss slamming the Saxon sign not once, not twice but three times... Wheeler never being with his kids...planting bombs around camp only to be detonated by Sam Rosenthal...Pepe finally arriving.

PVD was a hit like usual...Dad's vs. Son's... Rybo's massive spike on his dad, Andy... Jackson and Josh being there the entire time...lets not forget the most legendary Broadway themed dance that will go down in history second best to 2010...the human pyramid is still the coolest thing I think anyone has ever seen...Chino playing his best volleyball game ever...dinner at Sunny Villa with all the parents..then off to the Cape for the next 4 days. Excursion was a blast from the moment we left camp... arriving at the Four Points...hitting up the Cape Cod Summer League All Star game and chirping Mark out...eating dope food the entire time...Surfing the next morning then to Province Town for the night. Remember paint balling and Danny getting shot...ducks in the window...Mel keeping everything a surprise...going to Boston just to casually meet Tom Brady and the rest of the Patriots...then to hit up the most overrated restaurant in the city, Fire and Ice...Skrillex was our second choice anyway cause the Fray was sick, especially Barcelona, especially Poli spitting game...back to camp just to wait for G n' dubb's to break...Remember Josh not dropping 30...Poli going 4-6 in staff softball but missing the wide open net in soccer...I don't think anyone could've asked for a better Saxon color war and I couldn't be more proud of every single one of you. Last but not least, let's never forget your series of payback videos and playing twisted twister.

Bear – Although your jokes are all related to youtube videos, you keep the group smiling at all times. I'm glad you and Cavin finally got to realize you are identical twins. You are a big part of the group particularly when it comes to making music on Danny's bed. I know I can always count on you to laugh about the most mediocre jokes especially when it comes to poop.

Rybo – "B.I.G. you're perfect" That's how the summer started out and you only went up from there. Fix your foot odor cause that's the only whack thing about you and your excessive use of hair product but besides that I could go on forever about how much you bring to this group. I've never met a more identical combo to me and ben than you and josh - you telling very subpar jokes that josh doesn't stop laughing at. Can't wait to see you grow as a JC counselor.

Mikey – Your love for camp is great, but that should go without saying. Throughout the summer you were always doing a great job aiding with the J's and I know you are going to be a great addition to staff. You are a leader in this group and I can say confidently that you are the most approachable kid in camp. You deserved the Bowl, it was enviable because of your camp spirt, soul, and friendships. I know I don't have to say it but I'll say it anyway, keep coming back, this place needs you.

Gonzalo – It takes a lot of courage for anyone to come in as a new Saxon let alone straight from Spain. You did it though, and you got camp from an early point on. Keep bringing you and your tripod stool back cause camp wouldn't be the same without it. Have a great time in Madrid and I can't wait to come visit.

Miguel – By the far the cutest kid to ever come through camp don't think I can even picture you not smiling. You are always down for whatever is best for the group and I know how much more you love this place than Birchmont. See you at Capital in a couple of months, until then keep ballin out for me. Have a great year and I'll see you soon.

Harry – You know how to hit upper decker trees consistently something that's taken me 4 years on staff to do! Thanks for misshaping a couple softballs and always smiling. Sorry you had to leave early but I hope you have a great year!

Danny – You're offside Hench!! I think we have found your hidden talent; dance. Your facial expressions in the dance absolutely killed just as much as you did this summer. I've only heard stories about how you were as a lancer but the strides you have made over the past two summers that I've known you for are unbelievable. You are always energetic and down for whatever, whether its cleaning the bunk or filming bear...sorry about the goldfish.

Cavin – Don't know where this group would be without you shaving your chest before all of them. We get it, you're a man. All that aside, you are the man and I really couldn't have been happier when I found out you were back for the entire summer. Still unsure about who has the better D-pole between you and Bear but hopefully your net doesn't still smell. The waterfront always needs a new body for kids to look at and you couldn't fit that job any better. Good luck with your Abercrombie & Fitch career but most importantly good luck with the cartel.

Fernando – I hope you one day reach your goal of splitting the world. There wasn't a single time this summer when you weren't looking for the best buy one get one free deal. You are by far the funniest kids I have ever met and I can't wait to visit you in Madrid this year. Dreams do come true so keep following your passion and one day this world will be a better place because of you.

Pablo – Pablo, Pablo Pablo, my man! You were a great addition to the group this year. It was great how close you got to the group in just one summer. Although Miguel beat you in tennis, I still love you. Have fun in Madrid, hope to visit you.

Josh – Couldn't have asked for a better buddy to conquer Washington and Katahdin with. If only you were more athletic then I could say we are pretty similar but besides that remember to scoop and not poke. You're a leader in this group and I really can't wait to work under you next summer. See you in providence in a couple of years.

Jackson – You've always been known as the shy kid but I can't tell you how much you've grown in at least the past two years I've been with you. You've gone from being known as the shy kid to being a leader with a voice to be heard. Take care of the rabbit but more importantly start planning where we will be when we are 48-44. Congrats again on the Cup, I'm sure your parents are proud, you deserve it.

Oscar – Although only coming for the last half of the summer, you still manage a way to mesh yourself into the group and for that I truly commend you. I hope Miami is treating you well and you keep those videos on your iPod up to date.

Pepe – Even though you always come late it really doesn't make a difference. I've never seen someone be able to fit in so easily as you do. I know anyone in the group including myself can always count on you to clown around. Can't wait to see you in Madrid along with the rest of the crew.

Sobe – The amount you've grown figuratively and physically is remarkable. I envy how well you get camp. It's been in your blood for awhile and I can tell how much you really love this place. I know down the road I can count on you to still be there for camp and keep traditions alive. Can't wait to see you on staff!

SAXONS

Swain – For the sake that every year your shout out is about how athletic you are, I'll refrain. I think a lot about you gets overlooked because you are such a beast at everything but what I see is the nicest kid I've ever met. Never a single complaint, you are the engine that keeps this group motivated and wanting to go out and do more.

Andrea – You are by far the goofiest kid I have ever met and a Realm legend. I always thought you were French but supposedly you're Monagasc, who knew? I hope the rest of us have the chance to see you again next summer as head of the Drama department.

Max – It's a big world out there, stay motivated, smart and protective. Once you're in you'll never want to leave and I can tell, you have that relationship with camp. This camp needs young reps like you, keep dreaming. One day you'll see the stars with your eyes closed, so hold on. Your haircut was better this summer, great job. But in all honestly use your voice to your advantage and help lead. I know you are going to be great on staff, see you then.

Weiss – Without a doubt you are the energizer of the group. You bring not only energy to the group but camaraderie to all. You know what camp is about and I know how great you are going to be on staff. You have a love for this place like no other. I can tell how camp has helped mold you into the great dude you are today, now it's your turn to give that to others. Sorry about your flashlight.

Andy – You were such a great addition to the Saxons of 2014. Thank you for all your hard work and dedication to the group. You truly understood the group and fit right in. We were so lucky to have you.

Saxons – This has been an incredible journey that I have had the privilege to be a part of. Watching you boys grow and become one group, I still can't express how that feels. I'm just proud of you boys, but most importantly thank you for giving me the best two summers of my life. I'm not kidding, never thought I would say that when I wasn't a camper but it's true, I couldn't ask for more. You should all be very proud of yourselves and always know that you don't just have best friends now, but brothers for life, and I'm one of them. I love you all very much, I hope your year is going well and reading this now brings you back to the greatest place on earth. Remember what Dick said; this is only halftime, you still have another half to play.

TUMBLE RUMBLE IN THE HOUSE!!!

Hey Tumblers! Remember when you first arrived to The Realm? For some of you, it was your first time here at

The Realm, and for others Camp Robin Hood was already your home. You piled off of buses, vans, and cars and joined the group. Waiting for all of you to arrive was nerve-wracking and we were so excited to meet each new member of our group. During dinner Julia ripped down the sign that counted the number of hours we waited to come back to The Realm. After dinner we had our first evening activity at the ODT, and began to become a Tumbler Family. Remember when "The One...and Only...Oliviaaaa" introduced herself and wiggled her eyebrows for her favorite ice cream, Mint Chocolate Chip?

Remember when we played camper trivia at meals and learned new things about each other? Remember going to the Sanford Mainers game and getting to play a water balloon catch on the field? Remember our first few evening activities? During the pirate scavenger hunt we were "the green team like a bunch of limes, dressed like broccoli!" Remember challenging the TPJs to bombardment and wearing pink in honor of Monty being in the infirm. After a hard game, Devin decided that "We don't sweat, we sparkle!"

Remember when we had to speed walk during a backwards scavenger hunt because the ground was so wet, and Sophia brought us the curliest piece of hair? Remember Julia shouting "Hi, Chuck!"...every time she saw him? We also planted flowers together outside of the director's cottage with Whitney, in the shape of "RH" for Robin Hood, using only plastic spoons and paper cups. Remember when we raided Candy Canteen and got to watch The Parent Trap at DC and Woody's house?

Remember our fashion show on the quad? Or when your staff tricked you into thinking our evening activity was learning how to take a shower? But then we all ran down to the lake and went pajama jumping! We all supported and watched Noa when she beat the Noahs at tennis! Remember when we got to take a pontoon boat to the island? Remember hiking Rattle Snake mountain and went to the nature center? We all ran through the rain afterwards in order to get Cozy! Remember when we slept at the outpost and got to roast s'mores?

Remember when all of Girls camp watched The Parent Trap on Girls Camp Field and got to have a giant movie night together? We had spa night and got ready for Tumbler prom, and then took prom photos. Remember celebrating the Fourth of July together and having fun at the carnival and color run?! Remember when Hilary ate like a forester (all the time) and Ava always wants to sit at the forester table?! Remember Mia and Sydney making a Tumbler sign and we all signed it and we all had year planks for our friends to sign. Remember going to Ogunquit for Beach Day? We all ate lots of sweets and Erin and Mia had a "private joke" and everyone knew about it. The boardwalk is our favorite place. Remember when we always had cake races and Devin stuffed her face with cake and then sneezed it out?

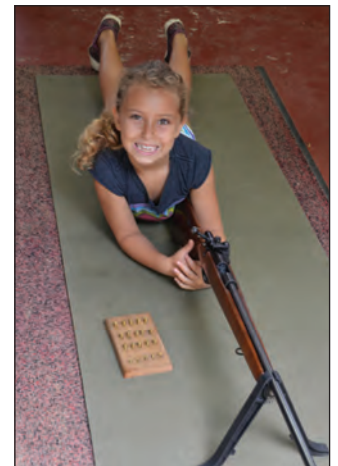

Remember our monster mash up dance at the talent show and Adrianja was a ghost while you girls were the ghost busters? Sabrina surprised us by showing up on PVD! Remember when Ella left and then came back to camp? We were all so happy to welcome her back to our bunk! Remember when Vicente and Woody took us to the sand bar to play Newcomb? We went on excursion and got to camp out! Remember going to Story Land and the movie? Remember our campsite? OMG remember when like all the tumblers thought they would like get stuck talking like valley girls.

Remember when Alex fell through her bed into Noa's pillow and everyone would make forts out of the bottom bunks? Remember when all the Tumblers used to hang on Austen. Remember when Quincy did a back flip off the tube and then laughed about it?! Or remember when Ava beat Danielle at swimming? Remember how you overcame fears this summer? Marina climbed on the ropes course even though she was scared and ended up loving it on excursion. Noa overcame her fear of daddy long legs.

Remember when Ella and Mia fell over during the goodnight song...twice!

Remember Olivia Ginsberg losing her tooth and got to be first in line for Sunday Sundays! Remember when we had musical teeth brushing and the chickens got into the To-ma-toes? Or when Hilary and Adrianja had a spitting contest? Remember when we beat the Saxons in bombardment and made them cry? Remember the day that everyone wore pink mustaches to lunch! Remember the "Twerk like Miley Cyrus cheer?" Remember Devin's unique Gaga strategy?

TUMBLERS

Remember the Brass's fake break after Founder's Day? Remember celebrating Marina's birthday at camp? We got to go to Bobby Sue's Cozy Corner and paraded around the dining hall! Then Green and White broke on Marina's birthday and we played our hearts out for five days. Remember how happy we were to see each other after Green and White ended?

Remember the spa that Natalia, Noa, Ali, and Alex opened during rest hour? Remember when we finally played infection! Noa fell and thought she was bleeding, but it was just raspberries! Remember GL swap day, and dressing up Ben and David to look super fabulous? Do you remember when we raided the kitchen and DC and Woody instead of yelling at us, gave us cake! Remember everyone crying at the waterfront after the Scribe speeches because we realized we only had a day left together as a group? We all slept on the floor the last night together, played with glow sticks, and stayed up to talk about all the fun times we had this summer!

Sabrina – During the time you were at camp, you broke out of your shell. You were so quiet and shy when you first got off the bus, but I loved seeing you grow as you spent time at camp! I loved watching you jump off the tower time after time, especially while pajama jumping!

Julia – You are a crazy girl, Julia Baumoe! I loved every morning when you would shout "Hi Chuck!" and seeing you on stage during the junior camp talent show wishing to "Never grow up." You are so much fun to be around and danced like crazy in the dining hall during every meal!

Devin – Your honesty was one of the greatest things about you! It was always incredible to me to see the way you called yourself out in games, and ran out with your hands up! I really appreciated how willing you were to help clean the bunk every single day without anyone having to ask you twice. You were so quiet after your parents dropped you off, but by the time you left camp you were like a totally different person! You are so fun and spirited and I'm so glad you were able to open up to our group!

Sophia – I'm so happy you were in our group! Although sometimes you were quiet and felt homesick, over the four weeks that you were at camp you tried new things and made some amazing friends! I was so happy when we got to spend a few extra days together. It was so amazing to watch you grow this summer, especially with your swimming! I'm so proud of you and I hope you continue to come back year after year!

Sydney – Syd, you were such an amazing camper. You hardly ever complained and you were always enthusiastic about activities, even if it was one you didn't like. I loved having you in our group! You were always smiling and I knew I could count on you to pick up the group's spirits when they were down. I hope you have an amazing year and that you continue to grow and be enthusiastic and passionate about everything you do!

Olivia Goldman – "The One and Only Olivia," you are such an incredible girl! You were such an asset to our group and helped make it what it is. I hope that you realize how much everyone in our group and at camp loves and appreciates you. Everyone loves you so much and we can't wait to see you next summer and see how much you've grown!

Noa Goldman – Noa, you have so much energy it is insane! You were always running around camp with a smile on your face! I know it was sometimes hard for you to be one of the youngest girls on camp, but you fit in the group amazingly. You've found your own place at camp! You are an amazing gymnast and were tumbling all over camp! You my dear, are truly tiny but mighty! I'm so happy you decided to join your sister in The Realm this summer!

Olivia Ginsberg – You are so sweet and funny Olivia Ginsberg. You always have a smile on your face and are truly a joy to have in our group! You have done an amazing job at so many activities, like gymnastics and riding. You are always making everyone in the group laugh and putting smiles on their faces. You care so much about your friends and helping them, especially when they are feeling a little bit down. Keep doing what you're doing, because you are doing an amazing job and are an amazing friend!

Quincy – Q-Frog, whether you are trying to catch frogs or playing Gaga you always have such enthusiasm and love for camp! You are always giggling and playing with friends. I'm so happy that you were able to focus on the fun and friends that you have here at camp. You are so silly and crazy and I love spending so much time with you! You can always make the group laugh and lighten the mood with your infectious laugh!

Hilary – You are one of the most caring girls we have met. You always cared about the whole of the group rather than just yourself. You tried to make sure everyone was happy and included. You are actually the most amazing tennis player I have ever seen! I know in a few years you will be a super star player! You are so sweet and care so much about your friends. When they are sad, you sympathize with them and help them to feel better! I hope someday you realize what an amazing quality that is!

Ella – You are such a drama star. You are so amazing on and off the stage. I was so proud of you when you were in the talent show for the drama intensive song, and for glee in Green and White! I admire so much that you aren't afraid to get up in front of the entire camp and dance and sing your heart out. I am so happy that you decided to miss camp so much that you came back after driving away for 45 minutes! The rest of the summer would truly not have been the same without you!

Alex – You are full of surprises Alex Benson. You are sometimes super quiet and sweet, while other times you bounce off the walls full of energy! Your passion for riding is so amazing for me to see. I love the way your eyes light up and the mere beginning of the question: "do you want to go riding?" You have been an amazing asset to the group this summer and I'm so glad that you decided to join the Tumbler group!

Natalia – You are one of the sweetest, most polite kids! You always listened and did what was asked of you and more. You always tried your hardest at any activity and never complained. You made the most of your time here at camp and didn't waste a minute. Keep coming back and keep trying your hardest at everything you do! You will get better and better at those activities!

Mia – You are so funny Miss Mia Bloom! I love all of your accents and silly, dramatic mannerisms! You are such an amazing gymnast and I can't believe the things that you are able to do! I can barely do a cartwheel and seeing you do flips off the trampette amazes me. You are such a good friend to the rest of the girls and I can't wait to see how you grow up!

Ali – You have so much energy and enthusiasm. If you channel that into the activities, you can accomplish anything. I love how easily you make friends and introduce yourself to new people. You had an amazing three weeks in The Realm and I hope you keep coming back summer after summer!

Ava – You are such a fast swimmer! I do not think I have ever been able to swim that fast... ever. Just keep swimming! You are so funny and full of energy! I know things weren't always perfect, but you pushed through the rough times and focused on the fun and happy times! Keep up your enthusiasm and love for camp.

Marina – You are an amazing young lady! You were so excited to go to riding, every single time you had it! It was amazing to see you ride during Green and White! Your love for this group amazed me, ever time it showed! Even before you were officially a camper here, you wanted to sleep in the bunk and spend time with your soon-to-be friends! Keep on, loving this group summer after summer!

TUMBLERS

Erin, Adrianja, Austen, and Monty – I don't know what I would have done without you girls this summer! You have truly made this summer magical and helped me run this group like a well-oiled machine. Each one of you brought something different to the table and I could not have asked or hoped to have a better staff. I know we will all stay in touch, but for now know that I love you all so so so much!

Scribes of 2021 – You guys are an amazing group of girls. Each and every one of you makes a difference to this group. I know that there have been some rough times together, such as fights, but you have to push through those moments and not give up on camp. Everyone here in The Realm loves you girls and can see that you will be amazing leaders of Girl's Camp someday. So keep up doing what you girls are doing, because someday before you know you will be the ones giving Scribe speeches to the Tumblers of 2021! Please know that no matter what happens, you girls have truly impacted my life and have allowed me to have an amazing summer! I love each and every one of with all my heart, from the quad to the stars and back! Please don't hesitate to reach out to me, or any other of your staff if you need anything. I am going to miss you all so much!

JESTERS

JESTAHS JESTAHS!

What are the words of the day? Assemble! Congregate! They both mean the same thing anyway: stop jumping on your beds, put on some clothes, and listen (for once) to the wonderful stories of our glorious Jester days!

Remember the first day of camp...campers and staff from all over the country and world joining forces to create the wonderful Jesters. Remember getting to know each other and laughing endlessly together?

Remember Izzy's "baby?" Remember how Carys always walked into trees and her amazing DC impersonations? All the while Mia, Carly, and Daisy took part in some quality duct tape waxing, Grace was a flawless sunscreen snowman, and Charlotte was bravely resisting the urge to scream as a bumblebee confused her with a flower in the middle of the Rink. Remember kids! Do NOT scream at the sight of insects. Rule number three.

Remember Laurel's birthday and Cozy Corner? We not only celebrated her special date, but also the fact that she could walk after doing all those squats. You all rocked intensives, which prepared you for intercamp competitions. Whether you danced, rode, played soccer, or shot arrows, you girls all did a wonderful job and brought home the gold!

Remember those "frequent" morning and nighttime "workouts", canoe sinking (counselor capsized included, whoops!), Fourth of July fun, bed swaps and Final Four? Congrats to all the parrots on a big win. Remember our mountain trip and our stay at the outpost? Then there was Matt Podl Day. Everyone went wherever he was paged with pillows in hand to cover your accessories...I'm OBVIOUSLY talking about the headbands...cough cough.

Remember all of our amazing evening activities? We started off strong with Camille and Lily planning Emma's bachelorette party. Remember making her wedding dress, putting together a flower bouquet, decorating cookies and performing a skit? Remember going to the Mainers baseball game and eating lots of food from the concessions? Hopefully, you enjoyed Lip Sync, your Newlywed life stories, and pajama jumping. Shout outs to Mia and Lily for wearing pink underwear with white pants and/or losing articles of clothing completely. That is what I call commitment. We closed off the first two weeks with the Talent Show. Ava did a wonderful Ian throwback, and we all learned what to do with a big fat butt. Wiggle, wiggle, wiggle!

Beach Day brought along some fun in the sun. Remember when we played on the beach, swam in the cold water, and strolled along on the boardwalk? That is, until all of Ogunquit was covered in thick fog and we had to leave early. After Beach Day, we were ready to receive your wonderful parents. The good news? We got to eat countless PVD cookies for days.

As we tried to theme our dress code for one day, the solution ended up being Harry Potter Day. With twig wands in hand, Dani in Laurel's robe, and a painfully unsuccessful game of Quidditch, Hufflepuff house was triumphant. Congrats! Someone who could not be celebrated regardless of her presence in the Birthday Board was Kiki. However, a good old Cookie Decorating EA made up for it. Only a few days after, the B-Day bashing continued when Charbar turned 11. With a little dirt under our nails from muddy gaga in the morning, everyone's eyes watered while trying the chili peppers at Pizza Barn. Week 5 concluded with slow and sinking tubes at the lake as well as nighttime charades. Pretty good if you ask me!

We quickly rolled into Excursion. Day 1 consisted of Storyland and a movie. Remember Cinderella and duck quack/fart noises at the campsite? On day 2 those insane rope courses at Cranmore Aerial were what it was all about.

And then...Green and White!!! Remember the fake break and then the real break the next day? You all played so hard and gave it your all. You kept it outside of the bunk the whole way through and I am so proud of you for that. Congratulations to both the Mighty White Mafia and Great Green Heroes!

Wait, what? Has the summer really come to an end already? The last days were properly cherished with Milstein as your swapped GL, Crazy Dress Day, and stars over the Quad. How we wish it could've lasted just a little while longer! Remember saying your final goodbyes and anxiously awaiting your return to The Realm for the summer of 2015.

Tyler – It was so much fun to have you in our Jester Jungle this summer. I'm going to miss your creativity and pep, and I hope you had a good time. I'm also glad that I have all the souvenirs you left behind for us!

Talia T– Your cheerful “dramatique” and funky personality added much color and vibe to the group. You were incredibly respectful to all of the staff and we're very thankful for that. As I saw you belt out the awesome Matilda song during the Drama Intensive, I realized that you are an incredibly cool chick.

Mia – Remember the face you made when your impromptu departure arrived? That look you gave completely described the time you had at camp. You're such a fighter and cool kid and I hope you come back to camp. Robin Hood is the home of girls like you.

Sofia – There is no question that your presence and voice are always seen and heard on camp. Your kindness, goofiness, and multi-lingual abilities made you a wonderful addition to the Jester family. Thank you for the wonderful time we spent together.

Dunia – Although you never failed to be the last one ready, your silly personality and Olympic gymnastics were a joy to have around. It was wonderful to see how you became attached to camp and I know your newfound bond with both The Realm and the girls will be strong enough to pull you back in next summer.

Niloé – I read what your mom wrote about you at the beginning of the summer, and her description was, “she loves life.” I couldn't agree more. You could go from a sweet, calm, and friendly lady to an outrageous and hilarious creature. All the characters in the middle were also fully appreciated. You clearly enjoyed your time at The Realm and Robin Hood will be incredibly lucky to have you in the future.

Kate – If you've seen the movie Shrek (I'm sure you have) then you understand what I mean when I say that you are like an onion: many layers that get sweeter the more you peel and the closer you get to the core. Once the wrapper was off, we could see your wacky side and I thank you so much for it. Hope we see you back for the summer of 2015!

Case – It took you approximately 20 seconds to crack out of your shell and experience camp at the fullest. You're not scared to dive in head first rather than dipping your toes in the water, and I can definitely see you becoming the CEO of some major corporation in the future. Thank you for it all!

Jules – Although you couldn't stay with us for the whole summer, you did not fail to leave your mark on the group. You're a natural born leader and never miss out on seizing opportunities that promise a good time. I hope you come back and strengthen these wonderful friendships.

JESTERS

Carly S – Your strength and sweetness are underrated, probably because your wacky and creative sides steal the spotlight of what people might initially see in you. All of these things put together are what make you a wonderful girl. Keep it up and you'll go far.

Carly G – Ah yes, the Sour Patch Kid. You're such a great girl and have followed in your family's footsteps flawlessly. You have a great impact on the group and we would not be the same without you. I am so happy you keep coming back to The Realm and cherish every moment here. You are truly one of a kind.

Ally – It's crazy to think that you came in so late and blended in so easily. Camp is meant for weird and unordinary people, and so, I think the Jesters were the perfect fit for you as you were for them. I hope that you keep coming back and take advantage of all the things The Realm has to offer.

Kiki – Once I became aware of your mom's CRH history, I was not surprised to see that you walked into camp with a fondness of it already. You are determined, goofy, and fun to have around. I hope you will carry on with the tradition that your mother started.

Kylie – All questions aside...it was so much fun to have you this summer. You are such a sweet and loving girl and I feel so lucky to have spent the summer with you. I think that this summer brought out the best in you and that you'll be able to carry on with it for many more to come.

Ava – You brought so much fun and joy to the group. Your solo in the dance was pretty much flawless, and it reminded me that camp holds a special place in your heart. Never stop doing Ava; it's a diamond in the rough gig!

Chameleon – You were one of the biggest and greatest surprises of the summer. The Jesters needed a spirited and kooky member with a knack for losing teeth, and you were the woman for the job. I hope that you never lose your spark.

Laurel – You can be strong and serious, but outgoing too. Whether it's settling down or bouncing off the walls, I know you'll be there with your Gru accent. I enjoyed being your bed neighbor for 94.7% of the summer, and I hope that camp keeps growing on you.

Kayla – Sugar and spice and the funny and nice. You're absolutely hilarious without even trying; you entertained the entire group endlessly. I wish I could record you for a day and play the video when I'm missing camp. Make sure to continue infecting The Realm with your contagious spirit.

Daze – Mrs. Beiber in the making! You are so sweet and energetic. I love how when you're excited about something you can't stop bobbing your knees and shaking. Your natural ability as a performer truly makes you shine in the Jesters and throughout camp.

Izzy – You're so bubbly and fun and I love how you hang out with everyone in the group. You're really good about stepping into other people's shoes and seeing things through their eyes. The fact that you're so funny (usually to watch) is the cherry on top. Keep the Lightman legacy alive!

Lil – Oh Shafe Dawg, the one woman show! You're like a battery ram of endless energy that manages to power up an entire group of girls with a single chanting of the Morning Song or a couple of inches of bacon-patterned duct tape. I hope you have many years ahead of you in the place we call home.

Charbar – Your determination to do what's right and make everyone feel comfortable and happy is admirable and so brave of you. With your wacky groove and playful ways, the Jester family is lucky to have you as a member.

Somer – The minute we met you, we knew you were headed for Broadway. You are always such a good friend and we believe that you are fully capable of expanding your horizons. The Realm has become your home and your bunkmates have truly become your sisters.

Grace – You were so playful, sweet, and cheery. It was so nice to have a girl with such a positive attitude, disposition, good manners, and respect. I know that if you stay on the track that you've been on this summer, you will be impactful throughout your camper career.

Jillian – Loud, but lovely. You always vamped up the power in the group and were willing to try new things. Pretty much, if it promised fun, you were there. In combination with your neat-freakness and love for sports, it was awesome to have you with us.

Talia C – You my friend have come a long way from last year. You faced your fears, searched for fun, asked for help at the right times, and embraced camp as a whole. I truly believe that camp has had a great impact on you.

Jess – I think that your change from 2 weeks to 4 showed your commitment to camp. We were all so excited to spend more time with you. It was a joy watching you find your place in the group and feel comfortable in The Realm. Keep it up!

Carys – From your obsession with Harry Potter to your shirtless DC impersonations, you never had a dull moment. Your cleverness and humor were so much fun to have in the group. I know you will keep bringing light to Robin Hood.

To the best staff – Emphasis on best. I never would have guessed that the group of people I'd work with this summer would be so amazing. I wouldn't have had it any other way. I was star struck by your disposition, respect, support, and coolness. Thank you so much for an extremely good time and for not treating me like a camper even if I looked like one. I love you!

All right girlies, looks like its time to say farewell for now. Never forget the float-like-a-butterfly dance, double dip your Bosco sticks, share half a banana with the person next to you, and most importantly the magic in The Realm's trees.

I sign off in my usual fashion: in Gru voice, "Gewd nah-eet, [insert name here].
Much much love!"

BowsBowsBows –

Why don't you jump off of the swing set, stop playing tetherball and end your game of spit. Let's journey back to Siberia and take a few minutes to reminisce on your amazing summer of 2014.

Remember opening day? Greeting each other after a long 10 months apart? Remember meeting Bella, Katharina and Grace Geier for the first time. Remember when they fit right into the group? Remember the 20 minute stroll to Siberia? Remember the first night of camp? Remember when none of you could correctly spell rendezvous? Remember sharing facts at the ODT – our favorite spot on camp? Remember swimming your 16 laps and then going to Cozy Corner for Claire's birthday? Remember learning the dance to "Problem" and making up the rest on the porch during circle time? Remember getting called up by the Scribes to lead a cheer at the first campfire? We started off the summer with so much energy and never looked back.

Remember killing it at activities? Riley and Felicity quickly got up on skis while Emily laughed herself off of the belly board. Remember the Mainers game? The fun but long car rides there and back in the vans with the not creepy "tinted black windows." Remember our backwards scavenger hunt? Remember when Sloane, Jasmine and Geier went to Camp Cody and beasted the soccer game? Remember when Riley jumped through the tube off of the tower? Remember animal wars in the dining hall with Leanna?

Remember the fourth of July? When you all ran so hard and fast at the color run... not. Remember when the showers ran out of water? Sorry Elena and Geier. Remember when Millie joined the group and we couldn't tell it was her first summer? Remember her British accent and being from "Indiana." Remember learning your staff's old scribe songs?

Remember our camping trip? Remember hiking Mt. Major. Summiting the top of the mountain, having a photo shoot and singing,

"I'm on top of the world." Our audience really enjoyed the show! Remember getting to the camp site and going into the water, only to find some surprises in the van later on? Still no proof of those by the way. Remember eating ice cream to celebrate Sam and Millie's birthday? Remember bonding in your tents, sleeping under the stars and popping squats left and right?

Remember meeting Franny the fanny pack? He quickly became the nineteenth most important Bow. Remember our Twist n Shout dance at the talent show? Remember how good our fun buns looked on stage? Remember beating the Jesters in dizzy kick ball? Remember when your counselors chased you (except for Riley and Geier, the two speed demons) down in camper hunt? Remember "Robin Hood gives back" and getting lost on our walk with the Archers. Remember when Felicity was getting sentimental about the rookie campers' departure and Grace sneezed? Remember failing terribly at make your group leader laugh? No worries though, you made up for it the rest of the summer.

Remember Grace Malley's birthday? Remember throwing her up 11 times on the gymnastics mats? Remember Beach Day? You all got in the water and rode the waves all day. Remember all of our evening activities like lip sync and family feud? Remember when Woody and your staff tricked you guys into thinking you were in trouble only to find out you were pajama jumping? Remember Final Four day? Congratulations to the victorious Parrots. That day was just a foreshadow to how intense and sportsmanlike you all would be during Green and White.

Remember parents' visiting day? We had some great activity periods like gaga and kickball where they could see how athletic you guys really are. Unfortunately we said goodbye to Sam, Charney and Millie but we spent the night at the waterfront watching the beautiful sunset, eating s'mores, writing compliments about everyone and thinking about the exciting three weeks still to come.

Remember excursion? Starting off the trip right at a fun waterpark and going zip lining. Remember having s'mores for breakfast? Remember going to Monkey Trunks and then the delicious diner? Remember mini-golfing where you all successfully got your golf balls in the water?

Remember Founder's Night? Our stunning raincoat rack that is now hanging at the front of the dining hall? Remember thinking Green and White was breaking but nope, just the video fake break. Remember when Green and White actually broke? Remember when every one of you got a vote to be captain? It took about eight ballots to finally decide on your 4 leaders; Jasmine and Caroline as captains, Maddie and Riley as cos. Remember when the bows stole the show at talent night? Remember your intense game of bocce and Caroline's winning 20 point botch on the quad.

Remember the end of camp? Remember that night that didn't happen? I don't. Remember sobbing at Scribe speeches?

Remember surviving tubing for the last time? Remember packing up and saying goodbye? I know it seems like a long time now, but you will all be back ruling The Realm before you know it!

Claire – You are a natural leader in the group. Being here for three summers, you already know so much about camp and love to teach the other girls about it. Keep dancing through life with a smile on your face, see you next summer, hopefully with Eliza!

Charney – Watching your love for camp grow this summer was unbelievable. You are so kind and positive about everything. We all missed you so much the second half of the summer and can't wait for you to stay 7 weeks next year.

Sloane – Your laughter and enthusiasm help to carry this group. People are drawn to your energy and you really help to make activities fun. You love camp and make sure that everyone around you is having fun.

Jasmine – You have so much to be proud of this summer! Not only did you dominate intercamp sports, but you also were a captain in color war! You tell hilarious stories – when we can understand what you're saying. You seriously are friends with every person in this group and I am so glad I got to know you this summer.

Sam – You had such an amazing summer! Between horseback riding and gaga you were so engaged in every activity. You are so sweet and kind to everyone and an excellent listener. Can't wait to see you next summer!

Ruby – I'm so lucky that you decided to join our group for the second half. You were such a great participant and bonded so well with the girls. I really hope to see you back at The Realm.

Grace Geier – It is amazing to believe that this was your first summer in The Realm. Your positivity and athleticism showed at every activity and you were a huge part of the group. Can't wait to see you next summer!

Millie – You were such a great addition to this group! Not only did you kill it at gymnastics, but you radiated energy and happiness onto others. I can't wait to see you grow these upcoming years at camp!

Ella – Thank you for being such an inclusive camper. Whenever someone was feeling down, you were always right by her side. You are so sweet and such an important part of this group

BOWS

Berrett – I could not ask for a more positive camper! You constantly check up on other campers to make sure they're okay and you always have a smile on your face no matter what we're doing, Keep representing Utah here in The Realm!

Katharina – It is incredible to think that you came to camp knowing no English. The staff loved watching you try and enjoy so many new activities. Although you were only here for 2 weeks you had a huge impact on the group.

Elena – You are truly one of a kind! You're athletic, smart, hilarious and get along with everyone in the Bows. You're personality adds so much to this group and you were awesome to have as a camper!

Grace Malley – You had an amazing summer! You became such a good listener and positive camper. You dominated during Green and White and had remarkable sportsmanship. You always have a smile on your face and really don't let a minute at camp slip away from you.

Maddie – Crazy girl! You have such an outgoing and fun personality that doesn't turn off until about an hour after lights out. I'm so happy you decided to stay for 7 weeks; you proudly helped Jasmine lead the green team and made so many new friends!

Caroline – You had such an incredible summer! Not only did you give color war another shot but you were also elected to be a captain. You're a leader in this group and make being a counselor very enjoyable.

Emily – Thank you for bringing so much energy and laughter to the group. Whether we were trying to settle you guys down for bed or hiking a mountain, you always had a smile on your face. I'm so glad you decided to stay through visiting day!

Riley – You are so talented! Not only are you an incredible singer but you're also a great athlete and a leader of this group. I can't wait to see you back next summer!

Lucy – Although you were only with us for a short time you were a huge part of the group! You're so outgoing and I hope to see you back next summer.

Bella – I'm so happy you decided to come this summer and stay for both sessions. You had an incredible summer; you fit right into the group and were a star athlete during Green and White! Can't wait to see you next summer!

Felicity – You are such a good combination of independent and energetic. When you participate you are so goofy and fun to be around. Camp is such a good escape for you and I'm so glad you have so many close friends here to share it with.

Jessie – I am so proud of how far you came this summer! You made so many close friends and tried so many activities like the ropes course and tubing. Your kind and girly personality was a perfect fit into the Bow group!

Ki, Ailbhe, Elinor, Leanna and Megan – It was a pleasure getting to work with you guys this year. You were also so helpful to have around and so good with the kids. Our personalities balanced each other out well and I hope you had as much fun as I did this summer! I hope to see you all back next summer!

Bows of 2014 – Thank you for giving me such an amazing summer. You are the best group I could ever ask for my first year as a Group Leader. You are all so essential to this group and I can't wait to see you grow and lead girl's camp one day. Continue smiling and loving camp and appreciating one another. I love you all and I hope you had the most amazing summer of your lives

...I know I did!

Quills, Quills, Quills...

Start dreaming about the days of running to skameyke (benches in Russian), remember your count off numbers, stop looking in the mirror, quit checking your Instagram feed, and get ready to reminisce on the incredible summer of 2014.

Remember opening day... Billi, Molly, Siena, and Chloe arrived fashionably early. We stepped outside to look at the stars for the first time that summer. The next morning the rest of you arrived throughout the day. We would sprint to the infirm to meet each of you. Some of you were a little confused as to how I was your GL after spending the last summer in Russia. We added eight new members to the future Scribes of 2018. One had yet to arrive, Abby, and we were still waiting on Julia because she was too busy killing it at her jump rope tournament. With 30 girls, we stormed The Realm and started off our amazing summer.

Remember the night of the bug spray incident. Never again will you girls be allowed to spray bug spray inside again. You guys were always so quiet at night, so this incident was such a surprise! Remember the time that the showers stopped working and the scribes had to occupy time by singing songs with some of you. You ended up being showered off by freezing water from people's water bottles. Remember our sweet game of ultimate Frisbee full of Green and White intensity. We really killed it for the chopper, especially Serena. I never got to experience the Quill Massage business that had its headquarters in Cece and Adele's bunk bed.

Remember all our fun evening activities... We pajama jumped and had some appropriate paper bag skits. You guys killed both the forward and backward scavenger hunt. Props to the group who found the biggest bra we had ever seen. All the s'mores you made this summer were so delicious. Remember the night when you made your staff look gorgeous. I will never look better. Remember beating the Yeomen and Bards in our Gaga challenges? Seriously how are you guys so good at Gaga? Remember when Nyla ripped her pants. Don't forget to cone up! You guys sang Jesse's dad every chance you got. Remember Ruby sleep walking to Zoe's bed.

Remember all of the amazing Quill birthdays filled with donuts and pizza and Cozy. The cookie cakes and regular cakes were so delicious. We spent the afternoon at Kahuna Laguna for Serena and Jordan's birthday and you guys discovered the Jacuzzi. Ruby, Leah, Serena, Jordan and Izzy, congratulations on turning a year older in The Realm, the best place to do it.

Remember Fourth of July... The rain couldn't stop us from having a blast. We killed the color run and the paint totally came out of our white clothes as they promised. Oh well! New shirts can always be purchased but memories can't be replaced. Good thing we were faster than the Yeomen. We stuffed our faces in the barn with cookies and ice cream and then made our way down to the beach party. It was a little chilly but you guys still jumped in and made the most of it. Julia arrived a few days later and our group reached 31!

Remember when Abby and Kate arrived? We stayed strong at 31. We summited Mount Major with no problem on a beautiful day. The view of Lake Winnepesaukee was incredible, and no, we couldn't see camp from the top. Sorry girls. The fajitas and s'mores were so delicious. Thanks to the Trips Staff for setting everything up. We watched Jonny grill his hotdogs and drop them in the fire twice. So sad. We had a nice sleep and woke up in the morning rejuvenated and ready to come back to camp!

Remember Beach Day... You couldn't believe I was assigning your buddies, but it all worked out in the end. You guys spent the day shopping and eating with the occasional dip in the freezing ocean. Some of you came to visit Becca, KSol and me while we were on neck duty. Thanks for keeping up company. The Dippin' Dots and assortment of fried food attracted you to the boardwalk. You bought gifts for your Secret Summer Sisters. Some spent lunch at Splash, while others opted for the strictly ice cream diet. Margot bought that sweet boogie board that really came in handy once we got back to camp.

You guys watched an innocent man get attacked by seagulls after walking away from the food stand with his French fries. He definitely didn't get a refund. Those seagulls were not kind. Then the fog rolled in and we peaced out early to shower and enjoy cook out and camp!

Remember Parents' Visiting Day... You guys killed it in the talent show the night before. Our dance was a little modified, and it looked even better the second time. Serena lost her glasses on stage, but no worries because Drama Woody found them for her. We had a great day of activities and only one injury. We were all sad to see the four-weekers leave after PVD, but we rebounded quickly and were ready for Green and White and excursion.

Remember asking me everyday if we were going on excursion. You all knew when it was happening even though I wanted it to be a surprise. We had Camp Christmas for all of you who had never celebrated Christmas before. We canoed to the Marina and celebrated the day with gifts of candy and chips. The tree decorating was the highlight for me. You all did an amazing job. We went mud sliding and met our new friend Ben from Trevor Day. I think its safe to say that we made his day. Remember watching Frozen in the lodge, and my being way more impressed by the film than you guys. Keep singing along. It makes everything more fun.

QUILLS

Remember excursion... We had a stacked staff of Ksol, James, Becca and I. Both vans were the party vans! We started off the trip at Attitash and you guys had trouble choosing which lines to go on. You jumped off the free fall platform and had beautiful landings. Then we made our way to the campsite and cooked steaks and set up our tents. Keep cooking apples on the fire because it's a delicious tradition. After we went to Hodgies Too and had the most giant and delicious ice cream servings in the world. Yum. The next morning we made our way to the boardwalk at Hampton Beach and you all wanted a hermit crab. I'm sorry that I couldn't allow it. You got sweet tanks instead. And We all had our coffee! Then we went to mini golf and had more incredible ice cream. Shout out to all the girls who chose Phantomberry. Then we went to the greatest place on earth... WALMART. Your dream came true. After Walmart we made it to Shrek the Musical, the best performance I have ever seen. We rocked our matching ears and had a blast even though it was freezing. Then we went back to Wakeda, the best campground in the world, and had more s'mores. We woke up and had the most delicious pancake breakfast. Yum! Excursion seemed to be food focused. We packed up the vans and drove to Water Country to meet the Yeomen and Foresters. The seagulls yet again attacked us and got ketchup all over their beaks. They looked like carnivore seagulls. You guys changed so quickly in the vans and nobody saw anything. We had a great nap on the car ride back and got to camp in time for Founder's Night. We presented our seesaw and impressed the crowd.

Remember Green and White... the incredible break and then electing our captains and cos. Billi and Molly leading the Mighty White Mafia while Dina and Nyla led the Great Green Heroes. Watching you girls compete your hardest was truly a pleasure. Thank you for your effort and sportsmanship throughout the entire war.

Remember when... Natalie was paying attention, Haley was totes appropes, Ella wasn't smiling, Julia wasn't being helpful, Paige refused to hug female staff, Jordan had brown hair, Chloe loved spiders, Giulia fell at waterski, Elle wasn't singing, Shaina was uncoordinated, Nyla couldn't dance, Molly didn't care about her hair, Violet was silent at night, Maddie was pale, Zoe wasn't flipping on stage, Kate wasn't begging to borrow Sarah's belt, Abby was misbehaving, Isa wasn't in the water, Margot was immature, Siena hated reading, Adele wasn't laughing, Claire was paying attention during countoff, Billi didn't know any color war songs, Emily couldn't breaststroke, Livy wasn't wearing Chapin apparel, Dina had the neatest area, Lily had her hair up, Leah didn't like to hold hands, Serena couldn't dance, O wasn't competitive, Cece wasn't locally grown, Ruby hated doing impersonations, and Izzy wasn't best friends with the infirm staff? We don't!

Natalie – Your energy and your enthusiasm are strong and constant. It's awesome how you give your all in everything that you do. Hold on forever to your love of camp, and remember to keep on sharing it with everyone around you.

Haley – I don't know how one girl can hold so much wild hilarity. You are such a good and loyal friend to those in the bunk, yet you can also speak and lead like someone much older than you are. Keep on being true to yourself, because who you are is awesome.

Elle – I loved watching you mature this summer. You found a way to be kind to everyone and act as a mediator within the group. Your compassion helped so many girls this summer. I hope to see you back for many more summers in The Realm!

Shaina – You put your whole heart into everything. Each activity, each day. Boarding school girls have to stick together. I am always here for you if you need anything. Just call me up and I'll be at Rumsey in an instant.

Nyla – You have the most positive outlook on life. Thank you for bringing that to the group this summer. You were always there to let everybody know that each day would be a fun one. Don't let life get in the way of camp because there's no place like it.

Molly – You really do love camp and camp loves you back. You are one of the sweetest girls I have met! Camp is a place where you don't have to worry about anything, so take advantage of that.

Violet – You are absolutely hilarious. Thank you for making everybody laugh at every second. I honestly forgot that it was your first summer because you seamlessly integrated into the group.

Maddie – Camp comes naturally to you. You've made this place your own and don't need siblings to feel comfortable here. I admire that so much because it took me a while to get that confidence.

Zoe – You are so mature, and I don't want you to ever doubt that. You always fight for fairness in everything and that is so respectable. Your laugh is contagious and so is your spirit, so keep it up.

Ella – You are so sweet! From day one, you only let the kindest of words out to all your friends, new and old. The way you embrace all things with excitement and a smile really reflects your love of life, and I hope you keep coming back to share that with camp.

Julia – Never have I ever met someone so selfless. From helping other girls carry their backpacks on hikes to straightening up the tables after meals, you always showed a genuine desire to make others happy. And when it came time for activities, you showed everyone how to be happy with your endless smiles and impressive efforts. Yes, it's hard to be away from home, but keep coming back until you can call this place home too.

Paige – You are always looking to hug people. Your warm personality brings love to the group. You may be small, but you have a giant heart. Whether you know it or not, you are always leading the group by example.

Jordan – You have such a strong presence in the group. At any given time, one can usually find you giggling your head off. You really have a positive impact on this group, so keep coming back and help bring everyone together.

Chloe – Nobody would've guessed that you were new this year. You integrated into the group so well and have so much to offer to this group of girls. Congratulations on an incredible first summer.

Giulia – Coming to such an unfamiliar place is never easy, but you did such a great job this summer. Whenever I checked in with you, you were thinking in a positive mindset. You are so mature and bring so much to this group.

QUILLS

Kate – I see a lot of myself in you. You want to get the most out of each minute, even at bedtime. It may give whoever is on duty tons of grief, but running around at night is more fun than sleeping. Keep making people laugh all day long.

Abby – Your week here was a great one. I was so impressed with how after the first day it seemed like you had been here all summer. You really were positive about each thing and I loved your attitude.

Isa – You are a waterskiing goddess. Watching you float across the lake was incredible. You were an absolute pleasure to have all the time. I loved spending time with and getting to know you.

Margot – You are hilarious. I love how I could always find you on benches (on time!!!!) ready for the activity to start. You really love camp and embrace everything about it. Keep it up, girl.

Siena – You are one of the first girls to step back after a complaint and remind everybody that our time at camp is limited, and we need to embrace each moment. Keep that mindset and you will always have an incredible summer.

Adele – Please, please, please come back next summer. You fit into the group so well, and I loved watching you learn about each new activity. You became a Gaga beast and put effort into every activity.

Claire – You belong at camp. I know that you've been to a couple before, but I really think that Robin Hood is the place for you. You have a strong presence in a quieter way. That's equally as important as being loud, so continue to do it.

Billi – You live and breathe camp. Your humor and spirit brings the group together, so keep the energy up because it's contagious. Please come visit me because I will miss you all year long.

Emily – When you decided to stay seven weeks, I was thrilled. Playing 10's and 2's with you during rest hour made me feel like I was a Quill again. Thanks for treating me like another camper because it was the highlight of my summer.

Livy – You are a natural leader in this group and you do it with so much kindness. I hope you know that I want to hang out with you all the time in New York because you are hilarious and fun.

Dina – Sporty spice you rock at everything. You have fun and kill everything you try. Say adios to the red list because you can do anything once you set your mind to it. If you ever need anyone to talk to during a thunderstorm, I'm just a phone call away.

Lily – You are one fun lady. Take advantage of every minute at camp and try to be here for all of them. We missed you after you left and are still wishing that you were here. Seven is the magic number.

Leah – I remember you saying you wanted me as your GL from the time you saw the video. Your dream came true! You love camp more than anyone else, so keep coming back because you will one day be that girl that campers hope will be their group leader.

Serena – You are on top of everything all the time. You know what's going on sometimes before I do. You are like the mama of the group and that help keep everyone together. Keep on keeping on.

O – You are one hard competitor. You have so much fun in every activity and don't let anyone stop you. I can always count on you for a tough opponent in Gaga or for a laugh at any minute.

Cece – Don't worry, I didn't capitalize that second C. I couldn't figure out how to make a heart though, so I'm sorry. You are a little entrepreneur with your massage business and those things make camp hilarious.

Ruby – Oh Rubes you really make me smile. I love walking with you arm in arm because you are the perfect height. We have killer dance parties together and are always laughing. I really feel like I've gained a new best friend because of you.

Izzy – Like I said on your sheet, you are a handful. But those are the best kind of campers. You keep things interesting and always make me laugh. You are so outgoing and smiley and everyone loves to be around you.

Rebecca, Sarah and Katie – Thank you for such an incredible summer. I learned so much from all of you. Being on staff with you guys kept me going. It was tough at first, but we all figured it out together and in the end, it just worked. I am eternally grateful for all of your support throughout the summer.

Thank you for reminding me how much I love camp. I told all of you around the end of camp, but you really showed me that this is the place where we can all be ourselves and have the most fun possible. I walked away from this summer knowing that camp is the place for all of us. Keep coming back. Don't go to Russia. Don't let silly things get in the way of camp because this place changes you in a way that nowhere else can. You may think someday that you've grown out of it or that some of the magic has been lost, but it will never go away.

Berches biddies!!
Time to stop scrolling through Insta, turn off High School
Musical, keep it PG (or not) and remember the
#best summer
of your lives.

Remember the first day of camp... Smelling the pine needles for the first time. Remember our first evening activity? Jolly rancher facts at the waterfront, the fire not being ready until it was time to leave, coming up with #trends for the summer. You were all so comfortable with each other from the first day of camp, dressing up into your night time doppelgangers (shout out to Snooki). Speaking of Snooki, remember when she "spilled" on the porch? Hopefully she mopped it up before you all overtook it for your nightly dance parties in the dark. Remember Robin Hood Gives Back and the four-mile Freedom Walk for a Cause? Remember when you filled certain boxes in an attempt to hide certain sweet treats? That didn't last for very long. Lucky the infamous Arrow "Boom-Clap" song stuck around for the whole summer, Chino especially took a liking to it. Remember your favorite activities...

gymnastics (obviously), the daily crafts, gaga, and senior waterfront, head-catch with Soccer Matt, quad time, camper hunt, tubing with Zack Zeller, Tia's twerking workshops, and of course senior waterfront.

Remember Fourth of July? Showing up to the beach party in sweatshirts and sweatpants...oops! The rain couldn't stop us from participating in the color run, followed by ice cream bars, corn dogs (watching Sam eat 10), and of course everyone's favorite...F-R-I-E-D DOUGH! Remember the pontoon boats that camp rented? Good thing we got a ride before the storm hit, specifically a single tree on the quad #RIP. Remember our awesome hike up Rattlesnake Mountain? After six water breaks and twenty minutes we finally made it to the top! Did it for the Insta though. Who needs outlet shopping and ice cream sundaes when you could go to the Nature center?

It's okay though because we provided our own bus entertainment. A big thanks to Trips Jordan for hooking us up with extra Oreos! Afterwards being treated to New Hampshire's finest...McDonald's in Ossipee Center - shout out to being the first group to eat dinner out of camp. Speaking of special treats, remember getting candy canteen at least twice a week? We were also so lucky to go to K. Sol's house for pizza and everyone's favorite movie, She's the Man (sorry that I knew every word). This summer was definitely filled with more sugar than you all consume in the ten months that you spend elsewhere.

Remember beach day? Eating at splash, per usual, after a long day of tan time and dippin' dots, coming home for everyone's, and by everyone I mean my, favorite meal- Cookout! Good thing you all had the laundry wagon for entertainment...at least until the Brass reported it missing and you lost your short lived, yet favorite toy. Remember when there was one day when at least one of you didn't ask for mail, we don't! Remember our fabulous theme days...neon day, couples day (shout out to Beth and Hunter) and crazy day, luckily people on a tour of camp got to see how fun our group really is as we departed from the office for a spirited, full hour game of bocce. Remember the outbreak of Bunny-Bunny, challenging the Lancers and winning, obviously. Remember going on strike for cake on my birthday? And how could anyone forget the numerous dance parties that have occurred this summer. We formed our own breed of dance, potentially outshining the Bat-Mitzvah genre, including aimless punches, the point and pop, thigh clapping, the Hannah Montana sing and jump, and the classic smiley face.

Remember Parents' Visiting Day...showing the parents Bunny-Bunny, them totally not comprehending the fun of the game, enjoying the day with all of your families, and finishing off the day with snacks...and more snacks. Lets not forget the pizza that your parents so kindly bought for us, a heartwarming goodbye to those five missing pieces. Remember our amazing cartoon dance? I was so proud to show all of the parents, families, and the rest of camp how fun, loving, and appropriate we are. Remember the movie on girls' camp field, the staff reciting every word and you all learning the infamous Martin/Annie handshake afterwards, perfecting the movement at campfire on excursion. Remember moving into one bunk and getting closer than ever. Remember the Shire's Bat-Mitzvah, dressing up in our theme of Togas, being the only ones to go "all-out" in costume, and rocking it. #GoGreek! Remember the trip to the sand bar, everyone flocking towards a certain boat, with a certain driver...he definitely does! Remember going to the marina? We went on both canoes and mountain bikes, but either way, you spent a bulk of your money on chips and candy. Remember our bucket list? Fulfilling most items on the list, going above and beyond with the bench breaking. Arrows go HAM with the dance parties.

ARROWS

Remember Green and White...the break surprising everyone in the middle of dinner, everyone rushing to follow the flash mob from the Dining Hall to the soccer fields, greeting judges and welcoming the beginning of color war. Captain Julie Brockmann with co captain Dana Levine on the mighty White Mafia, against captain Maggie Toal with co captain Scurran Curran on the great Green Heroes. You all fought a tough, yet sportsmanly war, which was recognized by both judges and those staff members who coached you. You made your staff so proud in the way that you competed on the fields and the way that you returned to being the tight knit group of best friends as soon as the whistle was blown. Thank you for giving me one of the most spirited and fun color wars that I have experienced since coming to camp.

Remember excursion...leaving camp straight from breakfast with Trips James and Drama Heather at the helm, and heading to Canobie Lake Park, some of us riding the rollercoasters from front to back, and others (Scurran) enjoying the carnival food and slower train rides around the park. After a full day of fun and games, we packed up and went to the campsite to set up tents, a task that you all surprisingly completed efficiently and successfully. James and Heather made us the dinner of champions- steaks and potatoes (no fajitas for you), and we went to see Transformers. Remember the van rides...Meatloaf's playlist of "He could be the one" and FMS, mixed in with none other than High School Musical and a Camp Rock favorite, "Introducing me", while pointing out "Bumblebee" every time we saw a yellow and black car. Remember Sky Zone, getting those super cool socks and our own private room for some spirited dodge ball and open jump, followed by Chipotle and the perfect mix of bowling, laser tag, and arcade games. #Blessed that Drama Heather used her tokens to buy us all souvenir rings...and for the actually above average Chinese buffet for dinner. Remember the campfire that night, making s'mores, singing old songs, and learning new cheers. Remember playing cheers to the governor and good day Bruce- both making great additions to our dining hall job games. Remember our last day...waking up for Dunkin and shopping around Portsmouth before heading to your favorite part of excursion- kayaking down the Saco River! Admit though, that you all were pleasantly surprised when we made it to the end. You all made excursion so easy for HBT and I, and we really loved every second of it.

Remember evening activities...our pajama jump, greasy watermelon and sunset pics - we'll be sure to send those to you #ForTheGram, "running" through girls' camp afterwards, our scavenger hunt, accumulating an assortment of lists, signatures, friar jerseys, locks of hair, and interesting new information about your staff. Remember swimming at the ODT, you all mastering the "Twilight Walk" in and out of the water, walking the treacherous walk to Blue Moon for $2.00 worth of chips and candy, various versions of camper hunt: color wars, hunger games, infection - arrows are #active! Remember how well do you know your GL and make your GL laugh? You were by far the funniest group in Girls' Camp. Hey Rosie, save me a spot in the oatmeal line, will you? #JK... but seriously I was so impressed with how much you knew about me, I am so honored that you take such interest in my life. Remember our paper bag skits? Maybe we should have taken that party into the bunk...#blessed that our backwards scavenger hunt was located on the Far Far Field.

Remember our last few days...paying our tribute to the infamous LAX shack in a final bocce round, gifting camp with a beautiful sign leading to Girls' Camp's very own underground club, inventing the underground showers- get used to it Tumblers, leading the M-I-L-K cheer that we learned on excursion loudly and proudly, as always. Remember lazy day, finally getting that well deserved rest and making some exchanges in the schedule for none other than senior waterfront, the staple activity of the summer. Remember "ayo red light, reveal yo-selves," and the mysterious outsiders, signaling to our bunk #TakeCover. Remember when you were on time to benches or finished a count off? We don't! Remember GL switch day...dressing up Chino into the hottest new female counselor, creating new renditions to songs (show me your Chino, what?!) and finally having soda at snack! Game changer in the rest hour agenda. After a long afternoon of fraternity living, it was so nice to be welcomed back into your loving embrace, via the M-I-L-K cheer, naturally. Remember the catch phrase: anything "can be it" if you're brave, coupled with your favorite motto: no cart, no problem! Remember our last day of activities...what better way to end than a double period of senior waterfront, all piled onto the floatie at once. As the summer came to a close, your energy and love for camp never ceased to impress me. Your spirit filled the Dining Hall and I could not have been more proud to lead this group of amazing girls into the final song.

Marisa Alkalay – Although the transition into camp life had some ups and downs, you made the most of it. By the end of your stay, you were constantly smiling and fully enjoying camp life. Love camp and camp will always love you.

Lavinia Artusi – I love the way you put 110% effort into every activity. Your smile is contagious and always puts the group in a good mood. I am so glad that you made the most of your summer here.

Elsa Beretz – You never let a language barrier stop you and you quickly made your way into the group, making friends left and right. Everything you do is done with so much heart and grace. Keep coming back and experience everything camp has to offer.

Julie Brockmann – The entire group was left laughing on the floor countless occasions from your hilarious jokes. Your honesty is inspiring and you already demonstrate amazing leadership abilities. I can't wait to watch you lead Girls Camp someday.

Sarah Butler – Your sweet, sincere attitude inspires so many around you to follow in your footsteps. Although it was only your second summer, it seemed as though you had been here for years because your love for camp is already so strong. Never let it go as you progress into senior camp.

Tessie Chang – Your smile and love for camp is contagious and lifts everyone around you. You are never afraid to be yourself and you never care what others think as long as you are happy. Keep doing you and staying true to yourself because camp needs more people just like that.

Alex Cicero – Your sweet, caring personality shines through in everything you do. Your friendly ways have allowed you to not only become best friends with every member of your group but also much of camp. I can't wait to watch you mature and become the leader and role model I know you will be.

Ari Cohen – You are so easy to talk to partly because of your great maturity and loving nature. You put your all into every activity. Inspiringly, you are a competitive and amazing athlete with amazing sportsmanship.

Lizzy Cole – You somehow manage to make everything fun, from any activity to cleaning the bunk. Your love for camp really does inspire those around you. Your happiness and positivity brings up the entire group and is apparent in everything you do.

Sarah Curran – Somehow you manage to both retain a childish excitement and bliss yet maturity beyond your years. You have become best friends with every single girl in the group and always look out for others before yourself. Keep loving camp with your entire heart as camp will always love you.

Antonia Diaz – I am so impressed with the way you integrated yourself into life at camp and into the group itself. It's not easy to come to a foreign country and a foreign culture, yet you managed to do so with such grace. It was a pleasure sharing this experience with you.

ARROWS

Katie Hamrle – No matter the circumstances you attempt everything you do with a bright smile and eager attitude. Your positivity brings up the spirit of the entire group and every moment spent with you is a great one. Keep being yourself and loving camp from the bottom of your heart.

Claire Haskell – From your first night here at camp you fit right in. It says a lot about your personality that you were so easily able to join a tight knit group of girls. Keep coming back, camp has so much more to offer you as an individual.

Anna Hermacinski – You are one of the sweetest girls I have ever met and your kindness shines through in your humble actions. Everything you attempt is completed with perfection and much ease. Make sure to fully let camp in because once you do, the rest is easy.

Jamie Insul – Simply, you are absolutely hilarious and bring so much happiness and fun to the group. You are always happy and ready to do anything. Keep coming back for as long as you possibly can.

Sadie Jacobson – You are so talented in many different areas ranging from every single sports, to dancing and even arts and crafts. Although naturally talented, you never cease to attempt every activity with full effort. Your warm smile and personality brings so much to the group.

Sara Kao – You are one of the most intelligent young girls I have ever met. Your kindness and sincere personality makes you such a loving friend. The girls are so lucky to have you in the group.

Cami Kaye – You are such a dependable friend. I don't know that I have ever seen you without someone attached to you at the hip. The Realm needs more of your loving and caring heart.

Dana Levine – You are such a genuine girl with a great head on your shoulders. Your deep love for camp shines through in the way you treat your friends, your staff, and this special place. The Realm and this loving group is beyond lucky to have you among them.

Sofia Macario – I admire how effortless you made the transition into camp life seem. It could not have been easy to enter such a different lifestyle, but you adopted it as your routine and made it your own. You are such a caring individual and I am so glad to have had you in my life.

Pilar Martinez-Alonso – Your constant smile brings a great energy to the group. I loved watching you participate in all activities from gaga to steal the bacon because it is clear that you love whatever you do. You put your heart and soul into everything and for that you should be very proud.

Anna Mauldin – Your crazy spirit keeps the group alive and all of us on our toes. You don't take sass from anyone, a quality that I wish I had when I was your age. The group feeds off of your spunk and confidence, which is something that is so fun for your staff to watch.

Cami Milstein – Your fun loving nature at camp shines through the group. You are friend to laugh with as well as a reliable shoulder to lean on. I know I speak for the group when I say that we all hope you stay for a full seven weeks next year.

Tara Mintzberg – Wow, have we come a long way. Thank you for giving me a chance. You truly love camp, and camp loves you right back. Please keep letting camp in, it really has so much left to give you.

Ellie Romantz – You are quietly such an integral piece of this group. You make time for everyone and are one of the more stable young women I have come across. I am so glad you have chosen to stay here, indefinitely.

Rosie Rothschild – You could run camp with your eyes closed. No one quite knows or understands camp like you do. You're a crazy kid, but are equally as concerned with the well being of each of your friends, which is an admirable balance to hold.

Brooke Slesh – You're one of the most welcoming individuals I have ever met. The tendency of teenage girls is usually to stick to what they know, however you proved that stereotype to be false. I am impressed with the way you go out of your comfort zone to ensure that your group mates needs are put before your own.

Kate Slesh – I know I can always count on you to bring humor and amusement to the group. Campers, both younger and older, are attracted to your carefree yet loving persona. Please let camp be a big part of your life; I promise you won't regret it.

Gabi Star – I am so proud of you for giving camp a second chance. You thrived this summer, all because of the effort you put into it. Keep putting yourself out there and I know you will have a successful future at camp.

Ellie Tello – I can see that you love camp in the way that you take this place seriously. You always participate and get the group involved in all activities. Thank you for putting in 110% effort into all that you do, I really appreciate it.

Jasmine Theermann – You're the group peacemaker. You stay out of trouble, while being there for anyone who needs someone to lean on or just have a laugh with. You make a point to stay uninvolved in all of the "drama" and it could not have been more of a pleasure to spend the summer with you.

Maggie Toal – You are one of my biggest role models. Your leadership is unlike anything I have seen from someone your age, which was demonstrated in Green and White as well every single day here at camp. You are the epitome of camp. I could not be more proud of the wonderful young lady you have become since meeting you as a cute little Jester in 2011.

Payton Turkeltaub – You fit into the group so well that I almost forget that this is only your second year. It is hard to enter such a tight knit group halfway through the summer, but you seem to have been at ease. You are such a kind girl and wonderful addition to the Arrows.

Teresa Valderrabano – You have become such an important part of the group and impact the way this group operates. You never fail to put a smile on anyone's face- camper or staff. You bring this group together in a way that I'm not sure you even realize, but in a way that your staff sees and admires every day.

To my staff – I cannot thank you enough for your indescribable help this summer. With 34 girls we had a lot on our plate and I definitely would not have survived without you. Each of you brought something different to the table and that's part of the reason that we worked so well together. The girls loved you, which just goes to show what remarkable people you all are. I am so glad I got to spend this summer with you by my side. Thank you.

Arrows of 2014 – How do I even begin to thank you for sharing your group with me this summer? Without a Scribe group of my own I didn't really know what to expect, however you blew me away with your accepting nature and welcoming embrace. I couldn't imagine a better group of girls to spend this summer with. You all love camp in your own ways, which makes for a great mix of personalities that so seamlessly blend together. The Realm has so much more to give to you girls and I cannot wait to watch you continue to form into the next group of charismatic leaders, continuing traditions for years to come.

TALK BARDY TO ME!

No, but seriously, get off of Instagram, take a few minutes away from the group chat, and reminisce on the summer that was bard to the bone!

Remember when you all arrived on the same day (NOT), and smelled the pine needles, saw the trees, and felt like you never left? Remember getting to know each other on the first night by speed dating on the girl's camp basketball court?

Remember our first real evening activity? Pajama jumping, which you guys hadn't done since your bow summer, but it's obviously like a camper curfew, only improving with age (by about 5 minutes each summer). Remember when Belkin was wearing a pad on her shirt during backwards scavenger hunt, but she didn't run down the quad for the points because she didn't know it was called a sanitary napkin? Remember playing family feud with the Friars, and concluding that the most significant addition to camp since 2005 was 2006? Remember how well you knew me at "How Well Do You Know Your GL?" Remember playing the song game at the ODT and breaking the tie with two extremely appropriate lip sync performances? Remember when we had a fashion show featuring the popular styles of sporty, jungle animals, and Barbie world? Speaking of performances, remember when the magician/juggler performed after 4th of July, I still can't figure out how he made that table float. On the 4th of July topic, remember the epic beach party we had?! The clouds and rain couldn't stop us from having a killer time! Remember watching The Parent Trap on the girl's camp field, and Steph stomping through the floor in the bunk while dancing to the closing credits song after... "This will be an everlasting love... AHHH!" Remember shark tank? Remember playing greasy honeydew, and when the melon took so much abuse that it busted open in the lake? Remember when we all went to the quad late at night with glow in the dark balloons and stargazed/star-tipped?

Remember Beta Iota Zeta...guns up!
Remember when a chipmunk came into the bunk and everyone remained perfectly calm? Remember when you guys were terrified of my Mila Kunis poster?...sorry not sorry. Who remembers when we won a pizza party for having the cleanest bunks in all of camp, and we munched on White Lake at 11:30pm in the rink under the stars. Remember our shrine for the one and only archer CM, also known as our lord and savior? Remember one of the best beach days ever? Even though I'm still bitter about my losing my sunglasses in the ocean, and some people were even more bitter about pop-tarts, I think it's safe to say we had a great day at Ogunquit. Remember when Megan got hit in the face during porch baseball? Remember Paulina's zesty German candy? How about her jazzy German songs?!...just kidding I never played them. Remember that clutch pic Rachel sniped of Gracie on Shanna's camera? Always remember to be alert, don't get hurt. Remember when we got Jerome in the mail, easily the most important Bard of the whole family. Remember Final Four Day? Zebras v Tigers v Goldfish v Parrots? In my ten years at camp, I don't think I've ever seen competition as intense as that day. Remember going on the pontoon for lunch? Those Zellers really hooked us up! Remember our outstanding Hannah Montana/Miley Cyrus evolution talent show dance?

Let's reflect on excursion! Remember when trips Johnny was named the ultimate GP because of his flawless forward roll, and obviously because of his ginger ways? Remember when we were driving in the van to Six Flags and we hit turbulence so hard...D-d-d-J G-Mone! How about sherbet? Liv remembers sherbet. Remember when you guys got permission from the park rangers at the campsite to paddleboat across the pond? We don't! Time to look back on color war! Remember when that mind blowing flash mob came into the dining hall under disguise as a camp tour, WOW was the whole camp fooled, or what?! They busted a move to Magic by B.O.B. and led us to the soccer field where they continued an absolutely epic dance, and once the judges joined them, we knew Green and White was here! We said goodbye to two campers along the way, but under the leadership of bard captains Maddy and Paulina, we fought a competitive and enjoyable seven-person war. Swing first, you won't!

Remember when Catherine didn't have the campiest voice, or how about when Ariana wasn't doing flips on command? We don't! Remember when Liv was calm, Olive's neck was clear, and Hannah wasn't a perfectly sassy Hannah Montana? We don't! Remember when Elise was a blonde (not a ginger), when the group stayed dry-eyed while watching Sophie dance, or when Abby wasn't asking for more quad time? We don't! Remember when Catarina was a slow swimmer, when Caroline's area was messy, or when Hedvig wasn't wearing something cheetah print? We don't! Remember when Paulina actually had "just one question," when Gracie was wide awake all night long, or when Ivanna went for more than five minutes without talking about boys? We don't! Remember when Frida had a negative attitude towards anything, when Isa's stories from home were lame, or when Viola wasn't being sweet to everyone? We don't! Who remembers when Freddy wasn't fierce, when Rachel wasn't calling the group a bunch of heffers, or when Tina wasn't taking pictures? We definitely do not! Remember when Megan didn't have the perfect performance face on, when Tori wasn't doing her foot stretches, or when Georgia didn't get along with someone? We don't! Remember when Noa was bad at tennis, when Emily wasn't singing, when Mariam wasn't outgoing, or when Maddy didn't know the answer to a question about camp? WE DON'T!

BARDS

Olivia – You had a huge presence in the group this summer. Your beauty and athleticism make you shine! I hope you can take time away from your famous life on social media every summer to come back to camp.

Catherine – I can't think of a better way to describe your personality than "campy." Everything about you shouts CAMP, which is why I hope you never stop coming back! Keep embracing every moment, and keep on keeping on!

Ariana – You may come off as being quiet and shy, but once anyone gets to know you they find out you are the complete opposite. Not only are you hilarious but you are also a true friend to those around you. Never lose that!

Liv – No matter what activity the Bards were at, you put full effort into it, from dog walking to soccer. Your love for books is unparalleled and we're sorry for ever interrupting; never let that concentration go!

Olive – Your humor and outgoingness always kept the group going! Thanks for never complaining, or being sarcastic (lol). I think we really get each other, which is weird, but also awesome. Keep doing you.

Hannah – You absolutely killed it at camp. Your dance moves in the dining hall were fantastic and I can't wait to see them next summer! Your individuality is above and beyond and I'm looking forward to seeing you become a great leader.

Elise – You are one of the craziest kids I've ever met, and I absolutely love you for that! You always knew how to make people laugh, and brighten up the mood. You're a beauty inside and out, never forget that.

Sophie – Your smile brightens up everyone's day. I love watching you dance because you are so elegant, graceful, and flawless. Your love for camp is deep and genuine and that's clear to everyone who surrounds you here.

Abby – You are the most theatrical kid in the group and it's awesome. Your enthusiasm for every sport, especially lacrosse, rubs off on everyone around you. We could always count on you to crack a joke (poke). Keep shining, Abigail.

Catarina – Even though you're new to camp, you fit right into The Realm. Your passion and love for camp makes it seem as if you grew up here. We love you, so don't become a pizza.

Hedvig – You may have been new to camp this summer, but you could've fooled me!

You fit right in, and even though you were always late to benches, your enthusiasm at every activity made up for it.

Caroline – I couldn't have asked for someone better to have an area right next to mine! You are so organized and on top of everything, and you are so loyal to your friends; I admire all of those traits about you!

Paulina – Your energy is elephant-sized and there is never a quiet moment with you near by. You are always able to find the good in every situation and you have a huge heart. Enjoy listening to your German songs and have fun in Mallorca.

Gracie – You are a straight up baller. You are so humble and we love watching you play sports. If the WNBA doesn't work out, your coaching skills were bomb in Green and White. Be like Lebron!

Ivanna – You are one fierce girl. We definitely miss your mischievous grin and contagious laugh. Good luck in Switzerland, we all look forward to hearing about your adventures. Stay strong!

Frida – You live every single day with such beauty and grace! The Bard group would not have been the same without your bright and positive energy. Never stop being you.

Isa – Coming in as a new camper is never easy, but watching you come out of your shell this summer was extremely rewarding. You are beyond generous to everyone around you and also have killer dance solos. Shine bright like a diamond!

Viola – You are such a sweet girl, and everyone knows it! I loved your positive attitude over the summer! You never complained, and there was always a bright smile on your face; I appreciated that more than you know.

Fredrika – You brought such an amazing light to the bard family. I could never get enough of your spunk and fierceness! It says a lot when a girl can come for just two weeks, and leave such a positive mark on her group.

Rachel – I hope you know what a natural leader you are, because it really is amazing to watch you shine. It's obvious that the bards adore you just as much as I do, and they had every reason to. You really are like a younger sister to me. Never, ever change!

Tina – You are one of the sweetest girls I know; we are all so lucky to have you join us this summer. Even with a language barrier you got along with everyone and tried every activity we did. Never stop taking pictures!

Megan – You are incredibly tough! There were moments when you wanted to take the easy way but you pushed through and did it with a smile. You had never waterskied before coming to camp but you mastered it and got up every time after that. Stay strong and keep trying!

Tori – You are one of the bravest and strongest girls I know, and I hope you never lose sight of that. I know how seriously you take your running, but I hope you can always make time to come back to The Realm.

Georgia – Your dance moves always brighten anyone's mood. You are constantly smiling and make camp enjoyable for those you are with. Your desire to embrace camp to the fullest is apparent with your carefree personality. I can't wait for you to come back to the camp family and you do you!

Noa – When you arrived you brought a tremendous amount of energy and life with you. There is never a dull moment with you around, people adore you and love your optimism. Never lose that drive!

Emily – Your intensity deepened the camp experience. Your high energy levels in each activity benefited the group as a whole. Your warm, open personality makes others feel at home. Charge on!

Mariam – You are such a fantastic leader and a pizza. Your fearless dance moves brought smiles to our faces on a daily basis. You also did amazing in archery, keep on shooting. I can't wait to jump off the tower with you next year!

Maddy – Your knowledge of camp traditions is astounding and the Bards are lucky to have someone who can keep them up. Your level-headed presence in every situation grounded the group as a whole. Keep calm and carry on!

STAFF – Thanks so much for all the help this summer. I know you were all brand new to The Realm, but you made each day easier for me, and the group as a whole. I hope to see you guys back here in future summers!

BARDS – Thank you all for such an amazing summer. I love each and every one of you more than you know. I know you came into this summer with some clique issues, and I didn't have the most experience, but I can confidently say that when we worked together, something clicked. Your group's bond has grown ten times stronger than it already was, and I know that if you continue coming back, you'll be a force to be reckoned with. I look forward to hopefully being a part of that when I'm 2016 Scribe GL :)

AND THE SHIRES THEY GO...

Turn off the music, try to be on time to benches for once, stop puffing your inhalers, start singing in the shower, and let's reminisce on the summer of shining on!

Remember opening day, only having 16 girls and for once actually fitting at our table in the dining hall. Remember unpacking? Callie and Evin's bunk bed instantly became the biggest mess in the bunk. Remember the group growing to 24 within the first two weeks of camp. Remember finding out you had the same bunk as last year and being so excited to be right next to the quad?

Remember when Beatriz was quiet in her sleep, Jane was quiet, Maat loved mountain trips, Sarah Beretz knew what we were saying, Jade was on time for benches, Halley didn't want to take more polaroids, Kendall didn't have her camera, Chanel was bad at dancing, Maren was making appropriate jokes, Julia's area was clean, Ana knew what time benches was... WE DON'T.

Remember when Derin wasn't nice to everyone, Aude wasn't being forced to say Sugar Daddy, Annabelle wasn't so British, Devon wasn't making a string bracelet, Mikayla wasn't good at every sport, Shelby wasn't talking about Will.I.A.M and the Black Eyed Peas, Vicky brushed her own hair, Ava wasn't acting more mature, Sophie didn't have a food baby, Neema didn't have a smile on her face... WE DON'T.

Remember when Evin actually slept in her own bed, Callie wasn't hyper, Lexi actually made her bed, Lily let feet on her bed, Swoody wasn't talking about going to the bathroom, Sophia did not wear a headband, Hannah cheered for Michigan, when albie wasn't hungry... WE DON'T.

Remember when we were the first group to go to the outpost this summer, not needing trip staff to make a fire, making s'mores by the fire, the toad peeing on Vicky and then jumping into the fire, toady leaving us way too soon?

Remember our mountain trip, taking our lovely time to get to the top, climbing the same mountain that you had already climbed twice before, getting watermelon from the top from our new friends and a ridiculous amount of sandwich swapping?

Remember when Kendall and Maren had a B'Nai Mitzvah, our private service at the outdoor theatre, Jane and Evin being our amazing Rabbis, continuing to the party in the barn with each group having their own theme?

Remember being the Shires with pliers, dancing to Bob the Builder in the talent show, Lily being an amazing Bob, killing it with the great remix. Remember when Jade got stuck on the water ski boat and ripped her bathing suit. Remember when we went to cozy corner four times in one week and the main scooper started to recognize us?

Remember the day of Green and White with the Bards, the White Weeds beating the Green Legion, a mini talent show in the barn, volleyball and basketball having to end because of the massive storm that was rolling in. remember sitting with those teams at lunch and doing cheers for the whole camp, in the end the White Team winning but it did not matter because everyone had fun!

Remember making and decorating cookies in the cottage. Don't forget to add SPRINKLES, going in to make the cookies by countoff, 1-2-3 4-5-6, no on understanding what Ehow meant, making an insane amount of cookies and still eating them all?

Remember when Julia and Shelby would always talk in baby talk, Julia losing odds are and having to talk in a baby voice the whole day, the night of odds are and having to be told to be quiet by the arrows multiple times. Remember Ehow's horrible family feud lists and no one agreeing with any of the categories, and everyone making her a BAE list?

Remember the Fourth of July, everyone being so spirited and representing the USA with red white and blue, the fair in the barn and eating too much food. Remember how good fair food dinner was? F R I E D DOUGH! The group eating so much food that everyone felt sick after dinner but still wanted to eat more.

Remember going to the softball tournament at Evergreen, the start of our relationship with Brenda, getting the pizza and eating it in 5 minutes, losing every single game, forfeiting the last one due to "rain", getting Cozy on the way back for great sportsmanship?

SHIRES

Remember walking for the Joshua Frase Foundation, a four mile walk up Freedom Hill, jamming out with Halley's speakers the entire time, finally getting back to camp and being so excited about the ice cream?

Remember going to West End for the basketball game, cheering on our team the whole time even though we didn't win. Remember one piece Wednesdays? It's a good thing that you guys actually bought one pieces by the end of the summer. Remember our outing with the Foresters to Conway, first ice skating and then getting to walk around North Conway and be out for dinner.

Remember when Ehow tried to lead a water aerobics session for everyone? Remember all the challenges? Tumblers challenging you to gaga, TPJ/Squires also challenging you to gaga. Remember when Evin fell through a waterfront dock. Remember when the Shires treaded water for 40 minutes?

Remember Beach Day, having to split up and share a bus with the TPJ/Squires and the Lancers, getting to the beach and instantly wanting to go into the water, eating so much food and ice cream, coming home with Estaban, Rico, and Debby, RIP Bertha.

Remember Parents' Visiting Day, after an amazing four weeks you got to show your parents our amazing dance in the Talent Show, having an amazing day with your families, being able to go out to dinner for the first time.

Remember playing bunny bunny on the far far field while it was pouring rain, a truck driver coming down the road and interrupting the game. Remember watching The Holiday, taking four different sittings to finish the same movie that no one wanted to finish. Remember when the only way to get Halley out of bed was to play Come On Eileen, and it quickly became the group song?

Remember when you all had munchkins stuffed in your face to get woken up. Remember when Vicky wanted to be bold, Callie had a great braid and we found out that Jane has soft lips. Remember the Lurker? Keep lurking on Lurker. Remember when Evin and Maren passed the lifeguard test! Remember when Ava, Callie, Maren and Jane all had their thirsts quenched, Maat and Julia still thirsty.

Remember going on excursion to Boston, day 1 walking around Faneuil Hall – eating great food and meeting up with the boys later for a Duck Tour, everyone getting to drive the duck boat, unpacking at the hotel then going back into the city for dinner at Fire and Ice, Hannah possibly having the chicken pox and leaving us for a total of 12 hours, Ehow, Maren and Shelby Uberring to the airport to go pick up SWoody, Remember the amazing hot chocolate from the hotel, everyone leaving it in the van every day.

Remember day 2 of excursion, going to the New England Aquarium and seeing all of the cool animals, the van getting stuck in the parking garage, later that day going to the wrong sky zone on the opposite side of Boston, spending more time in the car than actually at either sky zone, PF Changs for dinner followed by the Blue Man Group where we got two paintings, Halley only wanting to listen to Long Heel Red Bottom while in the van, taking selfies while walking by the fire department and ending up taking pictures with the fire truck.

Remember day 3 of excursion, starting the day in the rain at the JFK Museum then spending the whole afternoon on Newbury street shopping, having to say goodbye to Sarah Beretz but Derin finally being able to join the group, later that day going to see Shear Madness the comedy show and having Camp Robin Hood being called out by the actors, taking more pictures with the same fire fighters at the fire department.

Remember day 4 of excursion, taking the morning to hang out at the hotel, having a huge order at Panera and taking our time getting back to camp, arriving just in time to shower and get ready for Founders Night. Remember Founders Night? So many people going up on stage, presenting camp with our "Dick Says Think Blue" sign.

Remember Green and White Breaking, the Judges dancing as a part of the flash mob for the break. Remember Kendall and Woody leading the Mighty White Mafia and Chanel and Callie leading the Great Green Heroes. Remember fighting all five days with the best sportsmanship I have ever seen. In the end the Heroes winning the war but everyone being so excited to be together as a group again!

Remember the hail storm in the middle of Green and White and all the Florida girls were so surprised to see Hail, remember when the bunk had to be rearranged to avoid the different leaks in the ceiling, when Sophia could recite every rap lyric to Look At Me Now, Derin put ketchup on her pasta, Julia's ball-in-a-cup. Remember our day of evening activities? Starting the day with pajama jump, the next evening activity being greasy honeydew and eating the melon after we were done playing. After lunch going on a boat ride. Remember when the afternoon evening activities were a photo scavenger hunt and our first game of infection?

Remember our amazing summer, shining on and being the best group that we could be! Even though you are all separated over the year, nothing will change. When you care about someone, it doesn't matter where you live – nothing can tear you apart.

Beatriz – I am so glad that you decided to return to The Realm this summer. You are a lovely girl who always has a smile on your face. I cannot wait to see you grow over the next few years.

Jane – You have been an amazing camper this summer. You are so energetic and never fail to make everybody laugh. You are a great role model to younger campers and are going to make an amazing scribe.

Maat – It has been amazing to see how you have grown this summer. You are such an amazing camper and a great role model to camp. You are stronger than you know and you will continue to get even stronger. Never lose that laugh and I am so excited to see you share your amazing personality with all of camp next year.

Sarah Beretz – I have loved to see you come out of your shell this year. Coming into a tight knit group can be hard but you did an amazing job of it. You always had a big smile on your face even when people were talking too fast. I hope to see you continue your Robin Hood career.

Jade – You did a great job this summer at making everybody laugh and feel comfortable in the group. You add so much spunk to the bunch and we wish you had stayed longer. Keep coming back.

Halley – This summer you have been a fantastic camper and have brought a great presence to the group. You are always laughing and smiling and it is clear how much you love your camp friends. We may not have the same taste in music, but no matter what you are going to be an amazing person when you grow up.

Kendall – You have been such a fun leader this summer. You always have everyone's best intentions in mind but always know how to make things fun. I cannot wait to see you as a Scribe holding that mentality for all of camp.

Chanel – One thing we will never forget is your crazy dance moves! Girl you can move. You have been an amazing leader in the group this year and know how to keep everyone constantly motivated at camp. You have such a bubbly personality and you are going to do great things in life.

Maren – You bring such a good feel to the group. You always have a smile on your face and never fail to make people laugh. Your bubbly personality shines on through and I have no doubt that you are going to make a fantastic Scribe next summer.

Julia – You are such a happy, outgoing, energetic girl who brings so much happiness to the group. You never fail to make people laugh and always put 100% effort into everything you do. You are a brilliant role model to every camper here at Robin Hood and I cannot wait to see you continue your journey at camp.

SHIRES

Ana – It was so wonderful having you in the group this summer. You have a quiet, but amazing and kind presence that really adds something extra to the group. I hope you come back for many summers to come.

Derin – It's amazing how even though you came later to camp, you still managed to fit right in perfectly. You have such a funny personality and it brings something great to the group. I cannot wait to see what a wonderful young lady you turn in to.

Aude – How come you have never told us how good you are at horseback riding?! It was great to see you come out of your shell this summer. You have an amazing personality and I can't wait to see you shine next summer.

Annabelle – it was so great seeing you come out of your shell this summer! You are a great addition to the group and I cannot wait to see you grow over the years as a Scribe and a future counselor.

Devon – You have been a fantastic role model to every person at this camp. Your warm, caring personality shows in everything you do and you are going to be an amazing Scribe and leader in years to come.

Mikayla – How is it possible to be so good at every sport on camp? You are such an athletic person who loves to get involved in everythin. I am excited to see you shine in your Scribe summer.

Shelby – You have such a big personality and bring so much to the group. You are ridiculously athletic and always try your very best in everything you do. You are a brilliant leader and did an awesome job aiding the younger campers this year. I can see you being a fantastic Scribe and future leader at camp.

Vicky – You are an amazing friend and an even better person, don't let anyone ever tell you differently. The way you hold and present yourself is more than perfect and I know you will do great things in life!

Ava – You have such a beautiful personality and are one of the most caring people I have met. You really love camp and with that passion you will get far. I cannot wait to see you in Scribe summer, you're going to do a great job.

Sophie – Such a caring girl who loves camp friends more than anything. You are a lovely girl whose personality rubs off on everybody around. Keep smiling. You're going to make a great Scribe.

Neema – Thank you for being such an amazing camper this summer! You do not have a negative bone in your body and I appreciate that so much. It is always great to have a person with such a positive energy around all the time.

Evin – Your crazy laugh is contagious and you never fail to make everybody smile and laugh along with you. You are great at getting everybody involved in any activity and I'm sure you will continue to be a great leader in your Scribe summer.

Callie – We have loved to see you be your crazy self this summer. You bring so much energy and high spirit to the group and always ensure that everybody is okay. It is so apparent how much you love camp and the girls. You are going to make an amazing Scribe, keep doing you.

Lexi – Its been such a wonderful experience having your sassiness around this summer. Intense conversations are never missing when you are around. I am so excited for you to share your passion and fire with girl's camp in the years to come.

Lily – Your caring personality and weirdness plays a huge part in the group. You are always thinking of others and making sure everybody is having the best of time at camp. It is clear that you have a big heart and love every minute you spend at camp.

SWoody – Your energy is contagious and I can't help but smile whenever I am around you. I am so proud of the person you have become and it has been great seeing you grow up. You will run girl's camp with ease next summer!

Sophia – It was great seeing you return to camp this summer. You have been so high spirited, energetic, and a motivation to everyone around you. Hope you keep coming back, you will do great things with camp in your life!

Hannah – You are an amazing camper and have brought so much happiness to the group this year. You've done an amazing job and no matter what, you always brighten up the day! I cannot wait to see you shine in your Scribe summer.

Albie – You were there for us through good times and bad, it was so great having you live in the cabin with us this summer. You definitely kept the cabin clean by picking up all the crumbs and I am so grateful for you.

To my staff – Thank you for all the help this summer, leading a group is not easy but you guys were a huge help. I love you, keep in touch!

Shires 2014/Scribes 2015 – You girls are an amazing group and I wouldn't have my summer any other way. You have so much energy at all times and know the perfect way to use it. Keep your spirits up and keep coming back! Camp needs a group like you to be the perfect Scribe group and lead camp! I am just a phone call away if you ever need anything. I love you all so much, thank you for the perfect summer!

DON'T FORGET TO TREAT YO SELF!

Ayoo Scribes,
Scribes, Scribes BENCHES... just kidding did we even have benches?!? Put down your wax, stop stuffing your face, get off of your computers and phones, and try to relive the best summer of your life with me!

It feels like just yesterday that you were all pulling into The Realm with smiles on your faces and an obnoxiously awesome amount of energy running through your bodies!

Remember seeing and being reunited with all your Scribes of 2014, some of whom you hadn't seen all year and others who you were meeting for the first time.

Remember the 4th of July? It rained and we moved in to the barn but that couldn't stop us from having fun! You girls had a great carnival and it will always be remembered!

Remember climbing Washington and everyone making it up! Remember climbing Katahdin and everyone almost making it up! You girls did amazing on both hikes and I couldn't have asked for better attitudes on the mountains. Remember our four long day excursion starting with surfing and shopping and ending with paintball and The Fray...I hope your bruises have finally gone away!

Remember Green and White? You girls played your hardest and gave it your all! You were all great sports and should be proud of the way you played and helped to lead both the Green Team and the White Team.

Remember all those days trying to hit trees... you better all hit them soon! Remember going to the new ODT and learning a little about camp...chugga chugga choo choo.

Lastly, remember giving your Scribe Speeches down at the waterfront. You girls delivered your speeches with poise and an open heart, which Girls Camp really appreciated. I was honored to call you guys my Scribes and could not have been more proud of you girls than during those two hours.

Remember when Blanca wasn't laughing, Cari wasn't killing her future husband, and Carly wasn't being funny...we don't!

Remember when Evie wasn't being an amazing camper, Hannah was actually fancy, and Izzy wasn't being weird...we don't!

Remember when Jen wasn't helping out with everything Mel asked, Lauren wasn't being low-key funny and saying odd things, and Lucy wasn't killing it both on the fields and with her high spirits...we don't!

Remember when Maddy wasn't being a great aid, Maia wasn't a hot mom, and Marta wasn't killing it on the stage...we don't!

Remember when Megan wasn't being a G, Pilar wasn't smiling, Sam wasn't loving Joey, and Sophia wasn't being beautiful... we don't!

Blanca – Your spirit and energy throughout each day is truly incredible to watch. You are able to be yourself and have fun while still doing everything that is asked of you. You make the group laugh and always know what to say. You are so sweet and truly care about everyone at camp. Keep coming back and make this place your own. Come back until you have a group of your own that you are leading! The way you care about other people is truly admirable and Girls Camp needs more leaders like you!

Cari – You are a force to be reckoned with and I mean that in the best way possible. You care about everyone and truly have people's backs when necessary. Your ability to pick people up when they are sad, but still comfort and offer support to them amazes me. There's something about you that people gravitate towards and I aspire to be like you in so many ways. Never let go of the bonds you have made at camp and keep holding the group together like you always do. This group needs you more than you know, keep the memories alive and spirits high.

Carly – I always secretly wanted to be your friend, but I was always slightly intimidated. I was intimidated by your ability to laugh with all your heart and carefree and spontaneous nature. I feel privileged to not only watch you grow up at The Realm, but also to become your friend. You are crazy and I love it. If I could tell you one thing it would be to trust yourself. Trust your instincts and go with your gut. You are an incredibly talented, silly, and beautiful person. Trust yourself in times of doubt and know that the Scribes of 2014 and I will always have your back.

SCRIBES

Evie – I see so much of myself in you. Lets be honest, you are a better version of me! You have the ability to light up any room you enter. You are kind, carefree, and always there to get the job done. I secretly always knew I could count on you to take control whenever I couldn't be there. Thanks for letting me relax while you took over! Lastly, keep smiling because your smile truly is contagious. You love camp and camp loves you back more than you will ever know. Keep coming back and keep the traditions alive, camp needs more people like you walking around.

Hannah – You are honestly one of the coolest people I know. You are so mature and make everything you do look easy. You know how to get everyone's attention and be a leader in times of need, yet you also know how to let others shine. I think of you as not a camper, but a friend who I know I can count on. You are silly yet serious and I envy your ability to jump into any group of people and fit right in. Keep coming back, your maturity and friendliness will make you a perfect staff member in The Realm.

Izzy – You are crazy and I love it. I know I can count on you both when I need a good laugh and when I need someone to cry to. You have the ability to change the mood of the group with just a simple smile. Your smile is contagious. Keep being weird and embracing life and don't let anyone tell you otherwise. You are whacky and lovable and I am honored to be your twin. You are clearly the better twin and even though you are younger, I look up to you in ever way possible!

Jen – Honestly Jen, people sometimes give you a hard time and call you the problem child, but you are so far from that. If anything you were the easiest camper to work with this summer and I appreciate everything you did. You did things before I asked and took initiative in situations where people needed guidance. I always felt comfortable leaving the group because I knew that your eyes would be there. You led the group while still being silly and always down to have a good time. You love camp so much and it shows every day with everything you do. Keep coming back and leading Girls Camp!

Lauren – You are so crazy and fun and the group loves you. You live and breathe camp and it shows. I admire you in so many ways and look up to the way you can become friends with anyone within seconds. I have watched you aid and you never stop amazing me every single day. The kids love you and you are great with them. You make every kid feel special, which I respect. The scribes of 2014 would not be the same without you. Keep coming back and keep running The Realm from the Tumblers all the way to the staff!

Lucy – I am so glad you came back this summer. You jumped right back into the group with ease and instantaneously made The Realm your home again. You are spunky and one of the most fun girls I have ever met. You do your own thing and don't care what other people think. You are more athletic than anyone and it's awesome, but I didn't have to tell you that. I admire and can relate to the way that you bond with your family over camp. You use camp as a common thread and I hope that it will keep you bonded for many years to come. Keep coming back and join your brother on that stage as a judge, I know you can!

Maddy – You are too smart for your own good. You know more about life than I ever will and I wasn't kidding when I said that you were going to make millions in ten years. You were such an amazing Scribe aid and counselors could not stop raving about you! Watching you with the Tumblers was a pleasure. You impacted those girls' summer more than you realize and they will always remember the time and effort you put in. The Scribes of 2014 would not be the same without you. Keep coming back until your name is on a clipboard. You will be the best GL that this camp has ever seen and I really do mean that!

Maia – I love you. You have the ability to be spontaneous while still being extremely mature and grounded. You have come a long way. You started out as a lazy Jester and are now an incredible and confident Scribe. It has been an honor to watch you grow into the amazing leader that you are today. Not only the group, but also all of Girls Camp, listens to you when you speak and admires the way you respect everyone in camp. You are exceptionally smart and as weird as it sounds you use your mind for good. Come back until you are rocking a fanny pack and clipboard!

Marta – Watching you this summer has made me smile. There is simply no better way to say it. You are kind, funny, and an incredible dancer. Having you on my team during Green and White allowed me to see you excel in so many ways. You were a star during every activity and the talent show was no exception. I am so glad I got to know you better this summer because I truly was missing out! You are an incredible girl and such an important part of the Scribe group. Come back for as long as you can, you are such a positive role model for every girl in camp!

Megan – Who would have thought that my camp little sister would one day be one of my best friends? Not going to lie, when I saw your name on a piece of paper as my little sister and realized that you were Nathan's sister I was scared. Little did I know that you would be one of the coolest girls that I would ever be a counselor for. You have the ability to change the mood of the group in seconds. Come back to The Realm until your name is up on a flag and you are on stage with me. You are a role model for all of Girls Camp and the Scribes would be lost without you!

Pilar – I know it must have been hard to come to camp for the first time as a Scribe, but honestly you made it look easy. You fit right into this group of girls from day one. It was incredible to watch your personality shine throughout The Realm and see camp become your home. You are such a sweet, kind-hearted girl and the Scribes love you so much. I hope you come back next summer to be on staff, I know you won't regret it!

Sam – You are too amazing if that is even possible. You are the nicest girl in camp and I'm not just saying that. The way you care about everyone is incredible to watch. You are a fantastic athlete and an even better sport on the field. If I could tell you one thing it would be to put yourself first at times. You are just as important as everyone else and deserve to put yourself first. I love you so much and your love for camp is contagious. Your spirit is amazing, keep smiling and enjoying The Realm!

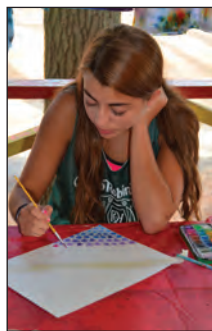

Sofia – You are so sweet and caring! Coming into such a close knit group can be hard, but you did it beautifully! I hope you loved camp as much as camp loved you. Your smile is contagious and you brighten up the Dining Hall simply by smiling! You are fun and outgoing and the Scribes adore you. You were the perfect addition to the group this past summer! I hope to see you next year as part of the 2015 staff.

To the best staff on camp – Thank you guys for everything. This summer would not have been the same without both of you! Melanie, you were so much fun to be on staff with and you were always willing to do anything that was asked of you! I appreciate all of your hard work and I hope you had as much fun over the summer as I did! Michaela, I could not have been any luckier. You were the perfect fit for the Scribe group. The Scribes loved you more than words can explain. Thank you for always having a positive attitude even when it got tough. You were truly incredible to work with and I could not have imagined being with anyone else. I hope you both come back next year because Robin Hood needs more people like you!

To the Scribes of 2014 – All I can say is thank you. Thank you for giving me the best summer of my life. Thank you for showing me how to have fun and be silly again. Thank you for loving camp and teaching Girls Camp how to love camp. Thank you for keeping the traditions alive and doing it with ease. Keep coming back, I beg you! This place needs your spirit more than you will ever realize. You are the heart and soul of Girls Camp and will continue to be for many more years while on staff.

Oh and by the way, if you didn't already know, you are and always will be my favorite group on camp
...but shhh I don't pick favorites!

Three years ago, we brainstormed ways to enable camp to have a broader, more meaningful impact on our campers. We know that camp is fun and the kids love being here, but we also want campers to appreciate the boundless opportunities and advantages in life that they have.

In 2012, Woody discovered The Pihcintu Multicultural Chorus, which is comprised of young women refugees from all over the world. Through music, these young women have adapted to new cultures and reclaimed their lives. We invited a group of girls to spend the day at Robin Hood, and the experience proved to be extremely memorable for both Chorus members and campers. The girls enjoyed lunch, spent some quality time with campers in girls' camp, played gaga, did arts and crafts, swam, and enjoyed a cookout on the beach. After dinner, they performed for us, which was very special.

Last year, we partnered with Dare2Tri Paratriathlon Club, a group that serves youths, adults and injured service members. Its mission is to provide athletic opportunities for disabled individuals and to inspire the community at large. Six amazing Dare2Tri members spent a few days at camp running, biking and doing the island swim with us. Our guests made deep impressions on our campers, demonstrating how to face challenges with positive attitudes and determination.

This summer, Paul Frase made a visit to camp to help inspire campers. Paul grew up just 45 minutes away in Concord and played football at Syracuse. He went on to a hugely successful career in the NFL, having played for the New York Jets, Jacksonville Jaguars, Baltimore Ravens and the Super Bowl Green Bay Packers. More importantly, Paul founded the Joshua Frase Foundation in honor of – and now in memory of – his son, Joshua, who died four years ago at the age of 15 following a life-long battle with the congenital disease myotubular myopathy (MTM). In addition to raising funds to help find a cure for MTM, the Foundation supports the families whose lives are affected by this terrible disease. Paul spoke with all our campers about his life experiences and over the course of the day each group participated in a walk in memory of these special children. If you would like to learn more about the Joshua Frase Foundation please visit www.joshuafrase.org.

We feel strongly our children not only appreciate the advantages they have, but also develop empathy for others and understand the importance of giving back. We look forward to continuing Robin Hood Gives Back for many years to come. After all, what better place to be inspired than at camp among the magic in the trees.

SPECIAL EVENTS

After a fantastic Parents' Visiting Weekend, group excursions were quickly underway. Excursions are a time for groups to enjoy fun activities and meals out of camp with an emphasis on creating life long memories and bonds with one another.

Tumblers/Jesters/Tinkers-Pagers/Jugglers/Squires

The boys and girls started off their trip at Story Land Theme Park in Glen, NH. The campers enjoyed exciting park rides and delicious carnival food. After a day at the park, groups traveled to their campsite, set up tents, and ate a delicious dinner cooked by our Trips Staff. The evening ended with a nighttime viewing of Planes: Fire and Rescue. Day two was spent at Cranmore Aerial Adventure Park. Everyone loved the ropes course, bungee trampoline, soaring eagle and delicious pizza lunch brought in from Boston Brothers!

Bows – An early morning departure meant a quick stop at Dunkin Donuts for breakfast! Then the group was off to Liquid Planet Water Park, where the campers enjoyed spending time together in the pool, mini golfing, and zip lining. Campers headed to their campsite in New Hampton, NH and enjoyed a steak and potato dinner. The girls enjoyed a movie under the stars before heading to bed. After cooking breakfast at the campsite, the group went to Monkey Trunks ropes course. The trip concluded with a stop at the Kellerhaus Ice Cream Buffet for some delicious sundaes.

Archers – The group ate several donuts for breakfast and then began their excursion with a ropes course climb at Monkey Trunks Park at Weirs Beach and a stop for ice cream. After eating a hearty meal, the group was ready for a few games of bowling at Funspot. The group set up shop at their campsite and headed to Weirs Beach Drive-In to watch a movie outside. The group ate egg-wraps for breakfast and then headed off to Liquid Planet Water Park to cool down before returning to The Realm.

Quills – The Quills were fortunate to spend three days together out of camp. The girls enjoyed a day of water slides, park rides, and zip lines at Attitash Adventure Park. A delicious dinner was cooked at the campsite and the girls bonded over Hodgies Too Ice Cream. Day two the group relaxed at Hampton Beach and enjoyed a game of mini golf at Captains Cove. The day ended at Prescott Park where the girls ate pizza while watching Shrek The Musical performed outside. On their final day of excursion, the campers were delighted by the pancake breakfast prepared at their campsite. Their final stop was at Water Country Water Park, where they enjoyed a fantastic day in the sun.

Yeomen – The Yeomen ate a Dunkin breakfast before tandem kayaking down the Saco River. This was the first group to ever visit Uberblast and it was the highlight of the trip. The group played arcade games and had full access to the inflatable play area. A delicious meal was cooked at the campsite and later that night the boys went to the Bridgton Drive-In Theater and saw Guardians of the Galaxy. Attitash Adventure, mini golf, and Panda Garden were on the agenda for day 2. On their final day of excursion, the Yeomen headed to Water Country Water Park to meet up with the Quills before heading back to camp.

Arrows – The Arrows three day adventure started at Canobie Lake Amusement Park. All the girls enjoyed land and water rides as well as the great food at the park. The girls arrived at their campsite in Exeter, NH and cooked dinner together. At night they met up with the Lancers to see a movie. The next morning the girls jumped and played a game of dodge ball at Sky Zone Trampoline Park. Laser tag, bowling and arcades were also enjoyed before heading to the Great New Chinese Buffet in Portsmouth. The trip ended with paddling down the Saco River and soaking up the sun.

Lancers – The Lancers began their excursion at the OSG Paintball facility in southern New Hampshire. The boys went to Annabelle's Ice Cream for dessert and saw Transformers: Age of Extinction. The boys cooled off at Liquid Planet Water Park and played arcade games on their second day. At night the Lancers went to the Nashua Silver Knight's minor league baseball game. They enjoyed hot dogs and hamburgers in the stadium and even got to go on the field. Deep Sea Fishing on the Hampton River was incredibly memorable and a great way to end the trip together.

Bards/Friars – The Bards and Friars went to western Massachusetts for their four-day excursion. On Day one the Bards relaxed and walked around Hampton Beach while the Friars went to Portsmouth for all you can eat pizza. Both groups met back up at The Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, MA. The second day of their trip was spent at Six Flags New England and Hurricane Harbor Water Park. White Water Rafting down the Deerfield River was an exciting third day for both groups. The Friars concluded their trip with a few games of paintball and the Bards went shopping and ate pizza in Portsmouth, NH.

Shires/Foresters – The Shires and Foresters took a trip down to Boston, Massachusetts for excursion. Both groups did some sight seeing, went on the Boston Duck Tour and ate a delicious dinner at Fire and Ice. The Foresters spent the next morning at the John F. Kennedy Library while the Shires visited the New England Aquarium and got a look at some incredible sea creatures. The groups jumped at Sky Zone and saw some terrific shows. The Shires and Foresters were fortunate to sit up close at the Blue Man Group and also saw the comedy show, Shear Madness. The groups also enjoyed quality shopping on Newbury St. and Boylston St. The Shires ended the excursion with a big lunch together and the Foresters enjoyed a day at Water Country Water Park. It was definitely a fun-filled trip that will be remembered forever!

Scribes/Saxons – For their final excursion as campers, the Saxons and Scribes traveled to Cape Cod on a four-day excursion. While at the Cape, the groups received surfing lessons on a beautiful beach and saw a minor league all-star baseball game. The Saxons and Scribes also went shopping in Provincetown, watched a unique show together, and played a few games of paintball. The most memorable part of the trip was meeting Tom Brady and the New England Patriots! The Saxons and Scribes watched a bit of practice and were able to take pictures with a few team members. The groups spent a lot of time relaxing and enjoying each other's company. Their final day was spent in Boston, where they ate great meals and attended the Fray concert. It was a memorable trip that both groups will cherish as they transition from campers to staff.

SPECIAL EVENTS

AS WE HAVE SINCE 1927, each year on August 3rd we celebrate our founder Andy Friedman's birthday. Even 39 years after Andy's passing, we continue to honor his birthday at camp. We begin our celebration with a banquet meal in the Dining Hall served by the administration. Then we head to the playhouse where each group is responsible for presenting a gift they have created. Presents come in all different shapes and sizes, which truly represent the group's individual personality. This night is also a time to recognize those at camp for their first, third, fifth, and tenth summer. We also recognize special milestones for staff that have attended camp for more than ten years. This summer we celebrated Michelle Brockmann's 25th year in The Realm! Founder's night ended with the best fake break in Robin Hood's history.

GREEN & WHITE SONGS – GREEN

Walk This Way

Flash mob kickin', then we're green bean pickin'
Can't hear a word that DC say
With Jonas and Mel, it's not so hard to tell
That the heroes will save the day

Ever since Day One, we knew the war's been won
All the judges will remember this
We can smell the steaks cookin' while the white team's lookin'
For a little bit of Green team's bliss
LIKE THIS

Out of ammunition on the fields and the lake
Mafia fallin' behind
Singin' E-How and Castle, think this war's been a hassle
Cause they can't keep up with our kind White doesn't stand a chance, watch the heroes advance
Takin' one inch at a time
With our captains at the helm, Green is flying through The Realm
Judges know vic'try ain't a crime
TOLD WHITE TO:

Fear our team
Heroes supreme Hear Green scream
We're Andy's dream

Green's on top and we can't be stopped
Playing dirty doesn't win you the game
After five long days, heroes pulled away
White put shame to their family name
Got the better Team Pev and a Saxon '06
It's clear that Green has thrived
On trench coats they are trippin'
Mafia seems to be slippin'
Heroes never felt more alive

HEY JUDGES

Heroes soar
Read the score
Down to their core
White no more

HEY GREEN TEAM

Heroes soar
Read the score
White no more
We've won the war!

Down Under

Fake Break had us quaking
Someone double check, is it really breaking?
DC read the captains, the White was nervous
Heroes have arrived, we're at your service

Jonas said, "This war's been a long time coming"
Wind under our capes, our heartbeats drumming
Can you hear, can you hear our thunder?
White Mafia's bang bang will blunder

Where's the White in camp's time of need?
Green team's solid, Lodge quarantined
The Mafia only knows how to destroy
Sorry White no Lip Sync for your boy

And Mel said, "Is our family still expanding?"
Watched White crash, couldn't stick the landing Strutting through the streets acting like they own the place
Can't fool no one, wipe the smug look off your face

You will always swipe right for our mighty captains
Cohn knew that the one-piece trend would happen
Bruce on the loose, Sammy knows when to get back CRH sunsets Insta will never lack

We're thinking blue, as we sweep the skies
About camp's soups, Chuck surely never lies
25 years is that a golf cart for Michelle?
Woody the video will turn out well

And we said, "In the track, in the lake, White's hands are full"
On Day Five all you'll hear is, "One, two, pull!"
Toot toot, do guns even make that noise?
Alliteration was a better choice

Can you hear, can you hear our thunder?
White Mafia's bang bang will blunder x2

2014

All I Want

All we want is nothing more
To lay again on Andy's shore
Cause if I could see the lake once more
It's all I'd need, of that I'm sure

When I said my last goodbyes
I felt the tears roll from my eyes
Mem'ries linger in my mind
A place like this is hard to find
Chorus:
And as the years go by
The magic fades inside
Don't let it die
Don't let it die
Yet with your return
Generations learn
The feeling you still yearn
and now it's our turn [JC]

Camp brought out the best in me
A side that only you can see
To be yourself is to be free
We owe it all to Andy's dream

Chorus:

We know Judges find
It's hard to slow time
Hold on tight
Hold on tight
And if this is my last
My moments of the past
Remain inside me, remain inside me

Chorus:

And as the years go by
The magic fades inside
Don't let it die
Don't let it die
Yet with your return
Generations learn
The feeling you still yearn
and now it's our turn [JC]
And now it's our turn [everyone]

WHITE – GREEN & WHITE SONGS

To Build a Home

Camp is a place that has become my home
Starry nights leaving the gazebo
Used to hear stories, now I tell my own
This is a place where I don't feel alone
This is the place where I have grown

Placing together my piece in this puzzle
Evolving
Each year
With us

Andy built this dream, envisioned family
Completed
By you
And me

Out in the fields where we spent our camper days
Embracing minutes as they swiftly fade away
Settled in, traditions were ingrained
Ensured those before us that they would remain

Never imagined I'd have to say goodbye
I now realized time is not on my side
When the day came around, I thought to myself
This is a place where I never felt alone
This is the place (pause) where I have grown

Taking away my piece from this puzzle
Wondering
If I
Gave enough

We all built this dream, envisioned family
Completed
Because of
You and me

The Middle

Green, don't look so upset
We know you had big plans to save the day but not quite yet
You tried your best but we took all you had
Once you mess with our family, then things go bad

You can't stop the white
Heroes stand no chance when mafia unites
Green team has barely put up a fight
Judges know that the war will go to white, tonight

White, a close and brutal fam
Who know we could have this much fun, pop pop bam bam
Mafia
Own the fields and lake
The realm at the palm of our hands since the flash mob break

You can't stop twenty ten
When we're stacked with E-how and Ben
Mafia has always been in the lead
On your hero sandwiches we will feed

You can't stop the white
Heroes stand no chance when mafia unites
Green team has barely put up a fight
Judges know that the war will go to white, tonight

Green, don't look so upset
We know your hearts were set on steak
But cookouts what you get
These last five days, have clearly gone our way
Once the final score is read
You'll get why we say

You can't stop the white
Heroes stand no chance when mafia unites
Green team has barely put up a fight
Judges know that the war will go to white, tonight

Where's green got to run
Standing staring at the barrel of our gun
Since the start mafia has not looked back
Has this for a dhal trivia fact, greens whack

You can't stop the white
Heroes stand no chance when mafia unites
Green team has barely put up a fight
Judges know that the war will go to white, tonight

The war has gone to white tonight!

Are You Gonna Be my Girl

BANG!

1,2,3 welcome to the family
if you're wearing white everything is gonna be alright

white took every meet mafia always packing heat

4,5,6 sam lose the walking stick so we've got the better cuz ben's hairy and he needs a buzz

big strong fam
got our backs
mafia
hunt and attack

Chorus:

We foresee
White victory
Green heroes wont be saving me, no!
Mafia
Took their capes away
Wont let them see another day, no!
Judges, are you gonna pick the white?

1,2,3 what's your matt brown theory?
The white is hashtag blessed
And we left the heroes powerless

If you don't share our blood
Your dead to us no matter what

3,2,1 mafia had all the fun greens just men in tights (pause) not a match for the white

big strong fam
got our backs
mafia
hunt and attack

Chorus:

We foresee
White victory
Green heroes wont be saving me, no!
Our family
Makes you stop and stare
Put your guns up in the air
Picked the white
The ends in sight
Read the score call it a niight

Judges know this war went white!!

GREEN & WHITE

All groups had returned from their respective excursions by the time Monday, August 4 dawned, so the air was thick with anticipation as campers and staff speculated on the time and nature of the 'break'. By the time dinner started the tension was unbearable! As Dick was making the customary announcements at the end of the meal, thunderous music blared from the speakers and select members of a flash dance troupe suddenly appeared at the head table and at the main door, as camper realized what was happening they stormed towards the doors and out onto the quad where more dancers were waiting. The throng was then lead to the soccer field via the upper basketball court. Out on the field a group of Most Honorable Judges emerged from the Grandstand to join the dancers, including DC and Woody resplendent in their green and white uniforms. And so began Green and White 2014!

Day 1 began with the age old Jelly Bean Ceremony. Camper captains and their co-captains drew green or white beans from DC's hat to determine their teams. We then acknowledged our 4 counselor captains – Sam Jonas, Emily Howard, Ben Castleman and Mel Cohn. The beans determined that Sam and Mel would lead the Green, and Ben and Emily the White.

Green were out of the traps the quickest, building up a good morning lead. However, White responded well in the afternoon, and also proved to have the better staff volleyball players. A great first day of competition ended with Green marginally ahead by 20 points.

After Day One: Green 599, White 579

We awoke on Day 2 to a beautiful day – perfect for the morning Swim Meet. White showed their aquatic prowess by taking the meet by 115 points. The rest of the day saw some hard fought contests including two great staff soccer games. We ended the day with White jumping out to a lead of 120.

After Day Two: Green 1370, White 1490

Day 3 brings the much anticipated Track Meet. It was important that Green had a good meet in order to claw back some of White's lead, and that is what transpired: Green took the meet by 43 points. Unfortunately, the heavens opened and the majority of the afternoon schedule was washed away by torrential rain. The only events able to take place when the rain cleared were Saxon ultimate and the Junior Camp Sand Sculpture. Staff completed the day's events with a game of softball. The day ended with White's lead cut to 102 points.

After Day Three: Green 1838, White 1940

Day 4 was crammed full with the published schedule as well as make-up games from Day Three. It was also Regatta Day. Junior Camp went to White by 13 points, countered by Green taking the Senior Regatta by 14. Green fared slightly better on the field, and took both staff basketball games, to leave the White leading by a solitary one point at the end of the day! Before dinner each team presented stunning flags representing their chosen themes for this year: the Green Heroes and the White Mafia.

After Day Four: Green 2552, White 2553

And so we entered Day 5 with everything to play for. A fierce morning of competition could not separate the teams. So we entered the traditional Day Five afternoon events of the Giant Relay ending with the Rope Burn, and the Tug-of-War. Green came out on top in the Relay, and also proved to be the better fire-builders. They also came out on top in the Tug-of-War.

All four Counselor Captains delivered poignant and memorable speeches at dinner before we gathered in the barn for the spectacular culmination of Green and White – Song Night. What a wonderful evening of singing it proved to be! While the teams delivered two stunning medleys, it was the judges' decision that Green's stood supreme. Woody then stepped up to read off the final scores:

GREEN 3402 – WHITE 3153.
A margin of 249 for the Green.

While one side of the theatre erupted in a green blaze of glory, their opponents were quick to offer their congratulations, and reignite the bonds of friendship that have been built over the summer. In all honesty, these bonds were never really broken. Somehow, despite the fierce competitiveness of the contest, the power of friendship and unsurpassed loyalty to one's group mates always remains steadfast during our very unique Color War.
